Two Drunken Drivers Before District Court

Jail Sentence For One And Case
Continued For The Other

Leo McDermott, 14 Clarendon street, Newtonville, was given 30 days' sentence to the House of Correction for driving while under the influence of liquor, a 10 days' sentence and a $50 fine for driving after his license had been revoked, and a $10 fine for drunkenness. He appealed all the penalties. McDermott was arrested by Serg. Mahoney and Patrolman Kelly on the night of November 23 after his machine had collided with another car.

Henry Cheney, 45 Rich street, Waltham, was in the Newton court on Monday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until December 10. Cheney was in the Waltham court some time ago on a like charge. He was arrested last Saturday by Patrolman Hammell.

John L. Hansen, 25, no home, no work and no funds, entered Police Headquarters in the wee hours of Monday morning and asked for lodging. As is customary when the police lodge and feed a man who is down on his luck, John appeared in the Newton court Monday charged with vagrancy. Judge Day of South Boston was on the bench substituting for Judge Bacon. He asked Hansen if he was willing to work and receiving an affirmative answer requested Probation Officer Eneagess to try and find a job for the young man. Eneagess telephoned to the Hood Rubber Company and obtained work for Hansen. Judge Day gave the erstwhile prisoner $1 to get a square meal.

Monday night Serg. Bannon assisted by Patrolmen Carley, Chadwick and Henrikus were trailing around Chestnut Hill watching for a burglar. They caught no burglar but they landed an alleged bootlegger. In landing the quar-

Good Government Club Meets At Auburndale

Candidates For City Office Given
A Careful Hearing

The annual meeting of the Good Government Club of Auburndale was held in the Auburndale Club House Auditorium on Wednesday evening. Members of the club and citizens of Ward 4 and other parts of Newton were present to see and hear the various candidates for alderman, alderman-at-large, and school committee, who spoke after the brief business meeting of the club. The business consisted of electing by one ballot the officers for the ensuing year, nearly all the present incumbents.

President, Mr. Brewer G. Whitmore; vice-president, Mr. Ernest Braithwaite; secretary, Margaret Haskell; treasurer, Arthur F. Chamberlain; board, Miss Florence Bridgman, Mrs. J. A. Furbish; Mr. Edward B. Gray, Mr. George P. Brophy.

The President, Prof. Whitmore, called attention to the printed lists distributed in the hall which contained the answers to questionnaires sent to the candidates, thus somewhat relieving each of them from biographical data in their addresses. He also read a letter from Alderman Hart and messages from those who were obliged to be absent or hoped to come later if possible.

Alderman Sinclair Weeks was first introduced, president of the Board, and unopposed candidate for Alderman at Large in Ward 3. He spoke of the $4,000,000 budget of Newton, and urged voters to come out and also to follow the expenditure of their taxes. He referred to the fine vote in Newton, 95 per cent., at the National election, but feared no such number would assist at the municipal election.

Buy Christmas Seals To Fight Tuberculosis

Prevention of the Rallying Cry For Newton Workers

The following article is from the Chairman of the Health Committee of the Newton Welfare Bureau:

An illustrated page of the Saturday Evening Boston Transcript, Dec. 1, portrays very interestingly the new unit of the Central New England Sanitarium at Rutland. This is to provide temporary homes and workshops for those who have suffered from tuberculosis but who have recovered health and strength through the open air life and scientific care at the Sanitarium. They are able to do useful work under proper conditions, but they cannot yet safely return to industrial life. It is an admirable provision and indicates what is being done for tuberculosis patients. But when we consider the suffering and the expense entailed by an active case of tuberculosis, how much better it would be if it could be entirely avoided!

Alas, no efforts of prevention are entirely successful, and yet that is the most reasonable and hopeful direction in which to work. Hence the major part of the proceeds of the Newton Christmas Seals is devoted to prevention. Yet the relief of suffering is by no means neglected, for through the Newton District Nursing Association beside nursing of tuberculosis patients is provided by this fund. So also the Newton Welfare Bureau is enabled to meet emergencies that arise in connection with its families needing relief where active or threatened T. B. is involved. A larger number of children than heretofore needing preventorium camp life were cared for last summer and still more should be sent to camps next summer. Meanwhile the supplying of milk and food to children especially needing it goes

Woman's Association Of Central Church

Hear of Chinese Conditions At Luncheon Meeting

The Woman's Association of Central Church returned to the chapel for their luncheon meeting on Wednesday, and notwithstanding the frequent sound of the hammer there was enthusiasm over the many improvements. Enlarged windows added to the cheerfulness of the dining room and the additional serving room was a great convenience to those preparing and serving the luncheon.

Appreciation of the return of the president, Mrs. George W. Auryansen, who has been absent owing to illness, was expressed by a bunch of carnations placed by her chair at table. She presided during a part of the meeting, then the remainder of the business was conducted by Miss Louise Sherman, vice-president. Mrs. A. H. Decatur was chairman of the luncheon. The red candles with the green of pine and ferns furnished a suggestion of the approach of Christmas.

After the luncheon and the singing of "Forefathers' hymn," Mrs. Robert E. Chandler gave the address. As Helen Davis, Mrs. Chandler was known to a number who remembered her as a girl in Newtonville. She gave an understanding talk on conditions in Young China. There is a saying which describes the changes going on there, as combining the European renaissance, the French revolution, the Spirit of '76, the red pepper

Saturday Tag Day For The Salvation Army

Close of Campaign For Newton's
Quota of $5000

With a tag day Saturday, the annual appeal of the Salvation Army in Newton will come to the close of its official period. Granted fair weather, it is anticipated that several hundred dollars will be dropped by appreciative citizens into the paste-board coffers of The Salvation Army collectors as they stand about in the principle squares of Newton.

Edward J. Frost, chairman, and Frank L. Richardson, treasurer, of the committee of public-spirited citizens sponsoring the local appeal, are very anxious that Newton go over the top in the $5,000 requested as Newton's share of the year's operating expenses of the 24 departments and institutions by which The Salvation Army serves Greater Boston.

They urge everyone who has not given to do so at once. It is known that several large contributions are still to be made and they are expected in shortly. A few industrial and business establishments have not yet made their returns either and replies are still awaited from a few of the letters sent to prominent citizens stating the case of the Army. Although the drive officially concludes Saturday, subscriptions may still be sent to Mr. Richardson who will be very glad to receive them. However, it is urged that gifts be sent as promptly as possible as the appeal is closing down and expenses will have to be apportioned for the operating of the 24 departments and institutions of Greater Boston out of what is in hand—as it is a principle of Salvation Army finance to never spend what is not actually in the bank.

MURPHY NAMED CHAIRMAN

A communication was received by the Aldermen from Mayor Childs on Monday night designating Assessor John W. Murphy as Chairman of the Board of Assessors to succeed the late Henry Bailey. Mr. Murphy has been an assessor for the past 11 years and before that was Ward Alderman from Ward 1 for six years. He has been in the real estate business and resides at 73 Jasset street, Newton.

First Banking Lecture To Women Depositors

Newton Trust Company Opens
Series at Newton Centre

The first of the banking lectures arranged by the Newton Trust Company was given Monday at 10:30 a. m. in the Newton Centre Woman's Club before an audience of 200 women depositors.

Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell presided and announced that 400 tickets for the series of lectures had been taken and that a few more were available and might be obtained at the various offices by women depositors having either checking or savings bank accounts.

President Seward W. Jones brought greetings from the bank and introduced Mr. Frank L. Richardson, who said that he could already see an improvement in the service the bank was able to give to the community since the formation of the women's advisory committee. Mr. Richardson spoke of the wisdom of establishing a budget and of the advantages to be gained by saving through a co-operative bank or by buying bonds on a monthly payment basis.

Mr. W. Herrick Brown of the Old Colony Trust Company was the next speaker. He prefaced his talk on "Savings" by the remark that "if you educate a woman in the knowledge of banking, you are educating a family."

Mr. Brown named four objectives which should be incentives to save—first (and especially for the young married couple) a contingency reserve fund—$1,000 a year a good sum for this purpose; second, saving for a home—$1,000 or $2,000 invested in a co-operative bank the best way; third, acquisition for safe investments—a bond paid for over a period of 10 months being a good way to save. Christmas, travel and vacation clubs are also good; fourth, life insurance.

Agents are now well-trained men and real counsellors. Mr. Brown believes that the proceeds can best be administered by a bank trust.

Following up this fourth objective—of life insurance—a one-reel film, "Vanishing Fortunes" was shown. The speaker for the next lecture which is scheduled for 10:30 a. m. Monday, January 7, will be Mr. George Grant, called the dean of Bos-

Welfare Work On Thanksgiving Day

Substance of Report of Miss Chapin,
the General Secretary

Thanksgiving Day and what it means in terms of the work of the Welfare Bureau was the substance of the report given by Miss Ruth Chapin, General Secretary of the Newton Welfare Bureau, at the meeting of the Board of Directors on Wednesday afternoon, December 5. 160 families were served, 125 of these receiving dinners including meat and "fixins", 35 receiving bags of fruit, cranberries, nuts, etc. Everyone was most appreciative, and the Bureau has had many telephone calls and notes of thanks.

It was a tremendous piece of work and could not possibly have been done without the co-operation and assistance of the many groups and individuals who helped. The Garden City Laundry particularly made the whole thing possible by contributing the use of trucks and men for two and one-half days for collections and deliveries. All day long Tuesday, they collected load after load of food-stuffs from the schools of the city, donated by the children. From 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. the Garden City Laundry men covered the entire city, delivering the bags and dinners. Even on Friday, they called again at the Bureau and delivered bags of potatoes and apples that had been left over. The drivers all gave the extra amount of time and physical labor involved with a willingness and spirit of generosity that were very evident to all who saw them working. This substantial contribution to the philanthropic work of the city was given by Mr. Archibald Osgood, owner of the Garden City Laundry, through the courtesy of the Newton Rotary Club to whom the Bureau extends hearty thanks.

The sorting of the food and the packing of the bags were done with

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

CANDIDATES FOR WINTER TEAMS OUT

Closely following the end of the football season, comes the call for candidates for the hockey, basketball, and track teams at Newton high school. Many of the football players turn their attention to other sports for the winter while others put aside athletic paraphernalia until the baseball season or even another gridiron season rolls around. Thanksgiving Day being the end of the football season and the beginning of a three day vacation from school which gives the football players who are planning to try for positions on other teams a chance to rest from their labors the week following usually marks the resumption of athletic activity in several sports.

Hockey being the foremost winter sport at Newton it is but right to mention the popular ice sport first. The sextet will again be under the coaching direction of Dr. Oscar Martin, who has arranged a particularly fine schedule of twenty-one games, several of which may never be played because of lack of a good ice surface. In addition to the regular league games which are divided into an outdoor preliminary round, and semi-final and final round robin tournaments at the Arena, there are games with Milton Academy, B. C. Freshman, Middlesex school, Woburn, Exeter academy, Brighton, St. Mark's school, New Preparatory school, M. I. T. freshman, Yale freshman, Harvard freshman, and Harvard 2nds.

Candidates for the team will report to Coach Dr. Martin this afternoon and beginning next week the squad will get in some conditioning work while awaiting the arrival of freezing weather to furnish an ice surface. Last year the ice at Ware's Cove in Auburndale was the best in the vicinity and many of the games scheduled for Bulloah's Pond were played there when Bulloah's was not in condition. This year the opening of the new Boston Garden makes it possible for some of the schools that have no satisfactory rink to make arrangements for some of their games at the Boston Arena. The interscholastic league semi-final and final rounds will be played at the Arena as usual and it is quite possible that some of the preliminary round games will also be staged there although Newton is expected to entertain its opponents quite frequently.

The Newton schedule:—
Thu.-Fri., Jan. 3-4—Newton at Arlington.
Mon.-Tues., Jan. 7-8—Newton at Cambridge.
Thu.-Fri., Jan. 10-11—Melrose at Newton.
Sat., Jan. 12—Milton at Milton.
Mon., Jan. 14—B. C. Fresh. at Newton.
Wed., Jan. 16—Middlesex at Concord.
Thu.-Fri., Jan. 17-18—Woburn at Newton.
Mon.-Tues., Jan. 21-22—Newton at Stoneham.
Thu.-Fri., Jan. 24-25—Rindge at Newton.
Sat., Jan. 26—Exeter at Exeter.
Mon.-Tues., Jan. 28-29—Brighton H. S. at Newton.
Wed., Jan. 30—St. Marks at Southboro.

Thu., Jan. 31, Fri., Feb. 1—Newton at Belmont.
Mon., Feb. 4—New Prep. at Newton.
Wed., Feb. 6, M. I. T. Fresh. at Newton.
Fri., Feb. 8—Round Robin at Arena.
Sat., Feb. 9—Yale Fresh. at Yale.
Wed., Feb. 13—Harvard Fresh. at Cambridge.
Fri. or Sat., Feb. 15-16—Round Robin at Arena.
Mon., Feb. 18—Harvard 2nd at Camb.
Fri., Feb. 22—Round Robin at Arena.

Coach Donald Enoch and his assistant Warren Tisdale have a group of enthusiastic runners and jumpers working out on the indoor track. There are but few veterans back this year but many of the newcomers show considerable promise. The team is captained by Richard Reynolds and managed by Harold Jones. One of the hardest schedules in years confronts the team. Five dual meets and four interscholastic meets are on the program as well as an intramural meet to open the season.

This meet will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 19. Coach Enoch will divide the members of the varsity squad into an orange and a black team as nearly equal in strength as possible. Each team is recruiting others from the student body to come out and strive to annex points in the different events. Considerable enthusiasm has developed and many of the lads turning out for practice are showing good form.

New portable stands have been erected to replace the old chairs so that spectators will be provided with much better facilities. The new stands will seat about 300 which more than doubles the former seating capacity. Captain Richard Reynolds, Nathan Pearson, Arthur Chamberlain, Carl Pescosolido and Mike Fine are the letter men available. Reynolds and Pearson are 300 yard and relay men, Chamberlain is a distance runner, Pescosolido a shot putter and Fine a broad and high jumper. Augustus and James Signore, the marathon twins, and Whitbeck, are among the prospects.

tive distance candidates. The other veterans from last year are John Mullen, Burton, the Adams boys, Kilburn and Gilbert, Robert Bonner, Harold Ham and Stewart. Robert Ewing, a transfer from a Chicago school, is a promising candidate in the dashes. He played an end on the intermediate varsity football team and showed considerable speed. He has also had considerable experience as a track runner before coming here.

The track schedule:—
Dec. 19—Interclass Meet.
Sat., Jan. 5—Medford at Newton.
Sat., Jan. 12—Brookline at Brookline.
Sat., Jan. 19—Brookline at Newton.
Sat., Jan. 26—Huntington at Huntington.
Sat., Feb. 2—Northeastern Intersch. at B. Y. M. C. A.
Sat., Feb. 9—Boston College Fresh. at Newton.
Sat., Feb. 16—Andover Interschol. at Andover.
Sat., Feb. 23—B. A. A. Interschol. at Boston.
Sat., Mar. 2—State Meet.

A great deal of interest is being displayed in basketball which will be under the guidance of Raymond Green and Frank Simmons, again this year. Over 100 boys are out for the various teams and the practice sessions have been divided so that the seniors and juniors are on the courts three days of the week and the sophomore-freshman group on two days. Intramural and interclass group games are being played and in a week or two the senior-junior groups will be divided into varsity intermediate and junior varsity squads. Later the freshman and sophomore will be split up according to their ability. Two freshman teams are planned. All teams will have their own schedules with the freshman lives entered in the league with the junior high schools.

A dozen or more years ago Newton high was near the top of the ladder in interscholastic basketball but lack of an adequate floor forced abandonment of the sport. It was resumed last year with considerable success and with no financial loss. Many of last year's team were graduated or have transferred to other schools leaving but three Captain Norman Payne, Merritt Swartz, and Harold Ham of the first team and last year they are Captain Norman Payne, Merritt Swartz and Harold Ham. Practically all of last year's intermediate varsity quintet are on deck, however, and it is from this group that strength will be drawn. Norman Harris, John McCarthy, Lawrence, Kingsland, Bosworth and Fuller are all of potential varsity material and will provide much competition for the open positions.

This year's schedule is slightly longer than that of last year, sixteen games having been listed. Home and home games will be played with Watertown, Rindge Tech, Beverly, Everett, Arlington, Belmont and Cambridge Latin while Malden and Milton Academy will each be played but once. The former of these games will be at Newton and that with Milton at Milton. All of the home games will be played at 3 P. M. while those away with Rindge Tech, Latin, Everett, Beverly and Cambridge Latin will be staged in the evening.

The basketball schedule:
Wed., Jan. 9—Watertown at Newton.
Fri., Jan. 11—Malden at Newton.
Tues., Jan. 15—Milton Acad. at Milton.
Fri., Jan. 18—Rindge at Cambridge.
Wed., Jan. 23—Beverly at Newton.
Fri., Jan. 25—Everett at Everett.
Wed., Jan. 30—Arlington at Arlington.
Fri., Feb. 1—Watertown at Watertown.
Tues., Feb. 5—Rindge at Newton.
Sat., Feb. 9—Beverly at Beverly.
Wed., Feb. 13—Arlington at Newton.
Sat., Feb. 16—Belmont at Newton.
Sat., Feb. 23—Cambridge at Cambridge.
Mon., Feb. 25—Everett at Newton.
Sat., Feb. 29—Belmont at Belmont.
Tues., Mar. 5—Cambridge at Newton.

There will be no swimming team this winter because of the lack of interest among the student body in general and due to the fact that the necessary expense is not deemed worthwhile.

ALL-SUBURBAN TEAMS

Newton High failed to place any of its football players on the all-scholastic and all-suburban teams picked this week. On the Eastern Transcript's Suburban team picked by consensus opinion of the six team coaches are four Brookline, three Somerville, two Rindge Tech, one Everett and one Cambridge Latin representative. Frank Digby, Everett guard and captain, was the sole unanimous choice on the team.

Coach Dickerman of Somerville named Harrington and Duane on his eleven, Gildea of Everett chose Gilligan. Murphy of Rindge selected Scheinfain and Chamberlain. Mac Donald of Cambridge Latin saw Duane as Newton's best player while Coach Tom Hines of the Wealthy Towners put three local youths on his team. They were Scheinfain, Harrington and Gilligan. Thus it will be seen that Captain Scheinfain, Dan Harrington, Joe Gilligan, and Francis Duane each got two votes and Arthur Chamberlain one. John Rondina of Somerville got four votes for end and Wolek of Brookline three to nose out the Newton captain. Captain Casey of Somerville polled four votes for a tackle berth and Henry Owens of Rindge three. Burke of Rindge received four votes, Murphy of Somerville, Fred of Brookline and Harlow of Cambridge Latin three each for the backfield positions.

Captain Everett Scheinfain of Newton was placed as an end on the Boston Globe's second team. All the players mentioned above and Captain-elect Phil Andres, Harold Robblee, in addition were given honorable mention by the various sports writers.

FOOTBALL MEN ELECT ANDRES 1929 CAPTAIN

At a meeting of the letter men of the Newton high school football team on Tuesday Philip Andres, fullback, was unanimously elected to captain the 1929 team. Twenty seven varsity letters were approved by the athletic council twenty of which were awarded to seniors, six to juniors, and one to a sophomore. In addition to Captain-elect Andres the players expected to return are William J. Bell, Henry D. Furden, and John Mullen, halfbacks, Richard K. Hapgood and Thomas McKenney, tackles and Fred Schipper, centre. The last named is the only sophomore on the squad to earn his letter the past season. The full list of letter awards follows:

Varsity—Everett Scheinfain, Capt.; Philip Andres, William Anness, William J. Bell, Arthur F. Chamberlain, Francis K. Duane, Henry D. Furden, John M. Gardner, Joseph J. Gilligan, Harold A. Ham, Richard K. Hapgood, Daniel O. Harrington, Thomas L. McKenney, John J. Mullen, Norman Payne, Carl Pescosolido, Frank J. Perry, William J. Reilly, Harold F. Robblee, William F. Schipper, Loring Siegner, Alfred K. Brown, Richard L. Gardner, Richard W. Reynolds, Richard Murray, Louis Perry, Gardner Reynolds, Mgr.

Intermediate Varsity—O. H. Barter, B. U. Blackman, D. L. Bosworth, P. Coakley, capt., H. S. Colony, R. Ewing, A. E. Fletcher, W. Houlihan, L. C. Ingham, C. M. Kingsland, E. F. Marshall, E. A. Moore, D. Strachan, W. I. Thurston.

Junior Varsity—Ralph Allen, Reginald Bankhart, Walter Bell, Nelson C. Bell, H. R. Blair, W. L. Doten, E. G. Hamilton, Edwin Lombard, Robert McCabe, Christopher McGrath, Robert Nickerson, Martin Poindexter, W. D. Quigley, H. A. Reynolds, John Robinson, J. F. Shaughnessy, John Shorten, Harold Strombess, John F. Williams.

Tennis Varsity Letters—Norman Payne, Norman Harris, Charles Glueck, Gordon Taylor.

With seven letter men available next year the outlook at Newton high for next season is neither bright nor dubious. There seems to be plenty of promising material among the substitutes, intermediate varsity, and junior varsity groups which may develop. There is at least one man for every position on the eleven who was with the varsity squad this fall. At the present time the following lineup will give an indication of the team Coach John L. Sullivan might send on the field next fall. Shelman, lc; McKenney, lt; Acchione, lg; Schipper, c; Boughan, rg; Hapgood, rt; McCarthy, re; Mullen, qb; Furden, lb; Bell, rb; Andres, fb. Both of the tackles are rangy youths who should be put on weight another summer and add much strength to a line which will be weakened considerably by the loss of Daniel Harrington, Jack Gardner, and Loring Siegner, tackles, Harry Robblee and William Anness guards, and Arthur Chamberlain, centre, to say nothing of the loss of such ends as Captain Scheinfain and Norman Payne.

SPORT NOTES

Half Of Squad Newton Men

The University Club hockey squad was cut to twelve early this week. Six of those surviving are local youths or local products. They are George Owen, Clark Hodder, Clement Coady and Ted Learnard, captain, veterans, and William Blaney and Frank Spain of the new men. Blaney, captained Williams last year while Spain was the schoolboy star of the year.

Bell And Wilson Out

Alfred W. Bell, Jr., of Newton Highlands and Edgar G. Wilson of Newtonville, both prominent walkers on the B. A. A. track team, were among the athletes to report to Coach Jacy Ryder early this week at the Boston College track.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald held a "Question-Box" at the meeting of the Young People's Forum of Waban held in the Union Church last Sunday evening at 6:30. Among the questions brought up were the following:

Is prohibition a success?
Prohibition is an experiment, tried on over 700 million people. Former President Harding once said that we must wait at least fifty years before we decide whether or not it is a success. There is no doubt but that prohibition has been a big factor in the change for the better of such places as the famous "Hell's Kitchen" in New York. Gov.-elect Allen said that there was no doubt in his mind as to its success. In his business every Monday morning each department was short of men who had blown in their weeks pay for liquor. Their wives used to call up and ask Mr. Allen to keep part of the money out of the pay envelopes so that they might have enough for food and clothing. Now this is all changed. Prohibition is making fine progress. It is slow, but sure.

Is Sunday Professional Sport a good thing?

It is only permissible in such over-populated areas as New York City, where Sunday is the working-man's only day of recreation and where there are no reservations or parks where he can join in amateur sports. For everyone except these few hundreds, Sunday Professional Sports are unnecessary.

At the close of the Question Box, Mr. MacDonald himself asked a question to be answered by the Forum: Who were the ten greatest people in the first quarter of this century?

Each member was allowed ten votes, after several nominations had been made from the floor. The ten greatest were: Marconi, Roosevelt, Byrd, Hoover, Edison, the Wright Bros., Coolidge, Wilson, Pershing, and, tied for last place, Peary, Amundsen, and Helen Keller. Among others mentioned were the Czar of Russia, Lenin, Edith Cavel, Tolstoi, Houdini, Sarah Bernhardt, Mahatma Gandhi, and George Bernard Shaw.

Next Sunday there will be no meeting of the Forum due to the Every-member Canvass of the Union Church. On the following Sunday, a sister of Mrs. Ziegler will give a lantern-slide lecture on Turkey.

The following supper committees have been chosen, each committee to serve in its turn. The next supper meeting will be served by committee number 2.

Forum Supper Committees

1. Paul W. Rycroft, chairman; John C. Bierer, Robert Cram, Jr., Wm. Bradford Gove, William W. Mason, Evan G. MacNair, Richard Souther.

2. Deborah Holmes, chairman; Marguerite Brandt, Elizabeth Ellis, Polly Stephenson, Edith E. Wheeler, Marion Willard.

3. Samuel T. Douglas, chairman; Gilbert C. Adams, John I. Arger, Wm. F. Baxter, Jr., David Bissell, Walter Brandt, Jr., Jacob Mosser.

4. Phyllis Reinhardt, chairman; Elsa Brandt, Janet McKinney, Willetta Mosser, June Prouty, Mildred Shaw.

5. Frances Elizabeth Snow, chairman; Marjorie Cady, Helen Preston Ellis, Charlotte Upham, Dorothy Whitaker, Verna Vandenberg.

POLICE NEWS

ry someone landed a healthy wallop on Henrikus' nose, breaking that organ. According to one version the prisoner, James Rooney of Arlington, was blamed for the damage to Henrikus' face, but, according to another version, Henrikus got the clout, not FROM Rooney's fist but from the knuckles of his brother officer Carley. The police spotted Rooney in a car on Priscilla road, Chestnut Hill and when he ignored their command to stop, chased him to a spot on Commonwealth avenue over the Brighton line where he was captured. During the chase the police claim that Rooney hurled a bundle from his car at Evergreen Cemetery near the reservoir. This bundle contained bottles of liquor. When the police cornered Rooney Henrikus covered the fugitive with his revolver. According to reports, Carley mistaking Rooney's movement in reaching for the sky when Henrikus pointed the rod at the prisoner, as a belligerent gesture on Rooney's part took a swing at the quarry, missed the alleged vendor of hooch, and brought his fist in violent contact with Henrikus' nose. Rooney will be tried December 12.

Mrs. Ethel Gale of Murray road, Auburndale was in the Newton court Wednesday charged with keeping a barking and biting dog. The complainant was Mrs. Catherine Crooks of 259 Webster street, Auburndale, who stated that the dog had bitten her son Robert on November 28. A fine of $10 was imposed and then suspended on condition that the dog be restrained.

Newton motorcycle police working with Mechanic Bart Cullen have been co-operating with Registrar Parker in apprehending autoists driving cars and trucks with defective brakes and lights. As a result many drivers who ignored the order to have their vehicles inspected, and who were found driving with poor brakes or lights, will appear in the Newton court next week.

John Hope, 18 Nottingham street, Newton Centre, was in the Newton court yesterday charged with driving after his license had been revoked. Hope was observed driving the other night by Patrolman Smith who made the complaint. Hope told Judge Bacon that he drove his car the night in question to get to a drug store before it closed so that he might obtain medicine for his sick child. His case was placed on file.

In the Newton court yesterday five autoists were fined $10 each for speeding; the quintet included Frank Mahoney, 95 Collins road, Waban; Ann Zoler, 66 Newell road, Auburndale; Antonio Campana, Westerly street, Wellesley; John Geurich, 532 Beacon street, Boston; Alfred Packard, Framingham. Francis Thornton of East Boston was fined $5 for driving on the north side of Commonwealth avenue. Michael Pladunis, 110 Harvard street, Waltham, was found not guilty in the Waltham court yesterday on the charge of going away after an accident without making himself known. Pladunis' car collided with the car of

6. Edward Robert McLellan, chairman; Edward C. Bessey, Charles C. Bullock, Dunbar Holmes, Harold Frederick Knapp, Donald Robbins, Horace Wood.

7. Mary Stephen, chairman; Louise W. Bloomfield, Doris A. Linscott, Natalie North, Elsie Stephen.

8. Louise Langford Came, chairman; Eleanor Denham, Marjorie Jones, Elizabeth A. Pettibone, Elizabeth Young.

Carl Clifford of Newton Upper Falls at High street, Waltham on November 15. Clifford's car was overturned and his wife received serious injuries.

At about the same hours that three false alarms were pulled in Waltham just after midnight Friday morning last (figure the hour out) three false alarms were pulled from boxes in this city, all three boxes being near the Waltham boundary. It seems probable that those responsible for pulling these alarms were the same as those who pulled the alarms in Waltham. Many false alarms have been pulled in the latter city. The Newton boxes pulled were 281 at 11:30 p. m. Thursday and 12:32 Friday, and Box 341 at 1:37 a. m. Friday.

An automobile stolen in Boston last Thursday, the property of Margaret Lynch of Whittier street, Dorchester, was recovered at 6 a. m. last Friday by Patrolman Sheridan at Boylston and Woodward streets, Newton Highlands. Sheridan placed the occupants of the car under arrest. They were Sydney Power, 31 Maxwell street, Dorchester, and Hugh Moran, Malta street, Mattapan. They were turned over to the Boston police.

GOOD GOVERNMENT CLUB

Falls, the present holder of that office, was prevented from appearing by a previous engagement. Mr. Philip S. Jamieson of Newton, contesting with Mr. J. E. Callanan of Newton for the office of Alderman at Large for Ward 7, made a few remarks, but Mr. Callanan who had expected to be present, did not arrive. As neither Thomas M. Gallagher for Ward 1 nor Roy V. Collins for Ward 2 appeared and Henry W. Bail was also absent, those candidates for Alderman at Large were not heard from. The rest of the time was given to Mr. Joseph H. Lockett, School Committee member from Ward 6, who told of some of the problems large and small which come for settlement by that body. Mr. Lockett is unopposed for re-election in his ward.

TUBERCULOSIS AND CHRISTMAS SEALS

steadily on and takes a considerable portion of these funds.

Tuberculosis has somewhat declined. That is heartening. It is still, however, a tremendous menace and efforts to combat it and to prevent it should be increased rather than lessened.

So the Seal Sale goes on each Christmas season, and our Newton people have shown their faith and approval by their increasingly generous response to this annual appeal.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

of Bolshevism, all cooked together till half baked. However, young China has learned the evils of Russian communism and is endeavoring to rid itself of that influence. She described the tyranny of the military governors who make the people pay the price of their selfishness, and inflict on the country the evils of the soldier bandits. The pot of revolution has been long boiling and now young China has burst the lid. The Nationalists are not able to realize all their ideals and there is disillusionment, but they are not discouraged and these dreams of democracy will mean peace.

The economic pressure is a serious matter. During the famine of 1921 there was so much suffering that Mrs. Chandler started an industry for the women which kept many from starvation and has also been a demonstration in humane methods, as hours of work and the conditions of labor are regulated in accordance with the spirit of Christianity. This is a matter of importance as China suffers from ill regulated industries. Mrs. Chandler pleaded for greater co-operation in this country. The Chinese watch the United States eagerly and critically. What will they accept of our civilization, what reject? What will we do with the Kellogg Peace Treaty? The missionaries are helped or hindered by what we in the home land are doing in these international matters.

Mrs. A. H. Decatur read the constitution as revised by the committee of five. The changes will be voted upon at the next meeting. The report of Mrs. Blanchard, chairman of the housekeeping committee, was received with enthusiasm. Among other new equipment are two new gas stoves, and two zinc covered tables which were the gift of Mr. Blanchard. Mrs. A. D. Salinger urged the members of the association to show their patriotism by going to the polls on Tuesday.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

With the Thanksgiving recess over, and the Christmas holidays less than three weeks ahead, we are forced to believe that the school year is well on its way. Occasionally we pause to reflect—to ask ourselves how much we have learned since September. Generally we come to the conclusion that we are much wiser than on the first day of school, yet when called upon in English class to spell scissors, we hesitate—forget the "c" and "all"; we realize how much more there is to learn.

The Assembly this week transported us in spirit to the Woodend light house in Provincetown. The program was filled with the salty savor of the sea. The first musical numbers were by members of the school: Song, "Life on the Ocean Wave," by Kenneth Winslow; Dance, "The Sailor's Hornpipe," by Jane Grant; Rowing song, by the girls of IXC; Song, Nancy Lee, by a group of ninth grade boys. After having created such an atmosphere, our distinguished guests, Mr. Douglas Shepherd, Keeper of Woodend Light, Provincetown, and Big Brother Bob Truery, were escorted to the stage. By those who know him, told us in his kind and modest way, the various duties and experiences of a lighthouse keeper. But it was left for Big Brother to tell us of the medal which Mr. Shepherd concealed under the lapel of his coat, for high rating in efficiency. The program was brought to close with a tricky song by Big Brother, and a school cheer to express our gratitude to our entertainers.

RALPH WALDO EMERSON SCHOOL

Miss Helen L. Smith, teacher of our special class, was in attendance at the meeting in New York on Nov. 5 of the National Conference of Teachers of Sight Saving Classes. Miss Smith was one of the speakers on the program and presented a paper on the topic "Pioneer Work in Sight Saving." Miss Smith has the distinction of having taught the first class of this sort in this country.

Miss Grace G. Hunt has been at work for over a year on an experiment of testing a new reading method in her class, the first grade. So successful has she been in the experiment that recognition of her high achievement was made by the publishers' agent. She was called to expound the new method to a group of teachers in Wellesley on the afternoon of December 6.

A very pleasing program was presented to the entire school in the last before Thanksgiving Day. The "east-side" group of teachers had charge of the entertainment, and these numbers constituted the excellent program: Proclamation of Gov. Fuller; "What to be Thankful for"; verses and song; "The King's Thanksgiving," a play; "Thanksgiving Rhymes"; "Thanksgiving Day Song"; "Thanksgiving Through the Ages," in five scenes; "Early Plymouth Days," a play with two scenes. "Sally's Books," a play given by members of the Seventh Grade Book Club, was enjoyed at the Assembly on Nov. 19. Several characters standing for best books for boys and girls were represented in the cast.

STEARNS SCHOOL NOTES

The Thanksgiving Assembly of the Stearns School was held on Wednesday, Nov. 28th at 11 a. m. With the exception of the Kindergarten and some of the I and II grade children the entire membership of the Stearns and Elliot Schools were present to listen to the following program: Song, "Praise to God," by Grade VI chorists; Thanksgiving games, girls from Grades I and II; Miss Mary Smith and Miss Jessie Lusk; group dance by boys and girls in colonial costume by Mrs. Goddard's Grade III room; songs, autumn and Thanksgiving hymn by group from Miss Marsh's Grade I room; group recitation, for common things, by 6 girls from Miss Rogers' special class; reading of Governor Fuller's Thanksgiving Proclamation by Jerry Morrocco from Mr. Sears' Grade VI room; flag salute led by Michel Plantadosi from Miss Winter's Grade VI room; songs, Can a Little Child Like Me? and Turkey by Miss Stewart's Grade II room; group song and exercise by Miss Marie Lusk's Grade III room; song, Thanksgiving Day by Miss Parker's Grade V room, and song, America, by the entire assembly.

The Stearns School Playground soccer football team finished up a very successful season on Tuesday, Nov. 27th by winning the City championship. This final game with the Mason School of Newton Centre was played on the neutral grounds at Cabot Park. The Mason team had won the round robin schedule with the Horace Mann, Clafin and Pelroe Schools.

In the regular season Stearns lost only one game to Horace Mann and in the play-off with this team won the district championship.

In the final game four regular periods resulted in a tie of 2 to 2. In an effort to get a decision six more five minute periods were played. When the tenth period was about at an end a penalty was called on Mason and the ball as kicked by Carmen Quintiliano struck the cross bar but was deflected under to make the winning goal. All through the season the kicking of Quintiliano who played left forward and of Peter Sampson, as goalie, was of a very high quality. The boys who made up the squad were as follows: Tony Prola, Francis Copan, Victor Mirabito, Peter Sampson, John De Lucca, Michel Plantadosi, Joseph Antonellis, Jerry Antonellis, Carmen Quintiliano, David Biggieri, Peppina Baccari, James Halfrey, Raymond Bertrand, Andrew Pupa and Nicholas Palselli. The team was ably coached by Mrs. Arthur Hovgaard of the Stearns School Playground.

LASSELL SEMINARY

Lasell students were addressed at chapel on Wednesday morning by Mrs. Etta Austin McDonald, former principal of the Chandler School in Boston.

Dr. Leon H. Vincent will give the last of his course of lectures on Friday evening at Bragdon Hall.

On Sunday afternoon, December 9, the school will be the guests of Old North Church in Boston at a special afternoon service.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTER

The Colonna Club will hold its annual sale on Saturday, Dec. 8th from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at 315 Washington street, Newton Corner.

There will be Italian embroidery, aprons, lamp shades, candy and cakes. Italian pottery will be for sale on commission.

A WITCHCRAFT TRIAL

In the later decade of the 17th century, William Phips, governor of Massachusetts, organized a court for the trial of those accused of witchcraft—a delusion spreading extensively about the country. The first case for judgment was that of an old woman who was immediately convicted, though she declared her innocence to the end.

Recent Deaths

ANDREW B. HAYDEN

Andrew B. Hayden, who for the past 10 years had been in business at Newton Corner, as an optometrist, died on November 29 at his late home, 7 Heckle street, Wellesley Hills. He was born in Wellesley 61 years ago and prior to coming to Newton had been in the optical business at Wellesley for 15 years. He was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks, a delegation from which organization conducted their ritual at the home of the deceased on Sunday night. His funeral service was held Monday morning at St. John's Church, Lower Falls. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery. He is survived by his widow, one son, Charles A. Hayden, two brothers and three sisters.

MR. WILLIAM F. LAMONT

Mr. William F. Lamont, who died yesterday morning at his home on Alban road, Waban, after a long illness, was a native of Lynnfield and was 58 years of age. For some years he was connected with the Southgate Press and the Potter Drug & Chemical Corporation of Malden. He was a member of Zetland Lodge of Masons and of Newton Royal Arch Chapter. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Mary Simmons of Scituate, and two daughters, the Misses Florence E. and Ethel M. Lamont of Waban.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at noon at his late home on Alban road.

MRS. FLORENCE E. SWAN

Following an illness of several weeks, part of which was spent in a hospital, Mrs. Florence E. Swan died Sunday at the home of her sister, Miss Cora MacKenzie, 215 Auburn-dale avenue, Auburndale. Mrs. Swan was born in Little Ridgerton, N. B., and she was married in June, 1922, to Rev. William Swan, a Presbyterian minister, who has a parish in New Brunswick.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Swan is survived by a small daughter, Jean Swan.

MISS JOSEPHINE DANFORTH

The death of Miss Josephine Danforth occurred Monday at 19 Elmwood park, Newtonville, where she made her home with her foster daughter, Mrs. Linden I. Pettie. Miss Danforth, who was in her eighty-ninth year, was a native of Boston, the daughter of Hollis and Suzanne (Moore) Danforth, who for some time during the daughter's youth were residents of Cambridge. Miss Danforth had made her home in Newtonville for more than fifty years, and she was a member of the Church of the New Jerusalem. Her sole immediate survivor is a sister, Mrs. S. M. Gillon of Brooklyn, N. Y., the last of a family of six children.

JOSEPH KENNA

Joseph Kenna, 27, of 38 Clarendon street, Newtonville, died on December 1st. He was the son of Mrs. Katherine and the late Michael Kenna and besides his mother is survived by a sister and one brother. His funeral service was held Tuesday at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

DESPONDENT, TAKES LIFE

Raymond L. Green, 29, of Nottingham street, Newton Centre, committed suicide Monday afternoon at his home when he shot himself through the right temple. The young man, who was in the chemical business at Brookline had been despondent since his mother's death last Spring. He was removed to the Newton Hospital after shooting himself but died within an hour.

LEGION AUXILIARY INSTALLS

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Post 43 Auxiliary the following officers were installed. President, Mrs. C. G. Francis; vice-president, Mrs. Agnes Henrikus; second vice-president, Mrs. Virginia Cook; secretary, Mrs. Myrtha Ireland; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Burns; chaplain, Mrs. Margaret Reinhalter; sergeant at arms, Miss Helen Crowley; vice-sergeant at arms, Miss Margaret Kerriwan; instrumental musician, Mrs. Effie Nagel; vocal musician, Mrs. Helen Henderson; executive committee, Mrs. Dorothy Carter, Mrs. Grace Carey, and Mrs. Mary Peterson.

Mrs. Ida Lovejoy of Melrose, Middlesex County Chairman, was the installing officer. Mayor Edwin O. Childs congratulated the Auxiliary on the splendid work that they are doing, and spoke of the War Memorial that the City of Newton hoped to build in the near future, in connection with the new City Hall. The Auxiliary Quartette made its debut and rendered some very pleasing selections, one of which took the prize last June at the Swampscott Convention. A social hour and refreshments followed.

On Dec. 19th the Auxiliary will meet to plan for Christmas work and to initiate new members.

MIDDLESEX COURT OF M. C. O. F.

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will hold a whist and bridge party on Tuesday evening, December 11 at Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton. The proceeds will be used for the Christmas Charity Fund. The committee in charge comprises Thomas F. Fitzgerald, Chairman; Misses Eleanor Mulcahy, Mary Mullin, Katherine Hannon, Mazie Shea, Marion Goode, Mary Buckley, Mrs. Mary Flanagan, Mrs. Richard Goode, Mrs. Timothy Herlihy, Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. A. Powers, Charles Fagan, James McDonald, Thomas Bryson.

Many gifts have been donated and as the Christmas Charities of the Court are numerous a large attendance is expected.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 4 BOY SCOUTS

On Wednesday evening the Boy Scouts of Troop 4 met at 7:30 p. m. The meeting was called to order in regular form, and the Scout Master, Everett Galway, suggested that the boys have an indoor athletic meet.

The boys were very agreeable, and the sport began with tumbling exercises, then came first 100 yard dash, which was won by Francis Ellis of 2d patrol, second was an endurance race, which was won by Foot, of the 3d patrol, third was the light weight race, which was won by Stanley Parker of the 1st patrol, fourth was the running broad jump which was won by Billy Page and Winslow Mead of the 2d patrol. The 5th and last sport was the tug of war, which was won by Cluff of the 2d patrol. When the sports were ended the boys were ushered to the kitchen where they were refreshed by hot chocolate and marshmallows, cake and candy, which were kindly served by Miss Florence Pender of Crehore Drive, Mrs. John R. McLean of Cornell street, and Mrs. Edward B. Parker of Washington street.

The Scout Master did not think that the meeting was fully ended until one of the faithful scouts was properly acknowledged on his thirteenth birthday. Gordon Collins of Neal street was sent out on an errand and on his return the room was in complete darkness except for the thirteen candles in the center of an elaborate cake. Next came the test Gordon's wind, to see if he could blow the candles in one breath or suffer for thirteen wallows. Gordon's wind held good and the candles were extinguished in one puff.

The Scout Master concluded the evening's program with reading a part of serial story, Fire-Eyes, which is a true health story of scouts' travels in the Rockies. The meeting ended with Scout Benediction.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

Saturday morning opposite 405 Parker street, Newton Centre, an automobile driven by Arthur Shaw, 39 Grove street, Auburndale, collided with the rear of a truck parked on that street. The truck was owned by Rhodes Brothers of Brookline. Jane Bowman of Philadelphia, who was riding in Shaw's car, was slightly injured. Maurice Seery, 16, of 1052 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, died in the Weymouth Hospital yesterday from a fractured skull received in an automobile accident on Thanksgiving Day at South Weymouth. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Seery and attended Newton High School, having been a member of the Junior class. The car in which he was riding was operated by Thomas Watt of 383 Winchester street, Newton Highlands and it crashed into a tree on Main street, South Weymouth. The other occupants of the car, including Albert DiBello of River avenue, Upper Falls, and Kenneth Tinkham of Goddard street, Newton Highlands, escaped with slight injuries. Young Seery is survived by his parents, five brothers and two sisters. His funeral service will be held Monday morning at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, Upper Falls. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

J. B. Boylston, 75, of 15 Boylston road, Newton Highlands, was hit Wednesday night on Boylston street, Newton Highlands by a car driven by Mary Cuss, 15 Belmont street, Newton. He complained of an injury to his hip but was able to walk to his home.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending December 1st there were in the hospital 115 patients, 43 of whom paid as much or more than cost of care, 43 paid less than cost of care and 29, including babies were treated free. 10 babies were born. 68 patients were treated in the out-patient department and 2 in the eye clinic. 15 accident cases were cared for in the operating room. 8 calls were made in the homes by the social worker and 9 patients were transferred by the social service car. During the month of November 445 patients were admitted to the hospital including 127 as out-patients and for x-ray. 375 were discharged. The largest number of patients in any twenty-four hours were 126, the smallest 102. The daily average for the month was 112.97. 46 babies were born, 480 patients were treated in the out-patient department and 36 in the eye clinic. 54 accident cases and 241 regular surgical cases were cared for in the operating room. 190 cases were admitted to the x-ray department. The social worker made 57 calls at the hospital and 29 in the homes. 45 patients were transferred by the social service car. On Monday, December 3, 1928, the monthly meeting of the School of Nursing was held at the Newton Hospital.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 5, the Newton Nurses Alumnae Association met at the Newton Hospital. Among the guests were Miss Mary M. Riddle, Mr. Gifford LeClear and Dr. I. J. Fisher.

Beginning December first Dr. Henry Watters of Newton Centre is in charge of the surgical service. He is assisted by Dr. Harold G. Gidules, also of Newton Centre. Dr. F. M. Lowe of West Newton is in charge of the Medical service. Dr. A. C. Cummings of Newton is the associate physician. Dr. A. R. Fried of Newtonville is in charge of the homeopathic medical service. The obstetrical service is in charge of Dr. Lewis Jack of West Newton.

Of the fifteen accident cases treated at the hospital during the past week only three were automobile accidents. Two of these were women, one being treated for a laceration of the forehead and a sprained thumb and the other for a fractured thumb. The third automobile accident case was a boy who was treated for a laceration over the right eye. Of the remaining twelve accidents seven were men; one with a foreign body in his eye, one with an infected burn on the arm, one with a lacerated finger, one with a laceration of the scalp received while he was working in a ditch, one with a laceration of the skull caused when he was hit by a shovel while working on the road, one with a fractured arm received when he fell from a ladder, and one with a fractured elbow received when he fell from a staging. Four boys were treated, one for a partial amputation of one finger caused when the finger was caught in a door, one with lacerations of both legs and burns of one hand caused while playing with gun powder, one for a fractured leg received when he fell from a load of hay, and one with a laceration of the forehead caused when he fell against the leg of a table. One woman was treated for a fractured wrist received when she fell down stairs.

Beginning December 3, 1928, the telephone number of the Newton Hospital will be West Newton 2800. With our new hospital there will be an increase in service which will call for more trunk lines. These cannot be installed without a new number. It seemed wise to make the change now rather than at the opening of the new building when there will be so many adjustments to be made.

D. A. R. MEETING

Mrs. Walter F. Stevens of Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls was hostess to the Lydia Partridge Whitney Chapter, D. A. R. at its last meeting on Nov. 27th. The business meeting was conducted by the Regent, Miss Marion Dorr. The Chapter voted contributions to the Caroline Scott Harrison Memorial, to Hillsdale School toward a radio and to the State Librarian for books. Miss Anna S. Thompson, chairman of the World War Service, reported a generous response to the appeal for articles for the veterans in hospitals and that these would be sent before Christmas.

Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb of Cambridge, a charter member of this Chapter, gave a very fine and comprehensive paper on "Newton's Part in the Revolutionary War," a record of which will be justly proud. During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. L. E. Everett, Miss Emily F. Fanning, Mrs. H. A. Sherman and Mrs. J. K. Hemphill.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

N. P. Cutler, Jr. was the donor of the venison which added an unusual dish to the regular Saturday night refreshments.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. Freelan O. Stanley, president of the Club, arranged for another of those enjoyable Sunday afternoon concerts which were held in previous years.

Next Wednesday evening, Mrs. C. T. Pierce will be hostess to another mixed bridge party.

The Mather Class

The subject last Sunday at the Mather Class was: "What is Man?" Prof. Mather took this as the opening number in the third series of lectures for the season on "Modern Views of Ancient Problems."

We find God in the results of His presence, the products of His work. Man is the best expression of the nature of God. Therefore we seek to know what man is. By ascertaining the laws which control man's actions and the forces which operate through him, we see the nature of the administration of the universe.

Evolution suggests the value of man. If he rose from a lowly origin to his present high plane, he must be worth a great deal. The increasing spread of brotherly love and of the spirit of self sacrifice indicates man's high estate.

Prof. Mather read some mechanistic theories about man which were a bit hopeless and pessimistic, even cynical.

Then he took up the spiritualistic answer to the problem and quoted the eighth Psalm. The old idea was that man is a pilgrim and Heaven his home and that each man possesses an immortal soul, which continues after the body dies.

If we were nothing but mechanical organisms, it would not be worth while to try to make things better. Man has succeeded in putting himself on a higher plane. His face is set upward. He has a divine discontent. In the struggle upward toward something finer and higher individuals have been stirred by this dissatisfaction with things as they are, to make a change. Progress has come out of these constant changes. The germ of this discontent may perhaps be in the animals. Possibly we can say that man differs from the animals in degree but not in kind, so far as this point goes, although the exact distinction between degree and kind is not very precise. Man is supposed to have this discontent in a greater and higher degree than other creatures.

Man is really not fixed. He is a youthful species of being on the planet. He is still plastic and buoyant and subject to change. In the next hundreds of thousands of years, it depends on man whether or not he is to be any better.

Man has an instinctive urge to put art, beauty, and law into a world of sense perception, because of the soul of man. What is soul? Definitions appear to be difficult. One dictionary excludes intellect and another includes it. Emerson puts it into the field of values. The soul is that part of man which, if real, is not limited to bodily existence. The soul is potential in man and may be actual.

The thought that man necessarily is soul seems to Prof. Mather a harmful idea. He said that soul is a harmful gift to a biped that looks like human beings, but is an achievement made by man, a sort of response to his environment, made possible by the administration of the universe.

If man lays hold of certain forces, he may develop a soul in so far as he builds eternal values. To that extent he is immortal. If what he does, the thoughts which he thinks, and the ideals which he realizes in his own life are worthy to continue for ages yet to come, he is on his way to achieve an eternal soul.

There is an invitation and an open door of opportunity. Human beings have the ability actually to be like God and live lives which have eternal value. How we spend our time and what we accomplish depends on us. It is up to us to achieve immortality. The opportunity is here but there is no driving compulsion. The door is open, but we need not go in. If you don't want your life to terminate with this present existence, you should build eternal values into your life in order to achieve an eternal soul.

Jesus' soul grew. Just when the soul begins, Prof. Mather was uncertain. He thought it was impossible for him to put his finger on the moment of birth of the soul, but on that point he admitted grave uncertainty. As to when man becomes a living soul does not seem apparent. Prof. Mather said he did not think a child acquired a soul until he was old enough to look with eyes of appraisal at the world and discover its values.

The little child has a very little soul. He has potentialities of growth of body and soul. The tragedy comes when the little soul remains little and the grown man retains the little soul of the child.

When a child dies at five years of age, he has had almost no chance to develop a soul. Prof. Mather allowed that maybe that child had potentialities of soul of such a character that growth might continue in ways which we know not.

On the question of the relative values of children and adults, Prof. Mather gave some sort of preference to children because of their potential possibilities which may develop in remarkable ways. Adults are actualities, mostly fixed, static, and many of not much value.

In summarizing, the soul is as big as the outlook on life; that is, it is as big as we make it. In so far as we build eternal values into the soul, to that extent it becomes or grows immortal.

The next Class Party will come on Wednesday, December 19, at the Newton Centre Baptist Church, in the evening.

The next Sunday Evening Round Table will occur January 6. Further particulars are to be announced later.

HAYDEN—HANLON

Miss Mary Evelyn Hanlon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hanlon of Stanford street, Auburndale and Mr. Ralph Hayden of Lowell, were married Thanksgiving afternoon, Rev. Fr. McManmon performing the ceremony at five o'clock. The bride, who wore white satin and carried a bridal bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley, was accompanied by Bessie M. Hanlon, as bridesmaid. She wore peach stain and net and carried tea roses.

A reception followed at the home of the bride, music being furnished by an orchestra.

After a wedding trip to Canada and Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden will reside in Lowell, where they will be at home at Foster street, after January 1st.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At a bridge party and tea given last Saturday at the Commonwealth Country Club, the engagement was announced of Miss Doris Rowe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sannie B. Rowe of Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre and Mr. Sibley N. Freeman of Ward street, Newton Centre. Another pleasing event of the afternoon was the coming out of Miss Ruth Parmelee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. Parmelee, of Commonwealth park, Newton Centre.

Miss Rowe is a member of the class of 1930 at Emerson College and is a member of the Phi Mu Gamma sorority. Mr. Freeman was graduated from Harvard with the class of 1923, where he was a member of the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity. He is associated with a bond house in Boston.

Miss Parmelee is a classmate of Miss Rowe at Emerson College and is a member of the same sorority.

MISS DENNIS ENGAGED

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Viola Dennis of Newton to Dr. Gaylord West Anderson, son of Professor and Mrs. Frank Anderson of Hanover, N. H.

Miss Dennis, the daughter of Frederick H. Dennis of Newton Lower Falls, is a graduate of Newton schools and attended the New England Conservatory of Music.

Dr. Anderson was prepared for college at Worcester Academy and was graduated from Dartmouth in 1922 and from the Harvard Medical School in 1928 with honors.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

At a bridge tea on Saturday last the engagement was announced of Miss Ruth D. Hastings, the daughter of Mrs. Robert W. Hastings of Brookline and Mr. Donald M. Hill, Jr. of Waban.

Miss Hastings is the daughter of the late Dr. Robert W. Hastings of Brookline. She attended the Brimmer School of Boston and was graduated from Smith College in 1927, after which she enjoyed European travel.

Mr. Hill is a graduate of Bowdoin College, class of 1927. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and is a well-known tennis player. He is now a student at the Harvard Law School.

ENGEL—HAFFERMEHL

The wedding of Miss Alma D. Haffermehl, the daughter of Mrs. Louise Haffermehl and Mr. Frederick C. Engel of Newton Centre, took place Thanksgiving night at the home of the bride on Athelstane road, Newton Centre. The ceremony, which took place at eight o'clock, was performed by Rev. Dr. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Church.

The bride wore white satin with the veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried an old fashioned nosegay in keeping with the gown which was distinctively of that type. Miss Margaret H. Freeman of Newton Centre was maid of honor and wore orchid satin similar in type with that of the bride and carried pink butterfly roses.

Mr. Louis V. Haffermehl of Newton Centre was best man and the ushers were, Dewey G. Freeman, Edgar P. Freeman, R. Wilson Hammell of Newton Centre, Ralph Somers of West Newton and Louis Schoenherr of Jamaica Plain.

A reception followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Engel being assisted by Mrs. Louise Haffermehl.

The bride is a graduate of the Katherine Gibbs School of Boston and the groom of Universities of Frankfurt on Main, Munich, Glessen and Harvard.

Mr. and Mrs. Engel will make their home in Newton Centre.

FRIEND—SHELDON

Miss Natalie Sheldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merritt Sheldon, was married on Saturday afternoon, December first, to Francis Stuart Friend, son of Mrs. Frances Friend of Newton, at the home of her parents, 32 Farlow road Newton. Rev. Laurence MacLure, rector of Grace Church, performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald of Dayton, Ohio, was the maid of honor and little Sylvia Dennison of Newton was the flower girl. Nathaniel S. Keith of New York City was the best man.

The bride wore ivory chiffon velvet with a train and her veil was of tulle and duchess lace trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore blue chiffon velvet with a small hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of Tailsman roses and larkspur.

The home was attractively decorated with evergreens and yellow chrysanthemums. A reception was held following the ceremony.

After January first Mr. and Mrs. Friend will be at home at 22 Chamberlain road, Newton Centre.

The bride is a graduate of Bradford Academy Junior College, class of 1927 and the groom attended Harvard College.

MALONY—THURMAN

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Harry Fitch, on Sumner street, Newton Centre, last Friday afternoon, their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Fitch Thurman became the wife of Major Harry James Malony, U. S. A. of Atlanta, Georgia.

The ceremony, which took place at five o'clock, was performed by Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church.

The bride wore a travelling dress of blue georgette and velvet.

An informal reception followed the ceremony.

The bride is the widow of the late Major Allen G. Thurman of the Adjutant-General's office U. S. A. and has three children, Dorothy Anne, Barbara Fitch and Alice Merritt Thurman.

Major Malony is of the General Staff now stationed at Atlanta, Ga. His first wife was the late Fanny Hunter Lockett, daughter of Col. James Lockett retired and he has one son James Lockett Malony.

Major Malony attended Yale University and the United States Military Academy at West Point. He served two years overseas and received decorations from the Belgium, French and United States governments.

Major and Mrs. Malony will reside in Atlanta, Ga. and will be at home after December 10.

SMITH—KETTELL

Miss Katherine Kettell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry James Kettell of Worcester was married to J. Perry Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Perry Smith of Lowell avenue, Newtonville at the First Unitarian Church, Worcester on Saturday afternoon, December first at four thirty o'clock.

Rev. Maxwell Savage performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Francis M. Gunn of Chicago, Ill. and Mrs. Richard Heywood of Hopedale, Mass. were the matrons of honor. The other attendants were Miss Dorothy Applegate of Atlanta, Ill., Mrs. Harold T. Merriam, Jr. of Providence, R. I. and the Misses Stella Woodward, Margaret Torrey and Frances Thayer, all of Worcester.

The bride wore an English gown of ivory transparent velvet beaded in seed pearls, with a train. Her veil had a cap and border of duchess lace and was trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The attendants all wore gowns of ivory transparent velvet trimmed with geranium red and white tulle and flowers. They carried bouquets of poinsettias.

Mr. Jewett T. Flagg of Florence, Ala., was the best man and the ushers were Herbert E. Bancroft of Wellesley, Henry J. Kettell, Jr., brother of the bride, Lawrence Doty of Salem, Charles S. Trefrey of Newton Highlands, Robert E. Gross of West Newton, Marcus M. Munsill and Edwin M. Bulkeley, Jr., both of New York and Richard Heywood of Hopedale.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the church ceremony.

After a wedding journey around the world Mr. Smith and his bride will reside in Boston.

The groom is a captain in the Field Artillery, Massachusetts National Guard. He served overseas in the World War with the Field Artillery, 26th Division.

NORLEY—SHAFFER

Miss Gladys Elizabeth Shaffer of Lowell was married to Dr. Arthur B. Norley of Newton on Wednesday evening, November twenty-eight at the home of her parents.

The bride was attended by Miss Ruth Gardner of Plainville, Mass. Dr. Clyde Bostwick of Roslindale was the best man. William F. Shaffer, three-year-old brother of the bride, was the ring bearer and Claire Larkin was the flower girl.

The ushers were John Shaffer of Reading, Mass., Dwight Bentley of Roslindale and Raymond Larkin of Lowell.

A reception was held following the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin R. Norley. Dr. and Mrs. Norley will reside in Newton.

SPORT NOTES

Country Day School Team Out

Hockey and track candidates at Country Day school have been called out. The hockey candidates are doing cross-country work and playing soccer to get into condition. A. A. Chute will again be the coach of the sextet which is captained this year by Allen Kerns. Track men are doing similar work under Coach C. L. Goodrich. James Cobb, centre on the football team, is the leader of the runners.

Coaches On Week-End Trip

The coaches and faculty managers of the Suburban league will be the guests of Coach Thomas Hines of Brookline this week end at his Windsor Mt. camp in Windsor, N. H. They will meet at the Lexington Minute Man this afternoon and will return Sunday. Coach John L. Sullivan of Newton will be in the party but a meeting of the Interscholastic Hockey league tomorrow keeps faculty manager Dr. Martin of the local school at home.

Dartmouth Should Go Well

With seven veterans and six players from last year's freshman outfit reporting to Coach "Brainy" Bower of the Dartmouth hockey team this week a strong aggregation is expected to represent the Green this winter. Massachusetts boys form the nucleus. Among the seven veterans is Dick Rogers of West Newton who played sterling hockey for the Hanover outfit last year, scoring many goals and beating Harvard practically single-handed with three goals out of a 4 to 1 score. Three of the six sophomores to report are Newton men. Harold Andres and Henry Johnson, who team together at the defence positions, should make the veterans travel fast to hold their places. The other local prospect is Robert Fisher of Waban.

No Football Playoff

There will be no playoff of the tie in the Suburban league between the Somerville and Everett football teams. A few years ago it was a league rule that ties should be played off but two years ago when Brookline and Everett engaged in a post-season game for the title with Brookline winning 7 to 6 in a game played under wretched conditions of snow, wind and rain the Brookline authorities proposed a rule making the playoff a matter to be decided between the two or more schools involved. Everett was willing to play Somerville but Coach Charlie Dickerman of the latter team declined because of the treacherous weather. Thanksgiving Day is late enough in the year for football which is strenuous enough in itself without attempting to play under conditions which might lead to serious injuries.

Holbrook Nominated For President. Guy Holbrook, former Newton high three sport star athlete and at present a junior at Harvard where he was substitute halfback on the varsity football squad until his knee went back on him again and centre on the hockey team, is one of three nominees for the presidency of his class the election of which will be held next week.

Terriers Open Tomorrow

The Boston University hockey team opens its season against the M. I. T. sextet at the Arena tomorrow. B. U. followers will see a decided change in the Terriers method of attack this season with the appointment of Wayland Vaughan, ex-Newton and Yale defense man, as coach. Holmes Whittemore, former teammate of Guy Holbrook and Frank Spaine on the Newton high forward line, is one of the veterans of the B. U. squad. He made the varsity last year as a freshman and was responsible for many of the goals scored. Local fans are expecting to see him aid materially in placing the Hub sextet up near the top of collegiate hockey this season.

Harvard Has First Drill

Coach Joe Stubbs of the Harvard hockey team gave his squad its first real session on the ice early this week on the new surface of the Boston Garden, where the Crimson will play its home games this winter. Harvard seems potentially strong this year with the exception of in the net where the graduation of Joe Morrill has left a big hole in the defence. For every other position there is a veteran available. Guy Holbrook, former Newton star, has recovered from injury to his knee, which he received in football, and which kept him out of that sport all fall, and is ready to take the place of ex-captain Chase at centre ice. Holbrook substituted for the Crimson captain last year. Among the promising sophomores is Johnny Garrison, former Country Day school athletic star, who was one of the leading performers on the freshman sextet a year ago.

Newton League Bowling

Last week Friday night two matches were rolled in the Newton league. Hunnewell took four at Boston pins and Waban two out of three at Bottle Pins in one of the matches while Middlesex was blanking Commercial in both matches. Loring's three string of 342 was best for Hunnewell in Boston pins while Waban only hitting more than one hundred in three of the fifteen strings. In Bottle pins Waban lost the first string by eight, took the second by four and the third by three pins. Pyatt, Middlesex, clipped two records in the match with Commercial getting four successive strikes and a spare for a high single of 174 and making it a perfect night by running up a three-string total of 339.

In Wednesday night's matches Commercial won four from Waban at Boston pins and Waban took two out of three at Bottle pins while Hunnewell was allowing the Newton club one point in each match. Perkins of Commercial set a new season's record of 256 for a single string while rolling against Waban in the Bottle pin match. This remarkable score enabled his team to set a new team single record of 1056. Dexter's 225 was high in the Hunnewell-Newton match while Dexter's total of 606 topped Perkins by seven pins.

Cassidy Wins Match

Francis Cassidy was the only local winner in the first open amateur wrestling tournament of the season at the Newton Y Saturday night. Some of the best grappling for some time was shown with competition in the seven classes exceedingly keen. The matches were well handled by Referees Arthur Mather, Britson Greene, and Thomas O'Hara. The summary:

115 lb. class—Won by Haskins (Boston Y); second, Arcaris (Newton).
126 lb. class—Won by Rapport (B); second, Gagnon (Providence).
135 lb. class—Won by Cassidy (Newton); second, Ferris (Boston).
147 lb. class—Won by Bernardorson (Tech); second, Streadwick (Boston).
160 lb. class—Won by Manoli (Boston); second, Striano (Boston).
175 lb. class—Won by Russell (Boston); second, Stewart (J.).
Heavyweight class—Won by Marchioni (Boston); second, Rabinovitz (Tech).

Country Day Begins Well

Four shut-outs and two 4-1 victories were the results of the opening matches in the Mass. Squash Racquets Association 1928-1929 season Class C competition last Saturday. The other two leagues get under way tomorrow. The Newton Club team, A. L. LeBaron, W. C. Hayden, S. Arend, J. Crayn, and F. E. Mendes, was shut out by the University Club at the Newton Club courts while Newton Centre, W. E. Beer, M. C. Nutting, Huntington, J. F. Forbes and Mattison, took but one of the five matches from Lincoln's Inn Society, Nutting winning his match. Country Day school, a new member of the league, was quite impressive in its debut.

Brings 50 to 75% of all premature motor wear. Causes excessive use of the "choke"—flooding cold cylinders and cylinder walls with raw gasoline. Glass-like metal surfaces are washed clean of the oil film of protection. Vital motor parts laid bare to grinding friction. Excessive dilution follows, fouled spark plugs, high gas consumption, extreme carbonization, corrosion and rapid cylinder wear. These are the troubles that bring big repair bills—troubles for which cold alone is responsible.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Newton Council, K. of C., will hold their second annual charity whist and bridge party at the State Armory, West Newton, Friday night, Dec. 7, for the benefit of the Christmas Basket fund for the poor of the city of Newton. The party is one of the major functions of the Knights of Columbus and because of the charitable purpose a tremendous attendance is expected. In spite of the terrific downpour of rain a year ago over 500 people attended, one of the largest whist parties from the standpoint of attendance ever held in Newton, and a huge financial success bringing Christmas dinners to many deserving families in the city at Christmas time.

Play for both whist and bridge will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock. William Garrity, Past Grand Knight, is chairman of an active committee of Knights who are busy to make Friday night's affair eclipse last year's. He is assisted by Thomas Foley, Austin Morgan, William Higgins, James Messer, Joseph Dargon, John Nalon, John F. Gallagher, Thomas Waters, Grand Knight John Monahan and Deputy Grand Knight Charles E. Coyne.

NEWTON ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Willard DeLue of the Boston Globe was the guest and speaker at the Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club. Mr. DeLue gave an exceedingly interesting talk on newspaper work, how news is obtained and prepared for use and told of some of the scoops which have been made by the most enterprising papers.

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History
—a Six in the price range of the four!

Since the announcement of The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History, tens of thousands of people have placed their orders for this sensational new car! Never before has any new Chevrolet ever won such tremendous public acceptance in so short a time!

The new Chevrolet six-cylinder valve-in-head motor is an engineering masterpiece. Not only does it develop 32% more power than any previous Chevrolet motor... not only does it offer sensationally increased speed and faster acceleration—but it provides this amazing performance with such outstanding economy that it delivers an average of better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

This spectacular performance and economy have been achieved as a result of the greatest group of engine advancements that Chevrolet has ever announced—typified by a new heavier crankshaft... new carburetor, with venturichoke and automatic accelerating pump... new camshaft... automatic rocker arm lubrication... gasoline pump and filter... semi-automatic spark control... and hot spot manifold.

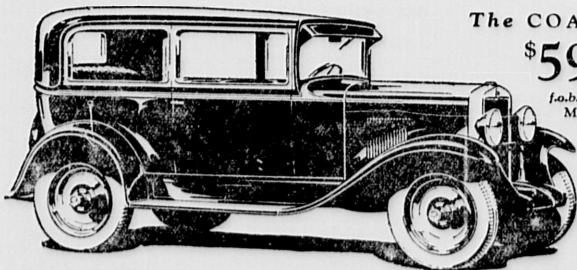

The marvelous new bodies by Fisher are designed for distinctive beauty and style as well as exceptional comfort and safety.

Come in and learn the full and significant story of this greatest of all Chevrolets!

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

COMING EVENTS

State Federation

PRESIDENT'S CHRISTMAS GREETING. Mrs. Azel A. Packard, the president of the State Federation, sends her Christmas greeting, a portion of which your editor takes pleasure in passing along to Clubwomen who may not have the opportunity of reading it otherwise:

Dear Club Women of Massachusetts: We have arrived at that season of the year which is lighted by the glow of holly and enlivened by the fun and mystery which mistletoe symbolizes to the English speaking world, a season dedicated to fireside interests and hallowed by the dearest memories of the race. This is a joyous season and therefore an excellent time to begin to cultivate the joy of living.

I am overwhelmed as I come into closer contact with hundreds of fine, brave women by the fact that so few of us know how to be glad. It is as though as weavers all, we had put a warp upon the loom and were too tired to change the thread frequently for the weaving of a bright-hued tapestry and so pushed on at our looms, turning out a drab piece of serviceable homespun.

It is deeper love in our hearts that will put color into our living, the love that we commemorate this Christmas season, the love that radiates from us as individuals to our neighbors, to all the world.

I cannot close my Christmas greetings to you without a reminder that this year we, as club women, have widened perceptibly our understanding of the great Christmas message, "Peace on earth," and have our feet set in the way of a nearer accomplishment of universal good-will.

May I wish for each of you a special gladness of spirit tucked in the toe of your stocking of Christmas thoughts.

ISABEL Y. PACKARD.
CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS. And Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, State chairman of Conservation, adds her wise note of quite another form of Christmas decoration, and one as vitally to be considered by Clubwomen who will deck their homes in Christmas cheer literally. She says:

As the happy Christmastide approaches be careful what greens you use for decoration. The soft feathery ground pine is fast being exterminated, its loveliness its own undoing—this is one bit of green we are asking you to protect by refraining from its use and is it necessary to say—be moderate in whatever decoration you may use. Our holly, alas! Who has seen a holly tree or bush, with its brilliant berries and glossy leaves, of recent years? I have only seen one and you could never guess where I saw it growing, among the shrubs with which one of our railroad systems seeks to beautify the grounds about its stations.

CHRISTMAS BOOKS. Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson, State chairman of Literature, offers her welcome and valuable aid to Clubwomen who are wondering just what books are worthwhile giving to friends and children. The Literature Committee has prepared a list of books which have been read and approved—fiction, non-fiction, and children's books, and is any Clubwoman's for the asking and the enclosure of a postage stamp.

PRESS PRIZE CONTEST. Miss Carolyn J. Peck, State chairman of publicity, reminds Clubwomen of the contest which closes April 1st, in a press story on some one Club event or activity of the current year, given in 800 words or less. The contest is open to any Clubwoman not in the employ of a newspaper. Newton press chairmen and clubwomen with the gift of expression should win this contest.

YOUNG HOMEMAKER'S CONFERENCE. A Conference of special interest to younger Club members is arranged for early spring—March 21 and 22—by Mrs. Ralph H. Reed, State chairman of American Home, at the Hotel Statler. The subjects of the Conference will be relative to the various aspects of Home Making, the complete program of which will be given in detail later. Those interested in such a Conference should read letter the dates.

RADIO. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., second vice-president of the State Federation will broadcast a "Greeting" next Wednesday morning, the 12th, from WYAC at 10:30 o'clock. At 10:35 Elizabeth Jack, of the Prelude Club; is to entertain with piano selections. Mrs. Paul A. Peters, chairman of Co-operation with War Veterans, presents as guest speaker, at 10:45, Mrs. Marietta McDonald, of the Legion, who will bring Christmas suggestions for the boys and their families.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The next of the entertaining Literary Afternoons, enjoyed by members of the Newtonville Woman's Club, through the efforts of the Education Committee, of which Mrs. J. Walter Allen is chairman, will be December 10th, at 2:30 o'clock. The hostess for the members is Mrs. R. C. Kelley, 503 Walnut street. The program is in charge of Miss Louise Wetherbee, and the book to be reviewed is "John Brown's Body," by Benet.

C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands

Mrs. Mark Ward will give the biography of "Disraeli" at the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday afternoon, December 10th. This is the third world figure in the series, brought into the limelight for study by this Club. Mrs. Helen Ward is to be hostess at her home, 119 Wood End road, for this meeting which opens at 2:30 o'clock.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

On the afternoon of the 10th, also, at 2:30 o'clock, Mrs. F. S. Fairchild entertains the Monday Club, at 3 Oak terrace, from which starting point two Club members, Mrs. George W. Barker and Mrs. Murt. S. Wallace will personally conduct the party on a "Trip to the Sunny South," a most acceptable flight to warmer climes, with snow squalls and cold rain threatening descent of winter, as they have the past week. One of the delightful privileges of a small Club is the possibility of enjoying in a more homey way accounts of experiences and of knowledge of their members.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry S. Wells, 28 Parsons street, West Newton, on Monday, December 10th, at 2:30 p. m.

Three papers will be given: Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, "The Thames and Rivers of England"; Mrs. Frederick E. Vining, "The Po and Tiber Rivers"; and Mrs. Herman R. Place, "The Mississippi River."

Mrs. Harry S. Wells and Mrs. Harry P. Durkee will be hostesses for the afternoon.

The Juniors of the Club hold their meeting on this same date, the 10th, with the Second Committee in charge of the program.

Waban Woman's Club

The Education Committee of the Waban Woman's Club is carrying forward some excellent ideas under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alexander S. MacMillan. In lieu of a Parent-Teachers' Association in this section the committee is arranging opportunities of similar nature as would be given by such an organization for residents and teachers to become better acquainted and of better understanding and appreciation mutually. The committee has invited Club members, and especially parents, and Miss Morrison, the principal of Angier School and the other teachers of this school, to a tea on Monday afternoon, the 10th, from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock, in the Union Church Vestry.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

As only one meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club is held in December, that on Monday, December 10th, to be held in the Kinder-garden Rooms, at 7:30 o'clock, should be well attended.

This meeting—called a "Hotch Potch Party," and for members only—is under the direction of Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken.

As last year, Santa Claus will receive donations in his pack for the War Veterans' Christmas Stocking Fund.

Juniors of Auburndale Woman's Club

Miss Priscilla Soule entertains the Juniors of the Auburndale Woman's Club, at 11 Maple terrace, at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of Tuesday, December 11th.

Social Science Club

"Wonders of the Day," will be the subject of a talk by Prof. Joseph Mayer at the meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday, December 12th, at the Hunnewell Club, at 10 o'clock.

Boston Woman's Civics Club

The Boston Woman's Civics Club will meet at the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, on Wednesday afternoon, the 12th, at 2:15 o'clock. The president, Mrs. E. May Gardner, of Brockton, will preside over the business session. This Club is composed of leading Clubwomen from all parts of the State, and is probably alone in having as members the women from each city and town who have achieved greatest Club distinction in their community and in the State and National Federation.

The program for the afternoon will be a lecture on "Citizens in the Making," illustrated by interesting pictures, given by Mrs. Frances Mayer Carter, well-known to State Federation women as a former chairman, Frances Mayer.

Each Club member is asked to bring a small gift or toy for the children of the Grenfell Mission.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club are to have a real thrill of happiness on the afternoon of the 12th, when Open House in their splendid Work Shop will be held from 2:30 to 5:30 o'clock, with the burning of the mortgage at 4:30 with appropriate ceremonies. Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, a former president of the Club, will dispose of this formidable document, and she may be counted upon to relieve the weight and dignity of the occasion with her inimitable wit. The usefulness of this attractive building to all people in the Highlands has been so demonstrated that it was found necessary to enlarge the Craft Room in the basement for activities of the Art Committee, and also to enlarge the basement for various other opportunities of service to the Club and community. Work on these changes went forward simultaneously this summer, with the Art Committee assuming the cost of their room, and the Club financing by a note the other additions, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Grosvenor Marcy, of the Ways and Means Committee.

Everything ready at your house for Christmas?

At Christmas there is little time to think about such commonplace things as "laundry."

Yet, if the table linen is to be snow-white, the bed linen ready for extra guests, the curtains crisp and fresh, and the many little things that make the house at Christmas a beautiful sight (the little touches that tell so plainly your ability as a home-manager), then someone must think about the laundry. Let that someone be us!

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

I hasten to acknowledge the receipt of two notices, in separate envelopes, of the hearing set for Friday evening, Dec. 14, at City Hall on the question of amending the zoning ordinance. It is flattering to have been twice remembered by my good friend City Clerk Frank M. Grant. Had it been the other way round and instead of two notices I had received not any I might not feel so set up about it. I appreciate the activity of the clerical assistants and thank them for two specimens of handwriting—one very even and legible and other as scrawly and irregular as my own and almost as poor. It convinces me, however, that no one is being overlooked in mailing notices.

Jesting apart, the notice is one of the most comprehensive ever sent out in connection with any hearing that has come to my attention. The "explanatory note" is extremely fair, for it tells of the significance of the proposed change in language that may be easily understood. I do not see how any person can complain of what impends. You may say, "Well, what of it—that's the law and they have to notify taxpayers." True, but it is plainly evident that the farmers of this notice did not intend to open themselves to a charge of having failed to tell everything.

The statement, "If your land is changed from the general residence district to the private residence district you cannot build an apartment house on your land" leaves no room for question. I suppose somebody at the hearing will say, "I didn't understand that was what it meant, etc." I never saw a hearing yet where both sides were fully informed. And yet I must say that everything has been done in these notices to "wake up" those directly affected. If they don't turn out at the hearing and don't speak their minds for or against the change then they have themselves to blame and nobody else.

If you ask me I sincerely hope there will be opportunity for apartment houses in Newton but only for a limited number of such structures. I am almost ready to subscribe a theory that only one more be allowed each in village. By that I do not mean to change conditions in Waban or Chestnut Hill. And there are other exceptions I might note.

In the larger villages there is, in my opinion, room for apartment houses of the most desirable type. The idea of limiting the size of the district is good. Let us use judgment and settle the thing in such a way that no one can rightly claim an injustice has been done.

Who will heed this cry for help which has come to me by mail? "Dear Lev: I have just bought a scarf. It's a good scarf as scarves go. I think I paid four dollars for it and I think you will admit that is enough. Time was when—but why bring that up? The point is this. I have had absolutely no experience with the wisps of silk which the well dressed person is expected to wear tangled around his adams apple and I fly to you, puzzled and perplexed, seeking information on the accepted ways and means to be employed in so folding my new scarf so that it will present the best possible appearance with the least wear and tear on my chin and shoulder blades.

"I have carefully searched the box in which my scarf was placed by the double breasted vest from whom I bought it, but my hunt has failed to disclose any plan or diagram giving details of the manner in which the scarf is supposed to be folded. What to do? O, great and learned one? O, what to do?"

"For if I make the silky folds, north and south, or lengthwise, I find that my overcoat completely hides the daring colors and designs for which I so cheerfully with so much coin of the Union. On the other hand, if I fold it in an easterly-westerly direction, I present the appearance which one would expect from a suddenly animated day bed, which pranced up on its hind legs, letting its couch cover creep swiftly up around the immediate vicinity of where the pillow ought to be.

"I even tried to fold it cornerwise with no better success, for folded thus it either knocks my hat off when I suddenly straighten up or it forms in a huge wad in the small of my back giving me the same general appearance as Lon Chaney in one of his famous parts, depending on whether I place the apex of the triangle at the top or the bottom.

"A friend of mine, who is a skillful surgeon, tried to fold it for me, but the result of his endeavor reminded me so strongly of the days before my tonsils were removed that I resolved not to accept his version of scarf-folding as my own.

"So as a last resort I appeal to you for succor. No, don't tell me I'm already a sucker or I wouldn't have bought the scarf. It is information I seek and I hope and trust that you will, if you are unable to solve my problem unassisted, submit it to the readers of the Graphic for their consideration. Surely there must be someone in Newton who knows how to fold a scarf!"

Perplexed."

Clearly a matter of civic pride should be the response to the appeal for the purchase of health seals. I sincerely hope there will be a liberal number of buyers. Scarcely any argument is needed when it is so clearly pointed out that it is for the health of the children of this city that the seals are sold. The whole thing fits so perfectly into the Christmas spirit that there can be no doubt of its success. The secret lies in popularizing the idea and not allowing the responsibility to fall upon one group in the community.

Sickness, when it comes, does not discriminate so that it cannot be said that one element is less likely than another to be visited by affliction. The preventive measures are what count. The whole tendency of the medical profession has been for a long time toward the prevention of disease. Improvement of conditions means less disease. When, however, care must be given there should be no delay. It seems to me that on the very face of it the health seals fund is ideal. Here were 10,000 Newton children last year given thorough physical examinations and reports made to parents and physicians, but 29 children, all tuberculosis contacts were sent to camps last summer and the health fund paid for their care.

We find a definite use for every penny contributed to pay the District Nursing Association for bedside nursing of tubercular cases, to pay for sanatorium treatment in an emergency, to supply milk to undernourished children and to pay for x-ray examinations in special board of health examinations of school children exposed to tuberculosis. I have no knowledge of the handling of the fund but as one of the humblest of its contributors I ask none. Nor would I if I had the means to give a large amount. The list of names—leading women, men of this city—is sufficient guarantee that the money is being wisely disbursed. Not only should we praise these good people for their efforts but thank them for doing for us a work that is so vital in its importance.

If it is true that the police failed to broadcast the disappearance of a woman, who later was found to have taken her own life, then let me say that we in Newton are behind the times. I can easily understand how commonplace becomes the report of this or that having disappeared such as somebody's automobile or dog. In the matter of humans we are dealing, it seems to me, with something far different.

I do not expect the police to knock over their regular duties and conduct a search for missing articles or animals, but I do believe that with the radio available the disappearance of an adult, at least, should be sent to one of the news broadcasting studios. Children are likely to turn up, but a person of advanced years who is missed from his regular haunts is usually the cause of genuine anxiety. Possibly some explanation may be forthcoming, but I believe it will be found that it is due to our Newton conservatism that no publicity was used in the case referred to above. Let me say that the day has long since passed when there is any value in hushing-up matters that are bound to become public sooner or later. Concealing tragic events may be commended as a favor to the parties affected but in the end officials are criticised and nobody comes to their defence.

The mere flashing of the news of a disappearance over which relatives or friends show grave concern, is enough to acquaint the entire region round about. So many are listening in that a bulletin is no sooner broadcast than a search is started.

I have seen the police at work in many kinds of cases and I have observed unceasing efforts in more than one instance. Sometimes they have received nothing but bitter criticism for their pains. "They might have done more" may be said when if the truth were known, little or nothing more could have been done. No, the "cops" are not always in the wrong, not by any means.

If the police were negligent in the case we have been discussing I expect them to admit it—although not to me personally, but by adopting a broader spirit in giving out news but letting it. The criticism is not justified I hereby apologize in advance.

GOLDEN WEDDING

One of the most enjoyable events of the Thanksgiving season was the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Allen of Prairie Avenue, Auburndale. Mr. Allen and Miss Mary E. Kern were married at Millis, Mass., on November 28th, 1878, but chose Thanksgiving Day as a most appropriate day to celebrate their golden anniversary.

Nearly a hundred relatives and friends from New Hampshire, New Jersey, Wollaston and Watertown took occasion to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Allen, including their four daughters and two sons—Mrs. M. H. Gilbert of New Haven, Conn., Mrs. F. A. Wood of Springfield, Mass., and Mrs. Harvard F. Weston, and Miss Rosa B. Allen of Auburndale, Roland H. Allen of Auburndale and Wendell P. Allen of Chatham, N. Y. and eleven grandchildren.

The house was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums and greenery the same colors being emphasized in the dining room. They received a profusion of gifts appropriate to the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen have made their home in Auburndale for the past thirty years and had previously resided in Medfield, Holliston and Philadelphia. They are both members of the Christian Science Church.

Mr. Allen is of the eighth generation of the Allen family and he and Mrs. Allen are the first couple of that generation to observe their golden wedding anniversary.

The next meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter D. R. will be held next Wednesday afternoon at the Hunnewell Club.

A PAGEANT OF JOHN BUNYAN

The Class in Pageantry of The Newton Theological Institution will present on Friday evening of this week, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Auditorium of the Baptist Church of Newton Centre, a dramatic pageant of John Bunyan. The pageant has been written by the class in celebration of the 300th Anniversary of the birth of John Bunyan, which is being observed this month. It will present the outstanding facts of his life in four episodes showing his home life, his preaching, his arrest, and imprisonment. The pageant will also include a pantomime of the "Pilgrim's Progress." The music and costumes will be of the 17th century.

Light Vote Cast At City Election Only 7000 Voters Go To The Polls

Floyd and Jamieson Win Contests For Aldermen-At-Large and Woodcock in Ward 2

The city election on Tuesday was a clear case of "flop" in point of interest, only 7014 voters out of 30,000 registered taking enough trouble to go to the polls.

There were two contests for alderman-at-large, one with three candidates from Ward 4 and the other from Ward 7 with two candidates. There was also one contest for ward alderman—that in Ward 2.

With three or more candidates, the preferential system of voting is used in this city. This plan gives the voter a first and a second choice, if he or she chooses to exercise that right. If neither candidate receives a majority of first choice votes, the second choice votes are added to the first choice and a plurality vote settles the matter. In Ward 4, Charles B. Floyd received 3621 first choice votes. Alderman George M. Heathcote had 2606 votes and Howard Murphy, 163 votes. Second choice votes were therefore not necessary, Mr. Floyd having a majority on first choices. Second choice votes were cast Floyd, 343, Heathcote 653 and Murphy 355.

Farewell Banquet For Rev. Frederick B. Ford

Interesting Event at Newton Centre In Honor of New Missionary

Rev. Fred B. Ford, who starts for missionary work at Iloilo, Philippine Islands, next Saturday, was given a send-off at the Baptist Theological Institution on Wednesday. The Chapel of the Seminary was filled with students and friends. The Student Volunteers, a company of those who have foreign missionary work in view, had charge of the service.

President Herrick, the first speaker, said that a consecrated imagination is a great need of the church. Nothing is more invigorating than to catch sight of the Apostolic procession. Newton's story in mission is thrilling. Newton men have gone as evangelists to every nation, every continent, every race. We should visualize the glorious pageant. Recent classes have kept the procession unbroken.

Miss Suman, a veteran in the work among the Filipinos, outlined the immense opportunities of the work at Iloilo. There is a High School on one side of the Mission church with several hundred students, and on the other side, a Normal School with a thousand students, the picked men and women of a province containing between two and three million people. These young people, all of whom will be leaders among their people for the next generation, respond gratefully to all that the American church is doing for them.

Mr. Ford made a moving reply to these fraternal addresses. The Christmas story of God's incarnation in Jesus is an example of how God dwells in those who, in Christ's name, go forth to the needy with the Christian gospel. A fresh incarnation occurs in the heart of all who volunteer for such service; and the process is repeated in the converts in foreign fields and again in those who, in turn, in future years, will believe in Christ through their labors.

Final prayer was made by President Herrick. Mr. Ford and family leave on Saturday for the Pacific Coast and will sail for the Philippine Islands the middle of January. Mr. Ford has been pastor of the West Newton Baptist Church for two years and has won golden opinions for his strong work and consecrated personality. His friends believe that he is a young man with unusual spiritual insight and power and will do a remarkable work in the field where God has called him.

The Water Situation Is Far From Serious

City's Use of Metropolitan Water Merely a Wise Precaution

Newton's famous water is once more in the limelight, although there is not much lime in Newton water. Much publicity was given in several Boston papers on Monday and Tuesday of this week to the fact that for over a month all the water which has been supplied to residents of Newton has been coming, not from Newton's own water reservation on the Needham side of the Charles River, but from the Metropolitan Water system. This explains the aerated condition of the water drawn from faucets in this city for some weeks past. The white appearance of the water, which has disturbed some people is merely air bubbles, which for some reason or other get into the water which comes from the Chestnut Hill reservoir of the Metropolitan system.

In October it was discovered by the local water department that Newton water had again deteriorated. The screens at the pumping station were becoming clogged and the water was observed to have a disagreeable taste and odor. The officials of the Newton Water Department on their own initiative caused the flow of the water from the Newton system to cease entering the water mains of the city and started getting all the water used (Continued on Page 4)

Newton Business Men Elect New Officials

Thomas H. Burns the New President
Newton Business Associates

The annual meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held last night at the Hunnewell Club. Following the monthly dinner, during which music was furnished by Larry Fredericks orchestra and choral singing was lead as usual by Charles Dolan, President Harold Moore officiated at the business session. The officers chosen for the coming year were: President, Thomas Burns; Vice Presidents, Larry Fredericks, William M. Cahill, Wilfred Chagnon; Treasurer, George White; Secretary, Dwight Colburn. A lengthy discussion was held on the matter of the changing of general zones to private residence zones and several of the members voiced their decided opposition to this plan. It was announced that Thomas Burns will represent the organization at the meeting to be held on this matter at City Hall tonight. The question of apartment houses was also discussed, quite diverse views being expressed on this topic.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS GIRL HONORED

Miss Mary Elizabeth Reynolds of Newton Highlands has been awarded the Sarah Streeter cup, given annually by the physical education department of Mount Holyoke College to the member of the senior class who is in best physical condition during the final physical examination. The cup, given in 1914 for the first time, is to stimulate greater interest in athletics and physical education.

A good student and a good athlete, the cup winner attributes her success to a program of living that she follows religiously. She is to bed early never eats between her three meals daily, drinks only tea, and is fond of outdoor exercise, particularly for walking and identifying birds. She can name 75 different kinds of birds that can be found in this section.

She plays soccer and tennis and likes to swim, and can do all three equally as well.

She takes her studies easily, working hard at what interests her and gliding easily through what does not. English literature is her major subject, and her minor subject is philosophy.

This year's cup winner is domestically inclined also. She is considered an A-1 cook. Another interest of hers is dramatics. When she was a student at Newton High School she coached a play there and also was awarded a prize for public speaking.

CHARITY WHIST

Next Tuesday night at 8 in Elks Hall, Centre street, Newton Corner, Newton Council, Knights of Columbus will hold a Whist and Bridge Party, which will be open to the public. The proceeds from this party will be given to the Christmas Charity Fund of the Council to provide Christmas Baskets for worthy poor in this city. It is hoped that there will be a generous response to this worthy cause.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SPORT NOTES

"Y" Five Noses Out Lynn

The Newton Y basketball team won its first game in several years from the Lynn Y quintet last Saturday night on the Lynn court. A last minute basket by Arthur Kohler to bring the final count to 19 to 18 being the deciding goal. Kohler led the scoring with four field goals and one from the foul line. Purcell and Gray with five points each brought Newton's total to 19. For Lynn Captain "Toots" Bowser, who is playing his 25th consecutive season for the Shoe City five, counted five points to lead his teammates.

Whitmore Scores First

Monday night the Boston University hockey team opened its season with a 2 to 0 victory over the M. I. T. sextet at the Boston Arena. Holmes Whitmore, former Newton high athletic star, counted the first goal on a pass from his wingman about six minutes after play had begun. Wednesday night at New Haven the Terriers were blanked by the Yale six 3 to 0 in a game which found the Hub outfit on the defense most of the time.

Signore Places Sixth

Vincent Signore placed sixth in the 10-mile road race under the auspices of the Dorchester club last Saturday over the Roxbury-Mattapan course. The race was won by Hennigan, veteran runner. Signore was but three seconds behind Kneeland, fifth place winner, and but four minutes and twelve seconds behind Hennigan. Signore's time was 58 minutes and 48 seconds.

Squash Racquet Results

Competition in Classes A and B of the state squash racquets association team matches got under way last Saturday with Class C continuing with its second week's interclub play. Newton Centre was beaten 3 to 2 by the Cambridge team in the only Class A match of local interest. W. H. Rice and R. C. Bray were the local winners. In Class B Harvard defeated Newton Centre 4 to 1 to start them off in a top tie with Cambridge which had a similar margin over the B. A. A. P. M. Geddard was the sole point winner for Newton Centre. The Newton Centre Class C team scored a shut out over M. I. T. on the latter's courts with Snow, Nutting, Cooper, Hicks and J. G. Noble winning without much difficulty. Snow was forced to play four games to win after dropping the first.

Newton League Bowling

In the Wednesday night matches of the Newton bowling league the Newton Club and Waban Neighborhood Club teams broke about even. Waban shut out Newton in bottle pins while Newton allowed but one of the four points in Boston Pins to go to their opponents. Robbins of Waban rolled 235, 182 and 224 for a total of 641 to lead the big pin bowlers. Hunt of Newton was not far behind him with a total of 613. The Hunnewell club teams, rolling against Commercial, had to be content with but one point for the evening. This was scored in the second string of Boston pins when Delong, Cutler, Olmsted, Loring and Greene hung up a total of 531 against that of 493 for Commercial. Loring was high man for Hunnewell with 139, 107, 116. Colby led the Hunnewell bottle pin bowlers with 204, 202, 182, for a total of 588. Incidentally Commercial's three string total of 2892 in the bottle pin match set a new league record. The matches were rolled on the Hunnewell alleys. Three of the bottle pin teams were over 600. Appleton turned in a high three of 642 with a high single of 245 while Briggs rolled 623 and Tilton 603.

Harvard Wins

Coach Joe Stubbs' Harvard hockey team opened its season Wednesday night with a 9 to 1 victory over the M. I. T. sextet. The Crimson overshadowed the Beavers in all departments and only in the third period was play anywhere near even. Harvard used seventeen men and scored with all combinations on the ice. Guy Holbrook, former Newton star, was at centre ice for Harvard when the game began but was relieved later by Garrison, former Country Day school star, and Everett, another substitute. Holbrook did not score any of the Crimson points but midway of the second session passed the disc to his captain, John Tudor, the left wing, who swept the puck into the net.

Lawless Scores

"Gyp" Lawless of West Newton, former Newton high and Boston University hockey star is captain of and playing centre ice for the Employers Liability team in the Bay State amateur hockey league this winter. Wednesday night at the Arena the Employers Liability six topped the Argonauts 6 to 2. Lawless opened the scoring which put his team in the lead never to be headed.

Two Win Numerals

Francis Gilligan and Joe Forristall, former Newton high and Exeter academy football players, were among the 23 members of the Harvard freshman football team who were awarded their numerals this week. Varsity letters were awarded also but Tom Gilligan, who saw considerable service as a substitute halfback, failed to get enough to win his "H." He should have plenty of opportunity to win it in the next two years, however, being a member of the sophomore class at present.

Kevorkian Gets Letter

Ed Kevorkian, former Newton athlete, and a linesman on the Brown varsity, was one of the eleven men awarded letters this week by the Brown athletic council. Considerable agitation was aroused because the men on the A B and C teams were not granted insignia. An undergraduate council meeting is being held this afternoon to determine whether a recommendation will be made to the athletic authorities to grant letters to 31 of the 50 men on the squad. The 20 additional letters were not awarded originally because the athletic council felt that not all of these were entitled to the award and it would not be fair to issue them to some and not to all as Coach McLaughry used his three teams practically intact all season.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Wesley M. Dynes, a former officer in the British Corps, who was an eye witness of the capture of Jerusalem by General Allenby, gave a very interesting talk last week on "Allenby and the Last Crusade."

Under the auspices of the Newton Y. M. C. A. the DeMolay Band of Newton gave a fine concert last Sunday afternoon at the Immigration Station in East Boston, much to the delight of about sixty-five men of many nationalities. The band was in charge of Mr. Don Leonard, their General Manager.

Last Monday evening the members of the Round Table Club of Newton and the Toreadore Club of Gloucester, public speaking clubs sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. of each city, met at the Hotel Somerset and enjoyed a most interesting evening of friendly rivalry in speech-making around the banquet table. Edward V. Ambler, Y. M. C. A. General Secretary of Gloucester was present with the Toreadore Club. The following members of the Round Table Club of Newton were present: J. Ernest Gibson, President, Frank Perry, Jr., Dr. Leslie A. Russell, Thomas Aiken, Roy Edwards, Malcolm P. Ball, Dr. Horace L. Howe, A. C. Zinck, Dr. Geo. N. Abbott, Clifford Whitney, Clarence Lodge, R. M. Patterson, Edward M. Rowe, and W. S. Bruton.

More than thirty of our Newton and Watertown older High School boys were delegates from the Y. M. C. A. and various churches in the city to the older Boys' Conference at Fitchburg, Mass., last week end. They reported a very interesting time. Following is a partial list of the delegates: E. LaRett, W. Bjorn, R. Emery, G. Clay, S. Carlson, G. Wallace, S. Finn, H. McLaughlin, E. Fleming, C. Harlow, W. Eaton, R. Field, L. Field, J. Chase, E. Fay, R. Wells, A. Sherman, A. Pierce, R. NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the executive committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 11th, at the home of its president, Mr. Gorham W. Harris, 185 Highland avenue.

The major part of the evening was taken up by a discussion of the possible zoning changes to be made in view of the apartment house situation in Newton. Alderman Baker was present by invitation, and informed the members thoroughly as to events leading up to the proposed change, and as to probable developments. President Harris was appointed to lead a small committee, representing the Association, to "listen in" at the hearing, and to present to the Alderman a written report as to a possible zoning of Newtonville.

A number of minor matters were discussed, including the playground situation for small children in Newtonville, suitable polling places for elections, a future Community House for Newtonville, gas station locations, and the elimination of several nuisances, such as unsightly small buildings and rubbish filled areas.

An appropriation was made to support the work of the Central Council. Committees were authorized to arrange for the annual meeting next spring, and for the election of officers. The Newtonville Improvement Association has now about 750 members.

BURTON HOLMES ON HAWAII

Firm in the belief that Americans should know more about their island possessions, Burton Holmes has decided to give them an intimate picture of not the least important of these possessions, the Hawaiian Islands.

The tropical loveliness of Hawaii has ever held a great fascination for Mr. Holmes. He has visited the islands many times—made innumerable pictures during each visit and written a book on the subject, but not until rounding out his vast collection of pictures during his visit of last spring has he felt qualified to attempt an entire lecture on this subject.

The wealth and luxury of Honolulu, its polo-polo, its marvelous beach at Waikiki and its myriad attractions, are a never-ending source of joy to the travelers, and when there is added to this a tour of the island's exquisite sugar lands, her picturesque pineapple plantations, rugged shores, lofty mountains and active volcanoes, there are few more varied or satisfying countries in the world to travel.

Mr. Holmes' extensive itinerary will cover all this and more. The lecture which is illustrated with numerous color views and many unusual motion pictures will be given at the Eliot Church, Newton, next Tuesday evening, December 18th.

VOSE'S CHRISTMAS FACTORY PIANO SALE A RARE OPPORTUNITY

Friends of Newton people who were fortunate enough to purchase pianos in former years at the special Christmas piano displays at the fine Vose factory on School street will have the opportunity to duplicate the savings of their neighbors. For two weeks only the Vose factory is throwing open its doors to the music-loving public as a special event at Christmas time.

Piano models that have been discontinued, some that have been out for recitals, others that have been on demonstration, also used pianos that have been restored—these in addition to the wonderful line of new Vose factory pianos—well, a word to the wise is sufficient.

So desirous are the Vose people of having music lovers inspect their factory and its output that they offer to send an automobile to convey inquirers to the factory showrooms. The attention of GRAPHIC readers is called to the Vose Christmas piano sale advertisement on another page of this issue.

Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Wesley M. Dynes, a former officer in the British Corps, who was an eye witness of the capture of Jerusalem by General Allenby, gave a very interesting talk last week on "Allenby and the Last Crusade."

Under the auspices of the Newton Y. M. C. A. the DeMolay Band of Newton gave a fine concert last Sunday afternoon at the Immigration Station in East Boston, much to the delight of about sixty-five men of many nationalities. The band was in charge of Mr. Don Leonard, their General Manager.

Last Monday evening the members of the Round Table Club of Newton and the Toreadore Club of Gloucester, public speaking clubs sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. of each city, met at the Hotel Somerset and enjoyed a most interesting evening of friendly rivalry in speech-making around the banquet table. Edward V. Ambler, Y. M. C. A. General Secretary of Gloucester was present with the Toreadore Club. The following members of the Round Table Club of Newton were present: J. Ernest Gibson, President, Frank Perry, Jr., Dr. Leslie A. Russell, Thomas Aiken, Roy Edwards, Malcolm P. Ball, Dr. Horace L. Howe, A. C. Zinck, Dr. Geo. N. Abbott, Clifford Whitney, Clarence Lodge, R. M. Patterson, Edward M. Rowe, and W. S. Bruton.

More than thirty of our Newton and Watertown older High School boys were delegates from the Y. M. C. A. and various churches in the city to the older Boys' Conference at Fitchburg, Mass., last week end. They reported a very interesting time. Following is a partial list of the delegates: E. LaRett, W. Bjorn, R. Emery, G. Clay, S. Carlson, G. Wallace, S. Finn, H. McLaughlin, E. Fleming, C. Harlow, W. Eaton, R. Field, L. Field, J. Chase, E. Fay, R. Wells, A. Sherman, A. Pierce, R. SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

There was a large attendance at the thirty-second anniversary of the Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., which was held Wednesday at the Hunnewell Club, Newton.

The members of The William Dawes, Jr., Chapter, Sons and Daughters of the Revolution were the guests of the afternoon.

The Regent, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge called the meeting to order and it was opened with the pledge to the flag. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and reports of chairmen were read and accepted. Mrs. Edigar M. Horne, chairman of the bridge whist which was held in November at the Hunnewell Club, reported a goodly sum netted for the Patriotic work of the chapter. The Regent thanked Mrs. Horne and the members of her committee for the excellent work which made the party a success.

Mrs. Goodridge reported $118.10 netted for the Sarah Hull Table at the State Fair which was held in Chipman Hall, Boston on November 7. It was voted to send a Christmas basket to the John A. Andrew Home at Newtonville and a sum of money was appropriated for the ex-service work which is being carried on by the State Society.

EDITORIAL

We presume it is useless to scold the electorate on their negligence to vote at a city election. We cannot help referring, however, to the fact that the persons elected to our board of aldermen and school committees have it within their power to levy increased taxes and if inexperienced or lightweight city officials are chosen by the few who exercise their right of voting, it is clearly the fault of the stay-at-home voter. The chief trouble lies in the fact that the persons who are good citizens in this respect, have to suffer as much as those indifferent to their civic responsibilities. Possibly it might help if we adopted biennial elections, and elect aldermen, members of the school committee the same time we elect a mayor. We should like to see the matter investigated at least.

While we are supposed to have a non partisan system of elections to city office, as a matter of fact, the city generally divides along Democratic and Republican lines. In the vote this week the Republican precincts cast a majority for Floyd and Jamieson and the Democratic precincts endorsed Heathcote and Callanan.

The business men of Newton Corner are under heavy obligation to Mr. Harold Moore, the retiring president of the Newton Business Association for his untiring work to improve business conditions in that part of the city.

We heartily congratulate the city on the election of such men as Charles B. Floyd and Philip S. Jamieson as members of the board of aldermen for the next two years.

Congratulations to Rev. George G. Phipps on reaching his ninetieth birthday of a long, busy and useful life.

A knowledge of "Birds, bugs and brooks" evidently did not hurt Mr. Floyd with the voters on Tuesday.

The Graphic Office is now located in the same building as the Newton Post Office.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

At the regular meeting of Newton Lodge of Elks last night a large number of members enjoyed an excellent vaudeville program. A collation was served and favors, in the form of tickets for Christmas turkeys, distributed to a number of lucky individuals.

Efforts are being made to organize a band among the members of the Elks in this city.

Much interest is being displayed in the bowling tournament being conducted by Newton Lodge. Six teams are contesting and the competition has been very close to date.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Funny, isn't it, ain't it, or is it not? Formerly the county of Middlesex, of which Newton is an important unit, owned and conducted two jails, one at East Cambridge, the other at Lowell. For a few years after "prohibition" came, or was supposed to have come, there was such a falling off in the number of persons committed to jail in Middlesex County, that the jail at Lowell was considered, by county officials, to be superfluous. Accordingly, a few years ago, the Lowell jail was sold at a bargain price. It was assumed that with the 18th Amendment in force, the need for jails would constantly grow less.

Somehow, or other, things have not worked out as expected. Our jails instead of becoming depopulated, have become overpopulated. The Middlesex County jail at East Cambridge has proper accommodations for 250 prisoners. Last Friday there were 322 prisoners in the jail; some of them were sleeping on mattresses spread on corridor floors. The carpenter shop is turned into a dormitory and contains 48 cots. It has been necessary to send prisoners who should have been committed to the Middlesex County jail to jails in other counties. Now it is being deemed necessary for Middlesex County to erect a bigger and better jail.

The Boston papers last week devoted considerable space to the trial in the Middlesex Superior Court at East Cambridge of a "mob" of shoplifters. More than a dozen persons were tried on charges of conspiracy, larceny and receiving stolen goods. Of the 14 tried, nine pleaded guilty, four pleaded nolo and one was found not guilty. The defendants were residents of East Boston, most of them being related. Practically all of the articles they stole were shoplifted from Boston stores. The larger stores in Boston for defence against shoplifters operate a detective organization known as the Stores Mutual Protective Association. When the band of East Boston shoplifters was detected, this detective association engaged the services of a young woman from Maine. She took up her residence near the shoplifters' homes, gained their confidence and purchased many stolen articles from them.

Last September the Maine girl confederate of the detective association rented a tenement on Green street, Newton, and for a few weeks had the shoplifters bring some of their loot out to this house. On October 4th, as a result of well laid plans members of the shoplifting mob were arrested by a squad of Newton police as they arrived at the Green street rendezvous. Fourteen of the gang were indicted by the Middlesex County Grand Jury, tried in the Middlesex Superior Court and some of them sentenced to serve terms in the Middlesex County jail. One was committed to the Concord Reformatory. While, of course, it is for the benefit of the community at large, and the large Boston stores in particular, that this gang of shoplifters was apprehended, indicted, convicted and punished, it hardly seems just that Middlesex County should stand accused of convicting and jailing criminals from Suffolk County, even though it is strictly legal.

A well known resident of Newton was observed wheeling a baby carriage containing a contented infant in front of the polling place at West Newton on Tuesday afternoon for several minutes. The "nursemaid" problem volunteered his services to permit the mother of the baby to go into the voting place and cast her ballot. If more of our citizens took as keen an interest in local politics as does this citizen, more than 23% of the voters would participate in a municipal election.

Members of the traffic squad of the Newton police, assisted by Mechanic Bart Cullen, have been apprehending many operators of cars which had defective equipment. The traffic squad has also been quite busy in catching speeders on streets in this city. As a result a large number of persons are due to appear in the Newton court.

"Ancient Mariner" Had Counterpart in Life

Many of the literary classics which the world accepts as fiction are based on solid fact. A striking example is brought out in the Golden Book, which tells how Coleridge came to write his immortal "Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

The poem was inspired by George Shelvocke, a shipmaster who spent three years in a voyage around the world, from 1719 to 1722. Returning to England, he wrote an account of the trip, telling how the ship had been becalmed for many days near Cape Horn. The one sign of life was a black albatross, which hovered over the vessel, until the second officer, Hartley, taking it for an ill omen, shot it down.

There followed six miserable weeks, in which the ship was in constant peril, before the coast of Chile was sighted.

It was in 1797 that Coleridge's friend, William Wordsworth, suggested to the poet that he make Shelvocke's story into a poem. Wordsworth incidentally suggested such of the eerie details as the navigation of the ship by dead men, and also furnished several lines of the poem itself.

Grass Knots Convey Message to Gypsies

Close observers may have noticed in the neighborhood of country cross-roads, or where roads diverge, a tuft of grass which has been tied into a knot at the top, and probably considered it the casual act of some idler, but such was not the case.

Since time immemorial the grass knot has been used by the gypsies as a signal and sign. Usually it is in tended merely as a guide for a second division of a party, indicating which road has been taken by the first section, but, if necessary, quite elaborate messages may be conveyed, a particular meaning being indicated by the character of the knot and its position with regard to the road—whether close to or some distance from the wheel tracks, whether on the right or left of the right of way. The second party is even able to tell with considerable accuracy how long it has been since the first party tied the knot. This is accomplished by the breaking of a handful of grass stems when the knot is tied—the degree to which broken stems are dried being a pretty clear indication of the time that has elapsed.

Wrong Idea About Birds

The habits of some Porto Rican birds give rise to rather curious beliefs among the natives, writes Doctor Wetmore of the Smithsonian Institution. Discussing the brown pelican or alcatraz, he says: "Native fishermen relate gravely that, when the alcatraz grows old and feeble, rather than suffer death by starvation it commits suicide by hanging itself by the head from the fork of a mangrove or a crevice between two stones. Those familiar with the clumsiness of the great birds can readily understand that this belief arises from observation of individuals that slip and are caught so that they cannot escape."

Dahlia of Mexican Origin

Dahlia history commences in 1791, when Cavandish, the director of the Botanic garden of Madrid, Spain, described the flowering of a set of dahlia roots received in 1789 from Vicente Cervantes of Mexico. Dahlias first reached England in 1798 through the agency of the marchioness of Bute. This had little effect on the history of the plant, however, as all these plants perished from a lack of proper understanding of their needs. They were reintroduced successfully in 1804, through the interest of Lady Holland.

Quite Different

The golfing novice finished his first game and airily handed his score card to the secretary, with the remark: "Two below bogey!"
"But," protested the official, "this is nowhere near bogey!"
The novice looked hurt.
"Compare the score," he said, "with the figures on the card, and you'll see."
The secretary looked.
"Great Scott, man," he roared, "that's the length of the course in yards."

Poor Bandits

At one time when traveling in Turkey with Cornelius Vanderbilt, the late Chauncey M. Depew thought it a great joke that the train ahead of theirs was held up by bandits and a well-to-do farmer captured for $5,000 ransom, while Vanderbilt's train was not interrupted.

"Brigandage in Turkey needs reorganization," he wrote home. "It ought to be put in the hands of a New York syndicate and put on a businesslike basis."

That Was Italy

Various are the ways by means of which European countries made impressions on the minds of Americans traveling therein. After returning home from a trip to Europe, a Brooklyn woman was asked by a friend, "Did you go to Italy?"
"Let me think," Then turning to her daughter she said, "Did we go to Italy, dear?"
"Why, yes, mamma. It was in Italy that we bought those lovely silk stockings."

POLICE NEWS

Fines for speeding too fast in automobiles were imposed on several in the Newton court last Friday. James Chiruz, 27 Orient avenue, Newton Centre, was fined $10; Mabel McGourty, 372 Parker street, Newton Centre, and John Smith, 233 Adams street, Newton, also were fined $10 each. Marie Hubbard, 350 Quinebaquin road, Lower Falls, had her case placed on file.

In court Monday five men were fined for gaming on the Lord's Day. Nicol Salvucci, 14 West street, Nantum, was assessed $10 and fines of $5 were imposed on Julius Bianchi, 29 Quirk court, Joseph DeRose, 14 Morgan court, Lawrence Panagiot, 84 West street, Daniel Gatti, 133 Adams street, was fined $3 for being a spectator at the card party when Salvucci's house was entered on Sunday by Serg. Moran and Patrolman Walker and Greeley.

Fifteen autoists were in the Newton court yesterday charged with driving autos improperly equipped. They had been gathered in the drag-net spread the past few weeks by the Newton police who are co-operating in the State wide safety drive. Abner Hertzmark, Bay State road, Boston, was fined $15 for driving with poor brakes, $10 for not having proper lights, $5 for not having his registration. William Caruthers, Chester avenue, Waltham, was fined $15 for driving without a license. Others fined for driving with defective brakes were John FitzPatrick, Wellesley; William Anderson, Roxbury; William Murray, Natick; Donald McMullen, Hunt street, Watertown; Walter Sprague, Cambridge; Albert Rossi, Highland avenue, Needham; Oreste Incovali, Green street, Newton; John Buffay, Lynn; Francis Bledau, Lafayette street, Waltham; Elmer McCarthy, Everett; Nancy Whitfield, Farm street, Dover, and Elizabeth Dunker, 58 Harvard street, Newtonville, each was fined $5 for speeding.

—One hundred and twenty-five business men attended a chicken-pie luncheon Tuesday noon in Parish Hall. The luncheon was served by the Crossley Circle of the Ladies Aid.

—The King's Herald of the Methodist Church held their monthly meeting and Christmas party in Parish Hall Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. William McNeally was hostess to the group.

—Preparations are under way for the Christmas Pageant, "The Guiding Star," to be presented December 23rd at the Methodist Church. This pageant will be in pantomime form with musical accompaniment.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Eldridge of Walnut street, Newton Highlands, who have given up their home to go to California, are now staying with Mrs. Eldridge's daughter, Mrs. Everett Freeman of Richardson road.

—Mrs. Schylur Smith of Meredith road was the recipient of many beautiful gifts at a silver anniversary shower given to her last week Wednesday afternoon by some of her friends at her home. Mr. and Mrs. Smith celebrated formerly on Sunday.

—The annual Christmas bazaar and entertainment of the Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church was held last week Wednesday and Thursday in Parish Hall of the Methodist Church. A bake bean supper followed by a program by the Mystic Troubadours of Medford and readings by Miss Barry of the Emerson School of Oratory concluded the joint occasion.

—Although a stop and enter signal has been installed at the intersection of Chestnut and Elliot streets, the residents near there do not seem very pleased. Many think that the signal is placed in a wrong position to be of any help. The Middlesex and Boston Bus has to stop sharp then make a narrow swing in order to avoid hitting the signal when entering Chestnut street on its way to Watertown.

THE WATER SITUATION

here from the Metropolitan supply. Experts from the State Board of Health made tests of the water and found it to be free from any pollution or impurities that would endanger health. Nevertheless the local officials decided not to use Newton's own water supply until it has been thoroughly freed from the peculiar condition which had come upon it.

The pumps at the station at Newton Upper Falls have been discharging the flow from the wells and the conduit on the Needham reservation into the Charles River and employees have been at work clearing the wells and conduit of any growths which might be responsible for the presence of the swampy taste. About a year ago a new well was constructed on the reservation to add to the supply. Since then a large natural basin on the reservation was dammed and filled with water from the Charles River.

The purpose of this was to further add to the supply. It was believed that the water from this basin would seep through many feet of gravel into the nearby huge wells. One theory advanced for the present condition of the water is—that water from the dammed basin percolating through vegetation became so impregnated as to contain the disagreeable taste. Another theory advanced by a member of the State Health Department is—that the weight of the earth excavated at the time the new well was constructed may have caused a break in the iron pipe leading to the conduit, thus allowing water and vegetation from the swamp nearby to enter into the pipe. This theory is not accepted by the local authorities.

As a result of the efforts of the water department employees in cleaning the wells and conduit there has been an appreciable improvement in water and it is hoped that within a very short time it will have resumed its ordinary agreeable condition and will again be pumped into the water mains for use by Newton's population. The great growth of this city makes the problem of providing water from the local supply increasingly difficult. Newton water until recent years deservedly had the reputation of being almost the best supplied to any municipality in this country. Then the growth of crenothrix which clogged the old wooden conduit caused the water to become discolored and at times disagreeable. After the conduit had been cleared of this growth and the larger mains throughout the city had also been scraped free of crenothrix the condition of the water was excellent until this new situation developed.

GLIMPSES OF THE SCIENTIFIC FUTURE

In the course of a recent address entitled "Wonders of Our Day," delivered before the Social Science Club of Newton, Mass., at the Hunnewell Club House, Doctor Joseph Mayer, Head of the Department of Economics and Sociology at Tufts College and author of "The Seven Seals of Science," published last year by the Century Company, said in part:

"I have gone into detail regarding the development of the physical and chemical wonders of our day, such as the radio, the x-ray, the talking-machine, television, synthetic chemical products, and other electrical, gasoline, and steam appliances, because it has been in the physical sciences that the greatest practical applications have thus far come. Their effects upon the destiny of man have been marked. Comforts and luxuries non-existent but a few decades back can now be enjoyed by everyone.

"Improved means of communication and transportation are having additional important effects. They are constantly tying the four ends of the earth closer together.

"Less than four decades old, the automobile has further annihilated space and has in many ways greatly altered the habits of mankind. As for the airplane, there is every reason to believe that in another decade people will be taking to the air as they now take to the train, the steamship, and the automobile. Already regular mail and passenger lines have been established, the earth has been girt, and several expeditions by air have crossed the frozen North and the Pole. What is needed to have us all take to the air is the further development of safety-devices, and this is going forward apace. Highly perfected radio and sound signals and devices attached to the instrument boards of planes are making landings in the fog or at night extremely safe and prevent collisions between planes. Slotted wings are said to prevent a sudden fall when the engine stalls, a prolific source of accidents up to date. Parachutes supporting the entire planes are being perfected to facilitate safe landings in the event of accidents. Dependable weather reports are now available at every hour of the day and night. Airships are being built two and three times the size of the Graf Zeppelin (itself nearly as long as the Woolworth Building is high), which just a few weeks ago astonished the world with its safe western passage over the Atlantic, where effort after effort of the heavier-than-air plane has failed. For small ships and passenger planes, landing stations on top of big hotels are in contemplation. All in all aerial navigation should soon be fairly foolproof and safe. And one should not forget that neither the automobile, the steamship, nor the railroad is absolutely dependable. Witness the recent disasters on the Boston & Maine and the loss of 111 lives on the Vestris. And as for the automobile—Registrar Parker is doubtless doing all that is humanely possible but still there are all too many automobile accidents. This does not seem, however, to keep us out of automobiles.

"In any event the application to the uses of mankind of a few decades of steam power, electrical and other energy, internal engine combustion, chemical analysis and synthesis, has already brought about a greater metamorphosis in man's habits of living than all previous ages of warfare and political scheming have been able to achieve.

"Most of these changes in man's habits and outlook have come about through the mechanical revolution based upon advances in physical science, and an equally spectacular and startling chemical revolution is apparently already under way. Are geological and biological revolutions about to follow? Will we before long harness the clouds and haul them West the spot where we want rain and release their contents, even as we already disperse them by the use of electrified sand? Is it as preposterous as some people think, that we explode huge quantities of dynamite or other material in the path of a tornado to dissipate its destructive powers? Will we be able to utilize the power of the dash and flow of the ocean tides and the heat of the sun for industrial ends? Will we tap the sides of volcanoes like Mount Etna or bore through the crust of the earth to the superheated material beneath and some day operate super-power plants with molten lava? Jove on high Olympus forging his thunderbolts might pale at such thoughts, but not so man in the twentieth century. Will he go further and one day breed a race of geniuses, even as he now breeds new species of plants and lower animals? Will he be successful in his efforts to rejuvenate the aged or find the causes of fatigue and tissue decay and, by eliminating them, prolong life indefinitely?"

"Possibly these are wild dreams and yet they represent some of the problems that specialists in the new sciences of geology and biology are not only talking about but in some respects are attempting to solve. We must not forget that these sciences are only between 75 and 100 years old and that it took 150 years before the practical effects of the science of physics began to make themselves felt. Chemistry has moved much faster and so may geology and biology in the near future. Already there have been interesting developments. Weather forecasts have come to have dependable value. Germs of disease have been isolated and methods devised for combatting their effects. In civilized communities, plagues and smallpox and yellow fever and typhoid and even tuberculosis are no longer public health menaces. The death rate has been materially reduced. The average span of life has been increased. It is estimated that even at the present rate of progress children born in the year 2000 should have an expectation of life of over 100 years. Experiments in rejuvenation are going forward with what seems to be some success. The study of nutrition and of glands and their secretions and the building of synthetic foods are bringing amazing results. Investigations into the causes of fatigue and tissue decay bid fair to open up vistas. All in all we have a right to expect startling developments in geology and biology in the not too distant future and we may yet come to feel that Ponce de Leon in his quest for the fountain of perpetual youth was not such an idiot after all.

"What the embryo science of psychology holds in store for us when it has reached maturity, there is no way at present of predicting. Already, however, certain studies have brought startling results, as in the vistas opened up by psycho-pathology. The prospects are so immense and astounding that timid souls among the psychologists, fearing to face the rule of their associates, may be forgiven for hesitating to accept them. Hypnosis has not merely cured unfortunate of their neuroses. It has also proved beyond further peradventure that each of us has a subconsciousness as well as a consciousness; that much of our psychic activity goes on below the surface, and only on occasion or when needed rises to the plane of awareness; that experiences are in part assimilated, problems solved, decisions made, and volitions carried out in these lower regions; that the normal influence exercised by the mind over the body is but the smallest fraction of what is possible; and that mind can probably communicate with mind in some 'direct' fashion and without the intervention of the senses or other ordinary means of communication.

"Hypnosis has revealed that impressions reaching the sense organs from the outside world, or as a result of inner organic activity, register whether we are aware of them or not, and that a probing of the subconscious will elicit astonishing details of past experiences regarding which the conscious ego has never been cognizant. A person told in a hypnotic trance to perform an incongruous act, such as purchasing a hundred chickens of varying sizes at a stated future time, and having no later recollection of the mandate, will not only perform the action at the time indicated, but will as a rule evolve a perfectly plausible reason for doing so. How this train of purposive activity is developed in the subconscious is still a mystery, but there is no further reason to doubt the nature of the facts.

"Whoever has had occasion to witness the cataleptic states brought on by hypnosis, cannot come away without the feeling that the mind has powers of control over the body which are normally untapped. Mental healing may elude the understanding, but that some disorders have been completely cured through the power of suggestion is also a fact no longer open to question.

—Mrs. Margaret Dillabough of 133 Edinboro street suffered severe injuries last Monday evening at the junction of Watertown and Edinboro streets. While attempting to cross Watertown street she was struck by an automobile driven by Patrolman John A. Bibbo. Mrs. Dillabough was picked up and taken to the Newton Hospital where it was found that she suffered several fractured ribs and possibly internal injuries.

"Direct communication of mind with mind is a contingency few psychologists can face with equanimity. There are now so many validated incidents which give color to the telepathy hypothesis that it would appear as reasonable to assume its legitimacy as it to believe in wireless transmission or the ether. But the ramifications of such an assumption seem too amazing for most specialists. That our ideas may not be altogether our own but may be in part received 'on the air' or that public opinion may be much more than a convenient democratic catchphrase, opens up avenues of psychological development that seem indeed unlimited. William James believed in these possibilities, and we have discovered nothing since his day which might be regarded as contradictory. Truly, in so important a question, even more than ordinary vigilance should be exercised in verification. But we have had too much derision and foolishness in the matter. This is serious business for all of us. The scientific method of careful proven hypothesis, followed by a thoroughgoing test offers the only solution here or elsewhere in the realm of science. As for the alleged phenomena of spiritism and mediumship, still so interpenetrated with conscious and subconscious deception that it is almost impossible to separate fact from fraud (with our present unscientific methods of control), nothing but the briefest mention can be made here. That these phenomena, where genuine, are to a large extent bound up with hypnotic suggestion is now well known.

"But I am afraid I have reached the point where I had better stop. All I should like to add is that, despite the wonders of the present day, we are undoubtedly only on the threshold of such staggering discoveries and inventions that before another decade has passed the airship and the radio will seem just as commonplace to us then as the telephone and the phonograph seem now. What Coolidge says, synthetic chemistry, studies in fatigue, nutrition, rejuvenation, and telepathy, and other geological, biological, and psychological investigations will bring to light, it is beyond our powers at present to discern, but that some of these developments will be stupendous and epoch-making, I, for one, have not the least doubt."

Are Your Clothes Ready For Every Xmas Activity?

Days of busy shopping, thinking entirely of others! The new things you'd like to have for yourself must be put off, for, as usual you've spent more for gifts than you intended.

We can help you stretch your clothing budget, so that everyone in the family may be spic and span for Christmas and the New Year. Throughout the ceaseless round of duties and pleasures that Christmas brings, it's our business to be thinking of you. For the women we take care of coats, afternoon, evening and sportswear.

For the men folks there's their business suits, overcoats, sport clothes and evening clothes. Fast, efficient service, modern presses whereby the crease is 'set' to last longer than ordinary pressing.

And while you're busy getting things together for the Big Day, we'll be busy cleaning and making minor repairs in the children's wardrobe. School clothes, playwear—all the things that get so soiled in the busy day of the children.

And that you may have time to enjoy yourself completely, even the things for tiny tots can be made ready at little trouble or expense to you. Dry cleaning is the one way to safely handle those soft camel-hair carriage robes, woolly sweaters, knitted teddy-bear suits, and so on.

ceeding fourteen years was identified with its growth, serving through the various departments of the bank and being actively located for a material length of time at each of its offices until he left as Assistant Treasurer to take a position as Cashier of the Second National Bank of Malden, Mass. During the four years he was away from Newton, he retained his membership in several Newton fraternal and other organizations of which he was a member.

Since returning to the Newton Trust Company in 1920 he has served as its Treasurer, also holding offices in other banks affiliated with the Newton Trust Company. During this period the assets of the bank have increased from approximately $7,000,000 to over $18,000,000. During this time he has served as President of the Associated Savings Trust Companies of Massachusetts, Treasurer of the Suburban Bankers' Association and locally, as President of the Norumbega Council Boy Scouts of America, Treasurer of the Newton Welfare Bureau, Chairman of the Big Brother Committee, as a member of the committee appointed by the Newton Central Council to study the Boy and Girl Problems of Newton, as President of the Newton Amateur Twilight Baseball League, member of the Finance Committee of the Newton Lodge of Elks and has taken part in many other temporary local activities. He was recently elected a Director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; also chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of the Rotary Club of Newton. He is also a director in the Newton Co-operative Bank.

In his new position it will be necessary for him to devote practically all of his time to the building of the business of the bank; also, having particular care for the service rendered customers in the city. His prediction is a $25,000,000 bank for Newton within a very few years.

Standing in the Pillory

A common punishment in old New England was standing in the pillory. In those times men were punished for many refractory customs. For instance, a drunkard had to wear a red D sewed on his coat or hung about his neck.

An organization that recognizes its duty to those whom it serves cannot help but gain widespread public confidence.

JOHN W. REMMONDS

The death of John W. Remmonds occurred last week Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry E. Davidson, 33 Harrison street, Newton Highlands, after a three weeks' illness.

Mr. Remmonds was a Civil War Veteran of Company H, 19th Regiment of Massachusetts, a member of Phil Sheridan Post 34, G. A. R., of Salem. He was born in Beverly, Jan. 10, 1841. During the last ten years he had been connected with the Webster & Atlas National Bank of Boston. He is survived by a daughter, Grace W. Davidson, a brother, Albert G. Remmonds, and a sister, Mrs. M. Abbie Burdick, both of Beverly.

JOHN B. DANIELS

Mr. John B. Daniels died on Tuesday morning at his residence, 39 Harrison street, Newton Highlands. He was born in Newton Upper Falls in 1865, and was a lifelong resident of Newton. Was employed for a number of years at the Gamewell Company, and was also for some time a member of the Constabulary Band of Newton.

He is survived by his wife, also one sister and three brothers. Funeral services were held from his late home on Thursday morning, with requiem mass at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church.

Agra Stone Utensils

Have Cal in India

Many and varied are the utensils that Hindu stonecutters put on the market. Chief among them are curry-stones and grindstones. Every well-conducted Indian household must have one or both, and the currystone from Agra must sooner or later be imported into all kitchens. There is some peculiar virtue in the Agra currystone. It is so ground and polished as to resist the onslaughts of the heftiest bottle washer, and the acrid masala does not penetrate its pores and break it.

Stone pestles and mortars are popular for the same reason. They are much sought after by apothecaries and the weird contingent of charlatans who make medicine for India's millions. Marble pestles and mortars are very useful for pounding up drugs, and stone ones are generally used for blacksalt, alum and other hard substances that require less care than eggs of newt and toe of frog. But stone pestles and mortars are not the monopoly of medicine.

They are turned out by the hundred for the use of the housewife. They are heavy and cumbersome; yet housewives will travel miles to procure them, pilgrims will tug them home if they pass by that way, and at the big Indian religious fairs one sees a pile of grindstones, currystones, pestles and mortars, hailing from Agra, Aligarh, and Jeypute.

Why Some Wives Have

Thoughts of Murder

"These eggs don't taste as fresh as they might, dear. Where did you get them?"

"Why do you have the gas burning so high? Look at that—what was our gas bill last month, anyway?"

"I wonder if we could not have lunch promptly at 12 today. Ethel?"

"Where on earth is my pipe? I left it here on the piano last night."

"What did you move the gateleg table over in the corner for?"

"That picture is all right where it is. What's the difference whether it is over the piano or the marble-top table?"

"Besides, the wall is already so full of nail holes that it looks like a cribbage board."

"Don't you think you had better let up on that candy, Magnolia?"

"Remember that you gained a couple of pounds last week?"

"I'll bet that with a month's practice I could do all the housework that is done around here in less than two hours a day."

"This is the fifth accident we've had with the new car, and every one of them has occurred with you at the wheel—and every one of them has been the other fellow's fault. Remarkable!"

"—Kansas Industrialist."

Value of Timidity

Anatole France, in his younger days, found it profitable to assume a pose of timidity. Once before starting on a lecture tour, he said to his press agent:

"I want you to work up a reputation for me. I don't know that I am particularly timid, but I should like to be thought so. A timid man can do anything. If he is silent when he ought to speak, people say, 'How charming! He's so timid, you know. If he speaks when he should be silent, they set it down to nervousness. A timid man can dare so much with impunity. So please tell all the people in advance that I am timid.'"

Gourmets Eat Horse Meat

Horses, mules and donkeys supplied the only meat served to gourmets at a banquet recently held in Paris. Among the important dishes were cheval a la delicieuse and pate to fole truffe of donkey, the last named arousing special praise from the delighted epicures. Responses to toasts were filled with praise for the meats that had been consumed, and M. Buffon, the toastmaster, reminded the guests that the horse was the favorite dish of the Hindus 4000 years ago. Brilliant Savarin, famed throughout France as a gastronomist, declared that he liked nothing better than roast dog.

Those Noisy Atoms!

The billions of atoms in a bar of iron turning somersaults made noises that rivalled the roar of Niagara and nearly deafened scientists at a recent demonstration.

Although so small that over one hundred million of them would form a line less than an inch long, these tiny particles of matter are not too small to be heard when their sound is amplified by a new apparatus that magnifies the noises to ten billion times their original strength.

The Modest Doctor

Dr. Joseph Collins, well known neurologist, and author of "The Doctor Looks at Literature," was once being cross-examined in an accident case in which he was giving medical evidence.

"You are a neurologist, aren't you, doctor?" queried counsel.

"I am, sir."

"A neurologist, pure and simple?"

"Well, I am moderately pure, and altogether simple," replied the doctor.

ALDERMEN MEET

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday, Dec. 3, was featured by the successful culmination of the long fight waged during the past few years by Cashman & Ginsberg for a gasoline filling station permit at 2285 Washington street, Newton Lower Falls. Although turned down several times these petitioners persisted and their determination was rewarded Monday night when the Board by a vote of 13 to 6 voted to grant them a permit.

The first matter to come before the Aldermen at Monday night's meeting was the hearing on the petition of Jacob Kilgman for permits to have a gasoline station and a 19 car garage at 456 Watertown street, Newtonville. Jacob has petitioned the Boards of Aldermen for a number of years for junk licenses, garage or filling station permits not several times, but a dozen or more times. He has been consistently opposed by residents of that section of Newtonville near his property who based their opposition on the fact that Mr. Kilgman's property had been an eyesore. His yard contained a large collection of junk and was surrounded by a high board fence which did not add to the aesthetic effect of the neighborhood.

Reuben Kilgman, son of the petitioner, told the aldermen that his father has been a taxpayer in Newton for 30 years, his property is in a business zone, that he has been repeatedly refused permits for the past 11 years, and as several garage and filling station permits have been granted to others in the immediate vicinity, his father should receive some consideration from the Board and be allowed to use the property for some gainful purpose. He called attention that the yard has been cleared of junk and tidied up.

Judge Thomas Weston, appearing for Herbert Hallett, asked that the latter be granted a permit to alter a barn at 156 Highland street, West Newton, into a 3 car garage for private use. He stated that four letters had been filed with the City Clerk from persons owning adjoining property, who have no objections to the granting of the permit.

On the hearing concerning the petition of the Edison and Telephone companies for a joint pole location on Cook street, Nonantum, 15 feet from Watertown street, John Quirk owner of adjoining property objected. Mr. Quirk conducts a gasoline filling station on his property and told the Board that when he asked the Edison company two years ago to move a pole which interfered with his station, he was informed that the cost to him would be $200. As he intends to remodel his station he does not want another pole placed so as to interfere with his plans.

No persons appeared to favor or protest against the taking of real estate for school house purposes on Bridges avenue, Newtonville. The real estate in question is a two family house and about 5000 square feet of land owned by Frank Vincenzo. It is proposed to remove this house and add the parcel of land to that already purchased for the new school which is being erected. When the site for this school was first taken, but one house was included in it, the dwelling of David Feeteau at 223 Cabot street, Newtonville. Because of the proximity of the Vincenzo house to the new school building, it is deemed advisable to remove this dwelling.

Alderman Baker, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee reported that this committee recommended leave to withdraw on the claims of several persons against the city. The claim of the Garden City Laundry for damages to one of its trucks when it was in collision with an ash truck operated by an employee on the Street Department on Chestnut street, Waban, was refused because the city is not liable legally. According to testimony of the driver of the laundry truck, his automobile was hit when the ash truck turned suddenly to the left as the smaller vehicle was passing it. The claim of Mary Soden for damages to her car when it was in collision with an automobile of the Newton Library was denied because the committee could not find that the operator of the library was negligent and the city is not legally liable in this case also.

The claim of Roderick Angus for damages to his car resulting from its collision with a wooden horse placed on Washington street by employees of the Water Department was refused. Angus claimed the horse was not properly lighted. The claim of H. B. Needham for damages to his automobile when it collided with a Street Department truck on Auburn street, Auburndale, was refused as the committee claimed that the driver of the city truck was not at fault. The claim of Mary McCarthy for damages to candy and fixtures at the Haven Candy Shop, 2031 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, was refused. The damage was caused when surface water flowed into the shop during the heavy rain storm on October 19. The shop is in the basement of a dwelling and is operated as a non-conforming use. A similar claim was made about a year ago when the shop was flooded during another heavy rain storm. The claimant contends that the water flowed in from Commonwealth avenue.

Alderman Hawkins, chairman of the Franchises and Licenses Committee recommended the granting of the following petitions, the report being accepted by the Board:

William A. Sweet, Auctioneer license 42 Maple street, Ward 1.

G. R. Baxter, 3-car garage, 851 Beacon street, Ward 6.

Vincent P. Roberts, 1-car garage on lot where there is already a 3-car garage, 246 Beacon street, Ward 6.

Murdoch S. Fraser, 1401 Washington street, Ward 3, 1 express license.

Salvatore Campisi, 1393 Washington street, Ward 3, 1 first class hackney.

corporation, The U. S. Rubber Club of Massachusetts, Inc.

Elbery Motor Co., license to deal in second-hand motor vehicles at 294 Washington street, Ward 7.

Various petitions of The Edison Illuminating Co. and The New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. for pole locations and relocations, underground conduit locations, wire attachments, etc.

The petition of Boleslaw Ebel for a permit to run two pool tables at 1028 Chestnut street, Upper Falls, was refused. The Wesley Bible Class of the Newton Upper Falls Methodist Church had protested against the granting of this permit on the grounds that there are already enough pool rooms in that village. The petition of Gertrude O'Brien for a permit to conduct an employment office at 295 Tremont street, Newton, was refused because this location is in a residence zone. No new business enterprises can be conducted in residence zones. Some which were established before the Zoning Ordinance was started in 1922 are permitted to continue. Alderman Noone stated that the Zoning Ordinance should be impartially enforced. He asserted that it is being violated in a number of cases in various parts of the city. He referred particularly to an advertisement which he read from the COMMUNITY BULLETIN published by the Auburndale Club. This advertisement was inserted by Lasell Seminary and according to Alderman Noone indicated that Lasell Seminary is conducting a real estate business. The Ward 4 alderman also asserted that the Seminary conducts a business of having horses for hire, although it is in a residential zone.

Reporting for the Claims and Rules Committee, Alderman Baker moved for the creation of new voting precincts because certain precincts have grown so as to contain more than the limit (2000) allowed by law. One precinct changed is Precinct 1 of Ward 6 which is now bounded by Centre street. The new precinct east of Centre street will be known as Precinct 4. Precinct 1 of Ward 2 had taken from it territory bounded by Walnut and Crafts streets; the new precinct to be known as Precinct 5. Precinct 2 of Ward 2 is divided. The new district, Precinct 4 will include the territory east of Walnut street. Ward 1 is re-arranged so that a few houses west of Jackson road, now in Precinct 2 will be in Precinct 1.

The committee on Street Traffic reported adversely on the petition of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association for one-way traffic on Centre street. Will be known as Precinct 4. Precinct 1 of Ward 2 had taken from it territory bounded by Walnut and Crafts streets; the new precinct to be known as Precinct 5. Precinct 2 of Ward 2 is divided. The new district, Precinct 4 will include the territory east of Walnut street. Ward 1 is re-arranged so that a few houses west of Jackson road, now in Precinct 2 will be in Precinct 1.

The Claims and Rules Committee was sustained in its recommendation that $250 damages be paid to Herbert F. Butler and $160 damages be paid Anna V. Bourke. These persons own houses on Warren street, Newton Centre, which were damaged by blasting done when a sewer was placed in that street.

The Mayor was authorized to convey to Arthur Boudrot a lot of land on Quinebaquin road for $450. The following appropriations were made: laying out and improving Irving street, $4218; Rowena road, $2206; Hereward road, $1428; sewers in Cedric road, $1776.50; Rowena road, $1873.30; Westland road, $2290.20; Dartmouth street, $2242; Prince street, $499; Water Department additional for two trucks and a runabout, $215.50; Engineer's Department overtime on work in connection with zoning, $350; Street Department maintenance of automobiles, $3000; City Clerk, election expenses, $1700; Playground Department maintenance, $1450; supervision, $500; replacement of equipment, $500. The Finance Committee reported as inexpedient the appropriation of $500 to complete a toboggan slide for the Playground Department at Newton Centre. Alderman Heathcote argued in favor of this appropriation because of the fact that the slide is partially constructed and the $500 would permit its completion and use this winter by the children. Alderman Collins and Fitts of the Finance Committee stated that the Playground Department has been treated liberally, has been given funds to obtain what it considered most needed, and did not include the toboggan slide among these things. To take money from a very small excess fund at this time would establish a bad precedent and encourage other departments to ignore the budget appropriations. Mr. Collins promised that the Finance Committee will recommend the $500 right after the first of the year when funds will be available.

NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

Rev. George G. Phipps for over fifty years a resident and much beloved clergyman of Newton Highlands, observed his ninetieth birthday on Tuesday. The celebration was a quiet one as Mr. Phipps is not in good health, but he received many calls, gifts and expressions of love from far and near.

Mr. Phipps was born in Franklin, graduated from Monson Academy, Amherst College, '62 and Andover Seminary, '65. He was ordained to the ministry at Wellesley in 1868 after preaching three years at Ashland. He had pastorates in Wellesley for ten years and Newton Highlands for fifteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Phipps observed their 60th wedding anniversary on Sept. 9, 1925.

A most charming place indeed is the new Salon to which Mme. Buetel Arnold has removed her millinery. Very centrally located, all the ladies that drop in exclaim how glad they are that she is back in Temple Place and that they seem to prefer this location.

Next Friday evening the Changing Church will have its parish and Church School Christmas party with Mrs. Thomas F. Murray as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Murray of Ricker road announce the engagement of their daughter Marguerite Frances Murray to Mr. Arthur S. Berry of Everett.

Mrs. Emma Reed Baldwin, the widow of the late Edward D. Baldwin, a former editor of the Graphic, died last Saturday at New York City. Funeral services were held at Grace Church on Tuesday morning.

On Friday evening, December 21st at 7:30 o'clock the Eliot Church of Newton will present a Christmas pageant "A Gallant Pilgrim" under the direction of Miss Bessie M. Stratton, director of Religious Education of the church. This pageant is a gripping play of the middle ages.

Nelson W. Gallagher, a member of the junior class, in the school of business administration, at North eastern University, who lives at 167 Hunnewell avenue and formerly attended Newton High School was awarded a gold gull by the North eastern News. Gallagher was an advertising manager on the school publication.

—On Sunday, December 23, the Junior Department of the Second Church, will present a sacred play entitled "In the Heart of a Boy," by Mariou Reid Brown.

Mr. Kenneth Lane of 25 Somerset road, is the newly elected president of the Senior Young People's Society connected with the Lincoln Park Baptist Church.

—The many friends of Mrs. Louie A. Bacon of 354 Waltham street, are glad to learn that she is rapidly recovering from her recent operation in the Newton Hospital.

—The Festival of Lights will be given in the Second Church on Sunday evening, Dec. 23, by the members of the Intermediate and Senior Departments of the Church School.

—Rev. John Shade Franklin, pastor of the Fulton Heights Baptist Church of Medford, will preach in the pulpit of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church on next Sunday morning, December 16.

—The Unitarian Church School will present "A Christmas Pageant" on Sunday afternoon, December 23, and the Christmas party will be held on Friday, December 21, for the entire school.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Waring of 29 Davis avenue, have returned to their home after spending the Thanksgiving vacation with their daughter and family in St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

—The Second Church has adopted a new organization which is to serve as an "Auxiliary to the Woman's Guild." All the older girls and young women of the Parish are cordially invited to attend.

—The Opportunity Club connected with the Second Church, was the guest of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church "Service Club" on last Sunday evening and were delightfully entertained with the stereopticon lecture.

—Mrs. Walter A. Livingston of 224 Adams avenue, entertained "The Service Club," connected with the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, at her home on last Tuesday evening at which a most delightful evening was spent.

—The Primary Department of the Second Church will present a delightful, joyous Dramatization on Friday afternoon, December 21, in the Parish House of the Church. The play is Virginia Olcott's "The Night Before Christmas." The characters are "Little Duck Polk."

—Miss Margaret Sherwood of The Newton Theological Institution, spoke before the Church School of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church on last Sunday morning. Miss Sherwood is a thorough Bible Student and possesses the art of instructing as well as interesting her listeners.

—Miss Harriet Norton, who for many years has represented the Second Church in Turkey, spoke before the Woman's Guild of the Church on Wednesday, Dec. 12. Miss Norton always has a message of interest and helpfulness and is a most welcomed guest at Church School.

—Mr. Andrew Hutchinson of 15 Temple street, presided in his new office as President of "The Young People's Society of the Unitarian Church" on last Sunday evening. Mr. Dana Greeley of Lexington gave a wonderfully entertaining Stereopticon illustrated lecture upon "The Isles of Shoals."

—Miss A. J. Steadman of 371 Austin street, was in charge of the Alliance Sewing meeting of The Unitarian Church on Wednesday of this week at which the Christmas Luncheon followed. Mrs. Percival F. Brundage was in charge of the opening exercises and Mrs. Rupert Sircorn furnished the music.

—Miss Ruth A. Carter, Director of Religious Education in the Old South Church of Boston, spoke before the Teachers of the Church School of the Second Church on last Wednesday evening. Miss Carter is exceptionally well qualified to add teachers of any church school to a more effective method of teaching.

—The Ladies' Aid Society, assisted by the Service Club of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, report a splendid social and financial success as the results of their "sale" which was held on last Wednesday evening. Much credit is due to the untiring efforts of their president, Mrs. William A. Richardson, of 228 Highland avenue.

Primitive Counting

While enjoying a holiday in Finland, writes an English traveler, I flew across by seaplane to spend a day in Reval, the capital of Estonia, and I was very interested to see that in all shops they still use the ancient and primitive abacus, the frame with colored balls, used in kindergartens, for purposes of adding. I went first to a bank to change a sovereign. They accepted the coin with some suspicion and checked the notes they gave me on one of these ball frames, and when I went to the post office to get a set of stamps as a souvenir they totaled the amount I had to pay by the same method. I am no mathematician, but I got my total first.

Danger in Transplanting

Trees, like people, lose adaptability with advancing age, and a comparatively minor change in their environment may be fatal.

Entomologists of the Department of Agriculture say that transplanting at most always is a severe test for trees of considerable size and many transplanted trees are attacked by insects. If most of the large trees in a grove are killed, leaving only a border of trees or small groups, the survivors often suffer serious damage and die.

This may be the result of a disturbance of moisture conditions and a change from general shade to large areas of sun-baked soil. Borers then may complete the deadly work.

Milky Way

The most stupendous of all celestial objects is the Galaxy, more commonly known as the Milky Way. In fact it is our whole universe, of which the sun with all its attendant family of planets, including asteroids and satellites, as well as comets, forms a very humble member. Its appearance as a dim white band crossing the heavens is merely a matter of perspective; that band marks simply the plane of greatest extension of the Milky Way—the direction in which the stars, in reality fairly uniformly distributed, appear congested by the effect of distance. Many of these stars are immensely brighter than the sun.

Tree of Incredible Age

One of the most famous examples of the Bo-tree (or Rohl-tree), the name given by the Buddhists to the wild fig, is at the ruined city of Kandy in Ceylon. It is said that the original cutting, planted in 288 B. C., was sent there from northern India by King Asoka in the Third century B. C. The age of this particular tree is therefore 2216 years.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The other night we went into the Hubbard Pharmacy and observed one of the tables covered with a large number of small glass bowls, each containing water and two small gold fish. Upon making inquiry, we were informed by Wilfred Chagnon that a miniature aquarium and its contents was given as a premium with a toothbrush. We needed a new toothbrush, and here was an opportunity to get one with a couple of household pets thrown in. The big idea of giving a gold fish aquarium with a toothbrush is to encourage children to buy the latter and get the habit of brushing their teeth regularly. However, not having a dog, cat, canary or other pet on which to lavish affection, we grasped the chance to obtain a piscatorial pet for nothing—or almost nothing. At the same time we purchased a six months' supply of food for the two aquatic animals. This food, together with instructions, cost

10 cents. This is one big advantage in having gold fish as pets. A gold fish, according to instructions, requires but a tiny fragment of thin water for each day for rations; he (or she) does not disturb the neighbors by barking or meowing; a gold fish will not run away and necessitate paper advertisements and rewards to finders; it will not bite your neighbor's children, will not steal food or scratch furniture. But, according to the instructions, there is considerable technique required to successfully care for gold fish. Each fish requires a gallon of water in its residence. This means if we keep our gold fish we must buy a two gallon bowl. We might use an empty butter tub or a cooking kettle as an aquarium, but to do so would be unorthodox, and besides, a butter tub would not look well on a table. The instructions state that a number of small pebbles and aquatic plants are required in the aquarium in order that oxygen may be produced in the water. The water, ordinarily, must be changed about every week—and two tadpoles, or Japanese snails must be placed in the aquarium to act as scavengers for the two gold fish. The pebbles, plants, tadpoles and snails can be purchased from the firm which prints the instructions. We don't believe we shall buy any tadpoles. They grow too rapidly and would have to be replaced frequently. Just why Japanese snails are required as scavengers for Chinese gold fish, we don't understand. This seems at variance with political conditions prevalent during the present century. We wonder if an ordinary American turtle would not do? We intended to get a wire haired fox terrier as a pet, but if the gold fish survive in Newton water, or Metropolitan water, which has been supplied to Newton quite frequently of late, perhaps we shall defer obtaining the canine. We have heard of no recent outbreaks of rabies among gold fish.

Having, on the average, ascertained that about two out of every three times we telephone certain offices in City Hall, the telephones in said offices are busy, may we suggest that these offices install additional telephones.

The Newton police should establish traps at the intersections of Commonwealth avenue with Centre, Walnut and Washington streets. Many motorists are making the practice of driving across these intersections when the red traffic light is set against them. The autoists who do this sneak onto the north roadway of Commonwealth avenue, which is closed to automobile traffic. Apparently they think that if caught, they can throw the bluff that in their opinions the traffic signals do not apply to the north roadway. After several of them have been brought in to court and fined, it is a safe bet they will obey the traffic signals and cease jeopardizing the safety of other autoists.

It is a safe bet that a traffic officer will be needed on Centre avenue, Newton, for 10 days preceding Christmas between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. to prevent traffic jams and accidents. Hundreds of automobiles will be driven each day to the new postoffice. Because of the width of the street (or lack of width), it has been found necessary to prohibit parking on that side of the street where the postoffice is located. Unless a traffic policeman is on duty at this point, many autoists will park their cars in front of the postoffice and cause cars proceeding from Centre street towards Washington street to be blocked.

REAL ESTATE

Isaac S. Dillingham of Newton, treasurer and general manager of Bigelow & Dowse Co. of Boston, has purchased for immediate occupancy the property at 989 Centre street, corner of Ward street, Newton. This handsome estate consists of 13,500 sq. ft. land, beautifully landscaped, and a new brick English house containing 9 rooms, 3 baths, and garage for 2 cars. Although the property has not yet been assessed it is valued at $55,000. Conveyance was made by Carl D. Hall, the builder. R. M. Patterson, Realtor, was the broker in this transaction. Property at 156 Elgin street, Newton Centre has been sold for Lilla M. Burbridge by R. M. Patterson, Realtor. There are 6000 sq. ft. land and a frame one-family house and

If you have passed down Walnut street this week you cannot have failed to see and admire the window filled with Christmas wreaths and baskets and bright partridge berry bowls made by the Girl Scouts. And with a second look, you must have seen the Girl Scout cookies whose fame is so wide-spread, and the jars of amber colored horchound candy made from the herb grown at our own Camp Mary Day. One by one, after reading the attractive poster, people found their way upstairs to the place where these things, and others were on sale. Many came to look, and enjoy the pleasant fragrance of pine which filled the room, but they stayed to buy, and have tea and talk to the friends they found already there. So successful was this little Christmas Shop that we are already looking forward to next year, when we plan to do things on a larger scale.

Saturday night, December 15th, the Christmas Rally will be held in the Auditorium of the Newton High School. Many awards will be given out at this time and a pageant-play, "Eager Heart" is to be presented by the older girls. Those who come to see the Scouts at this Rally will carry away with them a bit of the real Christmas Spirit, we feel sure.

Last week, the Oak Patrol of Troop 14, Waban, gave a Progressive Dinner Party which proved a great success. At the troop meeting, Tuesday night, Phyllis Reinhardt was invested as a First Class Scout.

Elisa Brandt received her First Class badge in Troop 25, West Newton, this week; she was invested by Miss Freeman.

Troop 3 and Troop 27 joined forces last Saturday and gave a Bazaar and play which proved the most successful of any previously given. Troop 3 put on the play, "The Christmas Months," while Troop 27 had charge of the Bazaar. Mrs. Frank Day invited all of Troop 2, Newton to attend the play as her guests.

Troop 20 is giving a play, "Mr. Bob," this Friday night; a very interesting and profitable evening is anticipated.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Athletics has taken on its popular winter form—basketball. Boys and girls both, are spending gym periods and other schools for games later on in the season. Both boys and girls have several of the last year's stars to depend upon this year. Among the boys there are the following: Captain W. Blackler, W. Huston, R. Jonah and G. Chukas. The girls who have played before on the team are: E. Thompson, G. Welch, G. Mills, M. Tower, D. Schipper, S. Ericson. Mr. Adams and Miss Maxim are giving much time to the coaching of the teams.

Rarely has it been our good fortune to listen to a more talented entertainer than we had with us at this last week's assembly. Miss Ann Mathea, young Norwegian soprano, sang two groups of songs in costume for us. In the gay costume of Norway she sang several folk and shepherd songs of her native land. Because Miss Mathea told the story of each song before singing, her program was even more appreciated. After a short intermission, during which the school sang several Christmas Carols, Miss Mathea returned to the stage most charmingly attired in a French costume of exquisite white lace, after the style of the girls in Brittany. Her second group of songs was French, preceded by a brief description of the legends associated with them. Miss Mathea's voice is clear and beautiful and, combined with it she has a personality of rare charm. For this program the school is indebted to Miss Bertha Hackett, who is a personal friend of the young singer.

WARREN SCHOOL

The assembly on Nov. 28 was a Thanksgiving assembly. The Governor's Proclamation was read by Marion Willard. "Miss Hepsy's Blessings" was read by Rosalind Bigelow. A Thanksgiving play, "Puritan Pranks" was dramatised by eight members of S.L.I.

On Dec. 5 Julia Harvey talked about the "Transmitter." The rest of the period was given up to movies about mills. Between the reels Miss Sayward of the New England Food and Dairy Council gave a Pirate Monologue.

On Dec. 12 the Warren Band played. Mr. Scarborough, Elizabeth Ellis, the Drum Major, and Roger DeWitt led the band. There is a radio about to be installed at the Warren Junior High School, West Newton. The approximate cost will be $600. There is on hand at present about $400. There will be a horn in the assembly hall, cafeteria and other parts of the building. The main reason for the purchasing of this article is to hear the Walter Damrosch concerts. The school wishes to extend to its many subscribers to the Radio Fund, its sincere appreciation.

Teachers' Christmas Party
On December 10th the teachers of the Warren School had a Christmas party. In the afternoon those who cared to played bridge. Supper was served in the cafeteria. The menu consisted of oyster stew, crackers, rolls, banana salad, and macaroon ice cream. A Christmas tree adorned with 10 cent presents for all was the next feature. Mr. Penny acted as Santa Claus. He had quite an original costume. His beard was a white napkin. His hair was also a napkin. For bells he had several teaspoons! The party came to a close with dancing in the auditorium for those who wished to participate.

On Monday, Dec. 10, a reception in honor of the new principal of the Angier School was held. The Warren Junior High School Orchestra played under the direction of Miss Philbrick. Two violin solos were played by Anna Kovitz and two saxophone solos were played by Roger DeWitt.

Tea and refreshments were served.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

State Federation

JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP. Today, Friday, the 14th, at 2 o'clock, there is being held an informal conference at Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, to which all senior advisors of the Juniors are invited. Tea will be served, questions asked and answered—so far as possible—and a decision reached as to the time, place and program for the Junior Conference which is to be in Boston the latter part of April. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., the chairman of the Junior Membership, is in charge.

At the November Executive Board Meeting it was voted to sponsor a Junior pin which may be worn by all Juniors, whether belonging to an organized Club or an associate membership group.

The pins are diamond-shaped, with the Massachusetts seal in blue in the center, and the words and letters, "Junior Membership-M.S.F.W.C." on the bevel-edge. They are rolled gold, costing $1.00 each and are now available.

Any group interested in purchasing these pins may send word through their advisor to the State Chairman, and arrangements will be made for a pin to be shown to their members before the order is placed.

NEW ENGLAND PROGRAMS. Many Clubs are complying with the advice of the State Federation to include on one Club program addresses or interesting events that concern New England. As a valuable aid to Clubs that would like to heed this request, but have not as yet had a happy idea as to how to do so, there are available to Clubs several articles prepared on special topics by New England Club women. Mrs. Joseph S. Leach, Walpole, Mass., has an excellent paper on "New England in Contemporary Art," given at the 19th New England Conference at Swampscott. Mrs. Harry Haynes Burnham, Biddeford, Maine, has written an article on "Education in New England," with a view to longer summer vacations as demanded by the recreational interests, also presented at Swampscott.

"Billboard Legislation and Regulation" is the subject of a careful study made by Mrs. Ruth Clay McCrillis, Bristol, N. H. Mrs. Harry A. Burnham, 68 Brookside avenue, Newtonville, Mass., has timely information about "Cotton and Rayon Products." Mrs. Omeron H. Coolidge, 93 Maple street, Rutland, Vt., has a paper on "The New England Label on Vermont Agricultural Products." Also the report of the New England Conference Research Committee, Mrs. Guy E. Speare, Plymouth, N. H., chairman, is available, dealing with the answer to the question, "How can New England women participate in the work of the New England Council?"

MUSIC. December 5th was Federation Night at the Colonial Theatre, when about 500 Clubwomen witnessed the performance of "Faust." The Music Department, under the inspiring leadership of Mrs. Amy Young Burns, has successfully demonstrated that an organization can sponsor an artistic movement, when it can arouse the interest of so many women to attend an affair at one given time. The American Opera Company has given great pleasure to its hearers, in that it has proven that—all musical critics to the contrary—opera can be sung intelligently and understandingly, and create great pleasure for its audience. It is hoped that another year the Clubwomen may give even greater support to this musical endeavor that should bring increasing enjoyment to those who would not be so well able to understand operas rendered in foreign languages.

RADIO. Miss Marion Ward Raymond, executive secretary of the Consumers' League will broadcast "Social and Industrial Conditions" from WNAC next Wednesday morning, December 19th, at 10:30 o'clock. Amy Young, Bureau chairman of Music is to present at 10:40 the Brockton Choral Society in a twenty-minute musicale.

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club

Act I and II of Part I of the play Henry IV will be the subject of the Quiz by Mrs. W. M. Mick for members of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday afternoon, the 15th. Mrs. James F. Cooper opens her home, 15 Glenmore street, for the meeting, at 2:30 o'clock.

Waban Woman's Club

It is the time of year when thoughts are of "Peace on earth, good will towards men,"—peace towards all men. On Monday afternoon, December 17th, the Waban Woman's Club is presenting Mrs. Francis B. Sayre who will lecture on "International Cooperation to Prevent War."

Mrs. Sayre is the youngest daughter of President Woodrow Wilson, and inherits not only her father's literary taste, but his very strong urge to further conditions beneficial to humanity. Before her marriage, she gave much of her time to settlement work. She accompanied Mr. Sayre to Siam when he went as Adviser on Foreign Affairs to the King. She is active in the Student Branch of the Y. W. C. A., being a member of the Metropolitan Board of that organization. Her experience and her interests are international, and her subject of vital interest to all humanity.

This very appealing program—the more so because of the identity of the speaker—is in charge of Mrs. Harold Fernald, chairman of the Legislative Committee. The Club meets in their Club House, the Neighborhood Club. Besides the lecturer, there will be music, Mrs. Elsie Keever, of Waban, in a group of songs. Mrs. A. Barnard Root, Jr., and Mrs. Heman J. Pettigill, Jr., will be the hostesses for the tea following the lecture.

The last of the Current Events talks by Miss Eunice Avery will be held on December 19th, in the Union Church Vestry, at 10:30 a. m. The Course has been a most successful one, and very well attended.

Business and Professional Women's Division of Auburndale Woman's Club

The Business and Professional Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club will hold its annual Christmas Party on Monday evening, December 17th, at 8 p. m., in the Auburndale Club House. Miss Cora E. McKenzie, as chairman of this group, presides at the business sessions.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club will be Santa Claus to fifty Newton children on Tuesday, December 18th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Central Congregational Church. Not only will these guests receive gifts, but they will be entertained by William Crawford's Punch and Judy show and his trained dog. Music is to be furnished by the Newtonville Girls' Orchestra. The children of Club members are invited, without payment of a fee, if accompanied by an adult. The afternoon is sure to be a very merry Christmas affair.

Community Service Club of West Newton

Members of the Community Service Club of West Newton are to have a most timely and entertaining program for their next meeting which comes on Wednesday, the 19th. Rev. William S. Packer, who is a member of the staff of the Boston Globe, and whose radio talks on Sunday evenings have been inspiring because of their cheerful philosophy of life, is to give some of that same desirable philosophy in what he calls a Christmas Talk. A program so in harmony with the Christmas spirit should be most appealing. The meeting will be held in the Parish House of the Congregational Church at 2:30 p. m., with the president, Mrs. Francis Newhall presiding.

The next in the series of Current Events lectures will occur on Friday, the 28th.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The next Informal Talk, arranged by the Education Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, which series is arousing so much interest, because of the valuable information obtained, is to be held on Thursday, the 20th, at 10:15 o'clock, in the Reception Room of the Club House. These Talks are on Current Art Exhibitions, Plays, Concerts, and Books, and the speakers at the next meeting will be Mrs. Everett W. Varney, Mrs. Farrar Cobb, Mrs. Jacob Randolph, Mrs. Arthur Hitchcock, and Mr. Norman A. Hall.

Delightful plans are being made for the Annual Evening Assembly which comes on January 11th. This is to be a Supper Dance at the Club House, under the direction of Mrs. John E. Whittlesey and her Committee on Activities. Supper will be served at small tables throughout the evening, and there will be a Cabaret program, as well as dance music by the "Harvardians." Clubwomen and daughters should red letter the date and save it.

May Come In

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The next regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club has been changed from Friday, December 21st, to Saturday, December 22nd, at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of the Juniors. They will have a Christmas Party for children whose names have been suggested by the Newton Welfare Bureau. The festivities include a Christmas tree, Santa Claus who will be there with presents, and a play will be presented. The title of the play, "Adopted by Santa Claus" promises timely entertainment. The close of the "party" will most appropriately be refreshments.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

One more reminder for Christmas shoppers, not only members of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, but all residents of this city, who wish to avoid the throngs in Boston, and find just the right thing for a gift, something different and appealing—the Arts and Crafts Sale in the Craft Room of the Workshop is held every Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., and on Saturday from 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., until Christmas. It is through this pleasing method that the Art Committee, of which Mrs. Ernest J. Weaver is chairman, that the new addition to the Craft Room is being financed.

Everything ready at your house for Christmas?

At Christmas there is little time to think about such commonplace things as "laundry."

Yet, if the table linen is to be snow-white, the bed linen ready for extra guests, the curtains crisp and fresh, and the many little things that make the house at Christmas a beautiful sight (the little touches that tell so plainly your ability as a home-manager), then someone must think about the laundry. Let that someone be us!

written by Antom Tchekoff, was enacted by Mrs. Edwin M. Prellwitz, Mrs. Charles Lee Briggs, and Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick. It was a clever comedy of middle-class Russian life, and was well received by an enthusiastic audience.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle, chairman of the Community Service Committee, urged the Club to maintain its splendid voting record of the past election, and the coming city election. Mrs. Edward Wales spoke of the Christmas Seal Drive, and urged all to give in Newton, where 85% of the money obtained is used for Newton children. Mrs. J. Arthur Furbush called attention to the annual concert given by the All-Newton Music School, to be held this year on the afternoon and evening of Friday, December 14th, with the Harvard Glee Club as performers. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer addressed the Club briefly on the work of the Newton Central Council. A speaker's bureau has been established by the Council at its headquarters, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, for the benefit of any Newton organization. Mrs. Palmer also invited Club members to join a course of six lectures to be given by the Council on the different branches of its work. The lectures will be held on six consecutive Friday mornings, beginning January 4th, at 12 Austin street. A nominal fee of $1.00 is charged for the course.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Friday evening, December 7th, was "Guest Night," at the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

First there was a short business meeting, which opened at 8 o'clock, the president, Mrs. Joseph Otis, in the chair. The most important business transacted was the Club's vote to give Mrs. Ella M. Mason five hundred dollars.

At the close of the business meeting, Mr. Guy R. Sweeney, the entertainer of the evening, was presented. Mr. Sweeney kept a large audience amused with his "Comedy and Impersonations." After the entertainment the floor was cleared, and an inspiring orchestra furnished dance music.

Mrs. Sands C. Chipman, Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, assisted by a very able committee, had charge of the refreshments, which were very attractively served during the latter part of the evening.

Newton Community Club

The various Groups for adding to the Scholarship Fund of the Newton Community Club are working with enthusiasm in many entertaining ways to raise their quota for this splendid Club activity. On Wednesday afternoon, December 5th, the group headed by Mrs. Joseph Mayer met at the home of Mrs. Herbert A. Jump, of Nonantum street, where they had the pleasure of hearing one of their number, who is a professional reader, give an hour and a half reading of a play "The Dawn of Shanty Bay." Mrs. V. Bruce Davis proved her talent by swaying her hearers to the emotions of the story. After the program tea was served, sandwiches and cakes, in a most enjoyable social hour.

Mrs. David Black's group was entertained at afternoon tea on Friday afternoon, the 7th, by Mrs. Mary McAleer, of Copley street. In addition to this social hospitality there was a most attractive motion picture of the Dennison Paper Company's industry displayed by Mr. James Macdald. Mrs. Alexander T. Skakle is treasurer of this group, and Mrs. James Macdald the secretary.

Mrs. W. H. Simon is aiding Group 10 by disposing of some very desirable handwoven articles that are especially timely for Christmas gifts, showing them by appointment at her home 82 Arlington street. Members who are looking for this sort of gift, and who would like to add to the Scholarship Fund at the same time should call N. N. 5817-J for an appointment with Mrs. Simon.

Group XI sponsored "An Hawaiian Night" at Channing Church Parlors on Monday evening, the 10th, when Miss Edith Jamieson showed reels and colored slides of that interesting country which she knows intimately from her several winters' sojourn there.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Three very interesting and instructive papers were read at the regular meeting of the "Travel" Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club, which was held Monday afternoon, December 10th, at the home of Mrs. Harry S. Wells. Mrs. Herman R. Place gave a paper on "The Mississippi River"; Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, "The Thames and Other Rivers of England"; and Mrs. F. E. Waring, "The Po and River." Mrs. Harry S. Wells and Mrs. Harry P. Durkee, as joint hostesses, served refreshments during the social hour which followed the reading of the papers.

Auburndale Review Club

An afternoon meeting, with a tea, took the place of the usual morning meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday, December 11th, with Mrs. Madison M. Cannon, of Hancock street, as hostess. A very brief business meeting, with the vice-president, Mrs. Ernest Drew in the chair, preceded the papers.

Mrs. Richard O. Walter was chairman for the afternoon, and first introduced Mrs. Charles Grover who after giving a short history of American music at the period reached in the Club's study, in turn introduced Mrs. Eugene Smith, who sang very sweetly "Oh Susanna," "Old Black Joe," and "Love's Old Sweet Song." Mrs. Smith's charming costume adding to the pleasure she gave. Mrs. Walter's paper on "Harrison's and Tyler's Administrations" was most interesting with some amusing impressions of an Englishman at that time. Mrs. Cannon's paper came next, on "American Glass," and was told as only one so familiar with her subject could do. The last paper covered "Polk's Administration," and Mrs. George St. Amant brought in the important inventions of the time, the telegraph, and the sewing machine; the discovery of chloroform and ether as anaesthetics, of nitro-glycerine as an explosive, and the founding of the first Y. M. C. A.; the Smithsonian Institute, and Annapolis Academy.

At the close of the papers tea was served, with Mrs. Arthur C. Farley and Mrs. E. J. Frost pouring, while the guests divided their admiration of the beautiful collection of glass which Mrs. Cannon possesses, with the charming old costumes worn by some of the members. Among those appearing in costume was Miss Margaret Haskell in a gown and bonnet which were among her mother's wedding garments, Mrs. N. W. Dennett, Mrs. George F. Howland, Miss Florence Bridgman, Mrs. Eugene Ufford, and Mrs. N. L. Grant.

Social Items Among Club Women

Miss Ella B. Smith, president of the Christian Era Study Club of Auburndale, had added to her distinctions this week in an exhibit of her paintings and small prints at Tyler Hall, Trinity Court, Boston. The Club is to be congratulated upon having so talented a leading officer.

Mrs. Herbert A. Jump, of Nonantum street, opened her home for a most enjoyable afternoon last Wednesday, the 25th, in the interests of the Scholarship Fund of the Newton Community Club.

Mrs. Joseph Mayer, of Nonantum street, was leader of the Pembroke street Group of the Newton Community Club that planned the afternoon program on the 5th, at the home of Mrs. Jump.

Mrs. V. Bruce Davis, of Pembroke street, a member of the Community Club, and a professional reader, gave of her talent in a reading of a play last week Wednesday for the enjoyment of many fellow Club members.

Miss Edith Jamieson gave a most interesting lecture on Hawaii at Channing Church Parlors last Monday evening to add to the funds for the Scholarship Fund of the Newton Community Club.

Mrs. R. C. Kelley was hostess for the Literary afternoon of the Newtonville Woman's Club on the 10th, at her home on Walnut street.

Miss Louise Wetherbee gave the review of the Book "John Brown's Body" at the last meeting of the Education Committee's Literary Afternoon for the Newtonville Woman's Club.

Mrs. Helen Ward entertained the L. S. C. of Newton Highlands on Monday afternoon, the 10th.

Mrs. F. S. Fairchild opened her home for members of the Monday Club on Monday last.

Mrs. Harry S. Wells and Mrs. Harry P. Durkee were hostesses at the meeting of the Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club last Monday, at the home of Mrs. Wells.

Mrs. Alexander S. MacMillan was chairman of the committee that gave a tea for the teachers of Angier School, and for the principal, Miss Morrison, last Monday.

Miss Priscilla Soule opened her home for the members of the West Newton Club last Monday evening. Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee made the speech of ceremony when the mortgage for the new additions to the Work Shop was burned last Wednesday, in the presence of many members of the Newton Highlands Women's Club.

Mrs. Madison M. Cannon entertained the Auburndale Review Club in a delightful Costume Party on Tuesday afternoon, the 11th.

Mrs. Eric Courtney arranged the Christmas Bridge enjoyed by members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on the 14th.

Mrs. S. Bruce Black opened her home in Waban on the 14th, for a meeting of those interested in Volunteer Social Work.

Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis represented the Americanization Committee of the Newton Community Club at the State Federation Conference held at Natick on November 23rd.

Mrs. Mary McAleer, of Copley street, entertained the Newton Community Club group headed by Mrs. David Black at an afternoon tea on Friday afternoon, the 7th. Moving pictures of the Dennison Paper Company were shown.

Mrs. W. H. Simon, of Arlington street, is showing by appointment at her home some very lovely handwoven articles for gifts, for Group 10 working for the Scholarship Fund.

A Local Telephone Directory for This Vicinity

Easy to Read

Recognizing the usefulness of a small telephone book, the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company is preparing a directory that will list all telephone subscribers in Lexington, Lincoln, the Newtons, (Center Newton, Newton North, West Newton,) Waltham, Watertown, (Middlesex,) Wellesley. It will be out in a few weeks, and will supplement the regular directory of Metropolitan Boston.

In the back of this small book there will be a classified business section containing the listings of all business subscribers in these localities.

It will also contain the advertisements of progressive firms who want the trade in this restricted area. There can be no better medium for such a purpose, for the directory will be in constant use by thousands of people every day.

PREVENTION OF WAR

Acceptance of the Kellogg-Briand Anti-War Pact by the United States Senate is favored by a ninety-seven per cent vote of the National Council of The National Economic League. The question submitted to members of the League in a referendum mailed to them on November 2nd, was as follows: "Do you favor ratification by the United States of the Paris Multilateral Peace Pact (known as the Kellogg-Briand Treaty) as a step towards the prevention of war?"

The ballots returned up to November 21st, show 67 of the members to be in favor, and only 45 opposed to the ratification of the Pact. The returns from each State, which the League also publishes, would seem to indicate that public opinion regarding the Treaty is much the same in all parts of the country. From twenty-five states the verdict in favor of its ratification was unanimous.

The purpose of The National Economic League, it is stated, is to aid in giving expression to the informed and disinterested opinion of the country on questions of paramount importance. The five thousand members of its Council are directly nominated and elected from each State solely with this aim in view. Mr. A. Farwell Bemis of Chestnut Hill is a member of the National Council of the League.

"OLD IRONSIDES" SOCIETY

The December meeting of "Old Ironsides" Society, Child of the American Revolution, was held at the home of Mrs. Francis C. Rodman, Cabot street, Newtonville, on Saturday afternoon, December 8, when the Junior members of the Society were entertained with stories and games and Christmas carols were sung by the members around the piano. A Christmas Box for the children detained at Ellis Island during the holidays was filled with toys as a part of the Americanization work of the Society. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mrs. Kenneth B. Hastings, Mrs. Willard E. Higgins, Mrs. Malcolm G. Howland, Mrs. William H. Macurda, Mrs. Lillian D. Moore, chairman, Mrs. Albert L. Walker, Senior President.

TO EXTEND COMMONWEALTH AVENUE

The Metropolitan Planning Board, of which Mr. Henry I. Harriman of this city is chairman, has just filed a report with the Legislature with several important recommendations.

The board says in part:—During the current year the division has made studies of a traffic route extending from Commonwealth avenue to Newton easterly to the Norumbega bridge in a general north-westerly direction, a connection with the main roads leading to Worcester and New York and to Concord, Greenfield and the Mohawk Trail. The route will lie entirely through country regions; the land damages will be slight; and the road will be of the utmost value to motorists moving from Boston westerly and northwesterly. Its length is approximately three miles, and its estimated cost $700,000.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

M. W. Murray of Newton has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Alma Gay Murray, to Donald Welch Fowler of Danvers and Lebanon, N. H.

Miss Murray is a graduate of the Wheelock School, class of 1927. Mr. Fowler, the son of Mrs. I. Newton Fowler and the late Dr. Fowler of Lebanon, is a graduate of Wesleyan University, class of 1925, and is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending December 8th there were in the hospital 121 patients, of whom 44 paid as much or more than cost of care, 51 paid less than cost of care and 26, including babies, were treated free. 11 babies were born, 4 girls and 7 boys. 107 patients were treated in the out-patient department and 8 in the eye clinic. 11 social service calls were made in the homes, and 9 patients were transferred by the social service car. 11 accident cases were treated in the operating room.

On Monday evening, December 10, the Newton Medical Club met at the Hospital. The speaker was Dr. Channing Frothingham of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, and his subject was "The Classification and Treatment of Nephritis."

On Wednesday evening the Executive Committee of the Staff met in Newton Centre at the home of Dr. George L. West, chairman. The other members of the committee are Dr. Henry Watters, Secretary; Dr. I. J. Fisher; Dr. Herman T. Baldwin, and Dr. Edward D. Leonard.

If one can judge the growth of the City of Newton by the present need for beds in the hospital, then indeed the new hospital cannot be completed too rapidly. During the past four months there has been a daily average of 117.29 as compared with 99.9 for the same four months in 1927. This comparison represents a real growth for the patients have been ordinary surgical, medical, and obstetrical patients. There have been no epidemics or unusual contributing causes leading to the increased number.

Of the eleven accident cases treated during the week five were men: one with a laceration of his finger caused when it was caught in a truck; one with a bullet wound in his head, one with wounds on his back caused when he hit against a tree stump; one with a hot water burn; and one for a fractured heel caused when he fell from a one-story building onto a cement walk. Two women were treated, one for a dislocated shoulder and one for a fractured wrist received when she fell on a sidewalk. Two boys were also treated: one for a laceration of his forehead received when he fell downstairs, and one for a burned hand caused by a bonfire. Only two of the cases treated were the results of automobile accidents: one a woman with a fractured thumb and the other a man with an injury to his head.

Recent Weddings

MILLER—DAVIDSON

Miss Ethel Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Davidson of 99 Aspen avenue, Auburndale, was married to Clifford Miller of Longwood Towers, Brookline, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller of Minnesota on Saturday evening, December eighth, at the Second Church, West Newton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Boynton Merrill. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Elizabeth Davidson, sister of the bride, of Auburndale, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were the Misses Nell Norton, Helen Mulligan and Helen Wingate, all of Brookline, Barbara Angier and Annie Bourneuf, both of Newton, Marjorie Peabody of Hyde Park, Sally Davidson of Auburndale and a young matron, Mrs. Hayden Tyler of Newton. Little Helen Davidson of Auburndale was the flower girl.

The bride's gown was of ivory transparent velvet and rose point lace with train of velvet lined with silver cloth and trimmed with orange blossoms. Her tulle veil had a cap of rose point lace trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried white orchids and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore orchid butterfly velvet trimmed with tulle and rhinestones. The costumes of the bridesmaids shaded from light to dark tones of orchid trimmed with petunia velvet bows. The flower girl's frock was of orchid color trimmed with tulle and velvet ribbons.

The church decorations were ferns, lilies and candles. The music was in charge of Mr. Lester Bates, organist.

Mr. Theodore Bohnen of Brookline was the best man and the ushers were James St. Clair of Brookline, Patrick Eagan of Chestnut Hill, Winslow Cobb of Cohasset, Arthur Dow, Hayden Tyler and Alexander Chisholm, all of Newton and Kenneth Clark Pillsbury and Sheldon Miner of Brookline.

A reception was held at the Woodland Country Club in Auburndale.

After January first Mr. Miller and his bride will reside at 185 Valentine street, West Newton.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Choate's School in Brookline. The groom is a member of the Woodland Country Club and the B. A. A.

FAIRWEATHER—HARVEY

Miss Kathleen W. Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Harvey of Auburndale, was married to Albert R. Fairweather of Webster street, West Newton, on Saturday afternoon, December eighth, at four o'clock. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, 18 Rowe street, and was performed by Rev. Percival M. Wood.

They were married by candlelight under an arch formed of palms and chrysanthemums in the centre of which was a wedding bell filled with rose petals which showered the bride and groom at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Miss Dorothy V. Harvey, sister of the bride, of Auburndale was the maid of honor. Mr. Clifford MacCleery, a cousin of the groom, of Boston was the best man and Malcolm L. Harvey, brother of the bride, of Auburndale was the usher. A small sister of the bride, Marjorie Harvey, was the flower girl.

The bride wore white crepe with knots of orange blossoms at the girdle and neck of the gown. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

A reception was held following the ceremony at which the couple were assisted in receiving by the maid of honor and best man.

After a wedding trip to Atlantic City Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather will reside at 15 Newell road, Auburndale where they will be at home after February first.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

The total receipts to date from the sale of Christmas Seals in the city of Newton are $3,813.20. Apparently, through a misunderstanding a large amount of money came in which cannot at this time be credited to certain villages. Following are the results of the campaign to date:

Newton	$800.50
Newtonville	734.50
Waban	514.20
Auburndale	265.00
West Newton	242.00
Chestnut Hill	167.50
Newton Upper Falls	87.00
Miscellaneous	1,002.50
Total	$3,813.20

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS CLEARING EARLY

Make this the merriest Christmas possible for every family in Newton! How? One way is to check before you give. Call the Newton Central Council office (Newton North 2717) or send to them at 12 Austin street, Newtonville, a list of the names of families to whom you wish to give Christmas dinners. The Council will tell you whether someone has already planned a dinner for "your" family. If so, you can pass one on to someone else. It isn't so bad that some get more than they need, as it is in that case others don't get enough. Last year 56 duplications were voided out of a list of 450 names, about one in every nine. Let's try again to even things up!

"THE SWAN"

The play, "The Swan" which is to be given Wednesday evening, December 19 in the Newton Center Women's Club House is the story of the Viennese princess Alexandra whose romance with the Prussian prince meets with failure until the spiritual and romantic young professor of the royal children creates so realistic a love affair that the Prince is intrigued into a recognition of the Princess' charms—and the curtain rings down on an international match arranged.

The settings of the royal palace are being carried out with all the splendor and magnificence necessary for the environment for the brilliant court costumes which will be worn. Candles and chandeliers will light up the brilliant gold braid and pantlets of the Prince and his attendants. The royal Hussars and lackeys will add to the splendor with their glittering dress uniforms. The queen, the princess and the court ladies wear gowns of great regal effect. The huge arch leading into the ballroom will be hung with rare crimson brocades—antiques loaned by Miss Dixon. From the distant ballroom faint strains of Strauss waltzes will be heard and one can catch glimpses of the gay whirl of dancers. The banquet table will be set entirely with gold plate. This colorful environment will give a perfect background for the words of love and the pledges of devotion which are the climax of the second act.

The cast includes: Kent Smith, Mrs. Norman Pratt, Mrs. Frederick Sears, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Samuel Fuller, Jr., Narcissa Peace Varney, Ted Muther, Fred Hammond, Dr. Harold Frost, Harrison Brown, Coleman Lemont, Eleanor Bell, Anee Harrington, Virginia White, John and Gene Richardson, and Ed. Condit. Many dinner parties are being planned to precede the play.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Owing to the cold and storm of last Saturday the Salvation Army workers conducting the annual general maintenance appeal to the citizens of Newton were compelled to abandon the tag day scheduled. However, permission has been given to the Army to hold the tag day this Saturday and, if favorable weather permits, every effort will be made to wind up the active part of the appeal with a substantial sum.

Edward J. Frost, chairman, and Frank L. Richardson, treasurer, who head the committee of public-spirited Newtonites sponsoring the campaign, report that, to date the total raised amounts to $2937. The quota for Newton is $5000. This amount represents Newton's share in the $300,000 necessary each year to finance the operating expenses of the 24 departments and institutions by which the Salvation Army serves humanity in Greater Boston.

Newton has always generously supported the activities of the Salvation Army and, in the next few days, a special effort will be made to bring the city up to par.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold for Elander Bros. their new old English home recently completed at 34 Fenno road in the Newton Centre district. With the house, which contains eight rooms, there are 6500 square feet of land and a garage, and the value of the property is $17,500. Oswald W. Labdon purchased for a home and will occupy the premises.

Burns & Sons report that they have sold in the Chestnut Hill district a lot of land on Dolphin road, containing 8000 square feet and valued at $4500. MacDonald Brothers conveyed to Joseph A. Shea, who has already started the erection of an old English brick home.

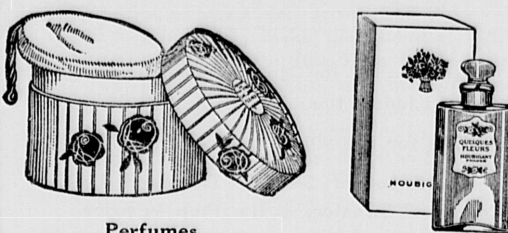

Burns & Sons have also sold for Henry Palmer the Palmer Estate located at 404 Waltham street in the West Newton district. The property, being the corner of Orchard avenue and Waltham street, consists of a large old colonial residence with a two car garage and an acre of land, in all valued at $17,000. The Perry Company have purchased for development and will remodel and improve the old colonial residence and build two new single homes on the Orchard avenue frontage.

Burns agency have also sold for Annie Colton a lot of land on California street corner of Nevada street in the Newtonville district. The lot contains 5500 square feet and is valued at $2000. Mr. Vincent Cairn purchased and intends to erect a seven room colonial home for his own occupancy.

The Mather Class

"The Lure of Superiority" was the topic under discussion last Sunday morning at the regular meeting of the Mather Class at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House.

Prof. Mather had to be away and accordingly provided a speaker in his place, Dr. Wayland F. Vaughan, of Boston University.

Dr. Vaughan began with some personal references to his own approach to the subject. He was studying the inferiority complex when he was in college. Some people feel that they are inferior and unequal to any very effective competition with those who possess superior attainments. They consider themselves handicapped and regard their disabilities as detrimental to their best interests.

It occurred to Dr. Vaughan that these so-called deplorable deficiencies were not unfortunate after all, because they acted as a most valuable stimulus to increased effort.

His own experience afforded an excellent case in point. In school he did not care a whole lot about studying, for he got along readily enough without great exertion and obtained average marks. When he was promoted from the 7th to 8th grade, the class was divided into three sections, the bright, mediocre, and dull. He was placed among the mediocre pupils. That made him so mad that he studied hard, so as to be with those in the upper section.

It was the same with his athletic ambition. As a child he was sickly and naturally ashamed of his weakness, so he did exercises and built up a good physique. Furthermore, minister's sons were sometimes looked upon as snobs. He did not want strangers to consider him a minister's son of that particular sort. The consciousness of possible inferiority spurred him on to abolish the inferiority. Without the spur there would have been little incentive to achievement.

Alfred Adler of Vienna says that timid people often try to cover up their weaknesses and not admit they are no good, or else they day dream and merely wish for things.

The genius admits his defects and then overcomes them or goes into other fields where he can succeed.

Greatness requires:
1. Ability.
2. The motive or incentive to make use of the ability.

Great men have faults. These faults contribute to the man's greatness instead of dragging him down. The defect supplies the motive to make use of the ability.

Roosevelt was a puny boy, who developed a powerful body out of doors. Eugene Sandow went to Rome to study for the priesthood. When he saw the wonderful statues of splendid specimens of manhood, he went back to Germany and worked till he became the world's strongest man. He once supported 33 people on his back.

The motive to overcome a defect is a compensation for the defect, and causes us to over-compensate, until we become preeminent in the very thing in which we had been deficient.

When Bobby Jones was 5 or 6 years old, the doctor gave him up. His family moved into the country, where a golf links, and Bobby not only survived but has become the world's greatest golfer.

Demosthenes overcame his defect in speech and became his country's greatest orator.

The foregoing are direct compensations. Sometimes there are vicarious compensations, where a man loses in one field and later excels in another. Isaac Newton was beaten up by the bully of the school. Instead of training so as to beat the bully at his own game, he worked hard at his studies and outshone the bruiser in the classroom. The world remembers Newton.

The Jews have been persecuted and decidedly handicapped. They have chosen to go into intellectual pursuits where their native capability has had an opportunity to show itself.

Abraham Lincoln used to say he went to school by trifles—a year all told. He used to carry Euclid, in one pocket and Shakespeare in another, in order to use his spare time and make up for the lack of early education.

Because of a youthful indiscretion, Wordsworth became a severe moralist and exponent of a clean life. This was a compensation for his early mistake.

Christianity appeals to the lowly and weak, who are not sure of themselves. They need to rely on divine power. Christianity does not make the same appeal to those who are prosperous and do not feel handicapped.

Christianity stands for the belief in the intrinsic worth of the individual in and of himself, whether of high or low degree. Brotherhood of man is another important doctrine.

What does religion offer?

1. Faith.
2. A task.

If a man has faith, he has confidence in himself by relying on divine power. If he believes God is helping him, he has a helpful faith. When Lincoln left Springfield, he was faced with the task of abolishing slavery and preserving the Union. He said that, without God, he could not do it, but with God he could not fail. You cannot beat a man with unshakable faith like that.

Religion furnishes a task, a challenge, a cause, to absorb your energy and concentrate your thoughts. When serving others and helping them, you gain self respect and really help yourself mightily.

He who feels inferior may well turn to religion, for it helps make men great. It is true that great men are deeply religious. Their faults are no handicap, for they may supply the very motive that leads to achievement.

People are not equal. Greatness is reserved for those who have ability. If you haven't the ability to start with, you cannot become great. A feeble-minded person cannot become a genius. The ability must be there in the beginning. It may be late in its development, but it must be there

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Walter Wedger, a former state chemist and a former resident of Newtonville was the speaker at the usual Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Wedger who is an expert on explosives told the club how bombs and other infernal machines were constructed and how explosives were utilized. He told many interesting incidents in his work for the state, some of them being humorous and some of them tragic.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. James R. Armington of Allston and Mrs. Frank H. Chamberlain of Newton Centre are the hostesses at the Commonwealth Country Club for an auction bridge party in behalf of the Fatherless Children of France. This affair, a club function, will take place Monday afternoon, December 17. Assisting Mrs. Armington and Mrs. Chamberlain are Mesdames A. Morandi Bartlett and Martine E. Lebon of Brookline; R. T. Bischoff of Newton, John F. Malley, Chestnut Hill, Paul F. Butler and John J. Martin of Boston.

On the following Sunday afternoon, December 23, there will be a Christmas entertainment for children of the club and their grown-ups. It will be given by Herbert Taylor, the original clown magician.

NEWTON MOTHERS CLUB

The postponed meeting of the Mothers Club will be held on Monday, December 17th, at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. C. Sidney Cook, Jr., 70 Valentine street, West Newton. George W. Coleman, Founder and Director of Ford Hall Forum will speak on—Balance in Our Lives.

Mrs. Eustace B. Rice, Mrs. Leon B. Rogers, Mrs. G. Edwin Peters will be the hostesses.

D. A. R. MEETING

Lucy Jackson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, celebrated its thirty-second birthday at the regular meeting held at the Parish House of the Congregational Church, West Newton, December 10th.

The question of a suitable auditorium which the chapter is considering building by a rearrangement of rooms in their Chapter House at Newton Lower Falls was discussed.

Members of the Lend-a-hand Masque charmingly presented a colonial play entitled "Second Samuel."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses of the afternoon with Mrs. A. C. Dunmore as chairman.

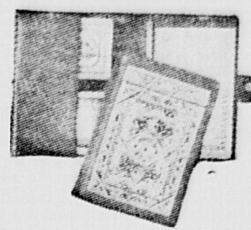

SUPPER DANCE

Those who enjoy a Cabaret program, or a delightful evening of dancing should save the date January 11th, for such an affair at the Newton Centre Club House. The Supper Dance, under the direction of Mrs. John E. Whittlesey and her Committee of Activities for the Newton Centre Woman's Club, will appeal to all the younger set of Newton. Supper will be served at small tables, throughout the evening, and there will be a cabaret program, as well as dance music by the "Harvardians."

at the outset in order to have any development. The speed or slowness of the development depends on circumstances. Plato said that the ideal arrangement was where every man was doing the thing for which he was best fitted.

The next Class party will be held December 19, at the Newton Centre Baptist Church.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Ever since a kindly make-up man generously sent me to one of the most attractive places in Boston for dining and dancing and a very happy evening I find that I have acquired a reputation as a man about town. Readers of this column found not long ago a paragraph, which was more of a panegyric, wherein your most obedient was set down as having taken part in the gay festivities of an unusually popular hotel. The item belonged elsewhere in the Graphic but the make-up man, not knowing me, assumed that I must have been the author so the type was added to "One Thing and Another."

Far from resenting this trivial typographical slip I am greatly indebted to the printer. It has put me down as a dancer and that for me is the height of praise. Beginning with the days when I caused my dancing teacher to weep because of my stupidity and clumsy movements I have always longed to excel in the terpsichorean art. Vain efforts, covering not a few years, find me still eager to do the Black Bottom or the Charleston but I remain heavy-footed as compared to some of my contemporaries.

Now whether in my dancing endeavors I have been embarrassed by the presence of a fair companion or simply do not belong on the ballroom floor, I am unable to say. Somehow or other the prancing and skipping and fairly intricate steps of stage dancing have never upset me and I have managed to get by before my home-town footlights. Possibly if I were permitted to dance alone at a New Year's party I might establish myself as fairly graceful but as I cannot hope to obtain such a privilege the matter will never be decided.

The same item told of my appreciation of good food. Unfortunately no man has any right to compliment himself on his appetite. The fact that I am able to eat without consulting a physician's chart or worrying over my blood pressure is due to the indulgence of Nature. I only wish that Nature had gone a little bit further and made me a dancer. But with a few good friends in the composing room I am getting credit for both. Of course if there is anybody who wishes to challenge me and test my powers at the dining table and later the ballroom floor such a person has only to extend the invitation and provide the food and the lady.

Dear Santa Claus—I know you are a very busy man these days and have a great many people to remember one way and another. So I thought I would write you and tell you some of the things we ought to have here in Newton and maybe some day we will have them or some of them but it doesn't look now as if we would unless somebody like yourself took hold and started something. Dear Santa Claus, so please see what you can do for us before another Christmas comes around will you please?

We would like to have an honest-to-goodness City Hall which people from other places could look at without splitting their sides with laughter and saying mean things about us and commenting upon the architecture. If you was only to see our City Hall at West Newton, dear Santa Claus, you think right away of one of those frosted cakes they have in German bakeries around Christmas. It is kinder gingerbread work or trimming. You see our City Hall was designed something fancy when people didn't know any better than to let the architect cut loose and put a mince-pie dream on his blueprint and call it a drawing of a public building. I am glad you haven't seen the building from the outside or you would never come back and, O, if you ever went inside the City Hall, especially in the basement I know you would never get out of the place because you couldn't find your way around. But that's only one thing we ought to get in our stocking or would like to have put in, please dear Santa Claus. Another thing we need is a building on the North side of the city where there is a stage suitable for amateur theatricals. It's all right to play in high school halls if you're giving something big like a bazaar or a three-ring circus, but when you want to have a play that the audience can all hear and understand you don't want to have to give it in a large hall where one-third of the audience can hear part of the play and the other two-thirds might as well be stone deaf or sound asleep and sometimes are. And, O, Santa Claus, if you should happen to have a machine to cut off the corners of streets we could use just such a thing in Newton very well. There's a number of places where the streets could be widened and made safer for reckless drivers and their victims and so anything you have in that line, please bring it along. I think I ought to warn you, dear Santa Claus, if you know what that means that I wouldn't bring the reindeer into Newton this year but I would leave them just across the bridge in Weston but be careful they don't get into Norumbega Park for they might get caged and you would lose them. Well, I mean is if you bring them into Newton and leave them anywhere the policemen are likely to tag them for parking as one of the worst crimes you can commit in Newton is to violate the traffic regulations. It is all right to commit some of the smaller offences like murder and robbery and setting fire and selling hooch but if you ever do something that the traffic policeman say you shouldn't ought have done you might as well sell your car or reindeer or whatever it or they may be.

I was going to say, dear Santa Claus, that we would like to be up to date in Newton and have a municipal airport if we could get one for nothing. A better idea still would be to have somebody give us an airport and pay for the privilege of giving it to the city. We might have bids on the right and privilege to present the city with an airport and in that way make a little money to spend on another school. I wouldn't hurry on this airport business until I make sure that we won't need the land for schools. However, if we do, won't you give us part of Wellesley and Weston which are nice places and which we would be glad to use.

I am sleepy now and must go to bed otherwise I could think up a lot more things you could bring us for Christmas, dear Santa Claus. Good night and good luck for you and us. As ever, your faithful and hopeful little friend, "Leverett Bentley."

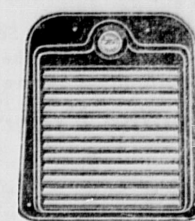

Not long ago I chanced to be talking with a Government official whose broad experience and keen powers of observation have caused his opinions to be worthy of consideration. To reveal his name would only make trouble for him and do no particular good. Said he:

"If you want to know what the trouble is with your postoffice system in Newton and the other parts of the Boston district I'll tell you. Boston has taken on outlying offices year after year until it now has 90 in all. This number is far too many. The whole business has grown so that it has become unwieldy. They just can't handle it."

"How absurd to include Lexington and Weymouth with Boston. It is ridiculous—this reaching out for more and more territory. When the idea of abandoning postmasteries in surrounding cities and towns was first thought of, the idea had merit. But these surrounding towns have grown as has Boston. Instead of taking on Lexington and Weymouth as has been done, they should be lopping off some of the places. Postmasteries should be restored in larger cities."

"Had Boston and the other cities and towns of the district stood still the theory of a central office in Boston, with superintendents in the other offices instead of postmasters, would be reasonable and workable today. But there is at present too much business all around and the attempt to make the Boston office do the work of all the other stations has become an impossible task."

"Personally I do not believe that the efficiency of a local office can in any way be improved by tacking it on to Boston. It is proof that this talk of annexing your city of Newton and other adjoining communities with Boston is not practicable. A local postmaster is bound to be more deeply interested in serving his community than is a Boston official to

SAVES DAMAGE

What COLD Does

Brings 50 to 75% of all premature motor wear. Causes excessive use of the "choke"—flooding cold cylinders and cylinder walls with raw gasoline. Glass-like metal surfaces are washed clean of the oil film of protection. Vital motor parts laid bare to grinding friction. Excessive dilution follows, fouled spark plugs, high gas consumption, extreme carbonization, corrosion and rapid cylinder wear. These are the troubles that bring big repair bills—troubles for which cold alone is responsible.

Makers of these fine cars have adopted Automatic motor protection to safeguard their owners against the damage of cold: Cadillac, Chrysler, Dodge, Hupmobile, La Salle, Lincoln, Packard, Pierce-Arrow.

New Features of - The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History - a Six in the price range of the four!

Everywhere The Outstanding Chevrolet is being hailed as a spectacular achievement in advanced design, because it embodies the greatest array of improvements ever offered on any automobile of comparable price.

Here, for example, is a marvelous new six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine whose design represents over four years of development and testing on the part of Chevrolet and General Motors engineers. It has numerous advancements typified by a non-detonating, high-compression cylinder head—gasoline pump with filter, and automatic rocker arm lubrication. It provides performance the like of which was never before available in the low-price field—marvelous smoothness, tremendous reserve power and sensationally swift acceleration—all with an economy averaging better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

Here are new and improved four-wheel brakes unsurpassed for silence in operation, positive action and ease of adjustability!

Here are marvelous new Fisher bodies introducing a new order of beauty, smartness and luxury.

And here, also, are other features by the score—each an impressive example of automotive progress—each contributing to outstanding performance, quiet operation, long life, ease of control and economical ownership!

We cordially invite you to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information regarding this great new car, which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

QUALITY AT LOW COST

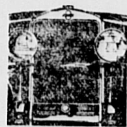

Chevrolet's new six-cylinder, fully enclosed valve-in-head engine has a high compression non-detonating head. Its pistons displace 194 cu. in. and it develops 46 H.P. at low engine speed.

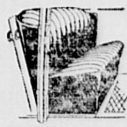

An automatic accelerating pump results in unusually swift acceleration, as well as greater gasoline economy.

On the indirectly lighted instrument panel are grouped all controls, including the water temperature indicator and their proof Electro-lock.

The new chromium plated radiator, lamp standards and rim, and one-piece full crown fenders are typical fine car features of the Outstanding Chevrolet.

The adjustable driver's seat in all closed models. This brings the clutch and brake pedals within proper reach for all drivers.

Newly designed four-wheel brakes, safe—positive—quiet.

Marvelous new bodies by Fisher are an outstanding feature of the Outstanding Chevrolet.

Other Outstanding Features of Advanced Design and Equipment whom Newton's mail handling is nothing more than a matter of routine.

"In my opinion something will have to be done to bring about a change since it is plain that the constant increase in the number of substations is not an improvement but a detriment to the service."

Still another has turned to me with his woes. I might say, "Why pick on me?" but instead I pass it along to the readers of this column asking them to bear the burden with me. He complains that the price of the best amusements are almost prohibitive, that you can't buy desirable seats to a first class play without paying a speculator an extra dollar or more and that it is a costly thing to go to shows one wants to see and taster still to be forced to endure mediocre entertainment simply because it is low-priced.

I don't know what to prescribe for this patient. The public have brought this on themselves. They have accepted, without protest almost, a condition that should never have been permitted but which now seems good (or bad) for all time. The best seats in a theatre are never to be found at a theatre box-office unless turned back by the speculator. If it is a popular show the speculators buy up the house. There is a rake-off for the theatre, otherwise they wouldn't stand for it.

Every year or so somebody files a bill with the Legislature to stop this practice. The hearing is never well attended. The petitioner states his case, which is a sound one, and then the attorney for the theatrical interests argues that it is a business proposition and that no law can be passed to legally interfere. The Legislature turns the petition down and things remain as they were.

Theatrical managers tell me that the cost of production, the salaries paid to actors and the expense of transporting a show have tripled and more since the World War. That is no doubt true, but what has that got to do with ticket speculators. When managers complain that a good show falls of patronage I think they have no right to blame the public for lack of intelligence but should remedy the system. The public, as I see it, is convinced that it is sure to be "done" and for that reason quits without trying.

We are a patient people, too patient in many ways, and because we don't kick we are walked on by more than one business enterprise. A homely philosopher has said, "You're going to get in this world exactly what you let people do to you," and maybe that is sound reasoning. What think you?

KEITH MEMORIAL THEATRE

Members of the Massachusetts Press Association were the guests of the management of the Keith Memorial Theatre on Monday night and after the performance were given the unusual honor of an inspection of the theatre both before and behind the stage.

Every patron of the theatre admires the beautiful Memorial hall with its huge marble columns, its statues of Carrara marble, and its masterpieces of painting. The lounge on the floor below with its beautifully fitted ladies suite and its comfortable lounge for men. The theatre itself with its 2900 seats and its beautiful curtains, spacious seats and decorated ceiling. All these and much more are obvious to everyone attending the theatre.

What is less known, however, are the arrangements back of the stage. Here is a regular hotel for the artists and the theatre employees. There are 42 separate dressing rooms, each completely fitted with bath and shower and toilet articles. There is a recreation room with pool and billiards, a nursery for the children of the artists, a beautiful reception room for visitors, an animal room, a hand ball court, a barber shop and a complete gymnasium.

The theatre cost five million dollars and is said to be the most beautiful and complete theatre of its kind in the world.

By Edw. H. Powers

Persons owning property in the General Residence zones should not oppose the proposed wiping out of such zones until they have thoroughly investigated this matter. Some persons are already opposing the change because they misunderstood the term "apartment house." An "apartment house" is a building in which more than two families dwell independently, and an apartment hotel is a building with more than 10 rooms for lodgings, without separate kitchens, or which may have public dining-rooms and a kitchen.

Two family houses may be built in private residence zones. Some persons are of the mistaken opinion that a two family house is an apartment house. There are other persons who object to the change of their property from general to private residence zone: in the former a house may be built on a line 15 feet from the street while in the private zones a house has to be 25 feet from the street line. The street line is measured from the inside of the sidewalk, not from the gutter. Persons so objecting, own small lots of land which they claim can not be used if there is a 25 feet setback. For the information of persons so objecting, attention is called to Section 571 of the Zoning Ordinance, which reads: "In single residence districts and in private residence districts the setback line shall be 25 feet and in general residence districts the setback line shall be 15 feet; nothing, however, in this section shall prohibit the erection of a building as near the street as any building then in existence on the same side of the street and in the same district, provided, such proposed building is to be erected between the same two nearest intersecting streets as the existing building and not more than 250 feet from such existing building. For the purpose of this section the distance to the street, or to another building shall be measured from the nearest point of the building, not including steps."

Most streets in general residence districts have been developed for many years and on almost all of these streets buildings are in existence which do not setback 25 feet from the street line. Because of this, persons owning undeveloped lots will be able to build nearer to the street line than 25 feet. The Board of Aldermen also have the right to waive the setback line where conditions warrant, so that it is probable anyone owning a lot in a general residence zone will receive fair treatment, even though such zones are abolished. The real reasons for the proposal to eliminate most of the general residence zones are—to prevent the crowding of houses on small lots by speculative builders who come into Newton and who have no consideration for the city's welfare, and to prevent the erection of apartment buildings in any part of any general residence zone, a condition that is possible under the present zoning law.

Another change which would result if general residence zones are made into private residence zones is—the area of the lot that may be covered. In a general residence zone 50% of the area may be covered; in a private residence zone only 30% of the area may be covered by buildings. Few lots are smaller than 6000 square feet in area. In a lot this size in a private residence zone, 1800 square feet can be covered by buildings. In such an area one can build a dwelling approximately 45 by 30 feet in dimension and a two-car garage 20 feet square. Few buildings erected on small lots exceed these dimensions.

Our friend and critic, Bertie Briggs of Hudson's Pharmacy, informed us recently that we had pulled "a hot one" in this column on November 30. Bertie referred to the statement printed in "About Town" which read—"The new fire station at Washington street and Centre avenue will be completed early next week." As the new fire station will not be completed until early next year, Mr. Briggs criticism was deserved, but it was not our fault. We wrote "year," Blame the linotype operator or the proof reader.

Another error in the November 30 GRAPHIC was in the second paragraph of the article printed on Page 1 under the caption "Drastic Zoning Changes Planned." We wrote in our copy—"The tremendous building boom in Newton brought to this city many speculative builders who crowded as many houses on the tracts they purchased as the zoning law would permit." The linotype operator, who typed the word "tracks," which made the paragraph somewhat confusing. We have observed no houses crowded on tracks; even those moved along Washington street the past few years, have been kept off the M. & B. tracks.

Hundreds of old graduates of Newton's schools will learn with regret of the death December 2 at her home, 50 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, of Miss Jennie Ireson, for many years teacher of callisthenics in the schools of this city. She also taught physical culture and elocution at Dana Hall, Framingham Normal School and Bradford Academy. Her nearest surviving relatives are a cousin, Sarah Lillie of Boston, and a niece, Mrs. John Pickard of Surrey, England.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

A most enjoyable concert was given Sunday afternoon before an audience which made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. The artists were the Pigram male quartet, and Arthur Le Blanc, violinist with Laura Archambault Pinfield at the piano.

The concert was given by the courtesy of Mr. F. O. Stanley, president of the club, and the violin used by Mr. Le Blanc was made by Mr. Stanley.

Mrs. H. M. Fletcher was the hostess at the social hour which followed and she was assisted by Mrs. F. E. Harwood, Mrs. E. M. Horne, Mrs. Paul C. Sykes and Mrs. Peter Turchon.

Mr. W. C. Billings rolled a string of 133 in the club bowling match last Friday evening.

Y. W. C. A.

The Blue Triangle Club opened its meeting on Monday evening with supper, followed by a business meeting and singing of Christmas Carols. The Christmas gift work on lamps and bags was resumed. The club was greatly honored by the presence of Mrs. Harry Huntington Powers, President of the Newton Young Women's Christian Association.

A group of girls met on Wednesday evening, December 12, and enjoyed an evening of swimming in the St. Agnes School Pool in Walnut Park.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors on Wednesday afternoon, December 19 at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harry Huntington Powers.

On Thursday evening there was a bowling tournament at the Y. M. C. A. Bowling will not be resumed until Thursday evening, January 3, 1929.

On Friday evening, December 14, the Girl Reserves had a Recognition Service, after which they entertained their guests with the play "Little Women" by Louisa Alcott, coached by Mildred Newell. Those in the cast are Emma Bishop, Claudia Brosnahan, Dorothy Sjostedt, Esther Sjostedt, Eleanor Jensen. The Aroxy Club of the Girl Reserves, also gave a short play entitled "A Precious Pickle."

This was coached by Miss Riggs, the advisor, and included Nevart Abrahamian, Veronica Anjoorian, Abeigne Berberian, Edna Bogosian, Margaret Garabedian, Charlotte Krikorian and Elizabeth Woloshian. Another feature of the evening was the symbolization of the Girl Reserve Code, by June Gregoire, Rita Garvin, Lillian Desmond, Bessie Bennett, Helen Hughes, Virginia Hughes, Mildred Jordan, Muriel Nute, Mildred Newell, Hilda Sanger, Ruth Wormwood, Marjorie Damon, and Earnestine Goodrow. Stunt songs were given by Elinor Habbitt and Ethel Arsenault.

BUILDING BOOM CONTINUES

Newton continues to maintain its great popularity as a residential community. Last month showed no letup in application for building permits. It is quite evident this city is the Mecca for hundreds of persons who intend to move here from other sections of Greater Boston. The permits granted last month and the estimated value of each type of building included—single dwellings 69, value $323,500; double dwellings 10, value $92,500; garages 53, value $29,060; fire station, value $84,500; other buildings 1, value $150; alterations on buildings 33, value $25,570; a total of 167 permits with a valuation of $1,055,280. The permits by Wards so far this year are—Ward 1, 107; Ward 2, 201; Ward 3, 349; Ward 4, 121; Ward 5, 404; Ward 6, 310; Ward 7, 76, a total of 1568 as compared with 1510 for the corresponding period last year. The estimated value of the permits for the first 11 months of this year are—$9,793,050. Last year for the same period the value was $9,290,041.

Charter Objection Raised Against Passage Of Bond Issue Of $81,000

Alderman Heathcote Delays Passage of Order Involving Drainage of Cold Spring Swamp

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was featured by some caustic comments on the part of Alderman Heathcote and by a Charter Objection he made against the motion which would have authorized a bond issue of $81,000 which, according to the docket was for the purpose of draining Cold Spring swamp. The only hearings on petitions were those from the Edison Company requesting pole locations on Laudholm road and Arnold road. No objections were raised against these petitions.

Chairman Hawkins reported that the Licenses Committee recommended the granting of the following petitions: F. Gasbarri, common victualler license at 34 Jackson street, Ward 6; Richard T. Leahy, 1000 gallons additional storage of gasoline at 1447 Washington street, and permit to install an extra pump; renewal of auctioneer licenses to Samuel Ginsberg, 887 Chestnut street; Pearl Roberts, 11 River street; Charles Dow, 10 Church road; J. Edward Callanan, 54 Playstead road; FitzGerald & Wing transfer of automobile dealers license from 294 Washington street to rear of 49 Elmwood street; Henry J. Perry permits to build 1 car garages at rear of 63 and 69 Orchard avenue instead of within dwellings; George E. Prince permit for repair shop and storage of 500 gallons of gasoline for private use at rear of 63 Lexington street. Prince had asked for a permit to sell gasoline at this location.

The majority of the Licenses Committee reported favorably on the petition for a transfer of the interests of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway in certain poles on Eliot, Summer and Walnut streets to the Edison Company. Alderman Bail, mistaking this petition for one which asked for a transfer of certain poles on Walnut street from the M & B to the Boston & Worcester Street Railway objected. Alderman Temperley expressed the wish that these transportation companies would show an equal willingness to co-operate with people residing in the South Side on the matter of transfers for passengers. Alderman Hawkins explained that the petition was for the purpose of legalizing the ownership of the poles which are no longer used by the M & B, but which will be used by the Edison Company as heretofore. Alderman Bail asked if the petition is granted will it allow the Edison Company to place high tension wires on these poles to serve the Boston & Worcester Company. He was informed that the wires which would be used to carry current from the Edison Company cars will not be high tension but will carry only 550 volts. The Ward 5 alderman argued that no more large wires should be allowed on these poles but that underground conduits should be used. Alderman Powers remarked that whether the petition was granted or not, the poles will continue to carry the existing Edison wires. The Board voted to grant the petition legalizing the transfer of ownership.

The Licenses Committee, with Alderman Noone dissenting, recommended leave to withdraw on the petition of the Boston & Worcester street railway company to purchase 10 poles on Walnut street from the Middlesex & Boston company. The latter company, according to its agreement with the city, was supposed to have removed these poles upon notification from city officials and the B & W company wants to use these poles to carry current from the station of the Edison company on Homer street to its wires on Boylston street, Newton Highlands. Alderman Earle favored the granting of the petition, stating that he had talked with a representative of the Edison Company and had been informed that should the B & W be refused this permit, the Edison Company would ask for pole location on the same sites as the 10 existing poles occupy. Alderman Noone stated that he objected to the report of the majority of the committee because the benefits which will redound to Newton people using the B & W railway will far outweigh the objections raised against allowing the sale of the poles. He also called attention to the financial troubles. Alderman Collins believed the Board should try to assist the B & W company which has been in a receiver's hands. Alderman Hawkins explained that the main reason the petition was reported unfavorably on was because of the objections raised by a number of Newton Highlands residents, including people on Hartford street where the B & W seeks new locations. Alderman Temperley argued that the B & W will soon replace its cars by busses. The Board voted to refuse the petition.

For a second time the Board sustained the recommendation of the Licenses Committee granting leave to withdraw on the petition of George J. Aspreaux for a permit to build garages for two cars under the new dwelling at 599-601 Washington street, Ward 2. The Board also accepted the report of the Licenses Committee recommending leave to withdraw on the Great Interest In Proposed Change In Zoning. City Hall Much Too Small

Strong Objections Made to Change Present General Residence Districts to Private Residence Districts

A crowd of citizens that jammed the aldermanic chamber at City Hall, filled the corridors and overflowed into the large committee room, assembled last Friday night to attend the hearing called by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen on the matter of abolishing the present general residence zones in this city and placing them in the private residence zones. During the few weeks preceding the hearing about 4000 notices had been sent to persons owning property in the general residence zones and to persons owning property abutting general residence zones. Many of the latter who received notices mistakenly supposed that their properties are in general residence zones. At least 10 per cent. of those notified came to the hearing, or attempted to come. Scores were not able to gain admittance to the Aldermanic Chamber where the hearing was held and these persons naturally voiced their indignation. A much larger place than the chamber would have been necessary to provide room for all who came.

Alderman William B. Baker, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee presided at the hearing and explained the purpose of the hearing. He said:

"This is a hearing on the question of changing the General Residence District to the Private Residence District. Before we ask for any question, it is perhaps proper that I make some brief statement as to the purpose of the hearing.

"First let me remind you that the City of Newton under its Zoning Ordinance is divided into several districts: the Single Residence, in which only one family houses may be built; the Private, in which one and two may be built; the General Residence, in which one, two, three families, or apartment houses may be built; the Business, for business, and Manufacturing, for manufacturing.

"For some time there has been talk in various quarters to the effect that something should be done to start the building of apartment houses. The question has come before the Board in the shape of a recommendation from the Building Commissioner. There have been no apartment houses built for several years. That is probably due to the fact that the Building Commissioner requires apartment houses to be fireproof.

"Perhaps the barrier which has existed for so many years may no longer be a barrier, and more apartment houses may be built. The Building Code may be amended.

"It would seem that before any change was made in the Building Code, that the districts in which they might be built should be carefully restricted, and as a first step toward starting this, we have had this hearing. It is not the intention of the Committee to change all of the General Residence District. We expect that certain small parts of the General Residence District may be left, in which apartments may be built.

"There are two or three effects which this change will have. In the General Residence District at present, a building may cover 50 per cent. of the lot, and if the land is changed to the Private Residence, it may cover only 30 per cent. of the lot. Buildings may now be built 15 feet from the street line. If it is changed to Private Residence, buildings may only be built within 25 feet from the line."

"It has come to my notice that some people who have land near the Business District fear that it would be difficult to have it changed to a Business Zone. There is no more difficulty in changing from Private Residence to Business than changing from General Residence to Business."

Mr. Baker then said: "If there are any who are opposed to having specific areas changed, we would like to hear from them." There were plenty who desired to be heard. Margaret Belger of Eliot street, Newton Highlands, wanted to have her land left in the General Residence Zone so that an apartment building may be erected on it if so desired. Harry Knowles who owns property at 25 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, near Lake street, told of it being bounded on one side by an apartment house and on the other side by stores and on the terminal yard of the Boston Elevated. He asserted that no person will build a private dwelling on this property and it should not be placed in such a zone. John Finelli wants his land on Ashmont avenue, Newtonville, left in General Residence zone as he has subdivided an acre into 16 house lots and his plans do not allow for setbacks of 25 feet.

Paul Mullen of 843 Boylston street, Newton Highlands had a petition signed by 12 property owners in the area bordered by Walnut, Centre and Boylston streets, protesting against the change. He contended that if a house zoned in a private residence district should be burned down, the new building can occupy but 30 per cent. of the lot area. He was informed by Alderman Baker that should a house be destroyed by fire the new dwelling may be built so as to cover the same area. Lilla Asbell speaking for the Jesse Smith estate at 30 Willow street stated that the lots there are small, near the business zone, and should be kept in the General Residence zone. W. E. Gordon told of having scraped enough money together to buy the lot on Pelham street and should be compelled to build a house 25 feet back from the street line, the back fence would be used as a clothes line. Thomas Strance who said he owns property on Langley road, asserted that to change the zones will be an infringement of property owners, rights and he doubted the authority of the Aldermen to make the change.

J. P. Lane told of buying a lot at 45 Curve street, West Newton, which he has been trying to unload without success for some time. He was curious to know how he can dispose of this lot with added restrictions when he has been unable to get rid of it without such restrictions. Mr. Lane was quite positive that the Supreme Court of the United States will not sustain the Zoning Law.

J. Edward Hills and Leverett Gleason objected to property on Vernon street, Newton, between Centre and Baldwin streets being placed in a private residence zone because its proximity to apartment and business buildings render it unsuitable for private residence purposes. Royal Lapham of 80 Central avenue, Newtonville objected to the whole proposed changes because the building of apartment houses will be encouraged if special zones are created for them. Fred M. Blanchard of 162 Mount Vernon street opposed any change in the Building Code which will let more apartment houses in this city. He advocated that the present zoning law remain unchanged for 5 or 10 years more. Later when Mr. Blanchard had received more information regarding the reasons for the proposed changes, he changed his opinion and favored them. He explained that since it seems probable that because of advances in the methods of constructing apartment houses which allow them to be erected at considerably less cost, it is quite advisable to take measures to prevent them from intruding into all parts of general residence zones.

Mr. O'Brien of 285 Tremont street, Newton, speaking for himself and owners of two neighboring parcels of real estate, wants all of Tremont street left in a General Residence Zone so that apartment buildings may be erected along it. John T. Burns advised against making the proposed changes. He argued that the existing zoning ordinance should remain as is for 5 or more years and urged all the citizens of Newton to co-operate in working for the advancement of the city. Howard Murphy representing the Barbara Park section at Lower Falls told of 160 lots having been laid out there which are of such a size that a 25-foot setback cannot be placed on them. He agreed with Mr. Burns that larger lots increase the costs of homes and you must build to suit the needs of different classes of people.

Alderman Baker explained several times that houses in General Residence Zones may be built nearer than 25 feet to the street line provided that any building on the same side of the street within a distance of 250 feet (an intersecting street not intervening) is less than that distance from the street line.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

SPORT NOTES

University Club Beats Harvard

The University Club hockey team topped the Harvard sextet at the Garden Monday night, 4 to 3, by scoring twice in the final period of a fast game. The ex-college stars, many of them graduates of Harvard, came on the ice at the beginning of the third period with the score 2 to 2 and stepped into a two goal lead. In the closing minutes of the game Harvard got one of them back and fought hard for the tying point but in vain. Clark Hodder and George Owen were in the Club lineup and Guy Holbrook on the Harvard team. None of these local products scored points but Owen started the first one for the winners. Harvard had taken a one point lead after seven minutes of play and a little later Owen stepped from the blue line. The goalie stopped it but Hodder came in fast for another shot which Newell also stopped but before he could get his stick on the rubber Chase, ex-Harvard captain, pushed it into the cage.

Lawless Cages Two

The Employers' Group defeated the Medford A. A. at the Arena Monday night in a Bay State Amateur League hockey game, 4 to 1. Captain "Gyp" Lawless of the winning team tallied twice. The game was closer than the score indicated as Medford bombarded the insurance team all the way.

Stubs Among Fresh Candidates

Frank Stubbs, Jr., ex-Newton high star hockey player and a brother of the Harvard varsity sextet coach, is among the candidates for the Harvard freshmen six that reported to Coach Donald Angier Monday morning at the Harvard campus. Stubbs, ex-academy captain and star and brother of Edgar Crosby, ex-Harvard captain, is another promising candidate.

Bill Hunnefeld, Chicago White Sox infielder, has an official batting average of .294 according to the American league averages released Monday. He ties with Carl Lind of Cleveland for 56th place in the list and 42nd place in the list of so-called regulars. He took part in 94 games, batted 333 times, scored 42 runs, singled 88 times, hit for 118 total bases, hit 8 two-baggers, 3 triples, and 2 home runs, sacrificed 6 times, and stole 16 bases. Many clubs, including the Boston Red Sox, would like to get Hunnefeld but the Chicago management seems to be disinclined to part with him or its other infielders.

Capt. Tedesco Lost to Eagles

Boston College's hockey team, which opens its season tonight against Dartmouth at the Arena suffered a setback in its hopes for a fine season early in the week when it learned that Captain Nick Tedesco, former Newton high hockey player, had been declared physically unfit because of heart trouble. Tedesco is a senior at the Heights and has played a wing on the Eagle sextet for the past few years.

Kelly Wins Three Bouts

Charlie Kelly of Washington street punched his way to victory in the 147-lb. class at the Dilboy Post boxing tournament the other night winning all three of his fights by the knockout route. In the final bout he floored Peter Burke of Somerville in two rounds to take first place in his division. Kelly, who is 17 years old and a student at Our Lady High school, trains at Fitzpatrick's gymnasium in Waltham under the direction of Spike Hennessey, well-known Waltham fighter. It was the second tournament of his career, both of which he has won.

Yale Shuts Out University Six

Last Saturday night the Yale varsity hockey team shut out the University Club sextet at New Haven, 1 to 0. Although Yale was the aggressor throughout the game it was bothered considerably by a strong defensive play of the Hub outfit and the sterling work of goalie, Ted Leonard, former Newton and Dartmouth star. Other local products who took part in the game for the University Club team were Edgar Crosby, Clark Hodder, Horace Cole, Bill Blaney and Frank Spain. Hodder was the only one of this group to start the game.

Newton Y. M. C. A. Wrestlers Lose

Although Providence Y. M. C. A. wrestlers won only one bout against the Newton Y matmen Saturday night at Providence the home team took the match, 15 to 11, when the local team defaulted in the 118 and 128-lb. classes. Of Newton won the 155-lb. bout by a decision over White of Providence. Vachon of Newton defeated Parrivall of Providence by a fall in 3 minutes 35 seconds in the 147 pound class. Vachon used an arm and crotch hold to put his opponent on the mat. Arsenal won a decision over Halpos of Providence in the 150-lb. class while Peterson of Providence put Chapin of Newton on the mat in the 175-lb. class with a head and body hold in 8 minutes 49 seconds.

Chelsea Y Five Wins

The Chelsea Y basketball team defeated the Newton Y quintet last Saturday night on the Newton court 32 to 27. The visitors played a strong defensive game with Spracklin and Captain Joe Feinberg starring. Purcell and Captain Kohler were best for Newton scoring eleven and ten points respectively. In a preliminary contest the Chelsea Juniors won from the Newton Juniors 24 to 20.

Hill and Johnson Rank High

Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Waban cousins and tennis stars, rank high in the lists announced by the Massachusetts Tennis Association. In the men's singles Johnson is placed fifth and Hill sixth. Insufficient data was possessed on Lawrence B. Rice so that he was not ranked. In the men's doubles the team of Hill and Johnson was ranked first.

TRACK PROSPECTS BRIGHT AT NEWTON

Although greatly weakened by the loss by graduation in June of such stellar performers as James McCruden, Edward Ebelhare, Romaine and Fowler Cole and Captain Malcolm Reed the Newton high track team prospects for the year are not as dismal as it would seem. Wednesday afternoon Coach Donald Enoch staged an informal track meet between two teams into which the entire squad was divided. The orange team with a total of 92 points topped the black team with 74. Twenty points on the orange team scored points while the black team placed one man less. The high scorer of the afternoon was Robert Ewing, former Chicago schoolboy star sprinter and 300-yard runner. Ewing tallied 18 points scoring a first in the dash, 300-yard run, shot put and a fourth in the broad jump. Carl Pescosolido, sprinter and shot putter, was the second high scorer with eleven points. He landed a first in the dash and first in the shotput. Captain Dick Reynolds and Mike Fine, tied for the third high scorer's post with ten points each. Reynolds won the 600-yd. placed second in the dash, and tied for third in the high jump, while Fine won the broad jump, and took second in the high jump.

In order to allow a large number of runners to enter the dash and 300-yard run no finals were had in the dash and 300-yard run. In the 300 points being awarded for winners of the semifinals dash heats and each heat in the 300.

The summary: 30-yd. dash: Ewing, 5 pts.; Pescosolido, 5 pts.; Reynolds, 3 pts.; Carter, 3 pts.; Mullen, 1 pt.; Pearson, 1 pt.

Hurdles: Pearson, 5; Frye, 3; Allen, 1.

Broad jump: Fine, 6; Finn, 4; O'cott, 3; Ewing, 2; Dillworth, 1.

Shot put: Pescosolido, 6; Ham, 4; Andres, 3; Gill, 2; Pratt, 1.

300-yard run: Erwin, 5; Adams, 5; Ewing, 5; R. Bell, 5; Quigley, 5; Nayor, 4; W. Bell, 4; Spencer, 3; Watts, 3; McCabe, 3; Buchanan, 1; Smith, 1; Jarrell, 1.

600-yd. run: Reynolds, 5; Gibbs, 3; Clapp, 1.

1000-yd. run: Burtin, 5; Hall, 5; A. Signore, 5; Adams, 4; V. Signore, 4; Chamberlain, 3; Olson, 1.

High jump: Ewing, 6; Fine, 4; Welch, Reynolds, Silley tied with 2 pts. each.

Relay: both races won by the orange team scoring five points each.

SPORT NOTES

DeMille At Centre

Spencer deMille, former Newton high school basketball captain, is playing centre for the Wentworth Institute team this season. Yesterday the technicians defeated Northeastern freshmen on the Boston Y floor in a fast finish 32 to 29. Late in the game a Wentworth basket put the five ahead 30 to 29 and before the final whistle blew another goal gave the winners a three point margin.

Cambridge Tops Newton

The strong Cambridge Y basketball team had to play its best last night to beat the Newton Y five on the Cambridge floor 44 to 39. The home team led at the end of the first half 30 to 19 but Newton came back strong in the second half although failing to catch up with the Cantabs. Lynch and Neale were Cambridge stars while Kohler and Cunningham excelled for Newton. The home centre cased seven baskets from the floor for 14 points while Cunningham, at left forward, sunk five from the floor and one from the foul line for eleven points.

Set New Team Figures

Middlesex, rolling on its own alleys, won both Newton league matches Wednesday night from Waban. Besides taking three points in bottle pins and setting new figures for the team total by 44 pins when they rolled 3036 with Ashworth hitting 641 for three strings Middlesex shut out Waban in Boston jins. Newton took two points in bottle pins from Hunnefeld and also three out of four in Boston pins.

Country Day Re-elects Bottomley

The lettermen of the 1928 Country Day school sports squad have re-elected George Bottomley of the Back Bay as captain of the 1929 eleven. He played a backfield position last fall and was a good ground-gainer. Letters have been awarded to Elliott Ritchie, Capt. Bottomley, Robert Johnson, Robert Phillips, Robert Winchell, Roger Greene, Donald Gleason, Francis Gleason, Albert Pratt, John Howland, Edward Lyman, James Cobb, Paul Wolfer, John Labouchere, Robert Vose and Manager James Bottomley.

Trip to Lake Placid

The Country Day hockey team which competed in the private school tournament at Lake Placid last February will again make the trip this year. The tourney will be held on Feb. 15 and 16 with three other schools entered. Twenty candidates have been doing conditioning work for the past two weeks and had their first ice practice Wednesday. The itinerary arranged by Manager James Bottomley follows: Jan. 15, Rivers school at Brookline; 19, Middlesex school at Concord; 23, open; 26, Belmont Hill at Belmont; 30, Boston Latin; Feb. 2, Boston English; 6, Harvard 2nd, at Charlesbush; 13, Browne & Nichols at Arena; 15 and 16, Lake Placid private school tournament; 20, Milton Academy.

Lingham Scores

Captain Phil Lingham of the Brown hockey sextet scored one of his team's seven goals Tuesday night at Providence when the Brown six turned back Norwich 7 to 1. The Bruins showed considerable improvement since their opening game last week and were in command of the play throughout. Norwich scored its only tally in the second period.

Squash Racquet Matches

The Newton Centre team in Class A of the Massachusetts Squash Racquets Association held its own with the class leaders in last Saturday's matches by defeating the Tennis and Racquet club 3 to 2. The Newton Centre team is now in a tie for third with Harvard University which lost to the Harvard Club, which leads the Cambridge Club by two points, by a similar margin. Charles Peabody of Tennis and Racquet, and one of the foremost players in the state a few years ago, defeated Ralph Stuart of Newton Centre in a hard fought five game match. The surprise of the week was the defeat of Robert Bray of the local team by Burnham of Tennis and Racquet. Bray had the match point on his racquet a half-dozen times in the third and fifth games but Burnham pulled through. Rice, Holt and Cooke were the point winners for Newton Centre. In Class B Newton Centre defeated Lincoln's Inn 4 to 1 with Buell, Goddard, Patterson and Alvord winning and Wellman losing. In Class C the Newton Club defeated M. L. T. 5 to 0, the Harvard Club defeated Country Day, 5 to 0, and Weston defeated Newton Centre 3 to 2. For the Newton club LeBaron, Cryan, Hayden, Arend and Mendes had little difficulty winning from their opponents. Hayden and Arend were forced to five games and Mendes to four. At the Country Day school Clark and Goodrich forced their Harvard club opponents to five games before relinquishing hope. At Weston W. B. Snow, and A. D. Noble were the local winners while Cooper, Hicks and F. H. Hovey, Jr., were on the short end.

Our Lady High Loses

Tuesday afternoon on the basketball court of Our Lady High School the St. Thomas high five of Jamaica Plain defeated Our Lady high 18 to 15. St. Thomas took the lead early in the game and held it until the final whistle. The score at half time was St. Thomas 8, Our Lady 6. O'Brien, right forward; Quigley, center, and Norton, left guard, each scored two field goals for the home team with O'Neill, right guard, adding one from the floor and one from the foul line to total the 15 points. Bowes, St. Thomas right forward, was the high scorer of the game with three field goals.

Howland to Captain Bowdoin Six

Winslow R. Howland of Auburndale was elected to the captaincy of the Bowdoin College hockey team Tuesday afternoon. The election was held to fill the vacancy due to the failure of Captain-elect Parker Rice to return to college this fall. Howland was captain of the football team at Bowdoin the past season. He is a graduate of Newton high where he played football and goal on the hockey team which won the international schoolboy championship by defeating Huntington school of Quebec.

ORDER OF DeMOLAY

A very pretty ceremony took place at the meeting of Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at Newtonville, last Saturday evening. The occasion was the Public Investiture of the Legion of Honor to Robert M. Clark, first Master Councilor of the local chapter, and Orrin W. Duff, another Past Master Councilor. The ceremony was performed with "Dad" Melvin M. Johnson, Member of the Grand Council, Order of DeMolay, presiding, assisted by a suite of eleven Legions, each of whom had a part in the ceremony. The Legion of Honor is the highest award in the gift of the Grand Council of the Order of DeMolay. It cannot be solicited and is given only to members of the Order who have been conspicuous in DeMolay work. The investiture consists of a cordion with medallion and a gold ring properly inscribed. Elmer J. Keene and Don M. Leonard, who have been connected with the Chapter since its organization nearly five years ago, were decorated with the Grand Council's Cross of Honor.

Previous to the Investiture "Dad" Johnson gave an interesting discourse on the history of the Order of DeMolay. Mayor Childs, Chairman of the Advisory Council of Newton Chapter, presented a Past Master Councilor's jewel to Robert M. Sisson with his usual appropriate remarks. A similar jewel was also presented to Howard S. Stoney by "Dad" Leonard. These ceremonies were followed by an entertainment given by the Band of the Chapter and members of Waltham Assembly of the Rainbow, about sixty of whom were guests of the Chapter. Dr. Cecil Clark and Harold Billings also presented their "Two White Blackbirds." The four hundred and more members and friends were then invited to participate in dancing in Temple Hall.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

One of the delightful features of the Christmas season is the singing of members of the Highland Glee Club on Sunday morning. This year the itinerary calls for assembling at Newton Highlands square at four o'clock Christmas morning, with about 30 members present, including four trumpeters. Automobiles will be in readiness and the club will make stops on the following streets and squares, singing carols at each stop: Chickerman road, Brewster road, Hammond street, at Liggett residence, Waverley avenue, at Hopewell residence, Pomeroy Home, Highland avenue and reaching the Newton Hospital about 7:30 o'clock.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Never a Christmas season comes but we think of Henry Chapin Savin for many years master at the Bigelow School. The boys and girls who were pupils at the Bigelow School during the years of "Daddy" Savin's regime looked forward each year as Christmas approached to respite from studies afforded by the gathering of the classes in the hall of the old school. There on several days preceding Christmas, the kindly old teacher would read a part of Dickens' "Christmas Carol." It afforded him great pleasure to read this, perhaps, most loved masterpiece of the great English author. It was with intense fervor that he recited the closing lines containing that beautiful sentiment expressed by Tiny Tim—"God Bless us, every one."

The window of Wilson Brothers grocery store at 304 Centre street, Newton Corner, contains an unusually well made model of a Cape Cod cottage. The miniature dwelling is made to scale in all its details. It is the work of Mr. L. F. McAleer of 4 Copley street, Newton and represents many hours work in his spare time nights during a period extending over a year. Over 3000 tiny shingles and 500 little clapboards, all shaped by hand, cover the attractive replica of a Cape Cod homestead.

It is well that the exchange of amenities between "Al" and "Mal" ended before Christmas.

More and more homes are being decorated each year at Christmas-time with greenery, colored electric bulbs and electric candles. More beautifully decorated and illuminated Christmas trees adorn the lawns of this and adjoining communities. The real candles which for many years made the windows of the houses in Louisburg square peculiarly attractive, now have countless thousands of electric replicas. This rapidly growing practice emphasizes, we believe, the spirit of Christmas. With the increasing observance of this joyful season, due credit should be given to those immigrants from England, Germany and Ireland, who came to this country 75 or more years ago and insisted upon observing Christmas here as they observed it in their native lands, so far as conditions would permit. An insistence that in some instances caused the immigrants loss of positions when they refused to work on Christmas Day.

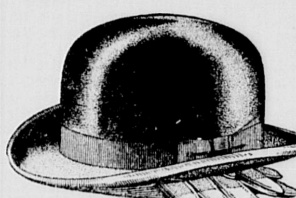

All that we know about the row between Bolivia and Paraguay is what we read in the papers. If the news we read is in accordance with facts, our sympathy is with Paraguay. It seems that Bolivia wants access to the sea and proposes to get it by right or might.

Richard B. Conroy, known to thousands in this city as "Dick" Conroy, retired yesterday from active service on the Newton Police Department, having reached the age limit of 65 years. "Dick" does not look 65 and does not act it. He is in better condition physically than many men much younger. He was appointed to the force on March 18, 1889 and for

It is well that the exchange of some years has served as an inspector. There never was a "whiter" man on the Newton police force than "Dick" Conroy. He was the last to quit. A policeman's job when he was appointed to the force was no sinecure. The cops in those days started their tour of duty at—p. m., and finished it the following morning at—p. m., provided that they did not have to appear in court to testify against some prisoner. They got one day off in thirty. The Newton police force their tour of duty at—p. m., and finished it the following morning at—p. m., and winter and summer using shank's pace. Automobiles were not in existence for many years after to afford easy transportation to patrol boxes. When circumstances compelled, "Dick" never hesitated to tackle some big bully filled with booze and belligerency. But he never arrested a man unless he had to. We saw "Dick" on several occasions guide from the railroad station at Newton to their homes, peacefully inclined, inebriated individuals who had drunk well but not wisely in Boston or Brighton. Together, with "Dick's" hundreds of other friends—we wish him many Merry Christmases and Happy New Years in the evening of his life, and the ease that should follow after having served Newton nearly 40 years faithfully and intelligently.

AUBURNDALE TENNIS COURT

To the Editor:

The citizens of Auburndale wish to thank Mayor Childs, the Board of Aldermen, the Newton press for making the two tennis courts just completed at the Auburndale Playground a reality for the young women and young men of Auburndale and also for those not so young as years go but still young in spirit and still able to get exercise through tennis.

We also wish to express at this time for the citizens of Auburndale who signed the tennis petition our thank you.

We know that next spring and summer that the courts will be utilized for healthful recreation by the tennis fans, and feel that this will remedy the crowded condition at Newton Lower Falls and Newtonville, as the Auburndale players now have courts of their own as well as fine bathing facilities and both are away from traffic, and the ideal place for recreation.

EDITORIAL

The appointment of Mr. Henry L. Harriman as trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. is highly creditable to Governor Fuller and brings to the active service of the public a man who is admirably fitted for the office. It will be recalled that Mr. Harriman, at or about the time the present public control act was in the making was the president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and that he took an active part in framing the bill which was later presented to the Legislature. In more recent years Mr. Harriman has rendered most valuable work as chairman of the Metropolitan planning division and has had a splendid experience in all the problems affecting the Metropolitan district. Newton will be well represented on the board of trustees of the Elevated, as Mr. Harriman will have associated with him, Mr. Edward E. Whiting of Newtonville.

The aldermen have taken wise action in postponing to next year the important matter of changing the zoning ordinance of the city. When the zoning ordinance was first adopted some ten years ago, the committee in charge held public hearings in every part of the city, giving every land owner ample opportunity to learn just how he would be affected by the proposed ordinance. That plan should be followed again if any material change is contemplated rather than a general hearing at which hundreds of real estate owners attempt to tell the board how they feel about it.

The proposition to drain the so-called Cold Spring Swamp and improve some 500 acres of land for the financial betterment of a few owners at an initial expense of some $80,000 to be paid by general taxation is a great injustice to the taxpayers of this city. The drainage of this area is a distinct and special benefit to the owners of property thereby improved and the work should be done under the law authorizing the assessment of betterments, and at least half the cost paid by those who will enjoy its benefits.

In retiring from a ten years tenure of office as a trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. both as a member and as chairman of that body, Hon. Samuel L. Powers of this city will have the satisfaction of realizing that he has had a large part in making a great success of a new and untried experiment of public control of a private corporation. Mr. Powers will also carry with him to private life the gratitude of the district which he has so faithfully served.

The plan to drain the Cold Spring Swamp region is a step in the right direction as it will add to the taxable area of the city. The work, however, should be done under the law authorizing the assessment of betterments similar to the work done some fifteen years ago in draining the South Meadow brook region.

We can view with considerable equanimity the proposal that Cambridge become part of political Greater Boston. Cambridge would have much to gain by the merger. Newton would have much to lose if a similar proposition was made to us.

Merry Christmas.

POLICE NEWS

Judson Alward of 299 Elm street, Upper Falls, whose car struck and killed Robert Carey, 10, of Boylston street, Newton Highlands on Halloween night, has been indicted by the Middlesex grand jury on the charges of driving without proper brakes and driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. On the charge of manslaughter the grand jury dismissed the complaint. This action followed an inquest held before Judge Brown several weeks ago.

In the Newton court last Friday Maurice O'Connell, 116 Adams street, Newton, was found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor and fined $100. He was arrested on December 7 at Newton Corner after his car had been in collision with another automobile. On the same day in the Newton court Judge Bacon fined Renslow Marshall of Dorchester $25 for speeding and the following $10 each for similar offences—Harold Wells, Dorchester; John Dugan, Southboro; Dr. Bayard Crane, Rutland.

Fred Cavallo, 54 Oak street, West Newton, was arrested late Saturday night on Beaver street, Waltham, by Serg. Igoe and Patrolman Nally of the Watertown police who had pursued him from Belmont street in that town. The chase started when Cavallo refused to stop after being ordered to do so by Serg. Igoe. The policemen in their car chased Cavallo's automobile and fired a revolver shot at it to compel a halt. In the Waltham court Monday morning Cavallo was fined $25 for refusing to stop when ordered to do so and $15 for driving without a license.

In the Newton court on Saturday Warren Glancy, 17, of 82 Pine street, West Newton, was charged with breaking and entering and larceny. He was held for the Grand Jury in $5000 bonds. Last Friday night Charles Kearney of 269 Webster street, West Newton, discovered that his home had been entered and some cash and checks stolen. The police suspected Glancy, arrested him and claim to have found articles stolen from the Kearney home.

Duncan Blue of 4 Margaret road, Newton Highlands, was arrested early Saturday morning by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Foley charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried December 24. Stanley Putnam of Newport, Maine, was fined $10 in the Newton court Saturday for speeding. On the same day Ermilio Trulzi of Nonantum was fined $100 for drunken driving and $10 for drunk driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on December 10 by Patrolmen Dowling and Goddard after they had chased him along Pearl street. They testified he was driving along that street in a snow storm at the rate of 35 miles an hour. Louis Mazzola of Albemarle road, West Newton, was fined $25 in court Saturday for driving without a license, $5 for driving without a registration and $10 for driving with improper lights.

Patrolman Patrick King, who has been a member of the Newton police force since 1921 was appointed by Chief Burke to succeed Richard Conroy as inspector. King, who has topped the list of eligibles for appointment to sergeant resides at Lewis street, Newton. He is married, has three children and is an ex-service man. His brother is a sergeant in the Cambridge police department and his uncle is a captain of police at South Boston.

GIVES $5 TO FIREMEN AND POLICEMEN

On their pay day preceding last Christmas every fireman and policeman in Newton was agreeably surprised to find in his pay envelope a $5 gold piece, the gift of a prominent citizen of this city who did not wish his identity made public. Yesterday 145 members of the Police Department, including the clerks, and 98 members of the Fire Department were again made more happy by finding a $5 gold piece in their pay envelopes. The public spirited citizen who takes this concrete way to evidence his appreciation of Newton's firemen and policemen spent $1215 for these gifts. Although he wants no publicity for his generosity, all the members of both departments have a very good idea as to the identity of their friend.

LIQUOR RAID

A squad of police headed by Sergeant Mahoney last evening at 6 p. m. raided the house of Arthur Landry, 456 Watertown street, Newtonville, and seized a gallon jug containing one quart of supposed hard liquor, and three pint bottles supposed to contain beverage stronger than the Volstead Act allowed. This morning the police arrested Alfred Landry, age 69, of 92 Dalby street, Nonantum, charged with making an illegal sale of liquor. Both defendants will be tried later.

Tracing "Tammany"

Tammany is the common form of the name of a noted ancient Delaware chief, written also Tammene, Tamenan, Tammand, Tammy, Tammed, Tammy, Tamme. In the form of Tammene his name appears as one of the signers of a deed to William Penn in 1633 for land not far north from Philadelphia, within the present Bucks county, Pennsylvania.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. J. Powers

Do not forget, while preparing for a joyful observance of Christmas, that in this city are many families in need. The Newton Welfare Bureau and several of the fraternal organizations are to distribute food and clothing to the needy. They will be pleased to receive contributions from anyone. This is the opportunity to manifest the real spirit of Christmas.

CONCERNING ZONING

As a member of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen the writer wishes to assure the citizens of Newton that the accusations and insinuations made by some individuals to the effect that the proposed changes in zoning were to be made for the benefit of certain owners of real estate in this city, and that there has been collusion between the committee and any real estate owners or real estate operators—are absolutely false and unfair.

The writer has yet to meet one real estate operator in this city who expressed satisfaction with the proposed changes. Nor have those engaged in the development of real estate in Newton been in accord on the abolition of the General Residence zones and the creation of small apartment house zones. The Claims and Rules Committee acted independently of real estate owners or operators in its deliberations; a fact that may be easily proved if one listens to the criticisms hurled against the proposed changes by men engaged in the real estate business in this city.

SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN

The special meeting of the aldermen held last night to take action on the authorization of a bond issue of $81,000 for sewer construction bonds, was attended by 15 members of the Board with Alderman Ball in the chair. The meeting was necessitated by the Charter objection raised against the passage of this order by Alderman Heathcote on Monday night. Alderman Powers inquired if the authorization of the bond issue will obligate the city to build the proposed Cold Spring swamp drain without betterments being levied on owners of property who may benefit. He was assured that it will not. Alderman Temperley stated that he would vote for the measure if it does not specify Cold Spring swamp drain and he was told that the order would not mention this drain. The bond issue was authorized by the unanimous vote of all present. The absentees were Aldermen Gallagher, Weeks, Baker, Heathcote, Pitts and Prior.

BENEFIT SHOP

There are about 150 ladies from all sections of Newton who are regular helpers at the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop at 5 Washington terrace. On Tuesday, Mrs. F. S. Rush of Kirkstall road, opened her beautiful home to welcome the volunteers to work with it if I gave you one? Aren't the executive staff for a social hour. Mrs. Brewer Eddy and Mrs. Pitt Drew assisted and helped to make the afternoon most enjoyable. Mrs. Talbot, the president of the Hospital Aid Association, welcomed the guests in her gracious way, introducing Miss Allen superintendent of the Hospital who gave an informal but most interesting talk in the progress and prospects of our new hospital. Mrs. C. P. Clark gave an account of the Benefit Shop's earnings—filling all hearts with courage and enthusiasm to go on with the work until a fund of such proportions has been earned that some big definite part of the new hospital may stand for all time as the visible result of the efforts of the Hospital Aid and its Benefit Shop. A delightful tea was served and the all-Newton spirit of co-operative effort impressed all the guests who enjoyed Mrs. Rush's hospitality.

The Benefit Shop at 5 Washington terrace will be closed all of Christmas week and will reopen on Wednesday, Jan. 2nd.

FIRE RECORD

At 11:45 Sunday night Hose 8 was called on a still alarm to the house at 212 Adams street, Nonantum, occupied by Peter Leary. A hot water front in the kitchen stove exploded and scattered red hot coals which started a blaze in the room. The fire was extinguished before much damage resulted.

Box 754 at 5:34 Sunday afternoon was a false alarm.

Two false alarms, apparently pulled by the same person were sent in last night; Box 174 at 11:23 and Box 175 at 11:31. Both boxes are near together in the Nonantum district.

Box 323 at 1:05 Wednesday afternoon was for a light blaze in the house of Michael Feeney at 49 Sheridan street, West Newton.

NONANTUM A. A. HOCKEY TEAM

Newton hockey fans will have opportunities this year to see a real hockey team in action. The Nonantum Athletic Association, known last year as the Cercle Franco-Americain team will have a big smoke talk on Monday night, December 31, at the N. A. A. Hall on Dalby street, Nonantum. A fine program of vaudeville will be given and boxing bouts will be staged. Efforts are being made to have Jack Sharkey present. The members of the hockey team include Gyp Lawless, formerly of B. U., Joe Fitzgerald, Terry McGovern and Dave Duane, formerly of Boston College, Bob Pickard, who played with Hebron Academy, Joe Thompson and Gil Champagne, formerly with Newton High, Cliff White, Marchand and Farrell of the Cercle Franco-Americain.

MURPHY CONFIRMED AS CHAIRMAN OF ASSESSORS

John W. Murphy of Jasset street, Nonantum, recently designated by Mayor Childs as chairman of the Board of Assessors to succeed the late Henry Baily was unanimously confirmed by the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on Monday night.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN

 petition of Delerzon's Pharmacy for a common victualler license at its store, 1064 Chestnut street, Upper Falls, Mr. Delerzon learned that the Board would not discriminate between him and the Liggett Drug Stores. Lizzie H. Brett was granted leave to withdraw on her petition for change of zoning from General Residence to Business on land at the corner of Washington and Saint James streets, Newton. Stanley Bolster was granted a permit to erect a private greenhouse at 29 Exeter street, Ward 3.

Chairman Baker for the Claims and Rules Committee reported favorably on the petition to change land on both sides of Waltham street, West Newton, from River street to Elliot avenue from general and private residence zones to single residence zone. He explained that all persons present at the hearing on this matter had favored the change. Alderman Heathcote, mistaking this petition as part of the proposition to wipe out all general residence zones in the city, started to quote from the notice sent out on the latter matter to several thousands of property owners in Newton. President Weeks called his attention to the fact that the petition under consideration was a different subject. He then announced that the Board would take a recess at the request of the chairman of several committees.

When the Board reconvened, Chairman Baker of the Claims and Rules Committee took the floor and informed the members that the committee had decided to recommend that the matter of abolishing most of the general residence zones in the city should be referred to next year's Board. Mr. Baker told of the hearing which was held Friday night, December 14 and of the four hours deliberation by the committee last Saturday afternoon. He explained that because of the fact that many persons who came to City Hall last Friday night and were unable to enter the Aldermanic Chamber because of the large attendance, because some persons have the idea that this matter is being rushed through, and because there are many confused ideas as to the nature of the zoning changes proposed, the committee decided it is better to have action on this matter deferred until next year's Board of Aldermen considers it.

Alderman Heathcote stated that he was glad to hear the recommendation made by the Claims and Rules Committee. He suggested that before any action is taken on this matter by the next City Government, the assessors furnish each member of the aldermen with the names of property owners whose holdings will remain in the general residence districts. He remarked that this will show who will benefit by the proposed changes.

The Ward 4 alderman claimed that a rumor has been current which alleged that the zoning changes were to be made for the financial benefit of certain parties.

Alderman Powers objected to the passage of the order authorizing a 30 year bond issue to the amount of $81,000 for the drainage of Cold Spring Swamp. The Ward 1 alderman told of the requests made for some years past by the Playground Department that Laundry Brook at Boyd Park be covered so that this park may be converted into a proper playground. He referred to the many drains which have been constructed in other parts of the city, specifying among others the drain which is now being built on the Rye property at Waban. He asserted that the large number of boys and girls who reside in the vicinity of Boyd Park and surrounding sections of Ward 1 should be provided with a suitable playground such as the covering of the brook there would create. He argued that an appreciable betterment will be made on the land at Cold Spring Swamp if a drain is constructed there, that property of little value will be made into valuable real estate.

identical sites, and that those who will benefit by this increment should pay betterments.

Alderman Earle, chairman of the Public Works committee, stated that the bond issue of $81,000 asked for will be used for sewer and drain work other than the drainage of Cold Spring Swamp. Chairman Collins of the Finance Committee stated that the specifying of Cold Spring Swamp in the order for the bond issue was an error and that the money might be used for other drains and sewers. He called attention to the fact that in order to construct sewers and drains badly needed it is imperative that the city take advantage of the fleeting opportunity to borrow money for such purposes. By a special act of the Legislature cities were allowed this year to borrow outside their debt limits for work on sewers and drains.

Alderman Heathcote apologized for delaying the meeting by taking the floor inasmuch as he had been criticized by an officers of the Newton Center Woman's Club for keeping the aldermen up late. He opposed the bond issue for the drainage of the Cold Spring swamp area because he had been informed that Ex-Mayor Hatfield owned a large part of this swamp and the drainage of the swamp will make this land much more valuable. He commented that perhaps the aldermen want to benefit one prominent politician and in order to clarify the situation and have it made known how much will be paid for betterment assessments on this work, he raised a charter objection to the order being passed at the meeting.

President Weeks of the Board ruled that Mr. Heathcote was within his rights in raising the charter objection. As a result, a special meeting of the Board was called for Thursday night to permit the bond issue being authorized before the end of this year.

As President Weeks was about to declare the meeting adjourned, Mr. Heathcote again took the floor and asserted that many defects have developed in the new Hamilton School at Lower Falls. He invited the members to visit the building and prove his contention and he made a motion that Mayor Childs be requested to hold the contractor who built the school to his bond guarantee for the remedying of any defects. The motion was not seconded.

DOROTHY SPEARE TO APPEAR IN SYMPHONY HALL

Wide-spread interest follows the announcement that Dorothy Speare, famed as an opera singer and as a novelist, will give a concert in Symphony Hall on Wednesday evening, January 9th, at which time she will be assisted by the Boston Sinfonietta, a group of twenty-five leading active members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur Fiedler, well-known Boston musician. Few persons are versatile enough to win success in more than one career. Miss Speare is the exception. At the age of 27, this beautiful American girl is the author of four best sellers, a playwright, and an opera star.

She was born in Newton, Mass., and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray Speare. Following her graduation from Smith College, she went to study in the famous "47 Workshop" in Harvard under Professor Baker. In her spare time she wrote a novel called "Dancers in the Dark." It was accepted by the first publisher to whom she sent it, and it turned out to be a best seller. With the royalties from her books as financial backing, she went abroad to study music. She made her debut in Italy in the role of Lucia with one day's rehearsal.

Her program includes arias by Rameau, Mozart, and Bellini, in addition to pieces by Cimara, Sibella, Hahn, Bemberg, Liszt and Bishop. The Boston Sinfonietta will give the first Boston performance of Music from "Jonny Spielt Auf," and the Suite from "Les Indes Galantes."

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newtonville Woman's Club

Fifty children were the guests of the Newtonville Woman's Club at their regular meeting on Tuesday, where they were entertained by William Crawford's Punch and Judy Show and his trained dog, "Teddy," feasted on ice cream and cake, and had a chance to meet Santa Claus face to face. They were sent home tired but happy, each laden with a toy, and a large bundle containing the things each one particularly needed. These boys and girls were all children who otherwise would know very little of the joy of Christmas at this holiday season.

The Newtonville Girls' Orchestra, with Miss Judith Andress as leader, helped in the entertainment, rendering several Christmas selections.

The flower committee under Mrs. R. E. Chambers, had charge of decorating the tree and the Social Committee, Mrs. W. B. Hanna, chairman, furnished the refreshments. Mrs. E. P. Kendrick had charge of the transportation, and Mrs. C. A. Rouillard and her committee had spent much time and thought making the garments and purchasing the gifts which Santa—Miss Marion Bassett—distributed.

Many Club members brought their children who enjoyed the party as well as the special guests.

NOVEMBER HEALTH REPORT

The health report for the City of Newton for November shows that 10 cases of scarlet fever, 43 of whooping cough and 12 of chicken pox were reported in the city during the month. The number of deaths during the month were 22 males and 32 females. Tuberculosis caused an increased number of deaths, 6 persons dying from this disease. Heart failure claimed 12 victims and 5 died from cancer. Apoplexy was the cause of 6 deaths.

During the month the sanitary division of the Board of Health investigated 60 complaints, abated 56 nuisances and made 100 inspections. The nursing division made 84 visits to tuberculosis patients and took 15 children to clinics. The milk and food division inspected 75 markets, 12 bakeries and 14 dairies.

Removing Air From Water

The bureau of standards says that air can be removed from water by the simple expedient of boiling, especially boiling under vacuum.

A Few Little Smiles

POST-MARITAL SENTIMENT

"What are you rummaging for?" "Some old love letters I used to write to my wife before we were married."

"That bit of sentiment does you credit. Want to peruse them again, eh?"

"Aw, g'wan! She's away now. I promised to write her often and I want to hand those old letters to my stenographer to use as models."—New Zealand Leader.

Not With the Landlord

Rakeman—I hear you purchased a saxophone recently. Has it made you popular with your neighbors?

Rawkuss—I should say so. The landlord has had to reduce the rents 25 per cent in order to keep the apartments filled.—Pathfinder Magazine.

A Less Discouraging Job?

"She's getting to dress and act so mannish."

"Yes, she tried to make a man of her husband and alled and evidently she's now trying to make one of herself."

GOOD AT PETTING

He—Sally is a good girl.
She—Yes, good at petting, maybe.

Easily Pleased

I'm glad when holidays come round and glad when they are done. Enjoyment makes a man so tired. That working seems like fun.

Familiar With Danger

"You say you've often been under fire. I didn't know you were in the late war."

"I wasn't, but I've spent several autumns hunting in the Maine woods."—New York World.

Hauteur

"He is as haughty as a prince!" said the impressionable girl.

"You have the wrong idea," rejoined Miss Cayenne. "I should say he was as haughty as a prize-fighter or a picture star."

It Leads to Trouble

Mrs. Gnag—The trouble with you is you never learned to say "no."

Her Husband—I've realized that from the time we stood up together and were questioned by the parson.

FOOT OF THE HILLS

Visitor—A better corn is raised in this hilly country than anywhere else? Just where is it grown?

Farmer—On the foot of the hills.

All Through the Night

No longer does the student toil And study, burning midnight oil With glee he sits up half the night And listens to the latest fight.

Punishment

Judge—Guilty or not guilty of this charge of murder?

Prisoner—None of yer business!

Judge—Thirty days—contempt of court!

On Her Metal

Policeman (slipping up)—Ah, Nora, ye are so quiet your thoughts must be golden.

Norah (blushing)—No, Tim, copper!

It's All in the Game

"On what grounds is she suing him for breach of promise?"

"Tennis grounds. She swears he said 'Love' to her over and over."

Pertinent Question

Mrs. A.—I take care that my husband gets no cause for fault-finding.

Mrs. B.—Does that help any?

SCHOOL NOTES

WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

The school is already beginning its Christmas decorations. The various classrooms are putting on gala holiday trimmings. Room 206 has secured a lovely tree and the pupils are diligently working to have it ready before the Christmas vacation. When one goes into the different rooms, he may perceive a "Merry Christmas" greeting confronting him.

A new system has been organized in the Warren Junior High. At each table there is a hostess or host in charge. Their duties are to keep order and to see that the table is cleared off and the chairs pushed in at the end of the period. In January, the hosts and hostesses will have arm bands to be worn only in cafeteria period. These bands will be red with a gold "H" on them. It is hoped that these new officers will be successful in keeping the cafeteria in good order.

The "Transmitter," Warren's school paper, will make its first appearance this year on the Friday before Christmas, a Christmas present for the student.

The principal feature of the Christmas assembly was the presentation of a three act play, "A True Christmas Story," by members of the senior class, including Marion Willard, Redmond Cannon, Sylvia Davis, Wendell Davis, Charles Whetmore and Julia Harvey. Philip McMorro was property manager and Robert Reid, the electrician. A pretty incident of the play was the carol singing after the second act and the singing of Samuel Davis.

Five-year-old Paul repeated the description to a neighbor, but ended by saying: "I guess we will have to wait till we move there to see what kind of floors we will have because dad says they had all the hardwood floors 'threw out.'"—Indianapolis News.

Pity

Cross-examiner (to murderer on stand)—And after you had poisoned the coffee and your husband sat at the breakfast table partaking of the fatal poison, didn't you feel the slight pity for him? Didn't the fact that he was about to die and was wholly unconscious of it excite your sympathy? As he sat there, didn't you feel for him at all?

Widow—Yes, there was just one moment when I sort of felt sorry for him.

"What moment was that?"

"When he asked for a second cup."—Judge.

Throughout

An Indianapolis family was moving to a new location and the father in describing the house he had rented, among other things, said it had "hard wood floors throughout."

Five-year-old Paul repeated the description to a neighbor, but ended by saying: "I guess we will have to wait till we move there to see what kind of floors we will have because dad says they had all the hardwood floors 'threw out.'"—Indianapolis News.

Doing Well, Too

"Is your son a success?"

"In his line."

"What's his line?"

"Oh, he demonstrates what the well-dressed young man will wear this season."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Most Troubles Fade When Bravely Faced

Anticipation makes trifles loom gigantic. The thing that frowns, in threatening and terrific guise, often ceases to terrify when we draw closer to it. I saw a picture some time ago which represented a rising storm. Seen at some little distance it appeared as though dark, black threatening cloud-battalions were speedily covering the entire sky and blotting out all the patches of light and hope. But when I went a little nearer to the picture I found that the artist had subtly fashioned his clouds out of angel faces, and all these black battalions were the winsome aspect of genial friends. I have had that experience more than once away from the realm of picture and fiction, in the hard ways of practical life. The clouds I feared and worried about, and concerning which I wasted so much precious strength lost their frown and revealed themselves as my friends. Other clouds never arrived—they were purely imaginary, or they melted away before they reached my threshold. "Be not anxious for tomorrow." Live in the immediate moment. Practice the art of omission. Leave out some things and concentrate upon the rest. The best preparation for tomorrow is quiet attention today.—J. H. Jowett.

Constant Shifts of Land and Sea Areas

How the mountains of the eastern United States seem to have been in the habit, millions of years ago, of shifting up and opening out again, periodically, like an accordion—a procedure which they may not entirely have given up, was described by Charles Butts, of the United States geological survey, in a communication to the Washington Academy of Sciences.

Studies of rocks formed in different parts of what are now the Appalachian mountains several hundred million years ago, during what geologists call the Paleozoic age, have proved, Mr. Butts reported, that parts of these mountains were alternately under the ocean and exposed to the air.

These, he said, "a constantly and gently oscillating crust or exterior shell of the earth which caused a continual shifting of the areas of land and sea."

There is no sign of sudden changes, lifting new mountains or engulfing former lands. The land of nature worked so slowly that had men been there to see it the process might have passed unobserved.—Baltimore Sun.

Can't Do Away With Kiss

Men have gone to prison for stealing a kiss. The women of Athens once stopped a war by withholding their kisses until their husbands agreed to stop fighting. History was changed when Antony wasted a world for Cleopatra's kisses. And despite the fact that modern medical science inveighs against the kiss, that anti-kissing leagues have been formed and that in Russia the Soviet commissioner of health has forbidden kissing on the ground that it is unhygienic and a bourgeois practice, mistletoe continues to be bought in large quantities at Christmas, and lovers all over the world seem to be following the Biblical example of Jacob when he met Rachel at the well.—Exchange.

"Sea Serpent" Myth

The comparative safety and comfort of the modern ocean vessel may be blamed for the disappearance of the sea serpent, in the opinion of Austin H. Clark of the Smithsonian Institution. The tales of marvelous and fearful sea monsters all belong to the days when sailing the seas was highly dangerous and the large fish could come uncomfortably close to the ship's passengers. A man on the dry, secure deck of the modern vessel lacks the stimulus to his imagination that would make him see queer creatures in the sea, although occasionally even now tales are told in all sincerity of sea serpents being seen.—Exchange.

—Mrs. Peter McLeod of Fairbanks avenue passed away at her home on Friday after a brief illness. Funeral services were held on Monday morning at St. John's Church. High mass of requiem was celebrated by Father McMahon. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

—Troop 4 of the Boy Scouts of Wellesley Lower Falls and Newton Lower Falls held their weekly meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30. The meeting was opened by Junior Assistant Scout Master Albert Collins. The oaths and laws were read and the pledge to the flag, followed by the regular drill exercise, and dues were collected. Scout Master Everett Galloway had previously promised the boys a surprise, for this evening so the boys anxiously looked forward to this meeting. Mr. Galloway introduced to the boys Mr. Aldersey Clarke of Waltham, who is an expert archer. Mr. Clarke recently took part in the National Archers' Tournament. Mr. Clarke brought with him three bows and arrows, first he gave the boys a short inspiring talk on how to make a bow. He then gave each individual instructions in how to shoot a bow and arrow, and each boy had five shots. The boys placed an old carpet across an opening of the stage, in the center of the carpet a small slit was made into which was inserted a small piece of white cloth, then about the cloth as a center was drawn three chalk circles which completed the target. The boys stood 20 yards down the hall and shot from there with instructions. Mr. Clarke also brought with him three staves which could be made into bows for future use for the boys themselves. Mr. Clarke also left with the boys a few ready-made arrows. Stanley Parker has already completed one bow and we expect to have the other two completed shortly. Troop 4 hopes to have an archers team soon that will be able to compete with any other troop of archers. During Christmas week Troop 4 is planning an over-night hike at Concord, Mass. The boys are also contributing toward a Christmas basket as their Good Turn. Last Saturday in accordance to the Charter Minute Man officer Troop 4 is on the finest basis of any troop in Wellesley, this Charter is in accordance with Scout Advancement.

—Slight progress is being made on the 40-car garage which is being built on Needham street. It is hoped that there will be community service from this point in the future.

—Mrs. G. Vaughn Shedd of High street was at home last Friday afternoon to the ladies of the Methodist Church. Mrs. C. A. Chadwick and Mrs. William Willard assisted in pouring.

—The annual Christmas Tree of the Methodist Sunday School will be held in Parish Hall, Monday evening at 7:30. After this the Epworth Leaguers will go caroling to the shut-ins of the town.

—The young athletes of the town are drawing up plans for the improvement of the playground especially the part where dumping is now going on. They hope to bring these plans up for city approval soon.

—On Tuesday evening troops 7 and 17 Girl Scouts met together in the Emerson School for their Christmas Party. After playing many games, Santa Claus arrived with presents for all. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were then served. There will be no meetings during the next two weeks.

Hun a Wisdom Teeth

By actual test the enamel covering the wisdom teeth show little if any difference in density and hardness from the enamel of a front tooth in the same mouth. The rapid decay of wisdom teeth is attributed to their location in the mouth. Because they are hard to reach with a brush, they are seldom, if ever, properly cleaned. If they were given the same attention as the front teeth they would resist decay as readily.

Viking Ship

Norsemen visited the shores of Iceland and Greenland five hundred years before Columbus made his discovery, in such ships as this. Modern historians doubted whether such an open vessel could cross the Atlantic, but to prove that it could be done, Norwegians did cross in one in 1892 for the Columbian Exposition.

A ceremony conducted by us is in careful observance of the proprieties and is distinguished by the complete appropriateness of arrangements.

GIRL SCOUTS

At the Christmas Rally held by the Newton Girl Scouts in the Auditorium of the Newton High School, Saturday night, December 15, Miss Ethel de Mille of Troop 13, Newton Centre, received the Golden Eagle, the highest award in Girl Scouting. Miss de Mille has been a scout for six years and has earned the following Merit Badges, which are required for the Golden Eagle award: Athlete, Child Nurse, Citizen, Cook, Dressmaker, Economist, First Aid, Health Guardian, Health Worker, Home Maker, Home Nurse, Hostess, Landress, Pioneer, and Rambler; besides these, she has chosen the following badges, which represent Scouting in all its wide variety of fields: Scholarship, for four years, Craftsman, Musician, Needlewoman, Star Gazer, Signaller, Pathfinder, Sailor, Electrician, Bugler, Swimmer, Interpreter, Home Service, Community Service, Scout Aide, Bird Hunter, and Flower Finder. Scout de Mille has come up through the ranks of the Junior Troop in Newton Centre, and is now Second Lieutenant in Troop 23; this past summer she was a councillor at Camp Mary Day. Two years ago she was the leader of the Girls' Conference which was held in Newton that year. She is an outstanding Scout in every way, and just the sort of all-around girl whom we want to represent the organization at any time in any place. Our new commissioner, Mrs. George Angier, presented the Golden Eagle to Scout de Mille, and she then awarded five Letters of Commendation to Elsie Brandt, Troop 25, Virginia Randall, Barbara Randlett, and Betsy Walworth of Troop 13, and Martha Thompson, Troop 21. This Letter, though required for the Golden Eagle, is in no way connected with Merit Badge work, but is purely a character award given to a girl who is outstanding at home, in her troop, and in the community.

A great many Merit Badges, many of them won at camp this summer, and many also this fall, were given out. A complete list will appear in this column next week. The older girls then presented the Christmas pageant-play, "Eager Hearts"; the performance was delightful, and the grouping and color effects were particularly effective. The play was coached by Miss Freeman, our Local Director, and Troop 21, trained by Miss Forster, sang carols which were a part of the pageant. The Rally closed with the singing of "O, Come All Ye Faithful" by the entire audience.

MRS. IDA MAY BAKER

The death of Mrs. Ida May Baker occurred at the Plains House, Massachusetts General Hospital, Thursday. She was seventy years of age, and the wife of Charles Henry Baker, who is the Maine representative for a Boston business concern. Her home was at 656 Centre street, Newton. Mrs. Baker was born in Portland, Me., and her father was Henry Granville, a veteran of the Civil War. She is survived by two sons, Dr. Donald V. Baker, a Boston surgeon, living in Newton; and Karl Baker, a Boston attorney, whose home is in Watertown.

FRANK H. NIGHTINGALE

Frank H. Nightingale, seventy-five years of age, and formerly connected with the New York Stock Exchange, died Sunday at the home of his nephew, W. E. Nightingale, 36 Dickerman road, Newton Highlands, with whom he had lived for the past seven years, since retiring from active business. Mr. Nightingale's wife died several years ago. Besides his nephew he is survived by three nieces, living in New York, Ohio and Colorado.

CHARLES M. HATHEWAY

Charles Morgan Hatheway, 81, who was descended from colonial ancestors, died at his home, 125 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, Wednesday following a two-months' illness. He was born in Westfield and when 16 years of age enlisted in company M 42d Massachusetts Infantry. He served through the Virginia campaign and vividly recalled Phil Sheridan's famous ride. He was a member of Brighton Post, G. A. R., and held several offices in that post. Besides his widow he leaves five children.

HUNDREDS ATTEND HEARING ON ZONING

Helene McMullin of 33 Highland avenue, Newtonville told of owning 35,000 square feet of land off Charles street, Auburndale which she wants left in the General Residence zone as she desires to build a 40-foot wide street on this land and then subdivide it into small lots for two-family houses. Mrs. Edna Moyer of Woodbine street, Auburndale, took issue with those who objected to more stringent restrictions in General Residence zones. She asserted that Newton is a city of homes, that it should become less desirable as a result of speculative building of two-family houses. E. E. Kneeland owning land at 1262 Beacon street, Waban, near the Newton cemetery, wants his property kept in the General Residence zone because according to his opinion nobody wants to live near a cemetery and the land cannot be sold for private residences.

Senator Arthur W. Hollis suggested that the zoning ordinance be changed so as to exclude apartment houses from General Residence zones, as this seems to be the principal reason for insisting such zones. Having done this, the general zoning, according to Mr. Hollis could be left with the 15 feet setback and 50 per cent. building coverage as at present. Joseph B. Jamieson objected to any more restrictions being imposed at the present time, advocated leaving the whole of Vernon street between Centre street and Waverley avenue in the general residence zone and told of the big dwelling house he owns at Vernon and Park streets and which he is unable to sell or lease because of Newton's strict building code and zoning ordinance. John T. Burns, Jr. protested against property owned by him on Newtonville avenue being changed to a private residence zone. J. C. Irwin, 43 Highland avenue, while favoring the proposed change as a whole, asked that property owned by Dr. Allen Barrow at 9 Highland avenue be left in General Residence zone as it abuts a block of stores. Eleanor West asked that the south side of Newtonville avenue from Harvard street to Laundry Brook, be left in general residence zone as it faces a coal yard and the B. & A. freight yard.

J. Edward Callanan asked that his property at Vernon, Park and Tremont streets not be changed from general residence zone as he is developing it along attractive lines and his plans will not permit of the proposed change. Mr. Callanan indignantly resented what he claimed were unfair aspersions cast at Newton men engaged in the real estate business; men who are doing much to assist in developing this city. Frank Hurley wants all of Boylston street from the Brookline line to the Wellesley line left in the General Residence zone as it is one of the main arteries of traffic between Boston and New York and a proper location for apartment buildings. Thomas Burns objected to Waban Park, Richardson street and Church street being changed from general to private residence zone and stated that Dr. Warren Marston objects to his property at 148 Church street being changed.

Henry Whittlesey of Chestnut street reiterated his opposition to any form of zoning. He contended that people should have the right to make any use of their property that they see fit. Mary Smith of 266 Lexington street asked why started the agitation for the change in zoning and why? She inquired if the proposal to make the change originated with the aldermen and received an affirmative answer. Ex-Alderman William Ball of Waban street, Newton favored more restrictions in zoning rather than less. He is strongly opposed to apartment buildings, referred to the vote taken against such structures at the last annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and asked why the matter has been brought up again. Who is back of all this, what is the "bugger in the woodpile?" queried Mr. Ball. One man asked for information as to just what sections of the general residence zones are to be retained as apartment house zones and was told that this had not been definitely decided upon.

T. W. Harris, 185 Highland avenue, speaking for the Newtonville Improvement association, stated that the matter had been seriously considered by the association which is heartily in favor of putting as much of General Residence zones into private residence zones as possible without causing serious hardships on property owners. Roland Gammons also spoke in favor of the proposed change. Letters favoring the change were received from Jessie M. Fisher, 217 Church street, Nelson Tucker, 37 Judkins street, William L. Graves, 315 Bellevue street, Elliott B. Church, 296 Church street, Florence M. Fisher, 211 Church street, Elsa Breed, 322 Newtonville avenue.

Many of those who spoke in opposition to the zoning change became less apprehensive when informed that they would not be affected to the degree they feared.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
LAND COURT.

To Annie Cahill, Katherine V. Speare, Frank P. Speare and Vincent E. Squires, of Newton, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Sarah B. Baker and Lena M. Noves, of Brookline, in the County of Norfolk and said Commonwealth; Inez A. W. McCarron, of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Fred L. Daggett, Alice W. Daggett, of said Brookline and Arthur P. Stone, of Belmont, in said County of Middlesex, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Newton, bounded and described as follows: Westerly by Hobart Road, 112.00 feet; Northerly by land now or formerly of Vincent E. Squires, 95.00 feet; Easterly by land now or formerly of Frank P. Speare et al, 112.00 feet; and Southerly by land now or formerly of Fred L. Daggett, 122.00 feet.

Petitioners claim as appurtenant to the above described land rights as set out in deed from Albert L. Harwood et al to Henry J. O'Meara, duly recorded in Book 4628, Page 44.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the fourth day of January next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and twenty-eight.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CHARLES A. SOUTHWORTH, Recorder.

13TH ANNUAL REUNION

On Thursday evening, December 27th, the campers and leaders of Camp Frank A. Day will gather at The Newton Y. M. C. A. to celebrate the thirteenth annual reunion. At this time campers from years back will meet each other and will discuss the incidents of preceding summers with a great deal of enthusiasm. This year it promises to be a more brilliant affair as a great number of old-time councillors and campers will be back.

The program will consist of addresses from former head councillor R. Milton Edgar who spent eight years with the camp and is now in business following his graduation from Dartmouth. Frank J. Perry, Jr., a budding orator of the Newton Public Speaking Class, will also speak from a camper's and a present day councillor's viewpoint. Mayor Edwin O. Childs will give the principal address speaking from the viewpoint of a father whose boy has spent his vacation in camp. Camp photographs and pictures will be on display and it is hoped that the Chairman of the Committee, C. D. Kepner, will have returned from his trip abroad in time to act as Master of Ceremonies.

The Dinner will be served by Caterer P. C. Hicks, and already quite a large number of reservations have been made. Camp Director, Clyde G. Hess, is looking forward to a busy and full season for 1929 as he has already quite a number of requests for applications for the coming season. At the reunion camp applications will be received for the first time for the 1929 season.

Acting Chairman G. Clement Colburn, has appointed Dr. Harold E. Giddings and Frank J. Perry to serve with the Director in selecting the personnel for the coming season.

It is expected that a large number of parents will be present as special invitations have been sent to campers' parents and those who are planning to have boys at Camp next summer.

The reunion marks the beginning of the 1929 season.

BURTON HOLMES LECTURE

A large audience waited with commendable patience last Tuesday evening at Eliot Church, Newton to hear a lecture on Hawaii by Burton Holmes. The delay was caused by the failure of Mr. Holmes to receive a trunk containing his apparatus and it was necessary to obtain an emergency outfit. The time was passed with the aid of organ music by Mr. Clair Leonard and with witnessing the attempts of the young men to hang the screen on which the pictures were shown.

Mr. Holmes is unequalled as a lecturer and notwithstanding the handicaps under which he labored gave vivid pictures of the beauties of the Hawaiian Islands together with some remarkable pictures of the 1926 eruption of the active volcano on the island of Hawaii.

The next lecture in the series sponsored by the Eliot Men's Club will take place January 9 and Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer will speak on "The Northward Course of Empire."

Producing Crepe Effects

Crepe effects in finished goods are produced by alternating a right and left hand highly twisted thread in the warp and filling the fabric with a lightly twisted tram. When the woven goods is boiled off and dyed the effect of the alternately twisted threads will be the puckering up of the fabric noticed in crepe de chine.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WORKING FOR IMPROVEMENT OF CHARLES RIVER

The directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce held their regular monthly meeting last Friday at the Boston City Club and had as guests Davis B. Keniston of the Metropolitan Commission, Senator George Moyses of Waltham, and Senator Arthur Hollis of Newton. The topic discussed was the improvement of the Charles River so as to make it more usable and slightly in Newton and Waltham. Joseph W. Bartlett of Waban explained the improvements required along the river on the Newton side between Riverside and the Upper Falls to enable persons to hike along the side of the stream, and Willis Fisher of Waban told of the improvements needed on the opposite bank of the river at the Wellesley side. In past years little foot bridges had spanned inlets to the Charles and afforded means for pedestrians to walk along the shores of the river for several miles. Some of these bridges have been allowed to collapse thus preventing persons from enjoying the journey over the river trails.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Representative Rupert Thompson, who are members of the Chamber of Commerce also spoke. Mr. Childs told of conditions along the river from the bridge at Galen street, Watertown, to the Waltham line. He advocated dredging and the continuation of the boulevard which ends at the Galen street bridge. Commissioner Keniston replied and stated that some of the improvements asked for may be done by the Commission with funds it has at its disposal. He assured the directors that the commission will operate in improving the river. He also said that the Commission may proceed to lay out a public golf course on the reservation near the Riverside Recreation Grounds at Weston. This course would be self-supporting and would be patronized largely by Newton residents. Senator Hollis stated that he will work to assist Newton in obtaining its just share of improvements on the Metropolitan areas here. Senator Moyses, who is a member of the committee on Metropolitan affairs in the Legislature, promised co-operation.

On motion of Donald Angier the directors voted to have a committee bring in definite recommendations for improvements along and in the Charles River. The committee consists of President Ira Roe of the Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Childs, George Haynes and Frank L. Richardson.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending December 16th there were 125 patients in the hospital, of whom 43 paid as much or more than cost of care, 48 paid less than cost of care, and 34, including babies, were treated free of charge. 18 babies were born, 8 girls and 10 boys. 100 patients were treated in the out-patient department and 5 in the eye clinic. One home call was made by the social worker and 5 patients were transferred by the social service car.

On Monday evening, December 17th, the Newton Hospital Staff held its annual meeting. Officers for the year 1929 were elected.

On Wednesday, December 19th, the regular monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Trustees of the hospital was held.

The hospital is planning to follow the customs of former years in celebrating Christmas. This is made possible by individual gifts of the Trustees.

Of the ten accident cases treated in the operating room during the week only three were the results of automobile accidents; two of these were women, one with a scalp wound, multiple abrasions and contusions; the other with a fractured rib and collar bone. The third automobile accident was a man who was treated for multiple bruises and small lacerations on face, hands, arms, and knees. Four men were treated: one for a partial amputation of the left index finger caused by a hatchet; one for a needle in his foot; one for a scalp wound received when a plank from a staging fell hitting him on the head; and one for bruises of the shoulder and face received when he slipped on the ice. Three children were also treated, one for a laceration on the inside of the lower lip caused when he fell downstairs; one for a fractured wrist received while sliding; and one for a partial amputation of one thumb caused when a heavy candlestick fell on it.

RECEIVES HONORABLE MENTION

Miss Helen A. Bonser of Newton Highlands, who took her degree, magna cum laude, at Mt. Holyoke College, last June, and is now an assistant in the department of economics and sociology at the college, received the distinction of being one of two women named among awardees in a National-wide essay contest.

Miss Bonser's essay took honorable mention for a study on "The Gold Exchange Standard," a topic suggested by the prize essay committee in the class, open to college undergraduates.

RED CROSS

Classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick and in First Aid are being offered by the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross. Enrollment for these classes may be made at any time. For further information apply at Red Cross Headquarters, 12 Austin street, Newtonville. Telephone Newton North 2717.

REAL ESTATE

Burns and Sons report that they have sold the property situated at 33 Huntington road in the Farlow Hill section of Newton. This property consists of a single brick house, two car heated garage, and 19,000 square feet of land, and is valued at $30,000. Herbert Reed was the purchaser and A. S. Stone the grantor.

The Burns office also reports the sale for Ralph L. Longden to J. V. Reagan of the property located at 2043 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, comprising a single frame residence and 7000 square feet of land, all valued at $12,500.

NEWTON CLUB

On Thursday evening, December 13th, the Dramatic Corps of the Newton Club presented Fred Jackson's hilariously funny farce, "A Full House," before a large and appreciative audience, at the Newton High School Auditorium.

Coached to professional tempo and characterization by Director "Ted" Sweet, the very capable cast went through the paces of this fast-moving farce with a gusto that kept the audience in continuous gales of laughter, from the first curtain to the final denouement at the end of act three.

Against the foil of the villainous burglar-detective, unusually well portrayed by Frank E. Mendes, Jr., Hazel Sholley brought back memories of the inimitable May Vokes in her splendid characterization of Susie—the dumb maid from Sioux City.—Susie's English Butler friend was finely drawn by Howard W. Niven, who seemed to be always getting mixed up with Officer Mooney, a bit of old Erin true to life as acted by William J. Duffey.

Ruth Niven made a truly appealing bride, always afraid the worst had happened to her bridegroom, George Howell, a part Skid Sholley handled with all his well-known consummate art.

Anna A. Judkins and Roy Parker as Daphne and Ned, so nearly married during the action of the play, handled their several difficult scenes with all the indications of professional experience.

A splendid character sketch was given of Miss Winnecker, the spinster aunt, by Grace S. Heller, who utterly disapproved of Mrs. Fleming, ably enacted by Gertrude S. Cryan, in whose apartment the action of the play took place.

Marion E. Mulvey as Vera Vernon a Show Girl from Boston and Helen K. LeBaron as Mrs. Pembroke of Beacon street, both drew fine portraits of unusual large characters, while James A. Elliott as Sergeant Dougherty and Cecil W. Clark as officer Kearney, helped solve the mystery with true farcical dexterity.

The Newton Club Ensemble, a talented group of piano, first and second violin and cello, and composed of Mary Humphrey Tower, Dr. Anton R. Fried, Elizabeth F. Hastings, and John W. Stanley, rendered a diversified orchestral program, before the show and during the intermissions, greatly enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

SAVES DAMAGEWhat COLD Does

Brings 50 to 75% of all premature motor wear. Causes excessive use of the "choke"—flooding cold cylinders and cylinder walls with raw gasoline. Glass-like metal surfaces are washed clean of the oil film of protection. Vital motor parts laid bare to grinding friction. Excessive dilution follows, fouled spark plugs, high gas consumption, extreme carbonization, corrosion and rapid cylinder wear. These are the troubles that bring big repair bills—troubles for which cold alone is responsible.

Makers of these fine cars have adopted Automatic motor protection to safeguard their owners against the damage of cold: Cadillac, Chrysler, Dodge, Hupmobile, La Salle, Lincoln, Packard, Pierce-Arrow.

Y. M. C. A.

The younger boys at the Y. M. C. A. have started in their Club work and have organized themselves into Indian Tribes with Associate Boys' Secretary Albert Hoffman as their councillor.

Charles Dolbier has been chosen Big Chief of the Algonquins and Albert Anness as Scribe.

The object of these tribes is to foster competition in all kinds of activities including educational, physical, religious, and social work. The weekly tribal councils will be in charge of a leader from the members of the Newton and Watertown H.Y. Clubs.

The following are the names selected for the younger boys: Mohawks, Senecas, Narragansetts, and Iroquois. For the older boys: Cherokees and Blackfeet, and Algonquins for the cadets.

The Christmas holiday program for these groups consists of hikes, tournaments, fire-side socials, discussion groups, and educational trips.

Rev. Maurice L. Bullock of Auburndale was the speaker at the Fellowship Club on Monday evening, December 17th. He gave a very inspiring Christmas message to the members present.

There will be no meetings on Monday evenings during the holidays. The next meeting will be on Monday, January 7th.

Y. W. C. A.

The Blue Triangle Club had a tree and Christmas party on Monday evening, December seventeenth, which was the beginning of a week of Christmas festivity by all clubs and classes.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Huntington Powers, 82 Church street, at two-thirty o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

The clubs and groups in the Y. W. C. A. will not be active Christmas week, but the office will be open from ten o'clock until six in the evening.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

—BEST WISHES PLUS—

Of presents stuffed in stockings
That chimney-nooks adorn.
Of tokens from the gift-trees
That flourish Christmas Morn.
Of packages delivered
By Santa's Parcel Post.
Of things you really wish for
I hope you'll get the most;
To these, with your permission,
I'd add my hope sincere—
For you the Merriest Christmas
And Happiest New Year.

Now and again these days we encounter some man—the age does not matter it appears—who goes happily his way without an overcoat. More power to him, say I. At least he has indisputable evidence to prove that he believes in wearing whatever the middle-weight garment may be called. In demonstrating his hushkiness he has the advantage of the man who insists that he takes a cold plunge every morning regardless of the weather. That fellow I have always had under suspicion. I mean by that I have sometimes doubted his word, which, I admit, is a grave charge to make.

Still, we all of us know that there are mornings when one doesn't feel as full of pep as on other mornings. Also, there are days when some circumstance arises which shortens the time allowed ordinarily for ablutions. Now, how can this man who boasts of his daily cold plunge keep unbroken his record? If he does he is a wonder, that's all I have to say.

But to get back to the man who does without an overcoat. He surely has a constitution, if he survives, and, of course, if he doesn't—well why speak of that? I suppose it is primarily a matter of hygiene, which is a subject over which much time may be spent and these pre-Christmas days do not permit of deep study of any book except the bank-book.

The other day I met a friend, who, by the way is mighty well known in Newton, although a resident of an adjoining community. He was overcoatless and carried a cane. The fact that he was minus an overcoat was no surprise to me. The presence of the cane, however, aroused my curiosity.

"Why the cane?" I asked.
He laughed. "You're like the others," came the reply.

"How so?"
"Well, there is one thing I always tell those who ask me why I carry a cane and that is, 'to stop you from asking why I go without an overcoat.' I figure that the cane diverts their attention and gives them a fresh topic for their questioning. I'm getting sick of being asked how it feels to go around without an overcoat and although I don't need the cane it helps to make things more interesting for my friends and myself."

In spite of the fact that the mail delivery in Newton is not all that could be desired, I received a prompt reply from Santa Claus in answer to my letter of last week. He said:

"Dear Son—Like everybody else you are asking too much. You say that you would like a new City Hall for Newton. Now what would you do with it? You say you would like to see your city pretty well conducted in the old building? Well, all it is the way a city is run and not the way it looks that counts, although I agree that we like to have our municipality as neat and attractive in appearance as we can get it without soaking the taxpayers too hard."

"And if I am not mistaken you in Newton have some land in the geographical center of the city on which you expect to plant a new city hall some day. If you ask me my opinion I'll say that it would be a nice place on which to put an aviation field. You see, it would give Newton a sort of distinction—a city hall, flying field where certain members of the Board of Aldermen could go up in the air without waiting for a public meeting of the board. Other members could be forced to take the air when the public thought it advisable. But that is a local matter and I never interfere in family quarrels."

"You talk about a nice little theatre for the north side of the city where amateur dramatic productions could be given. I must say that I am not friendly with amateur actors. Too many of them imitate me at Christmas time. They get a red coat trimmed with alleged fur and a regulation cap and stand around and make jokes, just as if I was always trying to be funny at the expense of somebody else. I might overlook this if they didn't insist upon wearing whiskers made of cotton batting. I am proud of my beard and I resent such cheap imitations of its luxuriant qualities. No, sir. I will not do anything for amateur actors until I am assured they will lay-off making me out a freak of nature which I am not."

"As far as widening street-corners go to make more room for reckless drivers I am not in sympathy with that idea at all. I should have no patience with such people. In fact I have crossed a great many from my list this year. Not only would I refuse to give them anything new but I would deprive them of that which they enjoy most—their license to drive. In fact, I would go further and take away their cars and see what that would do.

"Newton has a good many things for which its people are none too grateful. If they had to live in some other place they might be more thankful. I am glad you wrote to me for it has given me an opportunity to tell you some of the things I have had on my mind, and any chance to unload is always welcome. So, if all I have been able to give you from my pack this year is only a few thoughts I hope you will understand that is all I can spare and about all that I think is coming to you. Thanking you for your favor and assuring you of my continued interest in you and your case, I remain, Your Old Friend, SANTA CLAUS."

I have never heard anybody declare he or she enjoyed carrying bundles. Napoleon, upon seeing a man borne down with weight of years and supporting upon his back a heavy sack, is said to have remarked, "Respect the burden." Of course that is good stuff, but I don't suppose Napoleon carried many packages and bundles around Christmas time. He had those who did his Christmas shopping for him or had merely to give orders. In fact, he was so respected and feared that he could have easily confiscated any article that he desired and no questions would be asked. I say this to show that the mighty warrior may have had the right idea but was not speaking from experience.

In these days there are people who take to carrying parcels with more grace than do others. I have heard the high-hatted of both sexes remark, "Catch me going around with my arms loaded! Guess not!" This is hardly a nice thing to say, for, after all, there is considerable saving of trouble—for others at least—in assuming the custody of some purchases that may easily be transported without injury to one's dignity.

I suppose that the men and boys who deliver the goods we buy at the store are paid to deliver them. But has anybody ever heard they were overpaid or that they derived a lot of fun from their tasks? We talk of giving the other fellow a lift along the way, but if he has no lift, he is not practical at all times, but isn't this the season of the year when such a theory might well be put in practice? I have a friend who sticks closely to the philosophy that men and horses have too much placed on them in the Christmas season. The automobile has relieved the horse in a large measure but there are still horses that are crowded pretty hard these days, as my friend points out. Anything that can be done to lighten the load of man or beast is evidence of the Christmas spirit and reflects a kindly heart.

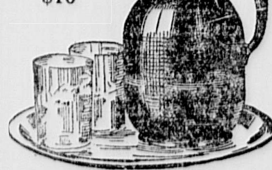

It may be severe upon the readers of this column to print two sets of verse in one week, but as I didn't write the following myself and am indebted to a sweet young (I can tell by the handwriting) person signing herself, "Flapper," here goes:

Don't be so modest,
Don't be so coy,
I'm sure that your dancing
Would not be my annoy;
If you'll buy the dinner—
You couldn't ask less—
I'll give you a tryout,
Would you like my address?
If "Flapper" will give me some idea of what in her mind constitutes a dinner and where she expects to eat—in other words some notion of the approximate cost of the little party—I shall be glad to take the offer under advisement.

STATE SOCIETY D. R. GIVES TEA

The State Society Daughters of the Revolution had a most enjoyable Housewarming on the afternoon of Friday, the 14th, when a Tea was enjoyed at the new Headquarters in a suite in the Hotel Kenmore, 496 Commonwealth avenue, Back Bay, from 3 to 5 o'clock, at which Society members had opportunity to meet their many friends, and to view the attractive apartment where the Society now holds its Council meetings twice a month, and the various affiliated Chapters hold their meetings and enjoy hospitality. There was a very large attendance of members from all over the State.

Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, State regent, of Newton, and Miss Grace I. Gay, vice-regent, of Malden, received the guests as they entered the reception hall, and members of the State Council, which was hostess for the afternoon, dispensed hospitality. Mrs. Willis A. Fogg, of Melrose, and Mrs. William A. Copeland, of the Hotel Bellevue, both Councillors, presided at the tea and coffee urns. Miss Gay, chairwoman of the occasion, with a committee, consisting of Miss Clara Fox, Mrs. E. Nathan Briggs, Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Mrs. Edson Gould, and Mrs. Walter Whitney, aided in serving.

The treasures of the Society in antique furniture, paintings, china and pictures, were viewed with great pleasure, and their history recalled by members who knew of the romance attending many of these.

The enthusiasm of members in their new home made the housewarming a great success.

The outstanding patriotic work for the State Society Daughters of the Revolution for the year is one that is arousing intense interest and enthusiasm of the members. The National Society has undertaken the splendid achievement of presenting to the organization in charge of building the addition to the Washington Memorial Church at Valley Forge a work of art and beauty will call for a large sum to be raised, and Massachusetts, ever-loyal to the National Society, and spurred by the interest of the National chairman of Patriotic Work, who is their own State regent, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, of Newton, is already starting upon the raising of a sum that should represent Massachusetts' share. The affiliated Chapters are arranging card parties, plays, and readings, by which contributions for this work can be made. All other objects of their solicitude are being temporarily relegated to the background until this great task is completed.

The State Society, affluent from the financial success of their Annual Fair in November, has voted $200 as a nucleus for the fund, this being an impetus for actual interest to take form. Already there are whispers of other donations being considered by local boards, chapters and individuals, which augur well for the early completion of the fund. Individual members have even declared their intentions of contributing sums in honor of some ancestor who served in the Revolution close to George Washington, in whose memory the church is erected.

On Friday, January 25th, in the beautiful Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore, the State Society will have its first big affair for adding to these funds, with no less a personage than the regent, Mrs. Fernald, giving an illustrated lecture on her recent tour of Alaska. Tickets for this are available to anyone interested.

BENEFIT PERFORMANCE

The Lend-A-Hand Masque will present "The Birds' Christmas Carol" by Kate Douglas Wiggin at the Newton Hotel Kenmore, on Saturday, January 12, 1929 at 2:15 p. m., for the benefit of the Mothers' Rest of Newton. Mrs. George Fuller of West Newton is in charge of the production.

GIRL SCOUTS

The office will be closed from December 21st to January 2nd except on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

To All Clubwomen

A MERRY CHRISTMAS is the wish of your Women's Club Editor. Especially does she wish at this time to express her thanks and appreciation to Club press chairmen and secretaries who have aided her, encouraged, and made lighter her assembling of Club information. Their many kindly words of commendation have made brighter the way. And to Club presidents who so courteously and thoughtfully provided her with Year Books, and personal invitations on their cards for attendance at any or all meetings that appealed, she wishes to say that they gave her much pleasure.

Perhaps the best wish that she can make to Clubwomen at this season when good wishes and harmony prevail, is that the spirit that provokes may dwell in every heart throughout all days of the coming 365, to make happier their own lives and the lives of all with whom they come in contact, and so to make the Club world a more satisfying one in which to work and dwell, even as He whose birthday is celebrated on the 25th spent each hour of a full life in teaching the doctrine, and demonstrating it, of good will.

COMING EVENTS

State Federation

CONSERVATION. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, of Newton, State chairman of Conservation, asks Clubwomen to make a note of the date of her next Conference. This promises to be the most interesting. January 3rd, at State Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, at 11 a. m., there will be discussion of "Billboards," and the Massachusetts Commissioner of Conservation, William Bazeley, will also speak, with suggestions as to how Clubwomen may aid Massachusetts in furthering the development of woodland beauty and prosperity.

Mrs. Fred B. Cross, State chairman of Community Service, is offering splendid aid to Mrs. Goodridge in her recent statement on the billboard question, in which she advocates the awakening of public opinion, so that advertisers on billboards will realize the resentment aroused by the rural billboard, for whatever its value may be, it certainly is not valuable enough to warrant the destruction of the beauty of the countryside, she says. "Napoleon once said: 'Beyond the Alps lies Italy,'" continued Mrs. Cross, "but let the people of America not forget that beyond the billboards lies America. No other country in the world carries outside advertising as extensively as we do, nor allows its countryside to be so commercialized. We sing, 'America the Beautiful,' and may we appreciate it, and not allow it to become America the Cheap and Ugly," she ends.

In proof that Clubwomen appreciate the opportunity offered to help America the Beautiful, and of timely interest in view of the above, Clubwomen will be glad to learn of the splendid project undertaken by one of the Clubs of the State Federation. The Shelburne Falls Woman's Club, co-operating with the Board of Trade, has undertaken to convert the span across the Deerfield River, where once stood a bulky cement trolley bridge, into a "bridge of flowers." Miss Sallie Service, a Boston landscape artist, has been called in to supervise the reconstruction which shall make this metamorphosis, which will be a joy to motorists next summer.

ART EXHIBITS. Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlain, State chairman of Art, wonders if Art chairmen generally realize the wealth of material obtainable from the General Federation. Newton chairmen of Art committees, who are seeking ideas, would do well to clip this information from Mrs. Chamberlain for future use. Some of these exhibits have to be spoken for a long time ahead, of course, but others are more readily obtained. There are two pottery exhibits each containing 75 pieces of pottery from some of the best studios in America. There is also a lecture with these which may be read by some one in a Club and the cost is $5.00, and expressage from the last point of circuit.

A stereopticon lecture on "How can American Cities be Improved" by John Nolen has 46 lantern slides with it and costs a Club but $2.50 plus postage.

Information about these is to be found in Federation Headquarters in the booklet entitled, "Study Outlines and Bibliography of American Art" by the General Federation. Mrs. Alice Preston, of Beverly, has given a list of new books which should prove helpful.

"What Art Is," by W. F. Lodge, Geo. H. Doran, 1927. Mrs. Preston says that this a positive educational answer to a perplexing question.

"Art in the Life of Mankind" (two books) Book 1, General View of Art, Book 2, Art in Ancient Times by Alan W. Seaby, Oxford University Press, 1925.

"The New Renaissance" by R. Dufus, Knopf Publishing Company. This Mrs. Chamberlain says she has found a delightfully written survey for art education in this country.

RADIO. There is a most delightful program promised for Wednesday, the 26th, over WNAC, by the State Radio chairman, Mrs. Leon E. White. Everyone likes to hear stories, and there is extra curiosity aroused when one is told that a prize winning story is to be heard. Contests are the life of the world in creative progress. Miss Carolyn J. Peck, State Press chairman, is to read a prize winning Club story, at 11:30 o'clock. The change in the hour from the usual time of the State Federation program should be noted, as Clubwomen will lose this one. Musical entertainment will be furnished by Mildred Bregon, Violinist, and Ethel Krutz, Pianist. Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, of the General Federation, may be heard at 11:45 in a broadcast on the "Value of Club Publicity." Press chairmen are invited to "listen in."

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club are to entertain the senior Club in a Christmas Party on Saturday afternoon, the 22nd, at 2:30 o'clock, in the Unitarian Parish House. They will have as guests a number of children who will be presented by Santa Claus with gifts, and they will furnish a program with a play, "Adopted by Santa Claus." To crown all, refreshments will be served.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Daughters' Day will be featured at the regular monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on December 27th. After the business meeting at 2:30 p. m., the Dramatics Committee will entertain with a moving picture for the daughters of the members. Tea will be served and the members of the Club will be delighted to greet the "daughters."

Prof. Edward M. Noyes of Yale will talk on "Modern Biography" on January 4th, at 10:30 a. m., for those interested in the course of lectures which the Literature Class sponsors.

The supper dance and cabaret on January 11th, from 8:30 to 1 o'clock, will appeal to those who know Mrs. Sands' suppers and enjoy night club atmosphere, as the assembly room of the Club House will be arranged with small tables around the dance floor and cabaret "stunts" will take place during the evening. The Harvardians will play for dancing.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

A formal Christmas dance is planned by the Juniors of the Auburndale Woman's Club, to be given December 27th, at the Club House.

The next regular business meeting will be at Miss Winifred Blackwell's home, at 1774 Washington street, January 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Emma Marshall Deukinger, Dean of Wheaton College, will speak to the girls at this meeting.

Community Service Club of West Newton

On Friday morning, December 28th, at 10:40 a. m., Mrs. Claude U. Gilson gives her next lecture in the Course of Current Events for members of the Community Service Club of West Newton. This will be the third in the series of ten. The Class meets in the Unitarian Parish House.

Waban Woman's Club

The year's program of the Art Committee of the Waban Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Raymond H. Davis is chairman, began with a tea in October to which members of the Club, interested in artistic subjects, were invited. Those attending were given the opportunity to express preference for classes to be held later in the year. Plans for the future include round table discussions preceding each visit to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Since the museum trips this year are confined to visits to the new wing, the conferences will embrace a study of period furniture.

In co-operation with the school authorities and the Library committee, the Art committee, is sponsoring a poster contest in the sixth grade in the Angier Grammar School. These posters are to be used in connection with the drive for funds for the new library building which will be launched in January. Individual prizes having been discouraged, the committee plans to recognize the work of the children by presenting to their school-rooms suitable pictures.

The three trips planned for viewing rooms in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts will come in January, February and March, one being arranged for each month.

RECENT EVENTS

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

A red-letter day for the Newton Highlands Woman's Club was Wednesday, December 12th, when from 3:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., between 150 and 200 people enjoyed Open House at the Workshop, and the burning of the mortgage.

The Forte Trio, which is composed of Irene Forte, Violinist, Ruth Masters, cellist, and Lucy Simonds, pianist, played throughout the afternoon.

The Workshop was decorated with Christmas greens by the Art Committee, and lighted entirely by candles, which were placed on individual tea tables, serving-table, and mantle, and the "Yule log" burned brightly in the fireplace. At the northern end of the room, against a silken background, on which shone silver stars, was a most interesting crèche, designed and executed by Ernest J. Weaver. The manger scene and group of animals was flanked on either side by Christmas trees, and from the branches gleamed a mass of shimmering icicles. The whole was flooded with moon-

Factory

Each year in December WE OFFER AN OPPORTUNITY to nearby neighbors living in Watertown, Belmont, Waverley, Newton, etc., to buy real bargain values in fine pianos DIRECT FROM THE FACTORY.

During the last few months we have set aside these pianos for this sale. New pianos in discontinued styles—others that have been taken out for recitals or used in demonstration. In this offering also are used pianos, taken in exchange and fully renewed, so that they are dependable instruments for the home.

Besides the beautiful Vose Grands, we include in this sale returned Uprights of other well-known makes, each an attractive bargain well worth considering because of a great saving.

It would be a pleasure to refer you to those who took advantage of our last year's sale. They were pleased with their pianos and would be happy to tell you the story "How we bought the very piano we wanted at a wonderful saving."

We will gladly welcome you to our factory and show you these musical values in pianos. Call at our factory or telephone Middlesex 4800 and we will be pleased to send an automobile to convey you to and from the factory showrooms.

resume of the development of the present building, from the simple start of the Barn Studio, under the guidance of Mrs. Harvey C. Hatch several years ago, to events leading up to the present building, opened for the first time a year ago last September, and made possible through the generosity of Mr. Seward Jones, who gave the land on which to build. The ease with which the funds had been raised, through the effective plans of the Ways and Means Committee, of which Mrs. Grosvenor D. W. Marcy was the capable chairman, was touched upon, and the willing help of all others appreciatively noted, and then the cancelled mortgage was assigned to the flames by Mrs. Wetherbee, amidst much cheering from the company.

Mrs. Henry E. Wry then stepped forward, and after singing two verses of the State Federation's "Friendly Song," the people joined in, and repeated the verses, so leaving a most friendly feeling among all, as the party dispersed.

Mrs. Carl Kolb, and members of the Social Committee, were in charge of the tea, assisted in serving by Mrs. Will Travis Laverty, and members of the Hospitality Committee, while Mrs. Albion H. Brown, and members of the American Home Committee, provided sandwiches.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mr. Alton Hall Blackinton spoke on "The Thrilling and Humorous Experiences of a Press Photographer," at the Auburndale Community Night on Wednesday, December 12th, at the Congregational Church. This meeting is held annually under the joint auspices of the Auburndale Woman's Club and Lasell Seminary. Before the lecture, an appeal was made for all to buy Christmas seals in Newton, and two songs were sung by the Lasell Glee Club. The speaker of the evening was introduced by Mrs. George F. Nudd, president of the Auburndale Woman's Club. Mr. Blackinton gave his audience a clear idea of the life of a press photographer, who has to be on duty at all times and in all weather, and made the newspaper more interesting by his clever exposition of the obtaining and printing of its photographs.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

Miss Priscilla Soule entertained the Auburndale Junior Woman's Club at her home at 15 Maple terrace, December 11th. The girls pasted scrapbooks to be sent to the poor children. Refreshments were served. The Juniors made many plans for this year.

They will sing to the women at the Stone Institute on Sunday, the 23rd, as they did so often last year. The girls visited the Perkins Institute for the Blind on December 20th. Plans were made for coming meetings.

Juniors Of The West Newton Women's Educational Club

A meeting of the Juniors of the West Newton Women's Educational Club took place Tuesday evening, December 11th, at the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Otis, 54 Oakland avenue, Auburndale, the Senior Club president.

The whole meeting was devoted to the final plans for the Christmas Party to be held December 22nd, under the direction of the Juniors. It was voted that a suitable amount of money be taken from the Club treasury to buy a pair of mittens for each needy child invited to the party. Dolls for the girls and footballs for the boys are already provided for.

After a short business meeting, the play "Adopted by Santa Claus" was rehearsed, being coached by one of the directors, Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley, and assisted by Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker. This play is to be the principal part of the Christmas entertainment. The leading characters are portrayed by the Misses Doris Jones, Constance Dart, Susanne Elwell, Priscilla Hartwell, Anna Haven and Marion Jackson. Christmas cards were selected and sung in preparation for the coming affair. After this, refreshments of delicious hot chocolate and cake, were served, and the Junior Club adjourned.

Newton Community Club

The regular meeting of the Newton Community Club was held in the Underwood School Hall, Thursday, December 13th, at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. Harry W. Pitts, opened the meeting. A very interesting report was given by Mrs. Francis X. Hess on the State Federation meeting recently held at Springfield. Mrs. Hess told of the many difficulties the delegates encountered in reaching Springfield in the early morning hours, but in spite of all the hardships the meeting was well worth while.

A number of hand-made articles were exhibited at the Club rooms, which articles were for sale, with ten per cent to be paid to the Club on all sales made.

After the business meeting the Glee Club of Perkins Institute for the Blind gave an hour to the Club of most delightful songs. There were many beautiful voices in the Glee Club. The remainder of the afternoon was then given over to Margaret Slattery, who is so well-known to the Club members. Miss Slattery gave a very spirited and brilliant talk on the Dynamic of the Centuries. The audience was keenly interested in her subject. Tea was served.

Shakespeare Club

On Saturday afternoon, December 15th, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club met at the home of Mrs. James Cooper, of Glenmore terrace, where a delightful Christmas party was held.

The house was most attractively decorated with small Christmas trees, greens, wreaths, and tall red candles. From a large tree of scintillating beauty, gifts were received by the members, who if one might judge

Electrical Gifts

— there's a League
Member nearby —

PLAN to spend a few minutes tomorrow in the electrical shop of your local member of the Metropolitan Electrical League, looking over his Christmas stock of things electrical.

You will find many novelties as well as everyday appliances, combining beauty and utility, in a variety of styles and prices to suit the individual taste. One thing you may be sure of in his store is that anything you buy will be the product of a reliable manufacturer, with the appearance and dependability resulting from the use of only quality materials.

Light up for Christmas!

Twinkling lights add the finishing touch to your Holiday decorations. Strings of multi-colored bulbs, both for the tree and for outdoor shrubs, and candle sets for the windows, cost relatively little and can be used year after year.

from the pleasure displayed, still believe in Santa Claus.

There was a large attendance of members and guests.

In the reading of Acts I and II of Henry IV the characters were so vividly portrayed that it seemed as though they, with their merry followers of the olden time, were also guests at the Christmas fete.

Hotsprings, with his present-day slang: "If he falls in, good night!" received a very modern guest.

After the serving of the delectable refreshments of "Christmas" appearance, Mrs. Lea A. Gilbert, an honorary member of the Club, related experiences of her recent trip to Shakespeare's home, Stratford-on-Avon, where she presented a donation from the Club toward the fund for the rebuilding of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, and told of the expression of their grateful appreciation for the gift.

At the close of the Christmas festivities a vote of thanks was given, at the president's suggestion—to Mrs. Stratton-Cooper "for a very wonderful afternoon."

SOCIAL ITEMS AMONG CLUB WOMEN

Mrs. Raymond H. Davis, Art chairman of the Vahan Woman's Club, recently gave a tea for those interested in artistic subjects, at which they had opportunity to express their preferences for classes to be enjoyed for the season.

Mrs. Jessie C. Fairbanks gave much pleasure to those who viewed her talent in an interesting collection of small paintings at the Work Shop in Newton Highlands last Wednesday. The exhibit was opened to the public for four days from December 14th.

Mrs. Eugene Smith sang for the entertainment of the Costume Party of the Auburndale Review Club on the 11th.

Miss Priscilla Soule entertained her fellow members of the Auburndale Junior Club on the 11th, at her home, 15 Maple terrace.

Mrs. James F. Cooper opened her home on Saturday, the 15th, for the meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands.

Mrs. A. Barnard Root, Jr., and Mrs. Heman J. Pettigill, Jr., were hostesses at the Tea for the Vahan Woman's Club on Monday afternoon, the 17th.

Miss Margaret Haskell, Mrs. Nathan W. Bennett, Mrs. George F. Howland, Miss Florence Bridgman, Mrs. Eugene Ufford, and Mrs. N. L. Grant were charming old-fashioned costumes—some of them treasured heirlooms—at the Costume Party of the Auburndale Review Club last week Tuesday.

Mrs. Carl Kolb, Mrs. Will Travis Laverty, and Mrs. Albion H. Brown were in charge of the service of the Tea for the Newton Highlands Woman's Club at their Red-Letter day, the 12th.

Mrs. Sands C. Chipman, and her Hospitality Committee, served the attractive refreshments for Guest Night of the West Newton Women's Educational Club.

Mrs. E. J. Frost and Mrs. Arthur C. Farley poured at the tea of the Auburndale Costume Party on the 11th. Mrs. Edwin M. Prellwitz was chairman of the Drama Committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club which put on two most entertaining plays on December 6th. Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Mrs. Charles S. Grover, Mrs. Elliott Barnard, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, Mrs. Prellwitz, Mrs. Charles Lee Briggs, and Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick gave of their talent in the performances.

Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee and Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, in charming

18th century costumes, presided at the tea urns in the social hour following the Candle-light concert enjoyed by the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, on the 14th.

Mrs. Hamilton Harlow and Mrs. Edward P. Kendrick were hostesses for the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on December 4th. Mrs. N. H. Chadwick, Mrs. Andrew Foss, Mrs. Walter Marsh and Mrs. C. W. Rolfe poured.

Mrs. Herbert Case, of Ware road, opened her home for the meeting of the Christian Era Study Club on the 3rd.

Mrs. Joseph A. Otis was hostess for the Juniors of the West Newton Club in a most enjoyable evening of business and entertainment on the 11th.

The Mather Class

Prof. Kirtley F. Mather returned to the Mather Class last Sunday morning after a week's absence.

The subject under discussion was "The Actions of Man," particularly in relation to the opposing theories of behaviorism and personalism.

What determines the actions of men? Why do they behave or misbehave as they do? This leads us into an inquiry into motives.

Some people capitalize their spiritual resources and build eternal values into their lives. They merit immortality. The next question is, why do some have this spiritual urge?

Heredity and environment contribute to this problem. The suggestion is made that some of man's qualities and capacities are determined before birth. Those he has; no more can he get. This of course is only part of the story. Prayer figures in the problem. Jesus compared God, the Heavenly Father, with mortal fathers in the matter of giving good gifts to their children.

The mechanistic theory made man powerless in the grip of outside forces, a mere victim of circumstances, who was under the control of forces over which he had no power.

The behaviorist says that man cannot control his own actions, that his conduct is determined for him by all sorts of outside forces over which he has no control. The best answer to the behaviorist is to let him talk. Right there is the antidote. The theory, pushed to the extreme, becomes ridiculous. The behaviorist says that a baby has no instincts, and that an American baby brought up in a Chinese family would have Mongolian habits and instincts, only he would not call them instincts, the existence of which he denies.

Heredity and environment are both important. Together they put a circle about the life of every man.

In the animal world there could be no one-toed horse until there had been a three-toed horse. Certain inherited tendencies, together with the necessary environment, brought about this development. The behaviorist is wrong in stressing environment to the exclusion of heredity. Blood does tell. All humanitarian efforts would be worthless if everything were determined by forces outside of our control.

A particular point was mentioned which is worth special consideration. A man may think he cannot control his own actions, but he may figure that he can put different conditions around the lives of the next generation and so change the future of mankind.

Human nature can be changed. We may not perceive much change in 6,000 years, but in the millions of years of geologic time the nature of organisms has changed, so there may be plenty of changes in man. Give him time. He is young yet. As animals go, man is a young species. The present existing species, homo sapiens, has existed not over 35,000 or 40,000 years, and that is only 1/10 or perhaps 1/20 of the average life of a species of animal on the earth. We are still in the youth of our species. This species will pass on into maturity and then into old age, and nobody knows what will happen then. Our body form will not remain unchanged through the countless ages yet to come. Man has a splendid opportunity while he is yet plastic. His ways are not determined for him. His nature is not fixed. There is plenty of time in which to grow.

The selfish use of force is not the fundamental principle of human nature. Man may change his own nature. This conclusion is based on analogy with other organisms.

We must get our ideas on the subject by observing man. Man has his own individual differences from all other organisms. Oxygen and other chemical elements in the crystal and mineral are quite different from the same elements when they are found in the coral and jellyfish. Each new organism brings new laws. The advent of life on this planet brought something new. Life was made out of old materials. Matter and energy were transformed and became quite different in the cell, the organism, the plant, and the animal. We learn man's difference by observation, not by reasoning. New elements come along. We perceive them, although very often we do not know how they got there.

Prehistoric man chiseled pictures on the walls of caves in France. No ape could do a thing like that. Man is somewhat a victim of circumstances. Heredity and environment have determined what he can be. We have gone through a conditioning process. Our reflexes have developed into habits. They are so deeply ingrained that it is possible to make a pretty good guess as to what a man will do under a certain set of circumstances. The psychiatrist can, however, give only expectations, not sure prophecies. The individual has the prerogative to break his habits and change his conduct.

Personality is the big thing. We use the mechanistic body to express our real selves, and go on to the higher plane of the prophet's dream.

Prof. Mather summed up as follows: "In considering the actions of men it is common nowadays to conclude that the struggle for control by one individual or class over others by force for its own advantage is a fundamental expression of human nature. Is it fair to assume that 'human nature' being what it is, selfish and violent methods must always prevail?"

"Because of the contraries within our nature, our best capacities are in bondage. It is not so much a bondage to our so-called 'lower nature'—which in itself is not a bad nature—but a weak submission to precedents and habits which inhibit our better impulses and make men fear their own freedom. Education, religious and secular, must teach people how to claim and use their freedom, rather than train them to act in conformity to accepted patterns."

Man has the ability. The problem is to induce him to use it. Each individual has the divine prerogative to break habits, smash the conditions that are imposed on him, and learn how to use his new freedom.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Irving O. Palmer, director of secondary education at the Newton High School and a member of the Club was speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held as usual on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Palmer took "The Problems of a School Master" as his subject. Mr. Palmer first noted the change which had been made in educational matters during his lifetime calling attention to the fact that formerly school teachers dealt with subject, now they deal with people. Some of the problems he noted included the difficulty of obtaining young men of the right training and character for teachers and the contact the teacher has first with the pupil and also with the parents. Mr. Palmer illustrated his talk with many interesting reminiscences.

CHRISTMAS FUND

The Newton Trust Company and the West Newton Savings Bank have just sent out their checks for the Christmas Fund of 1928.

The checks of the Trust Company amounted to $275,000 distributed to about 5500 members, a substantial increase over the figures of last year.

The West Newton Savings Bank sent out $84,000 to 1450 members.

Old Newton Hospital Observes Its Last Christmas Before Demolition

Unusual Sentiment Manifested in Exercises on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day

"The old hospital" was the scene this week of the last Christmas celebration to be held mainly in the old buildings and therefore one to which the nurses attached unusual sentiment and to which they gave extra preparations. For years it has been the custom for the trustees to contribute to a fund for decorating the rooms and the wards and this year every member of the board sent in a contribution so that all had a part in buying the greens, the holly, the mistletoe, the decorations and the gifts for each patient, nurse and pupil. And added to these were twenty-four big, plump turkeys which were done to a delectable, appetizing brown to furnish for all at the hospital a Christmas turkey dinner. For weeks the students practised the singing of carols, and just before Christmas the trees were placed, the decorations put up and the mistletoe hung so that visitors to the hospital smiled as the nurses shied from walking beneath it as they went to and fro on their hospital work.

On Christmas Eve the festivities began as a band of sixteen nurses marched softly through the corridors singing "Holly Night" just as nurses at the hospital had done before for many years. Then on Christmas morning the voices of the nurses were heard again, far off in the distance, as they marched in the subway towards the main hospital there to be joined by the interns in the singing of carols in the wards and then outside the contagious ward. At half past six the nurses marched into their own dining room where each table had been gaily decorated with a miniature tree and where at each place was a small gift. For breakfast there were chops, which marked it as an occasion and also they were allowed to sing Christmas songs and songs of their own in which were topical verses concerning the doctors, the internes, the classes and the superintendent himself. At seven the night nurses were relieved at breakfast and then at half past seven the Newton Highlands Glee Club visited the grounds and sang carols while the nurses and patients looked on and listened at the windows.

About eight the choir of the Newton Highlands Episcopal church arrived and sang carols for the patients. Then at ten came the visit of Santa Claus to the Christmas tree in the Children's Ward where, with the assistance of one of the internes, he distributed gifts to the little patients in the presence of visitors and such of the patients as were well enough to be moved in chairs to the ward. At the dinner hour the Christmas dinner was served at tables to those able to sit at them and on trays to others. Making up the dinner were fruit cocktails, roast turkey, potatoes, squash, celery, cranberry sauce, fruit pudding, apple pie, mince pie, pumpkin pie, ice cream, nuts, candy and coffee, the patients, of course, receiving only such parts of the dinner as they were able to have. In the afternoon the nurses after making their patients comfortable were allowed time off duty to rest and enjoy themselves.

NEWTON CENTRAL COUNCIL

What Do You Mean—Case Work? is the suggestive title of the first talk on the Art of Helping, a series of lectures by different experts in social work, to be given under the auspices of the Newton Central Council, beginning Friday morning, January 4, at 10 o'clock, at 12 Austin street, Newtonville. Miss Ruth Chapin, the General Secretary of the Welfare Bureau, will tell us about Case Work, what it is, and what it isn't; and she has good reason to know from long experience in Boston and Newton. Miss Chapin is a graduate of the Boston School of Social Workers. She not only knows, but she knows how to tell in a way that holds the attention of every hearer. All are welcome to come to one or all of the six talks, held on six successive Friday mornings.

MISSSES ALLEN SCHOOL

The following names appeared on the Honor Roll of the Misses Allen School: Polly Ballard, Caroline and Sally Drew, Betty Barber and Louise Maynard of Newtonville, Patricia and Shirley Buckley, Nancy Howard of Newton, Mary Ballard and Jean Taber of West Newton, Edith and Mary Chandler, Ruth Charlton, Barbara Gates, Janet McKinney and Elizabeth Roe of Waban, Bernice Barnes of Andover, Jeanne Clapp of Wayland, Phoebe Hoyle and Janet Knight of Wellesley Hills, Mary Ross of Lincoln, Eunice Chapman of Holyoke, Priscilla Brown of Groton, N. Y., Audrey Latvas of So. Norwalk, Conn., Bernice Meyer and Lora Whitehead of Brookline.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

One of the outstanding features of the Christmas season at Newton Corner is the illumination and Christmas exercises around the Christmas tree in Farlow Park. This feature took place this year on the evening of Christmas Sunday. Groups of children attended the five churches which centre around Farlow Park and after services in their own church marched to the park bearing lighted candles. After clustering around the tree they sang Christmas carols under the direction of Dr. L. H. Naylor. It was a pretty service, well carried out.

"The Swan"—Molnar's Play Well Presented

Directed by Mrs. E. W. Varney at Newton Centre Woman's Club

A large and distinguished audience filled the Newton Centre clubhouse Wednesday evening, December 19, to witness the production of Molnar's play, "The Swan," produced and coached by Mrs. Everett W. Varney. The play itself in clever line and romantic plot insures an evening of delightful entertainment. The characters were admirably cast and gave a unified and most excellent interpretation of the theme. The audience followed the action, applauding or laughing as a quick turn of plot or line showed the author's wit. The play was above the ordinary play in character and required often deft handling to produce the desired results. The actors and director most fortunately achieved success.

The difficult role of the royal tutor was portrayed by Richmond Wight of Boston, who did not at any time lose his tense and spiritual impersonation. Miss Narcissa Peace Varney, as Alexandra, the princess, was exquisite in the delicacy of her scenes with the tutor and the Prince. Her change from aloofness to the climax of abandonment to emotion was admirably taken. The Prince, Mr. F. Kent Smith, who took the lead in the recent Harvard play, was in looks and voice as professionally perfect as one could desire. Mr. Fuller, who has been in many productions about Boston, was a friar of even mien and bearing but with firmness and power to unravel the plot. Too much cannot be said in commendation of the royal mother, "Beatrice," as played by Mrs. Frederick M. Sears. The scheming queen now hysterical, now solicitous gave a chance for overacting but not at any time did Mrs. Sears lack sincerity in the portrayal of the queen. Her royal sister, taken by Mrs. Ellis Spear, was equally effective although a smaller part. Mrs. Norman Pratt took the part of the mother of the niece and rendered the part with grace of carriage and beauty of voice.

The corps of magnificently dressed lackeys and hussars were well captained by Harrison Braun, who as Majordomo gave some fine movements. The audience was charmed with the noble bearing of the two young princes in the first act—Ted Muther and Fred Hammond. They were rough and natural and gave a youthful emphasis to the royal family. The rows of the ladies were selected with care for color and simplicity in the first and last acts and for elegance and richness in the middle act. As a background for the royal costumes of the Prince and his attaches and for the brilliant action of the plot of the middle act it was necessary to stage a very unusual scene. This was achieved so that the audience greeted the transformed stage with applause as the curtain went up for the second act. In the background French doors led into the ball room. In front

Christmas Gifts Make 400 Children Happy

Newton Welfare Bureau Distributes Gifts to Many

Anyone who finds himself lacking in Christmas Spirit should volunteer to help the Newton Welfare Bureau in its Christmas work, and he would find himself overflowing with the truest Christmas Spirit.

This year, through the generosity of churches, schools, clubs, and various other organizations and individuals, $371.25 was donated to the Bureau for its Christmas work. 106 families received dinners which were planned for by the Bureau. 50 of these were paid for from this Christmas fund; the other 56 were provided for by individuals and groups. For instance, the Legislature of the Newton High School Associates raised enough money to pay for dinners for 20 families.

Over 400 children were given gifts of toys, and it is this part of the work that could not possibly be done without the help of volunteers. Needless to say, it requires a great deal of time and effort to pick out and wrap up suitable presents for over 400 children, but thanks to the help of many friends of the Bureau especially those Girl Scouts from Mrs. Foot's Newtonville Troop, this was done. But how would the Bureau be able to deliver all these packages if it weren't for the help of the Garden City Laundry trucks and drivers? At Christmas, as at Thanksgiving, Mr. Archie Osgood, Owner of the Laundry, volunteered through the Newton Rotary Club to assist with the collection and deliveries, and for three days his men and trucks helped out.

In addition to the dinners and toys, other gifts were made—of coal, underwear and clothes, fruit, vegetables, and canned goods, and in a few instances extra milk was ordered for a month or two as a Christmas present. Also 60 children are invited to participate.

of the corridor before the doors hung rich crimson tapestries genuine antiques brought from a palace in France and loaned by the Peri Shop. Crystal chandeliers and sconces in rose panels were loaned by Foreman Electric Shop. A rich table was set for seven on the left. Gold goblets and platters enriched the scene. The music between the acts was furnished by the Electra-loan by the Newton Music Box.

The play will be repeated January 30th in Boston in John Hancock Hall, under the auspices of the Boston Women's City Club of which Mrs. Varney is chairman of drama.

Christmas At City Hall Most Happy Occasion

Appropriate Gifts to City Officials Part of Entertainment

The annual City Hall Christmas party was held on Friday afternoon, December 21st, at 3:30 in the City Hall Annex. About ninety of the City Hallites were present at the party and they all agreed that it was a huge success.

An unusually entertaining program was carried out, with Dr. Lowe acting as toastmaster. The tree was an especially good-looking one, with its bright trimmings and twinkling lights giving out a welcome to everyone who entered the hall. The Mayor gave a "Merry Xmas" talk, but first requested everyone to sing "Hall, Hall, the Gang's All Here." Then the business of the afternoon, namely the Election of Officers, was quickly dispensed with, Mr. Stuart acting as Election Officer. The present officers, Leon Mayer, president; Ebba Carlson, vice-president, and Theresa Goddard, secretary-treasurer, were re-elected for the year 1929. This was followed by dancing, Miss Marjorie MacGillivray singing, Miss Grace Morrell, and a comedy sketch by Pete Murray. The singing and dancing were enjoyed immensely, and Mr. Murray caused much laughter with his numerous jokes, funny stories, and his impersonation of the Widow Clancy. Mr. Thomas of "Old Homestead" fame, and many others. Then Santa Claus (Mr. Charles A. Mahoney) pushed his way into the crowd, with a grab for everyone, but special grabs for the heads of the departments, such as a bank for City Collector Newhall, a shovel for Street Commissioner Stuart, a garage for Building Commissioner Chadwick, etc. Then while refreshments were being served, the lucky number was drawn to see who won the beautiful percolator donated by Mr. Pike. Miss Ethel Tinker of the Board of Health office was the fortunate lady.

The party broke up about 5:30, and all who were there agreed that it was a most enjoyable and entertaining one, and was indeed a most fitting way to begin the Christmas holiday.

FIRE AT LOWER FALLS POSTOFFICE

Christmas afternoon at 5, Reserve Officer Gosson discovered a fire in the cellar of the postoffice in Early Block, Lower Falls. He telephoned to the fire department and Hose 6 responded. The blaze was checked before much damage resulted. The cause of the fire is supposed to have been an overheated boiler.

Gorgeous Exhibitions Of Lights Mark The Holiday Season In Newton

Edison Company Offer of Prizes for Best Decorated Residences Meets With Ready Response

The Edison Company of Boston reports a very large response to its contest for decorative holiday lighting, entries for which closed on Christmas Eve, although the lighting displays will continue to January 1st. Thousands of additional homes were lighted this year over those of a year ago. This is particularly true of the suburban towns in which the Edison Company gives service. It is believed accounted for in large part by the increasing interest in and use of colored decorative electric lights, together with the larger degree of safety which lighting by electricity gives. This is particularly true in the electric candle lights for window lighting which have practically eliminated the old fire risk which comes from the old tallow candle. There has also been noticeable this year a widely increasing use of lighted wreaths, and colored lighting on outside shrubbery and doorway lighting. Judging in the contest will continue until January 1st. It is expected that shortly thereafter the prize winners will be announced, together with complete details of the number of homes lighted, etc.

The following houses were entered in the contest:

Walter S. Adams, 141 Crafts street, Newtonville; Philip K. Brown, 112 Monadnock road, Chestnut Hill; John J. Donovan, 12 Alban road, Waban; Mrs. G. F. Duffy, 276 Mill street, Newtonville; Richard Feakes, 75 Park avenue, Newton; W. H. Fowler, 77 Davis avenue, West Newton; A. M. Hafferty, 676 Centre street, Newton; Albert D. Howlett, 40 Newtonville avenue, Newton; Mrs. F. A. Mahan, Jr., 557 California street, Newtonville; Mrs. M. F. Mahoney, 200 Harvard Circle, Newtonville; F. C. Mildram, 20 Turner street, Newtonville; E. J. Mulcahy, 271 Church street, Newton; Mrs. J. B. Mills, 155 Eastbourne road, Newton Centre; Dana Parks, 165 Newtonville avenue, Newton; Mr. Liberato Proia, 11 Middle street, Newton; Ernest Rallsbach, 34 Foster street, Newtonville; L. K. Reed, 19 Channing street, Newton; F. A. Schirmer, 332 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill; W. C. Sills, 130 Franklin street, Newton; George L. Stocks, 83 Commonwealth Park West, Newton Centre; Mrs. W. S. Tufts, 256 Highland street, West Newton; Albert H. Waitt, 20 Ellison road, Newton (just before Walnut street); Joseph Vaas, 159 Ward street, Newton Centre; L. A. Webster, 225 Mill street, Newtonville; Mrs. G. H. Wilson, 132 Harvard street, Newtonville.

Many other houses were illuminated and Commonwealth avenue between Centre street and Walnut street was particularly noticeable. Mention should be made of the gorgeous display made by Mr. A. H. Waitt on Ellison road, adjoining Commonwealth avenue. Mr. Waitt used over 600 lights and attracted thousands of motorists. Another notable display was that of Mr. E. Gordon Goudey of Bristol road, West Newton. Mr. Frank B. Hopewell, in addition to a fine display of lights added a loud speaker on Christmas Eve, and reproduced Christmas Carols in a splendid manner.

STILL USING METROPOLITAN WATER

The water being supplied to the people of Newton is still being received from the Metropolitan Water System. The older of the two artesian wells on the Newton water reservation at Needham has received a second treatment with chlorine but the State officials have not as yet placed their "O. K." on the local supply. Probably in about 19 days it will be known definitely whether or not use of Newton's own water supply can be resumed. In the meantime Newtonians will continue to quaff aerated Metropolitan water and wash in this same liquid.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

1928 GOOD YEAR FOR NEWTON HIGH SPORTS

The year drawing to a close may be termed a good year for sports at the Newton high school. Out of the five major and four minor sports in which the local school competes with other schools four of the teams were rated as the foremost in interscholastic circles.

The 1928 hockey team under the leadership of James Brown was the first 1928 outfit to win a championship. It romped through the rest of the Greater Boston interscholastic league teams in an impressive manner to win the finals from Melrose, Cambridge Latin and Arlington at the Arena in February. The schoolboy star of the year Frank Spain, along with Bob Bennett, and William Stebbins, defense pair, were graduated in June and Langdon Powers, sub wingman, transferred to Deerfield academy. But prospects for another good year are bright with the team captained by Dan Harrington, goalie, and James Brown, Fletcher, Reilly, Bell on the forward line and Gilligan and Gardiner as the outer defense.

The indoor track team fared next best among the winter sports teams. It was the only team to beat Medford in a dual meet, a last minute sport by the relay team adding five points to Newton's score to place it one point ahead, 39 to 38. It also had victories over Boston College High and Brockton. In the home and home meets with Brookline it lost the one at Newton and tied at Brookline, thus making the Wealthy Towel team the winner by a total score of 78 to 71. Huntington school also topped the Newton runners by a three point margin. In the interscholastic meets Newton placed 4th at Andover, 6th at the B. A. A. meet, and 4th in the State meet. The prominent members of the team who were lost by graduation were Captain Malcolm Reid, Edward Ebel, James McCruden, Romane and Fowler Cole, Hamilton Kollmyer, and Robert Kineade. The veterans to return this year are Capt. Dick Reynolds, Carl Pescosolido, Arthur Chamberlain, Mike Fine and Nathan Pearson. Among the newcomers who should round out the team this winter are Robert Ewing, ex-Illinois 300 yard champion, John Mullen, the Bell brothers, the Signore brothers, the Adams boys and others.

The basketball team, which represented the orange and black on the court for the first time in fifteen years played a schedule of twelve games, winning five and losing seven. Considering the fact that the game is lost were two each to Everett, Rindge and Cambridge Latin, and one to Watertown, schools which have held high rank in school basketball for several years, this season may well be considered successful. The team was captained by Soenecer deMille, lengthy center and its victories were two over Beverly, two over Needham and one over Belmont. This year a schedule of sixteen games has been arranged and despite the loss of practically all of the first team by graduation and transfer Coach Green has gathered a good team from among the members of last year's intermediate varsity and the newer recruits.

The swimming team, faced with the loss of its sterling performer Lloyd Osborne and other veterans, had a rather indifferent season. Although it gained victories over the High School of Commerce, Rindge Tech and Pawtucket high, the latter twice, it lost to Huntington, English, Exeter, Tech freshmen, and twice to Brookline. In the Melan interscholastics the relay team finished in third place and William Perry, a freshman, picked up fourth in the 100 yard freestyle event for the only points to land in 4th place. Because of the lack of interest in the sport, especially among the student body in supporting it, there will be no school swimming team this year.

With the approach of spring Coach John L. Sullivan called out the baseball candidates. From the beginning of the season it was apparent that the deMille captained nine would be among the foremost contenders for the Suburban and state titles. But as the season wore on and Newton had its string of victories up to thirteen straight and the other teams were knocking each other off the pedestal it was a certainty that the Newton team would win the honors. At the close of the season Newton lost a heartbreaking contest to Everett in which team which had been postponed because of rain from earlier in the season and then in the final game of the season lost to Somerville. These were the only two black spots on the baseball team's record. It is only fair to remind the fans that the loss of the game to Somerville was the result of a ridiculous ruling of the State High School association. Newton was to hold its graduation on Friday and Somerville had held its on Monday with the game scheduled to be played at Dilboy field on Thursday. The state association ruled that any player who had taken his diploma could not be considered eligible to play after accepting it. This barred all the seniors from the Somerville team from participating in the game. In order to put the teams up on an even basis Coach Sullivan had a team of juniors and sophomores composed of the entire strength of the team. Among the seniors who were lost to the team were Captain deMille, Frank Spain, Donald Wilson, Edgar Warren, Bob Swift, Bob Bennett, William Sutcliffe and Robert Swift.

On the outdoor track Newton did well although made no imposing record. The team defeated Quincy, lost to Medford in dual meets, placed 4th at the Worcester Interscholastics, 2nd to Brookline at the Boston College meet, and 5th in the State meet. Jimmie Brown's leap of 29 feet 9 inches in the broad jump at the Worcester meet to set a new Newton high

Rogers Dartmouth Star

Last winter Dick Rogers of West Newton, star wing on the Dartmouth hockey team practically single handed defeated the Harvard sextet. Last Friday night Rogers was the thorn in the side of the Boston College defense in Dartmouth's 3 to 0 shutout of the Eagles. The local youth scored the first two goals of the game. The first was after clever follow-up of his own shot which Fryberger picked off the boards and passed back to Rogers for a clear shot at the cage in the first period. His second came in the third session on a rebound of his own shot off the boards. Rogers doing most of the carrying. He is a whirlwind skater and a clever stick handler. Harold Andres, freshman captain last winter, was used as a spare on defense and Henry Johnson, Andres' mate last winter, got in at centre ice later in the game.

Green Sets New Mark

In the Newton league bowling matches Wednesday night three new records were set. Green of Hunnewell set a new three-string total of 47 in the Boston pin match was Waban in which Hunnewell took all four points. Green's strings were 141, 139, 137 with DeLong's 147 the high single of the match. In the Bottle pin match between the two teams Waban took two points. Meadows' second string of 231 clinched the second point for Waban while DeLong's 147 the high single saved Hunnewell from a shut-out. Commercial bowlers set the other new marks in their match with Middlesex at Bottle pins. Nelson hit 257 for the best single, one pin higher than the old mark, while the team single of 1059 by Commercial beat the old Middlesex total by 18 pins. In the Newton Club-Maine matches the former lost two points at Bottle pins and then made up for it by sweeping the Boston pin match.

Newton Y Five in Easy Win

The Newton Y basketball team defeated the Beachmont Congregational church team at Newton Saturday night, 64 to 41. In a preliminary game the Lynn Y Juniors won from the Newton Juniors, 59 to 34. In the major game R. Folsom of Beachmont was the individual star with eleven baskets and one foul for 23 points. Arthur Kohler led the Newton five with nine baskets and three fouls for 21 points, closely followed by Joe Purcell and E. Gray with 19 points each. In the juniors game Earle counted 13 points, McKinney 12 and Florine 9.

Locals on Pleon Club Team

Several local hockey products are playing with the Pleon Yacht Club team in the Bay State amateur league this winter. Among them are Dick Rogers, Dartmouth star wing, and Arthur Kohler, a Watertown athlete. Dwight Shepler, ex-Williams, and Horace Cole, Yale grad. In the Christmas night game with the Roche Club of Everett the Pleon team also used Harry Thayer and Stone in their line-up.

Rogers Stars Again

McGill University hockey team suffered its third setback from a New England college sextet Wednesday night when Dartmouth scored a 5 to 1 victory over it in New York. Dick Rogers, Dartmouth star wing, scored two of his team's goals and playing his usual fast game of hockey.

University Club Swamps McGill

Last night at the Boston Garden the University club swamped the McGill Univ. team 13 to 3. George Owen scored two of the goals, Frank Spain one and Clark Hodder made four assists.

school record was the outstanding happening of the season.

The other two championships of the year was won by the tennis and golf teams. Captain David Scott, Arthur Noble, Norman Payne, and the other members of the tennis team all held high rank among the schoolboys. Of this trio Scott is the only one who has won a state title. He won Newton good prospects on the courts for the coming spring. Noble won the Harvard interscholastic tournament and the Newton team walked away with its own affair at the Longwood club grounds with both Noble and Scott playing in an invitation doubles match at New Haven.

The golf team which has been the peer of the schoolboy teams for several years annexed its third consecutive title, defeating all of its high school opponents with the exception of Lowell, which split even in two matches, and also taking some of the academy teams into camp.

The recent football season is hardly forgotten. Beginning with an imposing 27 to 0 victory over Belmont high and ending with a 3 to 0 victory over Brookline the team closed its season with a record of four wins and five losses. It lost a close game with Everett, a goal line stand by the Gil-Dean team being the outstanding feature of the game, defeated Cambridge Latin and Beverly, but began a string of losses with the Somerville game followed by Medford, Rindge and Waltham. Several members of the team have been playing football for Newton among them Captain Everett Scheinhaf, Joe Gilligan, Norman Payne, Arthur Chamberlain, Jack Gardner, Dan Harrington, Harold Robblee, Carl Pescosolido, Frank Perry and Francis Duane.

Thus with the winter teams getting ready to swing into action soon after school opens for the holiday vacation period next week the old year passes on and the new takes over attention. A good new year's resolution for the high school athletes would be to strive to outdo their predecessors, keeping in mind the high grade sportsmanship always displayed by wearers of the orange and black.

HOCKEY TEAM GETS FIRST ICE PRACTICE

The Newton high school hockey squad got its first session on the ice the past week at Ware's Cove, Auburndale. As the schools are closed for the Christmas vacation period the squad has been having morning sessions from 8 to 11 in order to have the benefit of the good ice before the sun has softened it. Coach Dr. Martin has the usual good material to work with and several veterans on hand who are expected to provide the nucleus of a team which will be among the title contenders.

Captain Daniel Harrington is back to guard the goal as are Joe Gilligan and Dick Gardiner, the outer defense pair of last year's championship six. Despite the loss of Frank Spain, all-scholastic choice several years, the forward line should be among the best in schoolboy circles. James Brown, captain and wing on last year's team, has been shifted to centre ice to fill the gap caused by Spain's graduation. Candidates for the wing positions are staging a hectic battle for the regular berths. The foremost of these are Alex Fletcher, William Bell, William Reilly, and Howard Wilkie. All of them saw service on the opposite wing from Brown last winter and can well be termed veterans.

The sextet opens its regular season next week Thursday with the Arlington high team on the Arlington rink although it is more than probable that a practice game will be held with the high school alumni before the vacation period has ended.

Track Team at Work Also

The track team has also been working out mornings under the direction of Coach Donald Enoch in the old gymnasium building. One week from tomorrow the team opens its season on the Newton track against the strong Medford high outfit. Last year Newton defeated the Pigeon coached runner by a very narrow margin and hopes to repeat again this year. New seats have been installed so that more than three hundred spectators can be accommodated at the home meets. The recent informal meet between two teams picked from among the candidates on the squad uncovered some promising material.

Basketball Team Gets Rest

In order that the courts can be laid out on the new floor in the gymnasium the basketball squad gets a layoff during the vacation period. Next Wednesday when school is resumed the squad will get down to earnest work in preparation for the opening game on Wednesday, Jan. 9, with Watertown on the local floor. Coach Green has a few of last year's team on hand along with several members of last year's second team to give him a working nucleus. Interest in the sport is growing by leaps and bounds with well over a hundred youths taking part in the practice sessions for the various school and class teams.

SPORT NOTES

Spain Star Against St. Nick

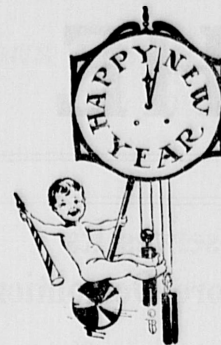

Frank Spain apparently does not believe in Santa Claus. Last Saturday night the St. Nicholas Club of New York sent its hockey team over to Boston to play the University Club sextet on the Garden ice. The Hub outfit sent them back home stinging under a 10 to 1 defeat. And it was no less a person than Frank Spain, Newton high schoolboy star of last winter who played the leading role. He got three of the ten goals and was taking the puck away from the New Yorkers repeatedly. Clark Hodder, another Newton product, started the scoring with a little more than three minutes after the game began with a brilliant piece of individual work. George Owen and his teammates worked the puck into shooting distance but the visitors defense players broke the play up until late in the first period when Everett and Chase teamed up to give the latter a chance to score. Early in the second session Sam Ferguson, former Yale player, whose home was in Newton Centre, put the St. Nick team back into the game with a long shot from outside the blue line that found the strings. Ferguson, by the way, was by far the outstanding member of the St. Nick six. Then Spain and the rest of the University club reserve forwards peppered the visiting goalie. One stop, when Spain and a teammate brought the puck up the ice was a gem. Spain was finally released. His goal skating and clever stick handling brought results. He did a solo sprint for about 50 yards and worked the rubber in for a sharp shot. Two minutes later Hodder duplicated Spain's effort from centre ice. Just before the second period closed Spain got another by snapping the puck into the cage after a rebound of Clark's attempt. Midway of the final period Spain got another by individual effort for the seventh tally. George Owen brought it up to eight five minutes later and before the period ended Everett scored twice.

Holbrook Peppers Goalie

Last Friday night the Harvard varsity hockey team defeated McGill University, 3 to 2 at the Boston Garden. While Guy Holbrook, Newton product on the Crimson sextet, failed to get the puck into the cage, he made Powers, the Canadian goalie, perform some creditable work in order to save a score. In fact the entire Crimson forward line was peppered by the McGill net, especially in the second period when better than a shot a minute was turned aside for a scoreless session. It took a ten-minute overtime period for Harvard to break a 2 to 2 tie and grab off the victory.

Center A. A. Sixth Victim

The St. Joseph's basketball team of Somerville defeated the Centre A. A. of Newton last Friday night, 31 to 18. It was St. Joseph's sixth straight victory and they have yet to meet defeat.

POLICE NEWS

John F. Rooney of Webowet street, Arlington was sentenced to six months in the Middlesex County jail by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday. Of this sentence, four months was for illegal transportation of booze and two months for reckless driving. He was also fined $50 for giving a false name to the police. He appealed and was held in $1600 bonds for the Superior Court.

Rooney was arrested one night a few weeks ago after his car had been chased by a squad of police who were on duty at Chestnut Hill in plain clothes looking for the burglar who had been entering houses in that district. When Rooney happened along in his car he was ordered to stop and refused to obey. The chase then started, ending over the line in Brighton. The police claim that Rooney threw some liquor from his automobile during the pursuit. As Rooney was about to be captured by Patrolman Henrikus, someone landed a solid wallop on Henrikus' nose and sent him flying. It was concluded by at least one of the policemen in the arresting squad that Rooney's knuckles did the damage, but Rooney asserted that the hit was scored by Patrolman Carley's fist when the latter took a swing at him, missed his aim, and scored a nosegay on Henrikus.

Two men were in the Newton court Wednesday morning charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Dr. William J. McKay of Southbridge, arrested Monday night at Chestnut Hill by Patrolman J. J. Murphy had his case continued until December 31. Brainerd Burnham of Stearns avenue, Medford, arrested early Wednesday morning by Patrolman Cody and Goddard will be tried on January 4.

A number of "speeders" were fined in the Newton court Wednesday. Albert Croppa, 119 Worcester street, Wellesley, and Richard Langenbach, 41 Garrison street, Brookline, each was fined $25, it being the second offense within a year for these two. Fines of $10 were levied on each of the following: Melville Bailey, 64 Eddy street, West Newton; Robert Pinkham, Hough's Neck; Harry Atamian, Uxbridge; James Medley, Brookline.

A car owned by J. E. Brennan of Lexington street, Brighton and stolen in Boston, was found abandoned on Adams street, Newton, Tuesday afternoon by Patrolman Walker. The car had been in a collision as it was considerably damaged.

The great majority of persons fined in the Newton court for driving automobiles too rapidly have, heretofore, been non-residents of this city. The "speeders" fined in the court on Saturday were all residents of Newton. Those assessed $10 each for stepping too hard on the gas included: Elliott Bell, Jr., 56 Waverley avenue, Newton; Percy Gibson, 69 Court street, Newtonville; William Jacobs, 54 Crosby road, Chestnut Hill; Thayer Kingsbury, 35 Atwood avenue, Newtonville; Ida Provost, 209 Austin street, Newtonville; Adeline Vara, 1955 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls.

William Murphy of 17 Brook street, Brighton, arrested last week charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, and who defaulted when his case was called in the Newton court on December 20, was arrested on a default warrant by Patrolman John J. Murphy and brought into the Newton court last Friday. His case was continued until January 2.

James J. Corliss of Winthrop avenue, Newton, whose home was raided by the police on December 13, was sentenced in the Newton court last Friday to 6 months in the House of Correction and ordered to pay a fine of $150. He appealed. He was convicted of making an illegal sale of liquor and of keeping and exposing liquor for sale. Corliss had been arrested in the past on similar charges and found guilty.

Midget Mammal

The smallest known mammal is the Italian shrew, which weighs less than an ounce.

Yell Relieves Dizziness

Attacks of sudden dizziness while flying in an airplane can sometimes be relieved by giving a loud, high-pitched yell, emitting as little breath as possible, naval flight surgeons declare. This forces blood into the smaller veins in the region of the head. An aerial "jolt" often causes the blood to leave the veins temporarily, resulting in a sensation of dizziness. During certain maneuvers at high speeds a decrease in a blood supply to the brain may cause fainting, although the effects vary with the individual. Yelling contracts the abdominal muscles, the diaphragm and chest muscles, and the pressure forces more blood toward the head.

Ain't It the Truth?

Some people seem to feel bound to discover family resemblances between children and their parents. "How much like you your little girl is, Mrs. Brown," remarked an acquaintance who met them on the street one afternoon. "How odd that you should think so," replied Mrs. Brown. "She's my first husband's child by his first wife." "Indeed! At all events I don't think I'm wrong in saying your little boy is the image of Mr. Brown." "He's my son by my first husband, Mr. Green!" "Ah, yes. Well, good afternoon, Mrs. Brown."

On Second Thought

As he was passing under a ladder reaching up to the windows of a recently built house the irascible colonel was struck on the head by a large piece of putty. He seized the putty in one hand and, racing up the staircase of the house, entered the room from which it had been thrown. He was confronted by three stalwart navies. "Who threw this?" he cried, angrily. "I did," retorted the biggest of the three. "What are ye goin' to do abait it, eh?" "Oh, I just thought I'd return your putty."—The Scotsman.

Intelligent Dogs

In the board room of King's College hospital, London, hangs a picture of two fox terriers bringing a collie there for treatment. The incident occurred in 1887, and is well authenticated. The owner of the dogs was a Mr. Hunt, a well known bookseller. His explanation of the dogs' sagacity was that they lived so near the hospital they must have seen people who had met with accidents taken there for treatment, and they used their knowledge for the benefit of their friend, the collie.

New and Novel

Among strange inventions displayed at the international exhibition of inventions at London the Boston Globe correspondent reports a collar button that cannot be lost, a lopsided umbrella for amorous couples, a brace and bit that drills square holes, and a sashpan that rings a bell when the boiling point is reached.

Acquire Habit of Work

Work is a habit that comes natural to most men. It is not the worst habit in the world, either. There are men, of course, who never acquire this habit, but you can set them down for what they are—failures.—Grit.

Make Orders Reasonable

Truly, a command of gall cannot be obeyed like one of sugar. A man must require just and reasonable things, if he would see the scales of obedience properly trimmed. From orders which are improper, springs resistance, which is not easily overcome.—Basil.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

A Happy New Year

That is the wish that everyone is uttering in this glad season. It is the wish that your editor makes for every Clubwoman who is aiding to make the activities of Women's Clubs a force for good in the world. And it is her especial wish in token of her regard for the many personal friends she has made in the Club field. But there is something back of these words that will be a bit of contemplation and thought.

It is the age-old cry for happiness in life. There is nothing so desired by everyone in the world as happiness. Each one desires it, pursues it, cries out for it in longing. In the season of universal peace the cry is given utterance for others, in friendship, forgiveness, and appeal. By so doing, it is acknowledged that happiness can be given. In fact, it is something that will be given to us, and since it is a gift, it rests with one and all to continue in the way from day to day in giving something of happiness and joy and comfort into the lives of those with whom each comes in contact. If all so give, then, indeed, will all so receive and have, and the giver, in giving, will be twice blessed.

Give, then, of happiness to others, and so will the wish for a Happy New Year be realized for those to whom these words are spoken, and by them who speak them.

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. F. S. Keith, of 29 Hartford street, opens her home for the meeting of the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands on Saturday afternoon, the 29th, when at 2:30 o'clock Mrs. H. W. Drew will have charge of the program. This will be a Quiz on Acts IV and V of part I of Henry IV. The Club members are enjoying, as always, their study of Shakespeare's plays, and the presenting of the parts cleverly and entertainingly by those in charge of the searching questions.

Monday Club of Newton Highlands

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands takes advantage of the date of their next meeting, December 31st, to celebrate the New Year in a social, with the Work Committee in charge of the festivities. The hostess for the affair is Mrs. Florence E. Foster of 1055 Walnut street. The Club meets at 2:30 p. m.

Christian Era Study Club

On the 31st, also, the Christian Era Study Club of Abundantia has its meeting. Miss Susy Johnson, of 84 Grove street, is the hostess. The Club meeting at 3 p. m. Mrs. Ernest F. Drew will contrast "The Free Church of Scotland (Presbyterian)" with "The Unitarian Movement" as the topic of the program for the afternoon.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

At the first meeting of the New Year the Newton Highlands Woman's Club invites the men to be their guests, to hear Alton Hall Blackington, formerly of the photographic staff of the Boston Herald, a member of the Press Photographers' Association, and Master Craftsman of the Arts and Crafts, who will lecture to the Club on January 1st at 8 o'clock in the evening, in the Congregational Parish House. Mrs. Blackington is said to be a clever observer, with unique ability of description. "The Romance of News Gathering in Story and Pictures" is his subject, showing on the screen the interesting people and events that are passing in an endless panorama before the camera.

This is to be an evening meeting owing to the enthusiasm of some of the members' husbands who have heard Mr. Blackington, thus giving a larger group the opportunity to hear an unusually entertaining lecture.

Mrs. L. Ward Cornell, the president, cordially invites the young people of the community, to the Workshop on New Year's afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Attention of Club members is called to a splendid opportunity (for those who are interested in social work), offered by the Newton Welfare Bureau in a course of six lectures: "How to help others," to be given at the rooms of the organization on Friday mornings, at 10 o'clock, January 4th, 11th, 18th, 25th, and February 1st, and 8th, at the cost of one dollar. This is a rare chance to hear some of the best workers in that field. Sometime in January, when the weather man sees fit, Club members are to have a snow-shoe hike or a skating party, and perhaps both.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton starts the New Year with thought for others in a Sewing Meeting which occupies the day on Wednesday, January 2nd. Under the direction of the Sewing Committee, Mrs. A. J. Steadman, chairman, and Mrs. Gardner I. Jones, and Miss Mary Elder, those who aid in the cause of supplying garments to the various Newton charities and supplies for the Red Cross, will gather in the Congregational Parish House at 10 a. m., and enjoy sociability while doing good to others. At noon they will enjoy box lunches which they have brought, and which will be added to by the committee with coffee and a dessert. And then once more to the sewing for the afternoon.

Auburndale Junior Woman's Club

Miss Winifred Blackwell is hostess for the next business meeting of the Juniors of the Auburndale Woman's Club, at her home 1774 Washington street, on the evening of Wednesday, January 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock. A most interesting talk is scheduled for the program. Miss Emma Marshall Deninger, Dean of Wheaton College, will speak.

Social Science Club

Following the business meeting of the Social Science Club at the Hunnewell Club, at 10 o'clock on January 2nd, Miss Bertha Allen will speak on her work as superintendent of the Newton Hospital. Mrs. W. G. Lennox and Miss Clara G. Soule will be the hostesses.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The usual "Current Events" talk for the members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club by Grace Morison Poole will be on January 3rd, at 10:30 a. m. Instead of later in the month, as Mrs. Poole has to be away a week that she usually lectures at Newton Centre.

The Literature Committee is offering an interesting lecture by Prof. Edward M. Noyes on January 4th, at 10:30 a. m. His lecture is entitled "Modern Biography."

Great preparations are being made for the Assembly on January 11th. This is to be a supper dance and cabaret, with music for dancing furnished by the "Harvardians." The committee is in charge of Mrs. John Whitteley.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Zoning the State Highways" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Mrs. Winona Osborne Pinkham, at the meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Thursday, January 3rd at 2:30 p. m., in the Auburndale Club House. Mrs. Pinkham, who is the secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League, has worked for many years for civic betterment, and to organize public opinion for a better Commonwealth.

In addition to the lecture, there will be music, and tea will be served. The meeting is in charge of the Legislative Committee, of which Mrs. Arthur W. Dose is chairman.

Dr. Powers' Lecture

January 3rd is the date for the next in the series of fascinating lectures by Dr. H. H. Powers under the auspices of Dr. Newton Y. W. C. A., for which organization he has so generously given his services. "The Gothic Cathedrals" is the specific period he will then discuss of his topic "The Builders' Triumphs," in which he has traced in three preceding lectures the architectural wonders from Pyramids, Greek Temples, and Roman Cathedrals, etc. Dr. Powers speaks at Grace Church Parish House, at 2:30 o'clock. Those who were not foresighted enough to secure course tickets may avail themselves of the opportunity to purchase single tickets at 75 cents.

State Federation

CONSERVATION. An Open Meeting to which all interested Clubwomen are cordially invited by the State chairman, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge is planned in the discussion of problems of Conservation for Thursday, January 3rd, at Headquarters, 687 Boylston street, Boston, from 10 to 12 o'clock. Mr. William Bazeley, Massachusetts Commissioner of Conservation, will speak on "What Women in Massachusetts Can Do For Conservation," and there will be a speaker on the problem of "Billboards," which is coming into especially timely prominence with the opening of Legislature in a number of bills offered for this improvement of conditions.

CLUB INSTITUTES. "My Greatest Problem As A Club President," is the appealing topic for the meeting of Club Institutes Department, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, at the Hotel Vendome, on Thursday morning, January 3rd, from 10 to 12 o'clock. Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, General Federation Membership chairman, will speak before the discussion of this topic on "Club Responsibilities." Seven Club presidents will tell of their problems: Mrs. Charles L. Homer, Quincy Woman's Club; Mrs. J. A. Potter, West Medford Woman's Club; Miss Charlotte A. Roulston, Mattapanock Woman's Club of South Boston; Mrs. Walter T. Stanton, Stowe Woman's Association; and Mrs. Amos T. Saunders, Clinton Woman's Club. A question period will add to opportunities for discussion of other problems than are taken up. All interested Clubwomen are invited.

RADIO. Mrs. Axel A. Packard, president of the State Federation, honor guest at the third radio birthday, will broadcast a timely "Greeting" from WNAC next Wednesday morning, January 2nd, at 10:30 o'clock. Mrs. Arthur Devenis Potter, General Federation director, another distinguished guest, is to give a "Birthday Message" at 10:35. At 10:45 Amy Young Burns, chairman of Music, will present Marie Aubens Wise, contralto of the New Old South Church, and Clifford Kent the Australian pianist.

MILK LEGISLATION. Dr. George H. Bigelow, State Commissioner of Public Health, sends the following information concerning Milk Legislation:

"Although there is much milk legislation in which the Department of Public Health is interested, it is concerned particularly with a measure which would have prevented not only the calamitous epidemic of septic sore throat in the Berkshires which sickened nearly 1000 persons and killed over 40, but also the smaller and therefore less spectacular outbreaks of milk-borne scarlet fever and typhoid fever last summer. This, in brief, would require that all dealers selling more than 200 quarts of milk a day must have this milk either pasteurized or certified.

"Apparatus has been perfected which now makes it economically practicable to pasteurize in such small quantities. This means an increase in cost of at most two cents a quart. As the volume pasteurized increases, the unit cost, of course, goes down. But it is safe to say that a raw milk which can underbid a pasteurized milk is an unsafe milk because clean methods and healthy animals cost money. Also there is probably no single article of the dietary for which the housewife is less willing to pay a fair price than milk.

"In addition, the Department will again introduce its bill requiring eventually that practically all milk sold within the Commonwealth should be either pasteurized or from non-tuberculous cattle. Certainly all milk not falling within the first provision should at least be prevented from infecting children with bovine tuberculosis, although tuberculosis is only one of the eleven milk-borne diseases that have caused over 600 epidemics in this country alone in the last 20 years. Through local ordinances about 50 cities and towns of the 355 in the State are so protected."

IMMIGRATION. And certainly of equal concern to the health of this country in its future of character and stability, indeed, of far greater importance as a health protective measure to these great United States, is the safeguarding by restrictive laws of undesirable immigration, the continuance of all such laws now in effect, and the passage of even more restrictive ones.

Mrs. C. H. Danforth, State chairman of Americanization, makes appeal for thought on this subject, when she calls attention to her knowledge that "it is estimated that there are about 400,000 foreign-born men and women in Massachusetts who are not citizens. Many of these 'aliens,' probably the majority, will no doubt apply for and be admitted to citizenship. In this State, since the war, an average of 8,000 persons have been naturalized each year, in some recent years this total has increased over 50 per cent, notwithstanding restricted immigration.

What is this to Clubwomen? Does it signify anything to the thinking members of the community? Does it touch the life, the home, the family?

What kind of citizens do Clubwomen want these people to be? Is it sufficient to "leave them alone," isolated in their own racial groups, subject in their restricted understanding, to influences opposed to all that our Democracy stands for?

Would Clubwomen have them admitted to the rights and privileges of American citizenship without some (Continued on Page 10)

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Well, here we are all set for another year, 1929. That looks pretty good doesn't it? Curves are coming back, they say. Well, there are plenty of curves in those numbers. Which brings us to New Year's resolutions. Confidently I haven't made any. Not that I am not in favor of them. Oh, no. It is simply that my conduct during the past twelve months has been so exemplary as to obviate the necessity of resolving to do better in the future. Either, that or I consider my case hopeless.

Anyway, instead of boring you with intimate details of what I am going to do or am not going to do next year I am going to start the ball rolling in a different direction. In short, I'm going to tell you about all the things I HOPE for 1929.

First of all I anticipate a roisterous, boisterous New Year's Eve. Fifteen dollar cover charges don't bother me a bit. I'm going to a house party where everything will be free. Next I hope for a mild winter, an early spring, a balmy summer and a pleasant fall. As for the winter months of late 1928—but why talk about that?

Having disposed of the weather, health and happiness are next on the program. I hope all the people who read "One Thing and Another" will have the healthiest year of all their lives. And I hope that all the people who don't read the column will do as well as may be expected. In fact I hope everyone will be a stranger to Old Man Malady during the coming year. Including me.

I further hope that everyone will make a lot of money. So much in fact that they will be able to pay all their bills, eat two or three times a day and even pay the new gasoline tax which begins in this State next Tuesday.

The postal service will improve. I am sure during the next twelve months, the firemen and policemen will all be well and happy. His Honor the Mayor will find his way made smooth for him by the kindly offices and co-operation of the City's governing bodies and civic affairs will run smooth like nobody's business.

If I have my way even the insurance companies will make money this year. And the banks. Oh, my, the banks!

I hope that nobody has any trouble with their automobiles. But at the same time I want all the garages to have a good year. Still, I don't see how that will work out.

And so on and on I might tell of the hundreds of conditions and things, all good, I wish for everyone, but what's the use? The newspaper motto is, as you know, "Be brief," so I shall sum it all up in one sentence. "A happy and prosperous New Year to each and every one of you."

And while on the subject of prosperity, or rather hoped-for riches, I'd like to have the money represented by the boxes, strings, ribbons, cards and stickers tossed aside after the opening of Christmas bundles. I wish I had a faculty for the salvaging business and I'd take a motor truck and go around and pick up the accumulation at every house. And, boy, I'll bet they'd be glad to have me do it.

I can imagine they would want to drive a trade something like this:

"I am collecting all the boxes, wrapping paper, etc., your holiday gifts came in. May I have them if I will carry them away?"

To this the householder would reply, "Yes, you may if you will agree to clear up the place. Otherwise, we will burn them up ourselves."

I say this because I have been welcomed at more than one home since Christmas where I found that the greatest problem was the disposal of the ornamental boxes, etc., which, after Christmas, are railroaded to the rubbish heap.

Now don't anybody get the idea that I don't approve of the custom of festooning bundles—if festooning is the word. Anyway, there's something festive about it and that's enough for me. I don't know anything more joyous than the doing-up of Christmas gifts. I have observed people getting more real pleasure out of that than in receiving something substantial. The glorious part of it is that it doesn't belong to any one age. Children, old folks and all in between find it one of the most interesting and incidentally the most tiring of occupations. But it's heaps of fun and it makes things look so much brighter.

What if there are waste-baskets to be emptied and ash barrels to be filled? It's just a part of the holidays. In the words of the philosopher, "Think of the good time you had!"

It is indeed heartening to learn that the Judicial Council of Massachusetts has seen fit to recommend legislation for the incoming General Court for the handling of petty motor vehicle offences. The commission says, "Very many, if not most of these cases, such as driving with the rear light out, etc., are the result of accident or varying degrees of carelessness rather than of a deliberate or persistent intention to violate the law. To treat this sort of thing as a crime seems to us a very serious mistake which causes widespread disrespect for law in the minds of many of our citizens."

In the opinion of the Judicial Council, "There is no occasion for bringing such cases into court at all. They are all matters for administrative control by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles without wasting the time of judges, policemen, court officers, witnesses and parties by a criminal trial at the expense of the public and the delay of other legitimate court business. There is now a needless and wasteful duplication of work, for the Registrar is expected to consider all such cases regardless of an acquittal or conviction by a court. The most effective check on such violations is the control over the license or registration. The danger of suspension or revocation of license or registration is far more effective than any fine."

Then, as proof of its contention, the Council points out these astonishing facts: "In the year 1927 the Registrar revoked or suspended 31,252 of which 14,267 were required by law and the remaining 16,985 were the result of the Registrar's discretion. And yet out of the whole number of 16,985 there were only 64 appeals to the Division of Highways."

After you have read those figures over again and given some little thought to their significance, read what the Council says of them: "These figures indicate that this administrative method works fairly and we see no reason why this whole class of offences punishable by fine should not be taken out of the courts entirely and dealt with through control of the license and registration unless in a particular case the local police authorities or the Registrar find some special reason for a court proceeding."

Now the Council makes this recommendation—that such offences may be reported to the Registrar with recommendation instead of being taken to court. The word "may" makes it discretionary with the prosecuting authorities. Of course the principal idea is to save time and prevent the courts from being cluttered up with trifling cases. The men who compose the Judicial Council are of broad experience, observation and vision and know full well. In case you don't happen to know their names let me give them here which will be enough, I am sure, to convince you of the soundness of their judgment. The honorary chairman is William Caleb Loring of Boston and the chairman is Addison L. Green of Holyoke. The others are Franklin G. Fessenden of Greenfield, William M. Prest of Boston, Robert G. Dodge of Boston, Joseph J. Corbett of Boston, Frank A. Milliken of New Bedford, Frederick W. Mansfield of Boston and Frank W. Grinnell of Boston, secretary.

"If a tail light is out, or a brake out of order, as may often be the case without the knowledge of the driver or owner, he may be summoned into court and fined and may then go out and drive the car in the same defective condition until he is caught again, when the same performance may be repeated. It is a weak system," declares the Council. It should be dealt with simply by notice from the Registrar to appear at some specified place with the car repaired for inspection and a warning to be careful in the future.

"So, also, with other petty offences a warning to be followed in the case of persistent violators with a suspension would be a much greater protection for the public safety and

Double-drop frame; New, longer, lower lines; Non-shatterable windshield; Adjustable front seat; Safety steel-core steering wheel; Ball bearing spring shackles; Hydraulic shock absorbers

THE world's first truly great motor car of moderate cost now becomes a car still finer... at a price still lower!

A new Commander by Studebaker, builder of champions! Worthy heir to the laurels of its gallant predecessor—The Commander which traveled 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes. This record has never been successfully challenged save by Studebaker's great President Straight Eight!

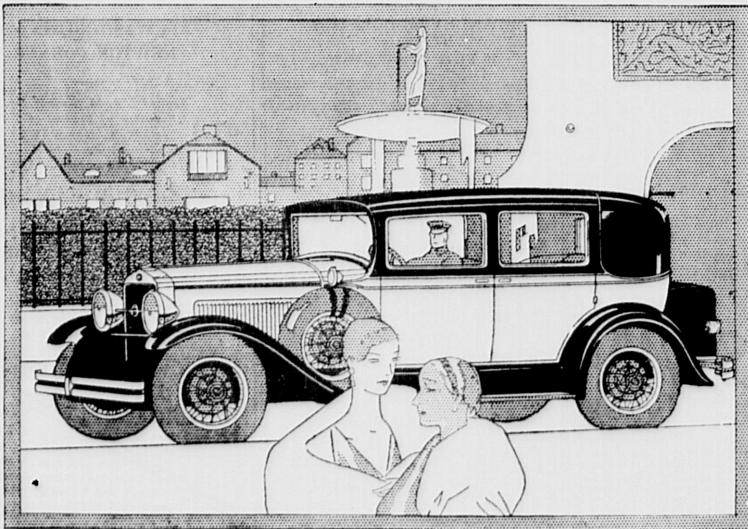

New Beauty • New Comfort • New Safety
Artists in coachcraft have deftly re-directed The Commander's body lines into effects of arresting beauty. Color harmonies new to motordom, add to the new Commander's beauties, and enhance its graces.

The new Commander rides more easily—seats its passengers more comfortably—clings to the road at high speed even more steadily. New ball bearing spring shackles and larger hydraulic shock absorbers. Wider, deeper, softer cushions. A lower center of gravity. A safety steering wheel that cannot fail. Brakes silken-smooth yet instant and powerful. Non-shatterable windshield.

Never was Studebaker's engineering genius and unique One-Profit manufacture better exemplified. Never was Studebaker's 77-year-old tradition of manufacturing integrity entrusted more safely.

Here is a six-cylinder motor car utterly without peer in its price class, because it is faster, more enduring, more beautiful, more comfortable. It is a Studebaker and a champion. There are no finer motor car credentials.

would eliminate the present wasteful duplication of work and unjust annoyance of citizens by drafting them into the criminal court."

If ever there was a subject in which automobile owners and drivers should take an active interest it is the recommendations for new legislation proposed by the Judicial Council. Now is the time then for all automobilists to inform their Senators and Representatives of the fact they want the 1929 General Court to take up this matter and adopt the Council's recommendations. Nothing like a display of determination on the part of the people is so effective in getting things done on Beacon Hill. A legislator may say, "I haven't heard from anybody in my district on this matter so I am not going to get excited over it." If, however, he has heard, not from one but from many residents in his district, he is certain to "get busy."

It was at the corner of Harvard and Brighton avenues and the usual throng was waiting for the Newton-bound car. Plainly the car, being late, was sure to be crowded. Here then was still another crowd which easily would have occupied the seats of an entire car. Where would they distribute themselves in a car already more than filled? A problem indeed!

At last the car arrived. There were some to disembark but many bound to climb aboard. They included fathers and mothers, with children who had to be lifted up the steps. Old and young, big and little—a regular Sunday evening bunch of trippers.

I was impatient and chilled but I was determined to wait and take my chances on the next car. Moreover, there was one in sight, strange to say.

A man stood next to me who evidently shared my view of the situation. Together we held aloof while the mob surged its way aboard.

"Not much sense trying to get into that mob," said I.

"Aye," came the prompt response, for he was a Scotchman with a rich burr. "Tis foolish, indeed," he went on. "You can't sit down, you can stand up but you must be pushed about."

"Pushed about is right," said I and joined him in a short wait which was rewarded by a comfortable seat in the next car.

EDITORIAL

For several years, the Judicial Council composed of lawyers of high repute has made important recommendations for much needed legislation to simplify our ancient manner of conducting our courts. Few, if any, of these recommendations have as yet been enacted into law. This lack of action is a serious reflection on the ability of the Legislature to remedy what is acknowledged as a bad condition. We hope and trust that under the direction of Representative Saltonstall, of this city who is probably the next Speaker of the House, some of these reforms may be corrected.

The gratitude of the city has been more than earned by the service which Alderman Harry W. Fitts has rendered during his six years as a member of the city government. As chairman of the City Building committee, Mr. Fitts has been a large factor in the extensive building program of the past few years. While we have not always agreed with Mr. Fitts in his decisions, we recognize his sincerity and his devotion to what he believed to be the best interest of the city. It is due to such men as Mr. Fitts that the city government of Newton ranks among the best in the state.

The idea of awarding prizes for the best window decorations at Christmas time, which has been the custom in Newton Corner for the past three seasons is one which the city might well copy. It not only attracts the residents of that particular part of the city but it brings increased trade to every business man in the neighborhood.

Governor Fuller has well earned the right to be proud of his four years' administration of the state. His financial record in particular has been excellent, showing a large reduction in the debt of the state and of the state tax as well as a surplus of over two million dollars in the treasury. Few governors have equalled and none have surpassed that record.

We are most grateful to the friends who have contributed to the fund for the benefit of Mrs. Ella E. Mason, the retiring police matron. While we had an objective of at least $2000, the public has responded quite generously and when all returns are in the total of about $1700 is fairly good.

The custom of celebrating Christmas by illuminating the homes was splendidly observed this year, hundreds of residences being beautifully decorated with electric lights. It is a beautiful custom and we hope it will grow in favor in future years.

Lamb's Ideal Poet

Charles Lamb was an enthusiastic admirer of Edmund Spenser and regarded his flights of fancy and imagery as so far above other poets' efforts that it required the high artistic sense developed by studying the art of writing poetry to appreciate Spenser.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

In the sudden death of "Bob" Blue last week Newton Corner lost one of its most genial residents. We knew "Bob" as long as we can remember and we never met him that he did not accord us a cheerful smile.

Thousands of persons motored from other places to enjoy the illumination of the residences and grounds along Commonwealth avenue during this Christmas season. Many residences and grounds on other streets in this city were illuminated equally as attractive as the places on the avenue.

Several weeks ago we told of an abundance of water being struck when the excavation for the boiler room of the new school off Cabot street was made. It was necessary to pump 800 gallons per minute out of the hole. Had a cellar been excavated under the entire structure it is probable that enough water might have been produced so that the troublesome supply at Needham could be abandoned. The boiler room has been waterproofed and an extra thick floor laid in it so it is expected that it will be perfectly dry.

Washington street, between Newton and Newtonville, is being cleaned of the large accumulation of debris which has been gathering there for several months.

This country has more laws than any country in the world, according to experts, and enforces fewer of them. There is a law which states that any person riding a bicycle on a public highway after dark shall have that vehicle lighted. It is not being enforced and the fact that more men and boys riding bicycles on our streets after dark are not struck by automobiles is due to sheer good luck. Occasionally one reads of some boy being hit by an automobile while pushing a small cart on a highway. Most of the chain grocery stores use young boys to deliver orders, said boys carrying the groceries in small push carts. These carts carry no lights after dark, in direct violation of the law. Also, many of the boys pushing them, to safeguard themselves from getting hit from the rear, walk in the face of approaching traffic on the wrong side of the street necessitating automobiles coming towards them to be steered to the left of the highway. We have also been asked to mention the fact that the number plates on many automobiles are so covered with dirt and grease that it is impossible to tell what numbers they bear.

"Statue of Freedom" on National Capitol

The bronze statue surmounting the dome of the national capitol at Washington is the figure of a woman and symbolizes liberty. This statue is often erroneously supposed to represent an American Indian, owing to the fact that from a distance the helmet of the figure resembles the bonnet of an Indian war chief. In fact the eagle's head and the arrangement of the feathers on the helmet were suggested by costumes of certain Indian tribes. The figure, which weighs 14,985 pounds and is 19½ feet high, was modeled at Rome, Italy, by Thomas Crawford in 1855, from plans adopted in 1820 by Senator Jefferson Davis of Mississippi, who was then chairman of committee on public buildings. Crawford named the statue "Armed Liberty," but ever since it arrived at the capitol it has been officially known as the "Statue of Freedom." The statue was set in place on the dome of the capitol December 2, 1863, and stands on a globe bearing our national motto—"E Pluribus Unum."

DIES FROM INJURIES

Maronas Perakis, 35, a grocer of Hull, Massachusetts, died on December 29 from injuries supposed to have been received as a result of having been struck by an automobile. He was found lying on Waverley avenue near Cotton street and had suffered a fractured pelvis and several broken ribs. He was married and had three children.

MANY MERRY CHRISTMASSES!

ties, through the Bureau and many had never been to a real party before.

So, thanks to the generosity of some Newtonians, the Welfare Bureau was able to carry "Merry Christmas" into the homes of other Newtonians. Next year, why don't you express some of your Christmas Spirit through the Newton Welfare Bureau and thereby have a merrier Christmas yourself? But also, why limit this "spirit of giving" to just the holiday season?—because of course the Welfare Bureau assists Newton families through twelve months of the year.

Newton is aiming at $9000 as the final sum to be raised through the sale of Christmas Seals. Won't you "moke up" your seals at once, and mail the money for them to the proper village Chairman?

The results of the sale of Seals for the third week of the campaign are as follows:

Newton Centre	$1360.60
Newtonville	1146.90
Newton	1078.50
West Newton	901.75
Waban	748.00
Newton Highlands	590.25

Temperature and Crime

Studies made in many countries of the world seem to indicate that temperature has its effect on the kind of crime committed. Assault and battery, murder and crimes against morals reach their maximum in July and August. In winter crimes against property are in the ascendency.

Balloon Well Stored for Atlantic Flight

Food supplies and equipment carried on the first attempted Atlantic flight were not so meager as those of today. Washington H. Donaldson, George Ashton Lunt and Alfred Ford, in loading up their balloon that took off from Brooklyn for Europe October 6, 1873, stowed away six 10-gallon breakers of water, one barrel of hard bread, two boxes of roast beef and mutton ready cooked, one box of champagne and another of salted provisions, box of prepared hominy, and a large number of small packages containing butter, salt, lemons and brandy. They also carried ten carrier pigeons in a wicker basket, a large box of candy, a keg of molasses, several jars of honey, pickles, a hair brush, a jar of preserved plums, a large tin can filled with roast fowls, a packet of toothpicks, several reams of paper, a ham, two cases of eau de cologne, a box of pomade, a pair of shoes, a paper of tacks, a claw hammer, a newly invented flying machine, a bottle of soothing sirup, a paper of chewing tobacco, Donaldson's hat, a case of "S. T.—1890—X," some crackers and a can of preserved oysters tomatoes and sardines, a patent steam plowing machine, a paper of hairpins and Lunt's boots.

For some reason the balloon came down before it reached its destination.—Detroit News.

Talent Wasted

Dorothea McNamee wanted to get into the movies. She wasn't exactly stage struck . . . but she wanted to get into the movies. She was a pretty girl and reasonably talented, and her parents didn't have any really serious objections so Dorothea set forth to get into the movies.

As you can imagine, it wasn't an easy job. There were lots and lots of girls who wanted to get into the movies as badly as she did, and some of them were even prettier than she was—at least, it seemed so to Dorothea. But she waited and waited, and smiled here, and dimpled there, and blushed a little, and waited a lot more—and finally Dorothea did get into the movies.

And then a horrid old usher made her stand up inside the tape!

Profitable Salvaging

Bright new tin buckets, cups and other articles are being manufactured from old metal roofing, empty powder and carbide containers and other junk salvaged by the railroads, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Old broom handles are made into staffs for signal flags, old canvas is transformed into curtains for the locomotive cabs and aprons. Thrift practices such as these save the carriers hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, according to the American Railway Association.

Peculiar Musical Notes

Buckwheat notes were a style of notation used in the Middle West singing schools before the Civil war. The notes were round, square or triangular, black or white, according to the place in the scale they occupied. By the shape of the notes you could tell the scale location. The buckwheat note idea was said to be the work of Dr. Samuel Wakefield, about 1825, and that same doctor of divinity was grandfather of Charles Wakefield Cadman.

Who Is on Trial?

There is an incident that is said to have occurred in one of the Continental picture galleries. A party of tourists was looking at one of the old masters of incomprehensible value and beauty, and one of them bestowing but a casual glance at the picture, said, "Oh, I do not think much of that." The custodian of the pictures quietly replied, "Sir, it is not the pictures which are on trial here; it is the visitors." What a man sees is a judgment upon him.

Mystery in Diamonds

The bulk of fine diamonds is obtained from the hard bluish-green serpentine rock known as "blue ground" which is found in tunnels or craters deep within the earth.

The actual origin of the precious stone is mysterious. Chemically, it is similar to charcoal, to which it can be reduced by combustion, but its physical properties are entirely different. Volcanic changes are presumed to be associated with its formation.

POLICE NEWS

Within the past two weeks the Newton police have been successful in apprehending and convicting several violators of the liquor laws. A number of raids have been conducted by squads under the lead of Sergeants Mahoney and Moran. Two more persons appeared in the Newton court yesterday charged with not obeying the 18th amendment. The defendants, Eleuterio Corsetti and Frank Marzilli, both of 217 Adams street, Newton, were charged with illegal transportation of liquor and with having made an illegal sale of liquor. Both were found guilty by Judge Weston on the first charge and Corsetti was also found guilty on the second charge. Each was given a suspended sentence of 30 days to the House of Correction on the transportation charge and Corsetti was fined $150 for making the sale.

According to the testimony offered by the police, the defendants were caught through the assistance of a "special investigator" who visited a house on a street off Adams street in an effort to purchase some booze. The "special investigator," or to give him a more common title, "spotter," testified that at the house he met Marzilli who volunteered to get the hard stuff for him. He went outside the house and waited until Marzilli returned in an auto with Corsetti. He bought a bottle of fire water from the latter, tending him $4 in payment. As soon as Corsetti received the cash, Patrolmen Charles Feeley and Reagan, who had been hiding nearby, rushed up and arrested Corsetti. While this bit of action was taking place, Marzilli vanished. He was later summoned into court.

Attorney Francis McNamara, who was counsel for the defendants, argued that they should be found not guilty of illegal transportation as the Supreme Court has ruled that a railroad company could not be found guilty of illegal transportation when a passenger on one of its cars was discovered to be carrying liquor on his person. He contended that as Corsetti had carried the bottle of liquor in his pocket while in the automobile, there had been no illegal transportation. Inspector Gouge replied that there is a difference between a railroad passenger and a person driving an automobile and Judge Weston ruled against the alleged alibi.

Much of the success of the police in the recent drive against liquor violators was due to the ability of the "special investigator" who paved the way for the raids by buying hooch from those convicted. It is difficult for the police to obtain a search warrant unless the party suspected of bootlegging has made a sale. Although the 18th Amendment, according to some, knocked the guarantee of Liberty out of the Constitution, one of the fundamental principles for which this country was founded, namely, that every man's house is his castle, still stands, and the ordinary judge is very careful about granting a right to search. The usual bootlegger today is quite canny and does not sell to strangers. So, the "special investigator" must have had "it" when he managed to break through the barrier of caution of those who got caught.

On Wednesday some thief stole three baskets of groceries from a truck owned by Rhodes Brothers of Brookline while the vehicle was parked on Grove Hill avenue, Newtonville.

Anetta Laasva, 197 Lexington street, Auburndale, was ordered yesterday to restrain her dog. A complaint was made against the dog by Madeleine Blue. Dr. Bouteille was notified to examine the animal.

SCHOOL NOTES

RALPH WALDO EMERSON SCHOOL

"Review of the Holidays" was presented to the school at the Assembly on Dec. 10 by pupils from Grade Four, Miss Hardy's class. Nine holidays were represented by as many characters in the "Review."

Christmas in the kindergarten was brought to a climax with a special program on Friday forenoon to which parents and friends were invited. A goodly number of them were present and were interested onlookers from just outside the "circle" to a varied program of songs, games, stunts and distribution of presents from the beautiful Christmas trees.

The Christmas entertainment for the entire school was given in the hall on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The program was prepared by the "westside" teachers and was greatly enjoyed by the audience of interested boys and girls that completely filled the hall. The program opened with carol singing partly by the entire school and partly by the sixth grades alone numbering 60 voices. These voices in sweetness and clearness of tone have won the admiration Supervisor Griffin in regular work. The boys have been styled the "Boy Choir" at the Emerson. The other numbers on the program were as follows: "Santa Claus's Toy Shop," a play interspersed with music, by the first grades; "The Lonely Little Christmas Tree," a play by one fourth grade; "Twas the Night Before Christmas," a dramatization by the eighth grade; "A Christmas Jest," a play in three scenes by three grades in combination; "In the Land of Heart's Desire," a play by one fifth grade.

Individual class room parties were carried on by many classes during the last half hour of Friday afternoon at the close of the hall entertainments. Christmas trees were stripped of their load of small remembrances from pupil to pupil. These gifts brought much merriment to the children and reflected the genuine Christmas spirit.

Mrs. Frank Fanning made appropriate card gifts to the Emerson pupils during the week. These cards were specially prepared cards by the donor.

The school has been in Christmas dress during the entire week with window candles, Christmas trees, festoons of green, and tinsel aplenty, everywhere in evidence, and with the happy spirit of the Christmastide.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Henry Moore, 14, of 29 Elmwood street, Newton, while walking on Centre street, Newton, near Church street, last Friday evening, was hit by an automobile driven by Alexander Smith, 57 Bowen street, Newton Centre. The boy was pushing a small cart containing groceries. He received a fractured leg, cuts and abrasions and was taken to the Newton Hospital.

A car driven by John Hjelm of Chestnut street, Needham, last Friday afternoon hit Tony Panico, 5, of 293 Boylston street, Thompsonville, opposite the child's home. Hjelm took the boy into the Panico home where it was found he had escaped injuries. Hjelm told the police that the child had darted out into the street and was hit by the right rear fender of the car.

Joseph Bazack of Concord street, Lower Falls, received injuries to his head when an automobile in which he was riding ran into a Middlesex & Boston electric car at Wellesley Hills at 6 p. m. Sunday. He was taken to the Newton Hospital.

Balzac's Odd Opinion of Own Character

Honore de Balzac's own estimate of himself is to be found in a letter he wrote to the Duchess d'Angoulême. The letter is included in the memoirs of a mysterious contemporary of the author collected and published in Paris recently by Charles Leger.

"I comprise in my five feet and two inches," Balzac declared, "all possible incoherencies and contrasts, and those who regard me as vain, prodigal, stubborn, frivolous, without continuity of ideas, a coxcomb, idler, lacking application, reflection or persistence, talkative, tactless, unmannerly, impolite, crotchety, of uneven humor, will be just as right as those who might call me economical, modest, courageous, tenacious, energetic, unstudied, a hard worker, persistent, taciturn, subtle and tactful, polite, always cheerful. The one who deems me a poltroon will not be more wrong than he who says I am extremely brave, that I am learned or ignorant, full of talent or inept. Nothing surprises me any longer about myself. I end by believing that I am only an instrument played upon by circumstances."—Detroit News.

Open Mind Requisite

of Proper Judgment

Your judgment is no better than your information, is a good statement to memorize. It is certain that to acquire judgment, one must investigate a subject from different angles. The first information may only tell part of the truth. One may discover that he has been misinformed or so slightly informed that it is a poor foundation on which to form an opinion.

If you only read what you already know, you learn nothing. Some do not want to read of a question on which they have narrow but profound convictions. They stop the paper that dares discuss views with which they cannot agree or understand. They condemn the preacher or the teacher who taxes their minds with new ideas.

The way to acquire knowledge is to keep an open mind so that different angles of thought may present themselves for your information. That is the basis of sound judgment.—Successful Farming.

Renting System Old

We find no exact records of the first rent paid. It is said that when the Germans conquered parts of Gaul, the land was parceled out to chiefs, lieutenants and private soldiers. In return the holders of the lands promised military service when needed. Some of the land was given to favorites who were allowed to pay in money instead of service, and the system was established. Rent was certainly known in the days that Rome flourished, there being Latin names for rent under leasehold tenure; rent of a farm; ground rent; rent of state lands, and the annual rent payable for the right to the perpetual enjoyment of anything built on the surface of the land.—Washington Star.

Myth About Monkeys

It is often stated that monkeys sometimes cross streams by means of "monkey bridges." We doubt, says the Pathfinder Magazine, whether anybody has positive knowledge of monkeys forming a bridge by taking hold of each other in order to cross a stream. Monkeys do, however, hang on to one another from time to time and sometimes one will seize and climb up the tail of another. One will even sometimes draw another up.

Dr. William M. Mann, director of the National Zoological park, believes the story about monkeys making a bridge was suggested by the maneuvers of the spider monkeys of South America.

Expression Long in Use

Thousands of years ago the Egyptians spoke of their dead as those who had "gone west." The abode of the dead was believed by them to be in the west, the land of the setting sun. Similar beliefs were held by other peoples, among them some American Indian tribes, who believed that the "happy hunting ground" was in the west and who therefore frequently put their dead on scaffolds facing that direction. Whether the modern term "to go west" has any etymological connection with these old beliefs is unknown.

Leisurely Spaniards

In Spain there are many bullock carts on the road. They travel slowly along the highways. Auto salesmen visiting that country, see a fine chance for sales. But it isn't so easy to make the sale. Stung beneath the high vehicle is a hammock. In this the driver can sleep peacefully while the bullock plods along the road. In time he gets there, and he finds it soon enough. Perhaps the dwellers in what we call less progressive countries are right in resisting the appeal of speed.

Development of Watch

Out of the experiment with "Nuremberg eggs," as the first watches were called, evolved various devices for keeping time, but it was not until the eighteenth century that the watch as we know it today was designed. Thomas Tompion, who died in 1713, invented the first dead-beat escapement for watches. George Graham improved on the principle, and Pierre le Roy managed to overcome the gain or loss of time caused by the contraction or expansion of the mainspring.

Adrift With Humor

THE NOBLE ART

A near-champ in the heavyweight class was proceeding along the street when he came to two small boys engaged in a wrangle.

"I'll pop ya in de beezee!" declared Willie.

"I'll hang one on ya chin!" threatened Junior.

"Dear, oh, dear," sighed the professional pug. "Wot's de younger generation comin' to, anyways?"—American Legion Monthly.

There's a Difference

"Now listen, son," said dad to his boy when leaving for college.

"Shoot, old dear," said son.

"When you get back to college this year," went on his dad, "I want you to wire less and not wireless so often for money."

Go Easy, Judge

Judge—Have you any excuse to offer before I fine you for speeding?

Victim—Yes, your honor. It's like this. I heard that there was a cook out of a job. I had to hurry to get her before some one else beat me to it.

What's the Password?

Friend Wife—It seems to me that the library club is meeting quite often at Bioness, isn't it?

Friend Hubby—Yes, I admit it, but we don't disturb anybody. The meetings are held in the basement.

Shampooed

Policeman (to woman driver)—Hey, you, what's the matter with you, any way?

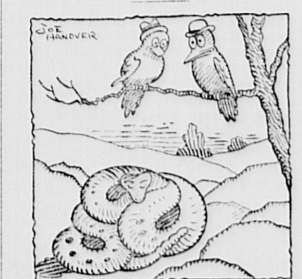

Lady (in traffic jam)—Well, officer, you see, I just had my car washed, and I can't do a thing with it!

Something Just as Good

"My hair is falling out," complained Mr. Rigg to the druggist. "Can't you recommend something to keep it in?"

"Certainly," replied the druggist. "I advise you to get an empty box."

GOOD IDEA

La Salle at the Gulf of Mexico

La Salle, a French explorer was the first to navigate the Mississippi River to the Gulf of Mexico. Standing on the shore of the gulf in 1682, he took formal possession of all the region drained by the Mississippi and its branches. In honor of Louis XIV, he named the territory Louisiana.

Our ceremonial arrangements have caused favorable comment for their good taste and careful observance of proprieties.

REV. GEORGE GARDNER PHIPPS

Rev. George Gardner Phipps of 1193 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, died Saturday at his late home. He had observed his 90th birthday on December 11. He was born in Franklin and graduated from Amherst College in 1882. In 1885 he was married at Phillipston to Miss Kathleen Carruth, who survives him. He was ordained in 1888 to the Congregational ministry and served as minister of the Wellesley Congregational Church from that year until 1878. From 1878 until 1893 he was minister of the Congregational Church at Newton Highlands and subsequently served as minister at the Union Chapel in Oak Hill for many years.

The esteem in which Mr. Phipps was held was manifested at the funeral Wednesday afternoon when the Newton Highlands Congregational Church was completely filled with friends and relatives.

Ministers of all the churches in the village took part in the service. Rev. Benjamin Roberts minister of the Congregational church gave the prayer; Rev. Charles O. Farrar, rector of the parish of St. Paul Episcopal Church, read the scripture and Rev. William E. Austill, pastor of the Cline Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, read the poem "Seeds" by John Oxenham. Ushers at the service were Caspar Isham, Charles A. Clark and Isaac Giddard.

Edgar Jacob Smith, organist and musical director of the Congregational church, played "Largo" by Dvorak, "Meditations" by Truette, "Largo" by Handel, and selections from "Death and Life" by Gounod. Members of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons were pallbearers, including A. Perry Martin, worshipful master; E. J. Mitchell, senior warden, and James A. Mitchell, junior deacon. Representatives of the Wellesley church and the Union Chapel at Oak Hill, where Mr. Phipps served for many years, were also present. Cremation at Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, followed the service.

Practically all stores and places of business in Newton Highlands were closed from two to three o'clock.

ROBERT W. BLUE

Robert W. Blue of 263 Church street, Newton, died suddenly Friday evening following a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Blue who was a painter by occupation had been a resident of Newton for over 50 years. He was born in Boston 65 years ago, the son of the late Robert and Elizabeth A. Blue. He was a Past Master Workman of Newton Lodge, A. O. U. W. His funeral service was held Monday afternoon at his late home. Rev. Robert Rao of the North Congregational Church officiating. Burial was in Newton Cemetery. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Georgianna Blue, three sons, Robert G. and Francis Blue of Newton, and James Blue of West Newton, and two daughters, Mrs. Walter A. Dale of Auburndale and Mrs. Maud A. Bell of Newton.

MRS. HELEN G. DAVIS

Mrs. Helen G. Davis, widow of Simon Davis, a Boston lawyer, who died Monday, was buried Wednesday from the family home, 252 Franklin street, Newton, with Rev. Laurens MacLure, D.D., rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, officiating. The burial was in the family lot in Forest Hills Cemetery.

Mrs. Davis, who did not long survive her husband, who died Sept. 24, was a native of Boston, the daughter of the late John and Helen Goldthwait. She was in her seventy-fourth year, and was married to Mr. Davis when she was thirty-two years of age. During the years the family home was in Beacon street, Boston, Mrs. Davis was more or less active socially, but since her residence in Newton she had relinquished most of her former activities. She was a member of Grace Church. Three children survive her, John G. Davis of New York City, Mrs. Eugene Phelps of Cody, Wyo., and Miss Elizabeth B. Davis, who lives at home.

MISS ELISE GALLICHAN

Miss Elise Gallichan of 285 Tremont street, Newton, a resident of this city for 60 years, died Saturday last at her home. She was the sister of the late Clement and Philip Gallichan and the last of 14 children. Miss Gallichan was a native of St. Heliers Island of Jersey. Her funeral service was held at her late home on Wednesday morning. Rev. Laurens MacLure of Grace Church officiating. Burial was in Mount Feake Cemetery, Waltham. She is survived by five nieces, Misses Edith and Maude Gallichan of Newton, Mrs. A. T. Burnham of Elmhurst, New York; Mrs. David Jacobs of Allston and Mrs. Albert Jewett of Medford.

DEATH OF MR. NEWHALL

Gulford S. Newhall, for more than fifty years in the leather business in Boston, died in Newton Highlands Wednesday. He was born in Lynn Sept. 13, 1848, the son of Nathaniel Addison Newhall and Mary Bruce Newhall. He was a direct descendant of Thomas Newhall, the first child born in Lynn after it was settled by the Puritans. He was educated in public and private schools.

He started in business as a salesman of sheep leather. Later he formed a partnership with Thomas C. Black. The firm carried on business in Boston under the name of Black & Newhall. On the retirement of Mr. Black, Mr. Newhall continued business under the name of Gulford S. Newhall & Company, until his retirement in 1926.

In 1872 he married Lucia Almyra Makepeace of Lynn, who died in 1925. They resided in Lynn until 1912, when they moved to Newton Highlands. He was a Mason and a member of several fraternal organizations. He had been for some years supreme treasurer of the New England Order of Protection. He was always deeply interested in the activities of his church and was a member of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, and during his residence in Lynn was for twenty-one years clerk of the First Church of Christ in that city.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. George Griggs Smith of Rockville, Conn., with whom he made his home.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands.

Fate Read in the Stars

Astrology is the science which pretends to foretell future events, especially the fate of men, from the position of the stars. Originally among the Greeks and Romans, the word had the meaning of "astronomy," and, as in the case of alchemy and chemistry, this and the real science had the same origin.

Invitations have been issued to members and friends of The Newton Y. M. C. A. to attend the Annual New Year's Reception and Open House on Tuesday evening, January 1st, 1929. There will be activities in the gymnasium, swimming pool, and an entertainment in the hall by "The Melody Four." The Newton Constabulary Band will give a concert in the lobby. A new feature of this year's reception will be some squash racquets and handball games which will be open to the public. Of special interest will be an exhibition game between Louis A. Volpe, Jr., and W. H. Rice, Jr.

KIWANIS CLUB

Members of the Newton Kiwanis Club met yesterday at Waltham as guests of the Waltham Kiwanis Club. There was plenty of peppy choral singing under the magnetic leadership of Herbert Clarke of Crafts street, Newtonville. Mr. Clarke is song-leader of the Waltham Kiwanians. The speaker of the day was Fred Putnam, clerk of the Probate Court at Cambridge. Mr. Putnam delivered a very eloquent address on the ideals which men should strive to attain and the special significance of this season of the year when the true Christian spirit ought to be in evidence.

50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Forte of 286 Webster street, Auburndale, observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Christmas Day.

Present on the occasion were their four daughters, three sons-in-law, four grandchildren and about 100 friends and relatives. The couple received many gifts.

They were married in Springfield on Christmas Day, 1878. Their four daughters are Mrs. Louis LaRose of Wollaston, Mrs. Wallace G. Root of Wollaston, Mrs. Clifford B. Whitney of Newtonville and Mrs. George Keller of Auburndale. The grandchildren are Malcolm, Donald and Richard Whitney and John Keller.

George Keller, one of the sons-in-law of the couple, is assistant superintendent of the Newton schools and secretary of the School Committee.

The other two are Wallace G. Root, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Boston, and Clifford B. Whitney, manager of the Summer street branch of the First National Bank.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending December 23, 1928 there were 113 patients in the hospital; 39 of these paid as much or more than cost of care, 43 paid less than cost of care and 31, including babies, were treated free of charge. Ten babies were born (4 girls and 6 boys). Seventy-eight patients were treated in the out-patient department and one in the eye clinic. Fifteen accident cases were cared for in the operating room. Eighteen social service calls were made in the homes and 8 patients were transferred by the social service car.

Of the fifteen accident cases treated during the week 8 were the results of automobile accidents; five of these were men and three women. Of the five men one was treated for a fractured leg, scalp wound and minor lacerations, one for internal injuries, one for a scalp wound and bruises on his leg, one for a bruised ankle and the last for bruises of the leg and small lacerations of one hand. Of the three women one received fractured ribs, a fractured collar bone and scalp lacerations, one a fractured hip and knee cap, and the other a laceration of the scalp and forehead. Four of the remaining cases were men: one was treated for bruises of both ankles received when a ditch in which he was working caved in on him; one for a scalp wound, fractured ribs, skull and ankle caused when a tree fell on him; one for an infected finger, and one for bichloride poisoning. Three women were also treated: one for a burn of her eye, one for a splinter and one for an infected hand.

On Christmas Day five babies were born at the hospital. A son to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Decker, 121 Linden street, Wellesley, at 9:50 a. m.; at 12:30 noon and 1 p. m. twin boys to Mr. and Mrs. Alex McPherson, 22 Pine street, West Newton; at 10:50 p. m. a son to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Crafts, Sunset road, Weston, and at 11:25 p. m. a son to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Proia, 62 Hawthorne street, Newton.

Dr. Virgil Casten, interne, at Santa Claus, pleased old as well as young.

Great Britain Noted

for Varieties of Cows

Recently a local contemporary informed its readers that a certain Siamese nobleman, whose interests in the dairy industry are well known and meritoriously popular, has Australian cows. He said that he hadn't, that his cows were Zebu, the Indian humped cow, or the purely native one.

Which leads us to remark that of all the lands on earth Great Britain presumably has the greatest number of breeds of cows. The Royal Agricultural society recognizes the Short-horn, Hereford, Sussex, Welsh, Long-horn, Aberdeen-Angus, Belted Galloway, Galloway Park, Dairy Shorthorn, Lincolnshire, Red Shorthorn, Devon, South Devon, Red Poll, Blue Ailshon, British Friesian, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Kerry and Dexter. Which would seem quite a lot for the small area that is its habitat.—Siam Observer

The Native Doctor

The native trained in medical work is becoming a main factor in bringing about the new day in Africa, states the Missionary Herald, an English Baptist monthly. It says further: M. Louis Franck's humorous description of the native medical assistant confronting the witch doctor could be echoed by every missionary. "Standing before the witch doctor he says to that ancient charlatan—'You are an ass,' and then proceeds to prove it. 'Look,' says he, 'through the lens of my microscope at the minute creature shown there. This is the cause of disease, not the entrance of an evil spirit. You know nothing at all about it. I am the one who knows.' Hence the end of the witch doctor's influence."

REAL ESTATE

DEDHAM NORFOLK DOWNS

MARGARET SLATTERY TO SPEAK

Miss Margaret Slattery, lecturer and author, will speak in the Central Congregational Church, Walnut street, Newtonville, on Friday evening, January 11, at 8 o'clock. Miss Slattery is a most popular speaker and one whom Newton people never tire of hearing.

She received her education and training in the public schools of Fitchburg and the State Normal School at Framingham. At nineteen she became a teacher in the grammar schools of Fitchburg. Her work attracted the attention of the principal of the Normal School of that city and Miss Slattery was asked to join the faculty of the school.

In 1910 Miss Slattery resigned her position at the State Normal School and has since given her time to writing and to the lecture platform. She spent seven months in Europe during the war and in 1920 took a trip around the world, visiting Japan, China, the Strait Settlements, Ceylon, India, Egypt and Palestine. She has been a student of the youth movements of Europe and has given special study to the great international conferences held in Europe.

The meeting of January 11 is held under the auspices of the Newtonville Council of Religious Education and the Newtonville Woman's Club. No admission will be charged but a silver offering will be taken.

ROTARY CLUB

The Newton Rotary Club celebrated the Christmas season with a meeting devoted to fun and frolic. The luncheon was held Monday noon at the Woodland Golf Club and was livened with masks and caps which gave it a Mardi Gras appearance.

Christmas carols were sung, with Louis Haffner at the piano.

Each Rotarian presented a gift to the wife of another member, selected by lot and Rotary-ans were well remembered.

STATE SOCIETY, D. R.

In spite of the many interests of the Christmas season a very large number of members of the State Society Daughters of the Revolution attended their very worthwhile meeting of Wednesday, the 19th, at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. The business meeting was opened at 2 o'clock, by the State regent, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, of Newton. Several announcements of especial appeal included that of the lecture on "The Lure of Alaska," to be given by Mrs. Fernald, on January 25th, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore, in the interests of the Fund for the Memorial Window at Valley Forge; the contribution of sums by individual members in honor of ancestors who served near to George Washington in the Revolution, for that same fund; and the presenting of a petition favoring the continuation of the Federal restriction of immigration, and proposed additions for further safeguard, which members were asked to sign in accordance with the stand voted by their State Society and the General Society.

The State regent called attention to the very entertaining book written by Joseph C. Beal, on the "Romance of Matilda," expressing the pride of the Society in this first novel published by one who was a Junior of the State Society.

After the business meeting the North Bridge Chapter, of which Miss Anna C. Hubon is regent presented a program, and served attractive refreshments of sandwiches, cakes, coffee, and ice cream.

Mrs. Florence Turner, State chairman of Americanization introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Isabelle D. MacLean, supervisor of Americanization in the Lynn schools. Mrs. MacLean began her talk by saying that she was in favor of restricted immigration, and that she would bring forward her points "erratically," perhaps, as was her habit of speaking before more intimate groups. She gave many splendid suggestions that such a patriotic organization could follow, and paid tribute to "pioneer women," from whom her audience was descended, declaring the hardships they endured exceeded those of all other new-comers to our shores, and that she so told the foreign women who complained of their lot, or of the lack of understanding they encountered. She likened the building of America in her work of Americanization to the building of a fair temple of purest marble, towering on the fairest mountain top of the world. In the furtherance of love and honor for the flag she urged that it be in every home.

The wonderful progress that is being made in teaching the foreign children in the schools was inspiring portrayed by four young girls, clad attractively in their native costume, who gave a patriotic statement of their ideals of America in amazingly good English. Mary Paccanin, who was born in Finland, and had been in this country only a year and a half, gave a speech never to be rude or impolite, never to gossip, and always to give help to those who needed it. Gertrude Johnson, born in Sweden, and who has been in this country two years, paid tribute to "My Land." Bessie Rizzos, born in Greece, and in this country one year, paid her homage to "The Flag." Mary Grot, born in Poland, and who has been in this country three years, gave a most appealing promise never to do any wrong, because in so doing she brought disgrace not only upon the individual but upon America. These most pleasing statements by very attractive and winning girls concluded with the repetition of America's Creed. The demonstration made a most inspiring program for an organization of patriotic purpose.

CHRISTMAS PLAY

The Christmas play, "A Gallant Pilgrim" was given by the young people of Eliot Church last Friday evening. The characters were taken by the following: Roswell Angier, Kenneth Vahlmuth, Webb Wright, Francis Gleason, Sidney Gleason, Helen Green, Edwin Lombard, John Graham, Clay Lewis, George Van-Buskirk, Carleton Person, John Gleason, Mary Clark, Lois Chase, Elizabeth Tobey, William Holmes.

Miss Bessie Stratton was director of play. Miss Doris Barton, assistant director. Mr. Philip N. Howe, lighting, Miss Marion Hamilton organist for play. Miss Gertrude Ensign organist.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Nonantum Co-operative Bank will be held on Tuesday, January 8, 1929, at the office of the Bank, 281 Washington Street, Newton, at 7:30 p. m., to elect a Clerk for one year, five Directors for three years, and to transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

Action will also be taken on proposed changes in the By-laws, as follows:

To strike out and cancel Article XIII of the By-laws and substitute therefor:

Attorneys—The Board of Directors at its first meeting after the Annual Meeting for the election of officers shall appoint an Attorney or Attorneys, who shall examine all titles to property offered as security for loans, and shall prepare all papers of a legal nature required by the Corporation. In case of loans the member offering security therefor shall pay the Attorney's fees whether the security is accepted or rejected, subject to decision by the Board of Directors in case of dispute as to the amount thereof.

Article XVI—Strike out ninety-five and insert ninety in the second line to read:

Loans may be made upon unpledged shares to an amount not exceeding ninety per cent. of their withdrawal value at the time of the loan, and shall be in sums of ten dollars or its multiple.

To further amend Article XVIII by adding the following:

and provided further that no profits shall be withheld on shares withdrawn in the forty-eighth series and all subsequent series.

WARREN W. OLIVER, Clerk.

The Mather Class

Last Sunday, the nearest one to Christmas, was very appropriately observed by the Mather Class by a lecture by Prof. Mather on Jesus.

The particular phase of the subject which was taken up dealt more particularly with the problems raised by the Mather in two articles in recent numbers of the Atlantic Monthly.

The all-important topic at this season is the birth of Jesus, the very special incident in earth history which Christmas Day commemorates.

Prof. Mather was unable to learn a great deal about Robert Keable. The two articles in question comprise the first four chapters of a life of Christ which Keable finished a year or two ago, not very long before he died at Tahiti, where he had gone, somewhat like a Robert Louis Stevenson, in search of improved health.

Scholarly research has discovered that the four Gospels were written at different times. John was written long after the death of Jesus. Matthew and Luke derived much from Mark, and all three had the benefit of another document, called "Q," by scholars, and now unfortunately lost. The nearest to original documents which we know about are six manuscripts of 400 A. D. or thereabouts.

The actual material about Jesus is much more scanty than we could wish, therefore we have two personalities to deal with:

1. The historical Jesus.
2. The traditional Jesus.

A part of the difficulty that has grown up about Jesus has come about through the idea that the traditional Jesus was an impostor. Then the traditional Jesus has been considered the same thing as the historical Jesus. Accordingly the historical Jesus has been cast aside too. The sense of imposture, which used to be confined to learned and scholarly men, has left the study and is in the street. The law does not enforce the worship of Jesus. Keable thinks the churches are in a panic about it. Prof. Mather thinks they are not enough seized with panic, for the traditional portrait of Jesus is neither an imposture nor a substitution. There are too many wrong ideas in the street. We need knowledge of the historical Jesus and a sense of worship for the traditional Jesus.

Jesus' ability to transform the world does not depend on historical documents, but, even at that, Keable does not use what historical material he has, for he fails to give the attention which he should to the letters of Paul, Jesus' perfectly authentic and extremely valuable for what they contain about Jesus.

In discussing the mind of Jesus, Keable uses portions of the Bible, which, elsewhere, he chooses to regard in a rather poor light. Keable does not get into the mind of the historical Jesus, but he makes a fair invasion into the mind of the traditional Jesus.

Keable thinks Jesus was an ignorant man, but escaped the results of His ignorance. He probably means that Jesus was an unlearned man. A ignorant man's mind is not a blank but is like a slate all scribbled over with superstition and a lot of wrong ideas. Jesus' mind was not distorted. He had common sense. He probably did not know about the American continents or some of the facts of astronomy that we know today.

Keable gets tangled up in the distinction between revelations and guesses.

He thinks that the Supreme Being does not exercise fatherly qualities because He sends the rain on the ocean, where it is not needed, and fails to send any to the desert or other land where the need is very great.

Prof. Mather disagrees emphatically with Keable. He feels that Keable is deficient in his knowledge of prayer and needs more knowledge of modern science before saying that God lacks fatherly qualities.

When Jesus spoke about the sparrows and the hairs of our heads, he meant something true, which is the value of the trivial. Little things change the course of history. It is the little thing that counts. A hair is trivial in its significance and is typical of life itself. To the administration of the universe the most trivial things count, like sparrows, hairs, atoms, and electrons. Everything makes a difference. God is a loving Father in spite of the fact that rain falls alike on the just and the unjust. God does not police the world and protect men from the results of their own mistakes.

It is a better kind of administration where a man is given a chance, with other animals, to work out his own salvation. This is far better than an administration that can't go wrong, where everything must go right all the time.

Jesus had a clear, undistorted mind on every question. We need to accept the common sense of Jesus. We need the traditional Jesus as an inspirer of beauty and the historical Jesus as an inspirer of common sense.

Another great quality was the social mindedness of Jesus. His ability to take care of the social relations of man. He revealed man to man. In His social mindedness and spiritual mindedness He was unlike in the world. Jesus is the one man who put into practical operation the principles that he taught.

He taught truth.

The next Sunday Evening "Round Table" will be held on the evening of January 6, 1929, at the home of Mr. E. Clifford Potter, 962 Centre street, Newton Centre. These Round Tables begin regularly at 6 p. m. with a light supper. Each lady brings enough sandwiches for two.

JUNIOR S. & D. R.

William Dawes Jr. Chapter, Junior Sons and Daughters of the Revolution held their regular December meeting at the home of Robert Fernald on Elmhurst road, Newton, Saturday evening. Jeannette Houghton, the president, presided and the meeting was opened with the usual exercises. Grosvenor Calkins, the secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved. During the business session it was voted to contribute money for the new George Washington Memorial Church at Valley Forge and to add to this sum from time to time. A committee was appointed to select a play which will be given in the near future and another committee to have charge of a musical program. This chapter is made up of High School boys and girls who are unusually accomplished. Newton people will recall the Candle Light Concert which they gave in Channing Church a year ago and which was pronounced a great success. At the close of the business session a very interesting paper was read on the Battle of Germantown by Jane Brown and one on the Battle of Brandywine by Marshall Barnes. Hazel Moore recited "The Boys," by Oliver W. Holmes, and Grosvenor Calkins played selections on the piano. Refreshments were served in the dining room and a social hour enjoyed.

CHILDREN'S PLAY

On Monday, December 31, at 2 p. m., in the Newton Centre Women's Clubhouse a children's play "The Rackety, Packety House" will be presented by Mrs. Everett W. Varney. As last year in "The Little Princess," the parts will be largely taken by children. The exciting adventures of the Rackety Packettes, Meg and Peg and Klumanser and Peter Piper are enhanced by the lords and ladies of Tidy Castle. Mothers are planning luncheon parties for little groups of children before the play. This delightful afternoon of a real play is a pleasant change from the movies which are always accessible to the children.

The play is gay and full of fun and is of interest to old and young.

DANCING PARTY

The many friends of Miss Lois Cate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Cate of 130 Temple street, and Miss Elizabeth Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rogers of 79 Hillsdale avenue, enjoyed a dancing party given by them at the Neighborhood Club, on December 21. In the receiving line were Mrs. Cate, Miss Lois Cate, Miss Elizabeth Rogers and Mrs. Rogers. Music was dexterously rendered by The Davison Orchestra, and refreshments were served. Near the conclusion of the party, there was a shower of confetti and streamers from the balcony which added to the gaiety of the affair. Both Miss Cate and Miss Rogers proved themselves to be most efficient hostesses.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale in a certain mortgage given by Theresa M. Elworthy of Everett, Middlesex County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to Jacob Chase dated September 14, 1928 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5278, Page 101, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at Public Auction at two o'clock P. M. on the 21st day of January A. D. 1929, on the premises all and singular the premises described in said mortgage.

To wit:
A certain parcel of land being lot numbered 26 on Cherry Street, Newton, as shown on a plan drawn by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C.E., dated December 1925 recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 391, Plan 5, bounded as follows:
SOUTHERLY by land shown as lot 25 on said plan 100 feet;
EASTERLY by part of lot 21 on said plan 60 feet;
NORTHERLY by land shown as lot 27 on said plan 100 feet;
WESTERLY by Cherry Street 60 feet; Containing according to said plan 6900 feet of land, or however otherwise said premises may be bounded, measured or described or by any or all of said measurements or contents more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Joseph A. Butler recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, Book 5255, Page 111, including all the fixtures, boilers, awnings and all other fixtures of whatever kind or nature contained in said building and hereinafter used therein prior to full payment and discharge of this mortgage. Said premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage held by Joseph A. Butler for Ninety-Five Hundred Dollars, and to any and all unpaid taxes, assessments, municipal liens and restrictions of record in so far as they are now in force and applicable.

Four Hundred ($400) Dollars in cash at the time of the sale, the balance to be paid in ten (10) days. All persons having claims or demands against said estate are called upon to make payment to me.

Present holder of said mortgage,
18 Tremont St., Boston.
December 27, 1928.
Dec. 28-Jan. 1-11.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Ella May Marshall of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having claims or demands against said estate are required to exhibit the same and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to me.

Build Your Home on a Completed Street at LOCKSLEY PARK

Opposite Crystal Lake

Between Newton Centre and Newton Highlands

Why build a home on an unfinished street which will be a quagmire, almost impassable in winter and dusty during other seasons? The streets at LOCKSLEY PARK are being completely finished. Sewers, water, gas and electricity are being installed. Careful restrictions assure this locality being developed into a most attractive neighborhood. Accessible to both Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. Buy your home site there now and obtain the advantage of the choicest locations.

Metals Long Known

Copper was known to the Egyptians of 7000 B. C. Bronze, another copper alloy, was the material of which relics, dating back to Menes, founder of the first Egyptian dynasty, were made.

Menes reigned as king of Upper and Lower Egypt about 5500 B. C.—Exchange.
